FRANCE INVITES AMERICA TO PARLEY ON GERMAN ARMS

Asks That a Representative Be Sent to Conference of Powers on Jan. 19.

ACCEPTANCE NOT EXPECTED

Believed in Washington That French Will Not Seize the Ruhr Independently.

CUT IN COAL TERMS BARRED

Paris Announces Spa Agreement Must Be Observed—Germany Pleads Inability.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Through its embassy in Washington and also the American Embassy in Paris, the French Government has delivered to the United States Government a copy of the French note of Dec. 31 to Berlin on the disarmament of Germany, and has asked for American participation in the conference of powers on the subject covered by the note.

Reports current in Washington this afternoon that France, through Ambassador Jusserand, had informally notified the United States of a contemplated "invasion" of the Ruhr Valley because of failure of Germany to effect disarmament, were denied in a high quarter at the State Department.

The note from the French Government merely enclosed a copy of the French note of Dec. 31, which charged that Germany had failed to live up to the disarmament requirements of the Treaty of Versailles, and had not fulfilled promises made at the Spa Conference. The note to the United States does not say what steps France may contemplate taking in the matter.

The allied Premiers are to meet at Paris on Jan. 19 to discuss German disarmament and reparations.

Believe Wilson Will Not Accept.

The French Government's communication has been laid before President Wilson, who is giving it close consideration. No decision has been reached, but every present indication is that President Wilson will not authorize any one to represent the United States Government in the conference on Jan. 19. Decision in this respect will be made by the President himself, but the best opinion is that he will not accept the invitation.

This is not interpreted as meaning that the President is not interested in the questions pivoting on German disarmament and the payment of reparations. On the contrary, he is very much interested in these questions, but in view of the failure of the Senate to ratify the Treaty of Versailles, he probably does not consider himself free to have American representatives participate at this time in discussions of the fulfillment, or non-fulfillment, of the disarmament and reparations provisions of the treaty.

While not announced by the State Department, there is every reason to believe that the French Government has given assurances that France does not intend to act independently of the other powers, at least not at this time, in dealing with the question of German disarmament. But in sending the note of Dec. 31 to Germany the French Government did act independently of all the other principal and associated allied powers, and is understood to have done so in order to preserve French rights in the event of failure by Germany to live up to her treaty obligations, respecting disarmament.

Washington for Moderate Policy.

It is the firm belief of State Department officials that France does not intend at this time to act independently by way of invasion of the Ruhr valley, in defiance or disregard of the views of this or other governments, whose views concerning the execution of the challenged provisions of the treaty are well known to the French Foreign Office. The British Government is favorable to a policy of leniency toward Germany, and to that extent is understood to be in accord with the idea of the American Government that Germany should receive at least a fair chance to carry out the provisions of the treaty and the promises made at Spa.

The American attitude is understood to be that wherever Germany cannot execute the provisions of the treaty, because of absolute impossibility rather than through deliberate refusal to comply, the United States Government would regard the occupation by France of the Ruhr valley in Germany as inadvisable. However, should Germany refuse, even when able, to perform her treaty obligations, it is considered quite doubtful in Washington whether the occupation of German territory by France would offer the wisest solution. When the French Government occupied the territory around Frankfort last year the situation was considered more critical than at present.

Views respecting the best course to pursue differ in influetial quarters here and abroad. It was pointed out today that there has been a strong group in France, embracing some of the leading militarists as well as statesmen, among them André Tardieu, former French High Commissioner to the United States, that France should occupy and keep the Rhine provinces of Germany. Some of the more belligerent members of this group think that France should even seize the Ruhr coal basin.

Other influential men, however, feel that the better way to deal with Germany is to take a liberal attitude

Chauffeurs Desert Governor Because Wives Balk at Albany

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Jan. 7.—Governor Miller is experiencing difficulty in obtaining a chauffeur and women are to blame.

In the seven days since he took the oath of office two chauffeurs have left him. The first was from Syracuse. His wife didn't like Albany and refused to live here, so her husband left the executive service. Today a second, formerly Dispatcher Balensted of the Twenty-seventh Division Headquarters Troop, arrived to drive for the Governor. He remained just long enough to tell the Adjutant General that his wife would not live in Albany and that he could not be of service.

SENATORS MAY SEND COMMITTEE TO CUBA

They Seek First-Hand Information to Deal With Future Policy on Situation.

SEE INTERVENTION POSSIBLE

Administration Will Not Hesitate if Crowder Mission Fails, Washington Believes.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The Senate Committee on Cuban Relations, of which Senator Hiram W. Johnson of California is Chairman, has under consideration, it was learned on high authority this afternoon, the idea of taking a hand in the present involved and chaotic Cuban situation to the extent of sending a special sub-committee to that island to make an investigation of financial, economic and political conditions.

From the same source it was learned that the purpose of this contemplated action is to obtain first-hand information regarding the situation and to determine, first, whether there is anything that the United States Senate or the Government of the United States can do to unravel the Cuban tangle without intervention and set the Cubans for a third time squarely upon their feet financially, economically and politically; and, secondly, in the event that it is found that the situation cannot be remedied without intervention, to furnish the Senate with accurate data respecting what has taken place in the island.

The members of the Cuban Relations Committee, in addition to Chairman Johnson, are Senators Knox of Pennsylvania, McCormick of Illinois, Underwood of Alabama and Dial of South Carolina. The committee has received a great number of complaints regarding Cuban conditions. Many of these relate to the creation of the moratorium just extended by the Cuban Government and to the state of Cuban finances. Other complaints allege a fraud in the Cuban elections and express the fear that unless the present undecided electoral contest is determined there will be a revolution in Cuba when the term of President Menocal expires in May.

One development of the day in connection with Cuban affairs was the disclosure in a high quarter that prior to his departure from New York last Saturday Major Gen. Enoch H. Crowder had a conference with Senator Knox. It is believed that, in addition to reporting to President Wilson, General Crowder will be asked to confer with the special sub-committee of the Senate Cuban Relations Committee should it be sent to the island, as now seems possible.

The State Department was advised today by General Crowder of his arrival at Havana and that he had held a long conference with President Menocal yesterday. In this interview General Crowder was pleasantly received by President Menocal, but it is impossible at this stage of the reports made by General Crowder to determine whether his mission will be a success. Should he fail American intervention in Cuba would seem inevitable, though this is the consummation least desired by the Administration.

It is asserted, however, that the Government will not hesitate to assume its duties and responsibilities under the Platt Amendment to the Cuban Constitution should this become necessary.

Cuban Liberal Welcomes Senate Move.

Dr. Manuel R. Angelo, a member of the Cuban Liberal Party, when informed this evening that the Senators were considering sending a committee to Cuba, issued the following statement:

"I sincerely hope that a committee of United States Senators will go to Cuba, and at an early date, the earlier

Tobacco Growers Vote "No Crop" Strike In the Burley Districts of Three States

Special to The New York Times.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Jan. 7.—Two thousand tobacco growers, representing thirty-eight counties of the burley district of Kentucky, Ohio and Indiana, in a convention here today went on record by an overwhelming majority for a complete "cut-out" of the 1921 crop. One hundred thousand growers were said to be represented by the delegates.

It is feared that this means night riding outrages, as thousands of farmers will refuse to accept the convention's orders.

The convention passed a resolution requesting that all warehouses in the burley district remain closed until May 1. The proposal for the "cut-out" was one of a series of resolutions presented by J. Stanley Reed, former legislator from Mason County. It was carried by a vote of 35 out of the 38 counties represented. In the other three counties the sentiment, it was reported, was divided and they were "passed" in the final announcement of the vote.

Madison, one of the big burley producing counties of this State, was not represented.

The announcement by the Chairman that the cut-out plan had been carried by an overwhelming vote was greeted with tremendous applause.

Governor Edwin P. Morrow arrived in Lexington today from Frankfort.

"I came over just to be here in touch with the situation, to be of service if I can," the Governor said. "If any conferences are desired they can be held. I am deeply distressed at the price for tobacco, and hope conditions will be arranged so that a fair and reasonable price can be secured."

CONTACT EFFECTED BETWEEN CABINET AND THE SINN FEIN

Mediators Are Said to Have Succeeded in Arranging Preliminaries to a Parley.

EXPECT MEETING IN LONDON

Report Dail Eireann Has Already Met, but Demanded That All Members Be Called.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

DUBLIN, Jan. 7.—The influences which, as I telegraphed yesterday, were at work to establish contact between the Cabinet and the Dail Eireann at last have been successful. I am in a position to state that a document is now in existence which opens up a definite possibility of a conference between the two bodies. Unless any unforeseen obstacle is raised such a conference will take place in London shortly.

Meanwhile the Sinn Fein has issued the following official comment: "Statements about President de Valera and views attributed to him in the Irish and English press are nothing more than speculative guessing. The Irish people will pay no attention to them until they hear from President de Valera directly."

LONDON, Jan. 7.—Authorities in London believe that a conference already has been held of all Sinn Fein Members of Parliament who were able to attend it; that their attitude toward the Government was discussed and that they decided they could not enter into negotiations in the absence of their fellow-members of the Dail Eireann who are under ban of the law.

Report Father O'Flanagan in London.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—The air is still full of rumors of an early Irish peace, but nothing definite has materialized.

It is stated that Father Michael O'Flanagan has arrived in London from Dublin for the purpose of seeing the Premier, but so far no trace of him has been found in his usual London haunts, and no appointment has been made with Mr. Lloyd George. Nothing is known officially of his coming, either by Downing Street or the Irish Office.

No reply has come yet from Eamon de Valera to the Premier's invitation to call and talk the situation over. Archbishop Patrick Joseph Clune of Perth, Australia, saying that his work here was done, left London today for Australia.

DUBLIN, Jan. 7.—Captain Harrison, Secretary of the Irish Dominion League and representing the Sinn Fein Moderates, said today that no move had been made to his knowledge toward accepting or working under the Home Rule act.

He declared that nothing less than a dominion status would have any hope for success. The Home Rule act's weak financial terms and limited powers would lead to a breakdown within a year, he said, and this would be attributed by the British not to its inherent defects, but to Irish incapacity for self-rule.

All Militants Near Scene of Attacks Must Suffer—Review of Past Year's Fatalities.

DUBLIN, Jan. 7 (Associated Press)—Dublin Castle today announced its intention to destroy houses in the vicinity of scenes of outrages which are definitely known to be occupied by militant Sinn Feiners. This action is to be taken as a deterrent to further outrages and as an example to other districts.

It was also announced by the Castle that owing to the persistent interference with mail cars in Tipperary, Sligo and Donegal, the mail services in those districts will be suspended, effective on Monday.

According to the Castle statement, some mail routes have been raided as

Cadet Totten Found Dead at West Point; Message to Milford Home Indicates Suicide

Special to The New York Times.

MILFORD, Conn., Jan. 7.—Dennis Bunker Totten, a cadet at the United States Military Academy at West Point, was found dead from a bullet wound on the academy reservation this morning, according to a message received by relatives here today.

According to the message, the wound was believed to have been self-inflicted. The death is being investigated by a board of officers. Totten, whose father, step-father, half-brother and brother-in-law are or have been officers in the service, was to have been graduated this year. He was 22 years old and held the rank of Cadet Corporal.

During the holidays Totten visited his sister, Mrs. Frank Brotherton, here. He departed last Sunday to return to the Academy. He had recently taken examinations and, according to the message from West Point received today, failed in some of them.

Cadet Totten was the son of Professor C. A. L. Totten, one time Professor of Military Science and Tactics at Sheffield Scientific School, Yale University, and who held the rank of Lieutenant in the Regular Army. Lieutenant Totten died twelve years ago. His mother is the wife of Major P. T. Hoyt of Camp Devens, Mass, Captain James Totten of the Adjutant General's office in Washington is a half-brother, and Mrs. William T. Dennis, wife of an officer in the War College at Washington, is a half-sister.

WEST POINT, Jan. 7.—The body of Cadet Dennis B. Totten of Milford, Conn., was found on the reservation this morning. Details regarding his death were withheld pending an investigation by a board of officers.

He was last seen alive at 5:40 last evening. His body was found at 9 o'clock this morning. Officials of the academy said Totten had not been in good health recently.

The board of officers which is making the investigation will make its report tomorrow. It was said last night that the cause of death had not been determined.

Totten was a son of Lieutenant C. A. L. Totten, who, while a military instructor at Yale, attracted wide attention by his claim that he could predict anything by his own interpretation of prophecies in the Bible.

NATION-WIDE INQUIRY INTO LIQUOR FRAUDS

Labels Were Falsified on Standard Brands, Which Made Many Drinkers Ill.

A nation-wide investigation of prohibition enforcement frauds is under way, according to Elmer L. Irey, Chief of the Special Intelligence Service of the Internal Revenue Bureau, who came here yesterday for a conference with Hugh McQuillan, chief of the Special Intelligence Unit operating in New York City. Mr. McQuillan has been instrumental in revealing a traffic in forged withdrawal permits which is estimated to have released $100,000,000 of whisky.

Mr. Irey said that withdrawal records in all parts of the country were being scrutinized, that a beginning had been made in New York, Chicago, San Francisco and other centres of population, and that investigations would be made in every State. "Our force is a mobile one," he added, indicating that his department was equipped to start an inquiry in any section to which a clue might lead.

Asked if his assistants were trying to trace the persons who obtained the whisky released on forged permits, Mr. Iry said the investigation would be thorough and would cover every angle. The names of reputable firms have appeared in some cases on forged permits.

Mr. Irey complimented Mr. McQuillan on the result of his investigation and promised him all the help necessary. Although Mr. Irey was reported in dispatches from Washington to have come here to investigate bribery offers said to have been made to Irene F. Richardson, a clerk in the office of Prohibition Enforcement Commissioner Kramer in Washington, he gave no information as to his exact business, but passed most of the day with Mr. McQuillan and other Internal Revenue agents. Miss Richardson was mentioned in the charges against William F. McCoy, former clerk in the office of Prohibition Director Charles R. O'Connor, as having been offered a bribe for the issue of permits.

Well-Known Labels Forged.

The practice of forging labels of well-known brands of whisky was revealed by the arraignment of four men on the charge of counterfeiting revenue stamps before United States Commissioner Samuel M. Hitchcock. Following the seizure by the police on Wednesday of a truckload of liquor in front of a warehouse in Greene Street, Secret Service Agent Peter Rubano found spurious Internal Revenue stamps of a face value of $1,000 in a room which was said to have been used for the manufacture of imitation whisky.

The labels were of different types and, in addition to including some of well-known and formerly widely-advertised brands, counterfeited in several instances the exclusive brands once sold at leading hotels and clubs. The discovery of the forged labels was believed to explain complaints that illness had been caused by the drinking of supposedly good whisky of a standard brand.

Of the four men arraigned, Frank Desmond of 161 Mott Street was held in $5,000 bail, Daniel Cabota of 89 Mulberry Street in $2,000 bail, and Pasquale Stipo of 191 Grand Street and Savier Shortino of 165 Mott Street in $1,000 bail each.

Judge Learned Hand in the United States District Court sentenced Marcus Glickstein, a saloon keeper, of 80 Norfolk Street, to thirty days in the Mercer, N. J., penitentiary for selling whisky to Isidore Einstein, a local prohibition enforcement agent. Max Klein, the bartender, who served the liquor, was let off with three days' imprisonment in the Tombs. Klein testified at the trial that Glickstein told him to go ahead and sell because he was well protected.

Harris Reif, a druggist, of Monticello, N. Y., was acquitted on a charge of selling Agent Einstein a quart of 50 per cent. alcohol for $2. Reif testified that he understood the alcohol was to be used for sponging, and not for drinking.

Herman Lipschitz, a former saloonkeeper, who had five gallons of alcohol in his apartment at 528 East Eleventh

WHITMAN GETS FULL POWER

Mayor and District Attorney Offer Unlimited Aid in Investigation of Their Administrations.

Mayor Hylan and District Attorney Swann co-operated yesterday in starting what was described as an "unlimited" investigation of the attack of Senator Theodore Douglas Robinson and Assemblyman Joseph Steinberg, which was aimed principally at Mayor Hylan and District Attorney Swann.

The Mayor, after a conference with the District Attorney, authorized the widest use of the Detective Bureau in the investigation of the Police Department. District Attorney Swann made public a document which read like a virtual abdication of his office in favor of ex-Governor Charles S. Whitman, who is to have charge of the inquiry.

Senator Robinson and Assemblyman Steinberg appeared yesterday before the so-called Additional Grand Jury, which was yesterday termed the Whitman Grand Jury to distinguish it from the large number of Grand Juries now functioning in the Criminal Courts Building. After testifying, they joined in a brief statement to the effect that the Swann-Whitman investigation was a "smoke screen."

The two legislators testified briefly, and are understood to have offered nothing concrete or detailed to support their general allegations of corruption and incompetence in city departments.

Swann Says He Is No Wiser.

District Attorney Swann, who was present during most of the time when they were interrogated, said afterward:

"I listened to them, but I was no wiser afterward than I was before."

"I don't think he was very wise before," said Senator Robinson, when this comment on his testimony was called to his attention.

In spite of the suddenness of the Swann-Whitman move against alleged corruption, and the assertions that the procedure suggested a "smoke screen" to hamper any attempt to uncover Hylan administration conditions by a legislative inquiry, there was an appearance of eagerness and vigor on the part of District Attorney Swann and ex-Governor Whitman to make a big and effective work of their inquiry.

Ex-Governor Whitman, whose work in the District Attorney's office against police corruption made him the most famous prosecutor of his time, appeared to be fully satisfied with the terms of his appointment, which appeared to transfer to him all the power that a District Attorney possesses. Under the grants of authority by the Mayor and the District Attorney, the former Governor may have the power of any members of the District Attorney's staff, or any lawyer he selects outside of that staff, of any detective in the Police Department and of any detective outside of the Police Department.

He is at liberty to use the services of Captain "Honest Dan" Costigan for the investigation of Police Commissioner Enright, a suggestion which has always been popular with the enemies of Commissioner Enright. As District Attorney, Mr. Whitman and Captain Costigan were close friends, and it is probable that the ex-Governor will make use of the famous raider and investigator. When he was asked yesterday, however, if he had selected any detectives to help him, Mr. Whitman shook his head and said:

"I have not even thought of it."

Say Politics Will Not Figure.

District Attorney Swann and ex-Governor Whitman were both emphatic in rejecting the idea that politics played any part in the work which they have cut out for themselves. The ex-Governor squared his jaw in the old style of his District Attorney days and discussed his appointment with an evident relish at the thought of taking up again the work in which he made his mark.

Political experts who tried to read the motives behind the plans for a far-reaching inquiry into the charges and rumors of corruption in departments of the city government found several riddles facing them yesterday.

While the proposed investigation is fundamentally one in which Mayor Hylan and District Attorney Swann are turning the searchlight on themselves by means of subordinates removable at

BUSINESS REVIVING, COUNTRY SANE AGAIN, SAYS W. P. G. HARDING

Governor of the Federal Reserve Board Sounds Keynote of Optimism.

DEPRESSION AT AN END

Wool Market and Farmers' Release of Wheat Show Improvement Has Begun.

EXTRAVAGANCE HAS PASSED

Future Now Is in Expansion of Foreign Trade, Asserts Financier at Dinner to F. D. Roosevelt.

All danger of a disastrous financial collapse has passed and there are signs that the widespread industrial depression is nearing its end, declared W. P. G. Harding, Governor of the Federal Reserve Board, last night at a dinner in Delmonico's, tendered by officials of the Fidelity and Deposit Company of Maryland, to Franklin D. Roosevelt, lately elected a Vice President of the institution.

The optimistic prediction by the directing head of the nation's financial system was greeted by applause from the bankers and business men who had gathered to signalize the return of the former Assistant Secretary of the Navy and Democratic Vice Presidential candidate to business after eight years in public office.

Governor Harding also called for a "surcease" of the high taxes which he inferred were due in large measure to the cost of keeping up great armaments. These expressions came toward the close of his speech. It was nearly midnight when he touched briefly on the importance of an expansion of America's foreign trade.

He declared his belief that it was "highly important" that the German reparations be determined. Disclaiming any intention of sympathy for those nations, he declared that "our late enemies, and still I believe our technical enemies in the absence of a ratification of the treaty of peace—are sadly missed in the industrial and economic life of the world."

Matters for Congratulation.

"Now, I think we can, in taking an inventory of our present situation, congratulate ourselves upon two things," said Governor Harding. "One is that the country generally has recovered to its normal state. We are no longer afraid. We are not indulging in the old idea of extravagance, living beyond our means. Nor are we troubled so much as we were a few weeks ago with that other extreme of overpessimism, where people get down in the tombs and they cannot see any daylight, cannot see any hope and see nothing but gloom and darkness.

"Now that situation is as bad as the other. They are both abnormal conditions of mind and we can congratulate ourselves generally that the country has reached a more normal state of mind and the main thing is for us to maintain that normal state of mind, if you please. This is not the time to try any remedies for the purpose of alleviating or deadening pain temporarily, of which the ultimate effects would be not to restore the patient to health, but to impair his strength and vitality.

"We ought to be safe and sound and calm in our judgments in living and in financing ourselves.

"I am thoroughly convinced that any danger which may have existed of a general collapse—and I have never thought that danger was as imminent as a great many people have thought it was—but any such danger as that has passed. I think undoubtedly that the worst is over. And while the Federal Reserve system cannot deal with individual cases, if they are individuals who have become so much over-extended that they will have to undergo a process of readjustment, that after all is merely an individual condition which will have to be taken care of. We will have to let it take its course. The Federal Reserve deals with general conditions. It deals with the banking situation as a whole and the Reserve position, the inherent strength of the Federal Reserve Banks has so much improved that you need have no apprehension whatever that the Federal Reserve position cannot take care of the banking situation in general. It can do so and it will do so.

Depression Near an End.

"As to the revival of trade, there are signs on the horizon that the extreme depression which has occurred in some industries is nearing its end. There is already a better sentiment in the woolen market in Boston, and the woolen situation has been one of the worst which we have had to contend with in this country. There are indications that the cotton mills will soon need increased supplies of raw cotton.

"Another significant thing is that North Dakota, where the farmers had been advised and had determined to hold their wheat for $3 a bushel, the Bank of North Dakota, which is the State of North Dakota, organized by the Non-Partisan League, the farmers' organization in that State, has recently issued a circular advising all farmers that are in its jurisdiction to abandon the idea of holding their wheat for a fixed price and to turn it loose in an orderly way on the market.

"That is one of the most hopeful signs that I have seen. I think they realized that the policy they had pursued was hurting themselves and hurting their whole financial and industrial situation in the Northwest country. For one thing we brought from Canada about

Fire in Our London Embassy; Files and Secret Codes Saved

LONDON, Jan. 7.—Fire, possibly originating in defective wiring, broke out in the American Embassy here late this afternoon. Quick work by a large force of firemen confined the blaze to one room. No serious damage was done.

The confidential files of the embassy and the secret codes were temporarily in danger when the blaze broke out in a room adjoining the code-room. The staff of the embassy started the work of removing the records to places of safety, but the firemen soon got the blaze under control.

KINCAID STARTS STATE PAYROLL CUT

Adjutant General Reduces Budget Nearly $400,000 and Drops Five Employes.

PUTS THREE CARS ON SHELF

Col. Greene, Highways Commissioner, Ready to Resign on Request of Governor.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Jan. 7.—The first response to Governor Miller's request for economy from State department heads came today when Adjutant General J. Leslie Kincaid announced a cut of nearly $400,000 in the estimate prepared about a month ago.

General Kincaid reported to the Governor that he had cut down his office force by five employes, including one bureau chief. Deficiency estimates of $31,000 he cut to $17,000. The budget called for an appropriation of $1,021,161, as necessary for departmental conduct and military purposes. This amount General Kincaid, in office one week, decreased to $625,750, a saving of $395,410.

The Adjutant General also met the demand of the Governor that State automobiles be used solely for State business. Three Cadillac cars, a Stutz and a Pierce Arrow limousine have been collected at the State Arsenal in New York City by the Adjutant General and four of them will be placed out of commission until required by the National Guard, when they will be placed in service with soldier drivers. The Adjutant General has further directed that all cars within his jurisdiction be plainly marked on each side with a State seal at least eight inches high and the words "For official use only" in four inch letters. One car will be held in commission at the Arsenal for official use at that point. It is not assigned to any individual but is to be used by all members of the military establishment who require special transportation at that point.

"I am glad to see that General Kincaid appreciates the necessity for economy and is following out the rules so quickly and with such good results," commented Governor Miller. "I look for other department heads to do the same thing."

Despite General Kincaid's action, all is not serene on the Governor's horizon. Encouraged by the semi-belligerent attitude of John J. Lyons, Secretary of State, over the proposal to take the Automobile Bureau from his office, politicians and office holders today were openly voicing opposition to the new Executive's economy plans, which, if carried out, mean an end to their patronage hopes and many present jobs.

Hundreds of State office holders are slated to be dropped if the Governor's schemes for reorganization, consolidation and elimination of departments and bureaus is upheld by the Legislature. In subsequent messages from the Governor additional requests for slashing are expected.

Secretly most of the Republican leaders throughout the State are in favor of the Governor's program, because it will mean an end to so-called "petty" politics, but at the same time they view with some fear the possibility that loss of jobs may bring local party disruption. Nevertheless there is every indication that the economy plans will be quickly endorsed by the Legislature.

One of the first departments to feel the retrenchment knife will be the State Highways Department. The Governor intimated today that he would make a thorough study of this department at the earliest opportunity with a view to its reorganization. Rumors have been current for some time that Colonel Frederick Stuart Greene, the present Highways Commissioner, would resign. Colonel Greene denied this today, but stated that he would give Governor Miller his resignation if the Executive asked him for it.

"I will not resign voluntarily," he said. "If Governor Miller wants my place, he can have my resignation for the asking of it."

There is little doubt that the Governor will ask for Colonel Greene's resignation soon. Already Herbert S. Sisson, State Excise Commissioner, who hails from Erie County, is a candidate for the Highway Commissionership. He is said to have the backing of George A. Glynn, Chairman of the Republican State Committee, and Fred Griener, "boss" of Erie County.

Sisson's present position is to be abolished by early act of the Legislature to conform with recommendations made by Governor Miller in his first message. There may be a State prohibition enforcement bureau under the new plan of abolishing the State Excise Department. But even if there is, Erie County Republicans aim higher and want control of the Highways Department.

ALBANY, Jan. 7 (Associated Press).—Frances Perkins, a member of the State Industrial Commission, was a caller on Governor Miller late today. She denied that her resignation had been requested by the Governor.

Travis H. Whitney, former Secretary of the Public Service Commission for the First District, also was in conference with the Governor. It was reported they discussed the traction situation in New York City.

Montreal, However, Believes Aeronauts Won't Arrive Till Next Week—Snow Causes Delay.

Special to The New York Times.

MONTREAL, Quebec, Jan. 7.—More news of the hardships and the rescue of the three United States Navy balloonists who descended on the shores of James Bay after an 800-mile trip from Long Island, was brought here today by S. A. Bradbury, who arrived from the Hudson Bay Company's post at Moose Factory.

Mr. Bradbury said he left the post at Moose Factory, where he is a clerk of the company, the day after the arrival of the three balloonists, Dec. 28, and that being accustomed to travel in virgin territory he was able to make good speed to Mattice, on the Transcontinental, and from there on to this city, where he is remaining for a short sojourn with relatives and friends.

Mr. Bradbury was positive that there is no chance of the three army officers reaching their destination at Rockaway Beach, Long Island, until next Thursday, Jan. 13, at the earliest. The three balloonists, he says, are suffering from their exhausting experiences—physical fatigue, hunger, loss of sleep and general bewilderment. Since reaching Moose Factory they have been in charge of officials of the company, who are giving them a much-needed rest.

Mr. Bradbury said he met the three balloonists shortly after their arrival within the territory of the post.

"They had come upon one of our Indian trappers, Thomas Mark, a Cree, in the woods," said Mr. Bradbury, "and after overcoming his fright—for the three balloonists in their strange and tattered garments appeared like wild and strange men to this Northern Indian—they managed to convince him that they were perfectly friendly and required aid. They had tried first of all to converse with him in English, then in French and finally Lieutenant L. A. Kloor, who was the spokesman of the party and who had managed to outrun the Indian, conveyed to his mind that it was food, rest and sleep that they wanted and a return to something approaching civilization.

Indian Gave First Aid.

"The Indian, when convinced of the friendly intentions of the strange men, decided that the only thing to do was to bring them to the Hudson Bay post at Moose Factory. He brought them first of all, however, to his own home on the outskirts of the post domain, where their wild appearance almost sent the squaw into a panic. She was dispatched by her partner to the post manager, J. Gaudet, to acquaint him with the Indian's queer find. While she was off on this embassy the Cree invited the three worn-out balloonists to rest themselves in his hut while he made them tea and furnished them with what refreshment he could provide. These were gratefully eaten by the officers.

"Without the loss of a moment's time," said Mr. Bradbury, "Mr. Gaudet, accompanied by the district manager, W. C. Rakham, and Messrs. Watson, Neil, Beveridge and Findlay, all in the Hudson Bay Company's employment, came to meet the officers and conveyed them to the Central Building, where they were rested, re-clothed, and provided with comfortable sleeping accommodations.

"When the three lieutenants neared our quarters I saw them for the first time," Mr. Bradbury continued. "I was not on duty at the time, having obtained leave for my vacation in Montreal, but upon their arrival I decided to remain a day or so to hear of their adventures. In appearance they were about as forlorn as one could imagine. Their uniforms were all tattered and gaping with holes. Only one of them, Lieutenant Farrell, still retained his fur overcoat, and they showed all the signs of physical exhaustion. They told us that they had been roaming blindly over wild territory for four days, having no idea of their whereabouts and having practically nothing to eat apart from what caribou moss they could gather. Loss of sleep had troubled them even more than insufficient food and they were, in short, done in. They had almost despaired of their lives until coming upon the Indian. To him they expressed the utmost gratitude and also to the officers and clerks of the company for all they had done for them."

Another Day Might Have Ended All.

"There is no question," Mr. Bradbury affirmed, "that one more day such as the three had gone through would have ended their lives. Caribou moss is not by any means highly nutritive, especially when one is battling for life and worn out with fatigue. It is particularly lucky for the balloonists that they happened to become stranded out there at a time when the weather was unusually mild for that period of the year. The ground was only slightly covered with snow, so the moss could be found easily.

"When the three adventurers had been brought inside to the warmth and rested they expressed concern as to their relatives and friends who, they said, might have given them up for lost, con-showing that they had left the earth at Rockaway Beach on the 13th of last month and that they had had no means of getting into touch with either the military authorities or with their relatives. They had brought three homing pigeons with them, for the purpose of posting those below the border as to their movements, but it had become necessary to sacrifice two of these birds to stave off starvation. The third pigeon would also have had to be killed and eaten but for the chance meeting with the Indian trapper.

"This last surviving pigeon," said Mr. Bradbury, "was found nestling in the coat of Lieutenant Kloor, who was overjoyed at having saved it from an unmerited fate. He decided there and then to write out a 100-word message to be conveyed by the bird to the O. C. at Rockaway Beach and I myself had the message attached and sent the bird on its flight. I haven't yet heard whether or when it reached its destination; but confess that I feel a personal interest in its welfare and success, not only on account of its employers, so to speak, but on its own.

"While the balloonists were being rested," continued Mr. Bradbury, "the upper floor of Central Building, where I and the other clerks sleep, was being arranged for their accommodation, and they were resting quite comfortably there when I left for Mattice and Montreal."

Face the Day Journey.

Speaking of their return journey to military headquarters below the border Mr. Bradbury pointed out that the journey from Moose Factory to Mattice would occupy about sixteen or seventeen days. He thought that Lieutenant Farrell, who seems to have suffered most throughout the trying experiences, might have to ride most of the way, but that the other two would be able to accompany the sleighs on foot and thereby keep warm.

"There will likely be three dog sleighs," he said, "one of them bearing a cariole in which man food, dog food and other provisions will be kept for the sixteen days' journey. Another will be used for the sleeping tent, camping stove and other paraphernalia of the journey. The traveling will be done from daylight to dark, after which the tent will be set up with the stove in the centre and beds of new cut brush wood prepared. There will also be a sufficiency of blankets. When Mattice is reached the travelers will find a train awaiting them for their journey south. Throughout they will be looked after by officials of the Hudson Bay Company, so that no fresh hardships should be encountered."

Upon being asked whether the balloonists would be traveling via Montreal or Toronto, Mr. Bradbury replied that at the time he left them they had not mapped out their plans. The Toronto Aero Club, he knew, had invited them to a dinner in that city, but whether this invitation would be accepted he could not say. He knew definitely, however, that should they decide to journey via this city they would not be able to reach it at least until the middle of next week.

EXPECT BALLOONISTS AT MATTICE TODAY

Free Telephone to Talk Direct to Their Wives and to Washington.

Special to The New York Times.

COCHRANE, Ontario, Jan. 7.—The American Navy airmen are expected tomorrow. If there is anything in the "psychic hunch" which has gripped Cochrane tonight their long journey from Moose Factory, near which place they were forced to abandon their balloon, will end about noon at Mattice, 110 miles west of here.

Though the prediction here transmitted is hung upon slender threads, it has grown so steadily that tonight the odds on Cochrane as the point at which the travelers will strike the railhead and be once more in communication with the outside world have dwindled to nothing.

There seems to be more reason for fixing Mattice as their point of emerging from the northern woods than there is for backing any bets that they will come tomorrow. An Indian runner who came to Mattice a few days ago with the mail packet from the Hudson Bay post at Moose factory so far overcame his native reticence today as to assert that before he quitted the fur trading post arrangements had been made to send the aeronauts out and it had been decided they should travel on the Mattice trail. At the same time it was learned that the Revillon Freres packet from Moose Factory, which had been hourly awaited over the Cochrane-Clute route, had not been scheduled to start until Jan. 4 and could not be expected for nearly a week. The opinion here had been that the Indian runners bringing out the Americans would choose the Cochrane-Clute trail because it was shorter and because the way would be broken for them by the Revillon train.

Expected at Mattice Today.

The belief of experienced woodsmen that the party will arrive tomorrow is based upon a hypothetical calculation as to how much more slowly than unaccompanied Indians the party will travel considering the presence of the inexperienced lieutenants. Adding this number of days to the time usually taken on the trail by Indians and dating forward from Dec. 27, the date set in Lieutenant Kloor's message as that of departure, they conclude that the party should reach Mattice tomorrow.

A factor that may upset their calculations is the snow which began to fall last night and persisted until this afternoon. It was of the fine driving kind common to this country, and enough of it came down to have made the trails somewhat more difficult of passage. Tonight the weather has moderated and this new fallen snow may soften enough to impede progress.

On the other hand if it freezes hard before the party somewhere out in the wilderness breaks camp in the morning they may win through before nightfall.

Parenthetically, it might be observed that moderate weather is an affliction in a region where it seems to be assumed that it is cold because it usually is. Not even after it became a misdemeanor to ignore the Health Department regulations about firing up has a New York apartment ever been as hot as are stores and offices in Cochrane tonight. Nor does one realize how hot it can be in Winter until one strikes some such superheated place clad for twenty below.

However near the airmen may be, preparations to welcome them have advanced close to the point of completion. George W. Lee, Chairman of the Temiskaming & Northern Ontario Railway, wired from North Bay today to Lieutenants Walter Hinton, Al. Kloor Jr., and Stephen A. Farrell as follows:

"The Temiskaming & Northern Railway offers you most hearty congratulations on your miraculous escape. We rejoiced with the rest of the world when we heard the good news of your safety. We have very much pleasure in offering to you free transportation over our railway and hope you may accept same. With kindest regards."

Free Telephone Service.

A feature of the welcoming celebration that may appeal particularly to men so long cut off from communication with their superiors and with those dear to them is an arrangement whereby they will be able to telephone when they reach Cochrane. A special room has been set aside in the railroad station here, in which has been placed a telephone for their exclusive use. Through co-operation of the T. & N. O. Railway's telegraph, the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and the Bell Telephone Company, the navy men will have free long-distance service both to Rockaway Point, where their wives are understood to be awaiting them, and to Washington. This privilege will become known to them when they receive this message sent from North Bay by Mr. Lee today:

"Will be glad to furnish you free long-distance telephone communication to Rockaway Park or to the Government at Washington, whichever you may desire upon arrival at Cochrane."

Copies of messages sent by Secretary Daniels and by Navy Department officials to Lieutenant Kloor, who commanded the free balloon expedition, were taken by the two mounted policemen who started up the two trails this morning in the hope of intercepting the party. It is understood here that it was the desire of the Secretary that his message should reach them before any Canadian or American newspaper correspondents were able to talk with them, in order that they should be apprised of his command that they file a brief report to the Navy Department before giving interviews.

One of the mounted policemen who fared forth today announced that it would be a part of his duty to keep all correspondents and photographers away from the three American Navy Lieutenants until they should announce their willingness to be interviewed or to be photographed.

Whether this extraordinary precaution was inspired from Washington could not be learned, but the belief here was that the American Navy surely had done nothing to hamper the task of correspondents sent a thousand miles or more to get for American readers news of three of their navy officers whose adventure has aroused the interest of the whole world.

Canadian Hospitality Offered.

The extent to which Canadian hospitality will be offered the three Americans will depend almost entirely upon their willingness to tarry long enough to enjoy it. They are almost sure to pass through Toronto on their way home, and that city at least is hoping for opportunity to show how it rejoices in their safety. A message from the Rotary Club there tonight invites them to either luncheon or dinner as they may choose.

Cochrane had hoped to offer a typical Northland diversion for their amusement when it scheduled for tonight a hockey match on the local rink between the Cochrane team, made up mostly of railroad men, and the six from Iroquois Falls, for the local industry concerns itself with the extraction of pulp from the bush. The airmen failed to come, but the match was played anyway.

Mercury 22 Above Zero.

COCHRANE, Ontario, Jan. 7.—The one reassuring element in the situation today was that the temperature is relatively mild, the thermometer registering at 22 above zero. What wind there is is steadily sweeping from a southern quarter, and west of Cochrane a light rain has mingled with the snow, which began to fall last night but ceased this afternoon.

Scouting parties despatched northward by newspaper men yesterday and early this morning still are on the way in the blinding snow covering the Clute and Mattice trails. A packet party of a fur trading firm is expected here momentarily from the Hudson Bay country, and runners are looked for from Moose Factory. A scout of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, who has been held here under orders to meet the naval men, intends starting for Clute today without waiting for further word.

Scouting parties, composed of veteran trappers, Indians and newspaper correspondents, today were pushing along various circuitous trails northward in the hope of intercepting the naval balloonists.

Postmaster W. A. Goulding, at Clute, was in such a state of expectancy all yesterday afternoon and last night that a party set out from there early this morning, fully confident of meeting the southbound party without going far afield. The failure of the balloonists to arrive last night did not shake his confidence that Clute was chosen as the destination of the Indian guides.

The special Pullman car for newspaper correspondents, however, was kept here, with steam up, ready to rush to any point reporting the aeronauts' arrival.

W. McDougal Douglas, agent here for Revillon Freres, fur traders, and keeper of the Dominion Meteorological Bureau, expressed grave concern for the airman reported on the trail in the storm, declaring that all indications pointed to a severe snowfall, which may assume disastrous proportions, blotting out trails along both the Missinabi and Abitibi Rivers winding down from James Bay.

If the snow does not overcome the party of airmen it will make for more delay in their journey down from Moose Factory, Douglas said, and it will take the exercise of every ounce of strength to force their way through.

AERONAUTS LANDED IN DESPERATE PLIGHT

Two Hauled in on Dog Sled, One Had Torn Up Trousers and Another Was Barefoot.

Description of the desperate plight of the three American naval balloonists after they had landed in the Hudson Bay country Dec. 14 and started working their painful way back to habitation at Moose Factory was received here yesterday in a letter from S. R. Thorpe, manager of Revillon Freres' trading post at Moose, Ontario, it was announced by The Associated Press.

The letter was directed to the chief inspector of the company for the James Bay district, at Montreal, and forwarded to John M. Revillon here.

The balloonists were in a pitiable condition when found, and two of them had to be taken to the Hudson Bay post at Moose Factory on a sled, the letter said. Their clothing was torn to pieces, and one of the men was found in his underwear, having ripped up his breeches to bind his feet with.

Under date of Dec. 19 the letter said:

"Thomas Mark picked up three strange fellows down about Middleboro some place, who turned out to be three American naval service men who went up in a balloon on Monday afternoon, the 18th, over New York, making observations for the United States Government.

"They got carried away in a gale, finally landing about 2 P. M. on Tuesday, the 14th, some fifteen or twenty miles back in the bush of Nicholson's Creekway. They had not seen any signs of anything at all in that distance, but eventually heard some dogs bark as they passed over here and, commencing to descend as fast as possible, landed back here in the bush.

"Using the balloon's compass they steered a course back due southeast and came out at the mouth of Nicholson's Creek. Seeing Tom Mark on the ice about Middleboro the youngest of them ran across to him, and he took him to his tent and then went up to the Hudson Bay Company, and they sent a team down to get the other two.

"One of them was all in, not having had anything to eat but two carrier pigeons which they happened to have with them in the balloon. Their clothing was all torn to pieces, one of them arriving in his underwear, having torn his pants up to wrap on their feet. They say one was in his bare feet.

"Mr. Gaudet and three men left early yesterday morning with two dog teams to go in to find the balloon, though I fear they are not going to bother with it, so I presume the Hudson Bay Company is going to try and get it out, as there will be a lot of silk tent in it. It is supposed to be worth about $5,000, though they had to throw everything away possible to lighten up so as to stay in the air till they saw some sign of civilization.

"One of them is a Mr. Hinton, who made that transatlantic flight in one of those NC seaplanes, though he says this is his first and last experience in a balloon."

Mr. Revillon, President of Revillon Freres, said that the company's post is near Moose Factory, the trading post of the Hudson Bay Company.

GETS WORD OF LIEUT. HINTON.

Wife of Naval Balloonist Receives Second Letter From Husband.

Mrs. Walter Hinton, wife of Lieutenant Hinton, received a second letter from her husband yesterday, telling more of his hardships in the wilds. At her home at 325 North Beach 145th Street, Neponset, it was said last night that Mrs. Hinton had departed for a week-end and could not be reached. She received her first letter on Thursday, but both were postmarked at Mattice on the same day and were believed to have been mailed by the Indian runner who brought out the first report of the safety of the three aeronauts.

Mrs. Stephen Farrell of 1,701 Woodbine Street, Glendale, said yesterday that she had not received any letters from her husband, who is reported in other advices to have suffered severe frostbites of the hands while he and his companions were seeking to find some refuge while the thermometer was 25 degrees below zero.

A dinner to Lieutenant Farrell is to be given by the Brooklyn Turn Verein on Jan. 16 in celebration of his safe return.

It was reported yesterday that friends of Lieutenant Kloor also had received brief notes from him, evidently carried to the railroad by the Indian runner, but officers at the Rockaway Air Station did not know to whom the missives were addressed.

LAST PIGEON NOT HERE YET.

Bird Released With Message Believed to Have Perished on the Way.

The carrier pigeon released by the aeronauts when they reached Moose Factory after wandering in the arctic wilderness for four days did not reach the Rockaway Air Station, and officers believe that it perished somewhere in the cold stretch of 852 miles between its home and the southern tip of the Hudson Bay.

Reports from Canada were that Lieutenant Kloor had kept the bird warm in his coat during the four days he and his companions wandered through a snow-bound wilderness unknown to them. Its two bird comrades from the "Carrier Pigeon Ranch" of the Naval Air Service had gone the way that all good pigeons go when in the company of three husky naval officers who had found caribou moss would make a better Christmas decoration than a food.

It is the belief of the officers that the carrier pigeon itself doubtless was weak after its long fast on caribou moss and collapsed soon after it took to the air at Moose Factory, with Lieutenant Kloor's message in the packet on its leg. A flight of that distance would have been unusual for a pigeon that was well fed and strong.

When the balloonists left the Rockaway Air Station they had four carrier pigeons in the small metal crate in the basket of the aircraft. One of the birds was released by the fliers a few hours after they had left the station while they were still in this State, and reached the station safely early on the afternoon of Dec. 13. This left the aeronauts three birds. Two of these they ate after landing. The last one sent by Lieutenant Kloor is the one believed to have been lost en route.

CHART FORECAST FLIGHT.

Canadian Government Observer's Report Was Fulfilled.

TORONTO, Ontario, Jan. 7.—The flight of the American naval balloon from Far Rockaway, N. Y., to James Bay illustrates the remarkable accuracy with which meteorologists can follow the course of air currents, said Sir Frederick Stupart, Director of the Government Observatory here, today.

He called attention to the fact that on Dec. 23 he forwarded a chart to Ottawa which showed that if the then missing balloon was traveling at a height of 1,500 feet its line of flight would cross James Bay slightly east of Moose Factory at 8 A. M. on Dec. 14 This forecast of direction proved accurate to within a few miles.

The discrepancy between the time estimated by Sir Frederick and the actual hour of landing is accounted for by him by the fact that apparently the balloon did not travel at the hypothetical height of 1,500 feet. The velocity of air currents differs greatly at varying altitudes, he explained.

Sir Frederick said the meteorological bureau here had received letters from Niagara Falls and other towns hundreds of miles westward reporting that the balloon had been sighted.

ALLOT HARRIMAN ROUTES.

Agreement at Conference With German Ship Officials.

HAMBURG, Jan. 7.—Representatives of the Harriman shipping interests and officials of the Hamburg-American Line discussed the allotment of sailing routes and the distribution of freights at a conference today.

Mutually satisfactory agreements were arrived at, according to a statement issued by representatives of the combined interests after the meeting. The assignment of docks for the American ships was definitely fixed.

Syncope Killed American in London.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—A verdict that death was due to natural causes was recorded today at an inquest over the body of Elmer J. Felt of Tacoma, Wash., who died yesterday at a prominent hotel here. Medical witnesses testified that death was due to syncope, superinduced by chronic heart and lung diseases, after Mr. Felt had eaten a hearty meal.

THREE MASKED MEN HOLD UP 3D AV. CAFE

Michael J. Cruise, Tammany Leader, One of Patrons in Restaurant.

POLICE WHISTLE ROUTS TRIO

One Man Slips Up Stairs and Summons Aid—$200 Taken by the Bandits.

Three masked men entered Hugo Siegel's restaurant, in Third Avenue between Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth Streets, shortly before 11 o'clock last night, and lining up the patrons and employes of the place, ordered them to hand over their money.

"We don't want any jewelry," one of the robbers said. "We want cash and we want it quick."

One of the trio stood at the door of the restaurant as look-out, while the other two collected the money. They took $40 from the cash register, $70 from Joseph Frisch of Glendale, L. I., and $90 from James Theise, and had just reached Michael J. Cruise, Democratic leader of the district and Deputy City Clerk, when a police whistle was blown in one of the rooms upstairs by Daniel Lambert, a patron of the restaurant, who had reached the stairway unobserved.

The whistle frightened the robbers, who ran to the street, where a taxicab, painted black and white, was waiting. The taxi started moving as soon as the three men had jumped on the running board, and ran east along Twenty-sixth Street.

Sergeant Cahill of the East Twenty-second Street Station, on special duty in a motorcycle sidecar, heard the whistle, but when he reached the restaurant the taxi had disappeared, and he could find no one who could tell him which way it went after reaching First Avenue. The patrons of the restaurant gave the police a good description of the three men, who, they said, apparently were less than 20 years old.

Dr. Charles Norris, chief medical examiner for the city, just escaped being a victim of the hold-up. He entered the restaurant less than a minute after the robbers had fled.

Gets Quick Sentence.

Less than twenty-four hours after attempting to rob a woman at the Atlantic Avenue subway station, Charles Carlson, 27 years old, a ship carpenter, of 4,403 Fifth Avenue, Brooklyn, was sentenced yesterday in the Kings County Court to serve from five to ten years, and four hours later was in Sing Sing.

Mrs. Ellen Garvan, an employe in the home of Henry Harper Benedict, a real estate dealer, at 5 East Seventy-first Street, the victim of Carlson's attack, appeared before the Grand Jury two hours before he was sentenced and related the details of the hold-up. She said that Carlson snatched her handbag, containing $10, while she was standing in the station, but that she recovered it after a struggle.

Carlson was captured in a nearby cigar store by Detective Coffey after the hold-up man had thrown away a pistol. Immediately after his indictment Carlson pleaded guilty before Judge J. Grattan MacMahon.

"This man is a cold-blooded bandit," said District Attorney Harry E. Lewis. "If crime is to be brought to a halt, the punishment imposed on criminals of his type should be as severe as the Court can make it."

Judge MacMahon replied that he agreed with the District Attorney, and imposed the maximum sentence.

Burglaries and hold-ups have become so numerous in the Flatbush section of Brooklyn that the Flatbush Taxpayers' Association, at a meeting on Thursday evening, adopted a resolution which was sent to Police Commissioner Enright requesting that he restore police dogs in that section to run down criminals.

Flatbush Wants Police Dogs.

Dr. Emmason C. Rose, Chairman of the association's Special Committee on Police Conditions, in moving adoption of the resolution said that police dogs had proved their efficiency in running down criminals several years ago, and that they would prove especially helpful now.

Several speakers derided a report by a police official that the dogs were of no particular value.

"You can expect them to say that," said one of the speakers, "since they have the effrontery to tell the people of the city that we are not the victims of a crime wave."

Other speakers said that policemen in the district were not overfond of the dogs because the dogs were too diligent in their quest for criminals and forced the policemen to more activity than they like.

A dozen of the dogs were poisoned under suspicious circumstances several years ago, one of the members of the association said, and soon afterward the system of police dog patrols was abandoned.

Stanley Sydlansky, 27 years old, and Joseph McCarthy, 22 years old, were arrested early yesterday morning in an apartment on the third floor of 1,447 Bushwick Avenue, Brooklyn, in connection with the hold-up on Nov. 5 of the office of the United States Trucking Corporation, 281 North Seventh Street, Williamsburgh. Four bandits obtained the corporation's payroll, amounting to several thousand dollars. Two of the bandits were arrested and it was said yesterday that one of them confessed, implicating Sydlansky and McCarthy.

Takes Dumb-Waiter Route.

At 3 o'clock yesterday morning Detective Miller of the Clymer Street Station learned that the men were asleep in an apartment at the Bushwick Avenue address. Miller got in the dumb-waiter and was hoisted to the third floor by two other detectives, while two more posted themselves outside the door of the apartment. Miller found the men asleep in a bedroom, and after covering them with his pistol, ordered them to dress.

Magistrate Raphael Tobias in the Tombs Court yesterday held John Dolan, 21 years old, who said he lived in a lodging house at Park Row and Pearl Street, in $25,000 for examination Monday in connection with the hold-up Thursday night of Adam Bender of 482 Woodward Avenue, Brooklyn, who was robbed of $25 at Church and Fulton Streets by two bandits.

Fred Teti, 20 years old, of 182 Johnson Street, Brooklyn, arrested Thursday night on information obtained from Charles Pulsi, a confessed hold-up man now being questioned about the murder several weeks ago of James Russel, an aged shipyard worker, in the Seamans' Home and Institute, was held without bail yesterday by Magistrate Tobias in connection with the shooting of Peter Carroll, a watchman, during a hold-up in Shaffer's Hotel, 4 Greenwich Street, on Nov. 11.

ARREST TWO AS CAR ROBBERS.

Detectives Say Prisoners Admitted Theft in N. Y. C. Yard.

Two men who said they were Michael Roach, 22 years old, and Frank Doogan, 20 years old, both of 30 West End Avenue, were arrested last night in the New York Central Railroad yards at the North River and Fifty-ninth Street and locked up in the West Sixty-eighth Street Police Station on charges of burglary, having burglar's tools in their possession, and violating the Sullivan law.

Detectives Manning, Kiernan and Finn, who made the arrests, said the two men admitted robbing freight cars in the New York Central yards on the nights of Dec. 28 and 31, when they stole cigarettes valued at $1,000. A search of their furnished room, the detectives said, revealed four electric torches, a full set of burglar's tools, two revolvers and 100 cartridges.

After checking up on the fingerprints of the two men at Police Headquarters, the police said Roach had served two and one-half years in Sing Sing for burglary and Doogan had been arrested three times before and on one occasion sentenced to from one to three years in the penitentiary for burglary. He only served four months of the sentence.

EASTMAN WITNESSES HELD.

Justice Burr Declines to Waive Bail for Five Men.

Justice William P. Burr in the Supreme Court yesterday refused to release five men arrested as material witnesses to the killing of Monk Eastman. Counsel for the men argued that the bail of $10,000 was excessive. Sylvester Hamilton, Nathan Goldberg, John Korac, John Konowsky and Arthur Broadback, the witnesses, were in court on writs of habeas corpus.

Justice Burr said that as the men are to testify before the Grand Jury Tuesday he could see no reason for releasing them.

QUICK SENTENCE FOR NEGRO.

Attacked Woman Thursday, Sent Up Yesterday for 18 Years.

HAMMONTON, N. J., Jan. 7.—Mrs. Elizabeth Grabson and her daughter, Mrs. Catharine Davis, living at Atco, nine miles from this place, were attacked yesterday afternoon by a negro who knocked both women down with a pistol, on a road near Atco. He then dragged the younger woman into the woods.

Detective Doran of the Camden County Prosecutor's Office at midnight arrested William Slammer, a negro, aged forty-five, who lived at Chesilhurst, close to the home of the victims. Slammer was today indicted, convicted and sentenced to from 18 to 27 years in State's prison. An armed posse and police dogs trailed the culprit.

HELD FOR A MURDER, CONFESSES ANOTHER

Newark Man Arrested for Killing Friend Admits Similar Crime Ten Years Ago.

BEAT WATCHMAN TO DEATH

Slayer Had Known Him Thirty Years, but Suddenly Decided to Rob Him.

Arrested for the murder of his best friend, William H. Morehaus, 57 years old, of 283 Plane Street, Newark, yesterday confessed the crime and told the detectives he had murdered another friend ten years ago. Robbery was the motive in both cases, according to the police.

Morehaus was arrested Wednesday night, but until yesterday he maintained his innocence. Finally, he broke down and told the detectives how he had beaten Hugh C. Campbell, 60 years old, night watchman at the United Fur Cutting Company plant, last Saturday night. Campbell was found unconscious Monday morning and died at the City Hospital Monday night.

Morehaus said he had known Campbell thirty years and had always been on good terms with him. New Year's night he saw Campbell going to work and wished him a happy New Year. After Campbell passed he decided to rob him, Morehaus said, and he went to the factory. The watchman admitted him and showed him around the plant.

While Campbell's back was turned he punched him twice and Campbell fell against a machine. Morehaus said he kicked Campbell in the head and face four times when he was on the floor and then took all the money he had, $4.70.

Major Richard Niederbuehl of the Volunteers of America, reading of the arrest of Morehaus, recalled that Morehaus and Campbell both attended services of the Volunteers for several years and that Morehaus had been friendly with William Buckalow of Main Street, Belleville, who was murdered in his home July 16, 1911. Major Niederbuehl told the police he suspected that Morehaus knew something of the Buckalow murder, and when questioned Morehaus confessed that he had worked two days for Buckalow and when the latter paid him off he seized an axe and struck him in the back of the head. He then robbed him of $75. Morehaus was never suspected of the crime, according to the Belleville police.

POSSES TO CHECK CRIME.

Long Island Towns Organize for Quick Aid in Two Counties.

Special to The New York Times.

MINEOLA, L. I., Jan. 7.—Fearing the crime wave in New York City will extend to Nassau and Suffolk Counties, representatives from forty of the sixty-two banks in the two counties, at a meeting held yesterday in the county Court House here, decided on the organization of posses of citizens, led by ex-service men, to cope with criminals.

P. S. Wicks, President of the South Side Bank of Bay Shore, suggested the organization of the posses. Whenever a hold-up man appears an alarm will be sounded on the town fire bell and residents at the head of posses in adjoining towns will be notified to guard the roads.

Each posse will arrange for the use of automobiles, and it is expected that a cordon can be thrown around a community within ten minutes.

A committee, consisting of Roscoe Clark of Islip, Frank Potter of Patchogue and Elmer S. Rogers of Babylon was appointed to map out the zones in the two counties in which the posses will operate.

FIREMAN HELD FOR THEFT.

Arrest Said to Involve Auto Stolen From Studner Company Head.

Stephen Lucus, a fireman attached to Engine 1, at 165 West Twenty-ninth Street, was arraigned before Judge Thomas C. T. Crain in General Sessions yesterday on a charge of grand larceny, said to involve the theft of an automobile from Myron M. Studner of 1,815 Seventh Avenue, President of the Studner Corporation at 39 West Nineteenth Street. Lucus pleaded not guilty. He was released in the same bail, $8,000, provided when an indictment was returned against him on Thursday. Lucus has been a member of the Fire Department more than ten years. He lives at 518 Grand Avenue, Long Island City.

The police say that the arrest was brought about by a statement of Robert Hatton, a chauffeur of 430 East Eighty-ninth Street. Studner's car was stolen on Dec. 16, and several days later found in Hatton's possession. He said that the car had been given or lent to him by Lucus.

PROTESTS BOLAND'S ANTI-ENGLISH TALK

Oswald G. Villard Tells Him American Interest in Ireland Is Not Hostility to Britain.

Oswald Garrison Villard gave out yesterday a letter he had written to Harry Boland, in which he said:

"As one who has been doing his best to obtain a fair hearing for the cause of self-determination in Ireland in accordance with the war aims of the United States in the late World War I desire to protest most vigorously against your statements in Madison Square Garden, if they are correctly reported in the press today. Such suggestions as you are reported to have made that the Irish should start a 'race vendetta in America, take an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth and tear down anything English in America,' if British warfare in Ireland does not stop, can only do infinite harm to your cause. America, because of its love of liberty, is bound to take a friendly interest in the struggle of any people for the control of their Government, but any suggestion that the struggle be transferred to this side of the ocean will be resented throughout this country by all right-thinking Americans.

"Do not make any mistake; American interest in self-determination for Ireland does not imply hostility to England. Those of us here who have been most warmly urging an early solution of the Irish trouble do so primarily because we are interested in keeping the peace between England and the United States."

AUTOS KILL THREE; PUT TWO IN HOSPITAL

Youth Fatally Crushed When Alighting After Stolen Ride on Municipal Car.

The list of victims yesterday of autos in New York City and vicinity included a man and two boys who were killed and two girls, Mabel Conrad, 6 years old, of 842 Eleventh Avenue, and Julia H. Gargulo, 4 years old, of 846 Eleventh Avenue, who were in Roosevelt Hospital last night with injuries caused by a motor truck at Fifty-eighth Street and Eleventh Avenue. The chauffeur of the truck, Louis Sebeck, of 1,990 Park Avenue, carried the girls to the hospital, declaring the accident was unavoidable as they had run in front of the car. He was not arrested.

Abraham Weinberg, 17, of 101 Hopkins Street, Brooklyn, fell when alighting from an auto of the Bureau of Highways at Fourth Avenue and First Street, Brooklyn, and was crushed to death. The chauffeur, Michael O'Connell, said he had not known that Weinberg was riding on the rear of the municipal car.

William Dickmann, 11, of 234 West 123d Street, was run over and killed by a truck of Burns Brothers at 203 West 119th Street. This also was said to be an unavoidable accident by the chauffeur, Eugene Martin of 1,785 Madison Avenue, who asserted that Dickmann had run in front of the truck.

The police in all of the towns in Union County, N. J., were notified to hold any automobile found with a broken windshield and damaged front mud guard, which are the only clues to the identity of the auto that sped away after running down and killing George Lewis, 45 years old, on South Avenue, Fanwood, near Elizabeth, N. J. Lewis, a clerk in a New York export house, had alighted from a train and was walking at the side of the road when the auto came upon him from behind.

SPITE FENCE REARER SLAIN.

Florida Newspaper Man Held for Inquiry Following Neighbor's Death.

TAMPA, Fla., Jan. 7.—"Rube" Allyn, a well known newspaper man of this State, was arrested today at Sarasota, following the death from wounds of Harry L. Higel, a contractor of that town.

Higel was found in a dying condition on Siesta Key, where he and Allyn had homes. No formal charge has been made against Allyn, who is being held for investigation. The police said a fence built along Allyn's property by Higel, closing a "short cut" had caused trouble between the men.

RELIEF REACHES HUNGARY.

American Red Cross Sends Thirty-one Carloads of Goods.

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Jan. 7.—A train of thirty-one carloads of American Red Cross supplies, valued at $100,000, has arrived here from Paris for distribution among the hospitals and destitute children.

Wool yarn will be given to 25,000 school teachers to make their own garments, preparatory to the reopening of the schools, which now are closed owing to the lack of fuel.

CORK MAYOR'S CASE UP TO LAW OFFICERS

State Department Takes Up Consideration of His Arrival Without a Passport.

LOOK INTO BOLAND AFFAIR

Cognizance Is Taken of His Alleged Advocacy of a Vendetta Against Englishmen.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Despite reports to the contrary, there has been no real collision so far between the State and Labor Departments over the question of the admission or non-admission of Daniel O'Callaghan, Lord Mayor of Cork, who arrived at Newport News several days ago as a stowaway in an effort to promote the cause of Irish independence by testifying before the unofficial commission of 100 investigating conditions in Ireland.

But slight differences of opinion have arisen regarding the law in the case. The Department of Labor is interested in the case from the viewpoint of application of the immigration laws, while the State Department's interest grows out of its desire to enforce the passport laws and regulations, O'Callaghan having come to this country without a passport.

The State Department today received the usual formal letter, containing the facts as officially found, and it was referred to the routine processes for determining whether O'Callaghan may be permitted to remain in the United States. It was not indicated by the State Department how long the case would be under consideration, it being remarked, however, that sometimes an inquiry requires several weeks, although it might be decided earlier with all the facts in hand.

In view of published reports stating that the two executive departments were in conflict in the O'Callaghan case, it was asserted at the State Department that it has final jurisdiction in all passport questions, and that the question whether O'Callaghan would be let in permanently was entirely in the control of the State Department. The Labor Department, it was said, holds hearings and decides whether persons shall be admitted under the immigration laws. In O'Callaghan's case it is understood that he does not claim to be either an immigrant or a political refugee. If the State Department should decide adversely against him he will have to leave the country. The department, it was declared, has very seldom waived the passport regulations.

The slight difference of opinion between the State and Labor Departments is over their respective jurisdictions concerning the meaning of the law of 1918, which authorized the President to issue proclamations concerning admission of aliens and enforcement of the statute. The President issued proclamations, and in those affecting the execution of the law by the State Department was embraced the exclusion of aliens without passports who are not admitted as immigrants.

If O'Callaghan should be deported, it is probable that he would be sent back to the port whence he sailed for the United States, and not be deposited at an English port.

It is also indicated that the State Department will be guided by the law alone under its conception of what the law imposes in the way of dutq, and not by any other consideration whatsoever. It is not expected that the Labor Department would refuse to execute an order of deportation if issued by the State Department.

May Look Into Boland's Case.

The State Department may take cognizance today of the statement attributed to Harry Boland, secretary to Eamon de Valera, "President of the Irish Republic," advocating the prosecution of a vendetta in the United States against the English. It has been informally reported to the department that Boland has professed to have come to this country without a passport as a stowaway, and it has been alleged that he was a stowaway with de Valera himself.

If it is found that he did not have a passport when he came to this country the State Department will have power, under its interpretation of the law, to order his deportation and also to prosecute him in the courts, as the law prescribes fine and imprisonment, and in the case of aliens deportation as well, when they come into this country without passports.

Even if Boland did not enter the country unlawfully it would be within the province of the Labor Department to determine whether he is an undesirable alien in view of his alleged utterances. Congress, in the Immigration act of 1918 defined several categories of undesirable aliens, and it was asserted today that the question whether Boland belonged to any one of them remained to the legal experts to determine.

Cork Mayor Due Here Tomorrow.

Lord Mayor O'Callaghan of Cork and Peter J. MacSwiney, brother of the late Lord Mayor, Terence MacSwiney, will arrive in this city at 1:57 o'clock tomorrow over the Pennsylvania road, it was announced yesterday at the American Commission for Irish Independence, 511 Fifth Avenue. O'Callaghan and MacSwiney arrived last week as stowaways at Newport News.

Street on Aug. 15, was found guilty of illegal possession of spirits and fined $350.

John O'Leary, 31 years old, of 373 West 116th Street, was arrested yesterday on a charge of impersonating a Federal officer and extorting $500 from John McGeehan, a liquor dealer at West Fifteenth Street and Ninth Avenue. Prohibition Enforcement Agent Charles A. Baker, who made the arrest, took O'Leary to the West Thirtieth Street Station, where he was locked up for arraignment before Commissioner Hitchcock today.

According to McGeehan, O'Leary was introduced to him two weeks ago by a man who displayed a prohibition enforcement agent's badge and told him that O'Leary was "the supervisor for the State of New York." McGeehan said he discussed with O'Leary an arrangement, details of which were not made public, and that the latter telephoned him on Dec. 30 to bring $500 to the northwest corner of Eighth Avenue and Forty-second Street. McGeehan said he did so, but did not receive the benefit he expected. Agent Baker said that a man, said to have represented himself as assistant to Daniel J. Chapin, supervising prohibition enforcement agent, had been sought for more than a week.

Morris Butter, 39 years old, of 42 Avenue D, and Louis Solomon, 30 years old, of 745 East Ninth Street, were held in bail of $50,000 each for examination Monday by Magistrate Raphael Tobias in the Tombs Court, on suspicion of the theft of 169 drums of alcohol, valued at $135,000, from 90 West Street on Dec. 22.

Joe Rose, 40 years old, of 151 Ridge Street, was arrested at Sheriff and Pitt Streets on suspicion of grand larceny by Detective William Crowley of the Union Market Station. Rose carried a satchel which contained two copper stills, one with a capacity of seven gallons and the other with a capacity of five gallons. Rose, who said he found the satchel and its contents, was held in $1,000 bail by Magistrate Max S. Levine.

Indications of a more rigid enforcement of the prohibition law were apparent in Brooklyn yesterday. Judge Thomas I. Chatfield of the United States District Court reiterated his determination to impose jail sentences on all violators of the Volstead act, including first offenders. Judge Chatfield criticised the office of United States District Attorney Leroy W. Ross, who, he said, had the power to enforce the law. Judge Chatfield then sentenced Adam Nichtman of 37 Third Avenue, who pleaded guilty to a violation, to pay a fine of $100 and serve thirty days in jail.

District Attorney Defends Acts.

District Attorney Ross, who appeared in court later, said that it was the policy of his office to ask jail sentences for Volstead law violators and that he believed such sentences should be substantial in length. The District Attorney said that there had been twenty-nine arrests for alleged violations of the Volstead act within the last forty-eight hours in his district, most of them by William D. Allen, who recently returned to Brooklyn as Prohibition Enforcement Agent in charge. Mr. Allen called all the agents of his staff together in the afternoon and warned them that their retention would depend upon the way they performed their duty.

Two Staten Island men were arrested for alleged sales of liquor. They were Daniel Cubberlt of 1,658 Richmond Terrace and William Morris of 1,510 Richmond Terrace. Both were arraigned before United States Commissioner Hennessey in Brooklyn.

Matthew Maloney, once well known as an athlete, and John Goffrey, a bartender, were arrested in a saloon at 3 Ferry Place, Brooklyn, said to be owned by Maloney, by Agents Geraty and Baer.

Four liquor cases came before Judge Peter F. Daly in Middlesex County Court at New Brunswick, N. J., yesterday. Rugal Slagado was fined $1,000 and James Coze and Samuel Guercher were fined $500 each for illegal sales of liquor, which they admitted. Nicholas Bahmer pleaded not guilty to a similar charge and was held in $1,500 bail.

William B. Joyce, President of the National Surety Company, issued a statement yesterday that Lawrence Malawista, arrested Thursday on a charge of offering a bribe to a Government agent to obtain a withdrawal permit, was not a direct employe of the company. Mr. Joyce said:

"Malawista is an independent agent, licensed by the Insurance Department of the State of New York. He is not an employe of the company. He is merely a soliciting agent. Apparently he has been making a specialty of soliciting non-beverage alcohol bonds.

"If he is guilty, we hope he will be convicted. Of course, the Insurance Department, which licensed him, will cancel his license to do business, if he is guilty."

KRAMER TO SIFT CHARGES.

Girl Clerk Suspended Who Was Named in Offer of Bribe.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Searching investigation into the headquarters office of the Government's prohibition enforcement forces was announced tonight by Internal Revenue Bureau officials to determine if there is any connection between employes here and the alleged "whisky ring" conspiracy in New York to obtain fraudulent permits for withdrawing liquor.

Suspension of Miss Irene N. Richardson, a clerk in the permit division of the prohibition office, pending an investigation, was announced by Commissioner of Internal Revenue Williams, who at the same time declined to discuss reports of irregularities in the issuance of permits by the prohibition unit.

Prohibition Commissioner Kramer said that he would make a thorough investigation of his office, but refused to comment on the suspension of Miss Richardson on the ground that the action had been taken by Commissioner Williams. The New York inquiry, he said, was in the hands of the intelligence section of the bureau, and until a report had been made by officials there he could make no statement. He did say, however, that he had had a talk with Miss Richardson.

Intelligence officials said that Miss Richardson's case was under direct charge of Elmer Irey, chief of the section, who is in New York, and none of the facts could be disclosed in his absence. Miss Richardson has merely been suspended from duty, officials said, and no formal charges have been entered against her. Conclusion of the investigation, which is still under way, will determine what action the bureau will take, it was said.

Irene F Richardson, a clerk in Prohibition Commissioner Kramer's office in Washington, was mentioned in the complaint against William F. McCoy and Miss Kathryn Foody, former employes of Charles R. O'Connor, Federal Prohibition Director for New York State, now under bail on charges to defraud the Government through the issue of withdrawal permits. Miss Richardson was mentioned in the complaint as having been offered a bribe by McCoy. Miss Foody and another defendant, not yet in custody, to put the permits through the Washington office.

LANDIS AFTER BADGER WETS

Judge Leaves Chicago to Deal With Wisconsin Prohibition Violations.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—With a record of having temporarily restrained 210 saloons and four breweries from selling intoxicating liquors in the Chicago district within the last month, Federal Judge Landis left the city tonight to deal with cases of violation of prohibition regulations in Wisconsin.

Frank D. Richardson, Federal Prohibition Chief of this district, kept his forces busy until late tonight preparing injunctions asking for the closing of twenty-seven Hurley (Wis.) saloons. These are scheduled to be taken before Judge Landis at Lacrosse, Wis., tomorrow.

Although Judge Landis refused to be quoted tonight, it is considered certain that the Hurley saloons which were raided at the time of the latest Wisconsin "rum rebellion," will be restrained from further sales and warned that violations of the law will result in jail sentences for contempt of court.

Monday Judge Landis will return to Chicago to hear a petition, filed yesterday, asking for a change of venue by attorneys for "Mike de Pike" Heitler, recently named in a Federal indictment on charges of transporting and selling $200,000 worth of Kentucky whisky.

To Honor Dry Law Anniversary.

WESTERVILLE, Ohio, Jan. 7.—Requests were sent out today by the Rev. Dr. Howard H. Russell, Chairman, and Anna A. Gordon, Vice Chairman of the National Legislative Conference of Temperance Organizations, for general observance of the first anniversary of the advent of national prohibition on Sunday, Jan. 16.

OFFICIAL REPRISALS PROGRAM OUTLINED

many as fifteen times. Throughout the country last week there were thirty-five raids on mails, an increase of fifteen over the previous week. Outrages during the last week numbered seventy-three, compared with forty-three in the preceding week.

With reference to the military reprisals, the Castle's announcement says:

"Although it is not yet possible to identify any persons actually engaged in attacks, the Military Governor is of the opinion that it is impossible to effect preparations for such attacks without the knowledge of many local residents, who therefore are held guilty, at least to the extent of having failed to give information to the authorities."

The weekly summary issued by Dublin Castle shows that arrests for the week for outrages and political offenses were 208, an increase of 142 over the previous week, while 189 internment orders were issued.

No further information as to the whereabouts of Eamonn de Valera or any news concerning the peace activities was had today. The extensive raiding and searching of pedestrians continues in every part of Dublin.

Asking whether persons suffering through military reprisals could sue the Government for damages, the correspondent was officially informed that no action could lie against the Government or the army, but that it was customary at the conclusion of a period of martial law to pass a special act protecting individuals concerned in the ordered destruction of property.

Review of Year's Attacks.

DUBLIN, Jan. 7.—A police patrol had a narrow escape from disaster at Youghal, County Cork, last night. Eight in number, the policemen were in charge of a head constable, when a bomb was thrown from a height commanding a road. Fortunately, the grenade fell into the sea, but at the same time shots were fired at the police, who returned the fire vigorously and repulsed the attackers. There were no police casualties.

More light is thrown on official reprisals at Midleton by an announcement that the houses destroyed were definitely known to be occupied by members of the militant section of the Sinn Fein movement. Official circles are inclined to believe that the raids are the work of flying columns and that the increase in outrages during the Christmas period was due to extremists who desired to counteract the peace talk.

An official review of conditions for the last week shows that outrages increased from 43 in the previous week to 73 and police casualties rose from 1 killed and 5 wounded to 5 killed and 6 wounded. One soldier was wounded.

During 1920, states the report, the following casualties were caused by Sinn Feiners: Police killed, 182; wounded, 263; soldiers killed, 54; wounded, 122; civilians killed, 43; wounded, 103; Court Houses destroyed, 68; constabulary barracks destroyed, 530; damaged, 163; raids on mails, 998; raids on coast guard stations and lighthouses, 46; raids for arms, 2,801; raids on revenue officers, 119.

The numbers killed and wounded do not include the Ulster riots, as a result of which 82 civilians died.

Seize Stores' Stocks in Fermoy.

Copyright, 1921, by The Chicago Tribune Co.

DUBLIN, Jan. 7.—Because the City of Fermoy had not paid a fine of £100 levied upon it by the Military Government and because proclamations had been defaced there, the military today seized the stocks of the four principal shop keepers, confiscating cloth, wines, and fancy goods as well as stores for the barracks.

BELFAST, Jan. 7.—Four constables were wounded today, one of them seriously, at Camlough, Southern Armagh, near Newry, when a small police patrol was ambushed.

Two Catholic curates, the Rev. J. Green and the Rev. P. Spain of Killaloe, County Clare, were arrested yesterday. Six members of the Catholic clergy now are in custody in Ireland.

PRIEST'S MURDERER CONVICTED

But Court-Martial Finds Cadet Was Insane at the Time.

CORK, Jan. 7.—Cadet Harte of the auxiliary police, charged with the murder of the Rev. Canon Magner and Timothy Crowley at Dunmanway on Dec. 15, has been convicted by court-martial, but was found to have been insane at the time.

Military witnesses testified that Cadet Harte had been drinking very heavily for some weeks prior to the shooting and that he was "absolutely mad" when he killed the priest and civilian.

HASTY TRIAL CALLED FOR FATHER DOMINIC

Seditious Passages in a Notebook Are Charged Against Lord Mayor MacSwiney's Chaplain.

DUBLIN, Jan. 7 (Associated Press).—Intense interest is being evinced in the trial to begin here tomorrow by field court-martial of the Rev. Father Dominic, chaplain of the Republican Guard and spiritual adviser to the late Terence MacSwiney, Lord Mayor of Cork, who died in Brixton Prison, London, while on a hunger strike some time ago.

It is said that the case against Father Dominic is so urgent that it is impossible to convene a general court-martial. The usual week given to a prisoner for preparation of his defense also has been curtailed.

The charge was served upon the priest on Wednesday without the customary evidence being taken, and he was not afforded legal advice until Thursday. It is learned that the charges are based on certain passages in a notebook and in a letter. The accused will maintain that the passages in the notebook were dictated to him by Lord Mayor MacSwiney in Brixton Prison in the presence of the prison authorities for transmission to MacSwiney's friends, and that the letter was a private communication to a friend in England, where it was seized by Scotland Yard detectives.

Father Dominic, from the time of the incarceration of Lord Mayor MacSwiney in Brixton Prison, was a constant spiritual adviser of MacSwiney. He was at the bedside of the Lord Mayor when the latter died and he returned with the body to Ireland.

HARDING ENDORSES REDUCTION OF ARMY

Approves to Representative Kahn Senate Resolution to Cut Personnel to 175,000 Men.

RIVAL TO WALLACE APPEARS

Houston of Missouri Presented by State Delegation—Mellon, Pittsburgh Banker, a Caller.

Special to The New York Times.

MARION, Ohio, Jan. 7.—Senator Harding favors immediate reduction of the army to 175,000 men and further decrease to 150,000 in the next fiscal year, as provided in the Senate resolution. This was made known by Representative Kahn, Chairman of the Committee on Military Affairs after a conference with the President-elect.

"I find that Senator Harding realizes that the millennium has not come," Mr. Kahn said. "He knows that this country must be ready to protect the rights of its citizens, but he is determined that waste must stop at once. He wants a sensible military establishment, but one that shall not be too heavy a burden on taxpayers."

Mr. Kahn said further concerning the measure for reduction of the army:

"We do not care whether the President vetoes the measure or not. We can pass it over his veto."

The Calafornia Congressman said that he did not discuss the Japanese question or Cabinet matters with Mr. Harding. Others of the Senator's visitors, however, took up much of his time with Cabinet subjects.

Henry Cantwell Wallace of Des Moines was again opposed for appointment as Secretary of Agriculture, this time by a Missouri delegation, who presented the name of Sherman P. Houston from their State for consideration.

Accompanied by the Rev. John Wesley Hill of New York, who acted as spokesman, the delegation consisted of Edward W. Foristel of St. Louis, C. E. Case, editor of The Missouri Ruralist, and John A. Baker, prominent in farm organizations. They brought endorsements of Mr. Houston from many Missouri farm and stock raising organizations. Endorsements were also filed from every Missouri delegate to the National Convention and all members of the State Committee.

Members of the delegation said that they believed Mr. Houston was acceptable to Chicago packers who opposed consideration of Mr. Wallace for Secretary of Agriculture. It was pointed out that Mr. Houston fulfilled the Senator's desire for a "real dirt farmer," as he operated one of the largest farms in Missouri.

Members of the delegation said that Senator Harding assured them that he had not definitely selected a Secretary of Agriculture, and that he would consider Mr. Houston's name in the two weeks that remained before his expected decision.

The arrival of Andrew W. Mellon, a Pittsburgh banker, who has been praised by Senators Knox and Penrose as a possibility for Secretary of the Treasury, stimulated speculation as to whether Senator Harding might not be considering Charles G. Dawes of Chicago for Secretary of War. Mr. Dawes has hitherto been the leading candidate for the Treasury.

The theory that Dawes was being considered for Secretary of War was thought to be strengthened by Harding's statement yesterday to former National Guard officers that he wanted to appoint as head of the War Department a civilian acquainted with military affairs. This description would also fit ex-Senator John W. Weeks of Massachusetts.

Mr. Mellon was accompanied by Joseph A. Grundy, President of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association and a close friend of Senator Penrose. After a short conference with the President-elect Mr. Mellon had luncheon with Senator and Mrs. Harding, and later resumed his talk with the President-elect. After his conference Mr. Mellon declined to say whether Cabinet matters had been discussed.

"Senator Harding and myself have been discussing a wide range of economic and financial affairs," he said. "They have embraced pretty much everything from banking to shipping, and from financial affairs of the Government to industrial and labor concerns. We have not devoted any time to the consideration of international questions, because I have such entire confidence in the Senator's wisdom in the course he is following as regards these that I have not assumed to venture any suggestions."

Andrew Squires of Cleveland, a lawyer and official of various financial, railroad and industrial companies, talked with Senator Harding about the future of the Panama Canal. He said afterward:

"The time has already been reached when we must begin considering the conversion of the present lock canal into the Straits of Panama. The volume of traffic makes it apparent that this conversion must be accomplished. It will involve a long operation, and I have earnestly hoped that a Republican Administration would initiate it and commit the Government to it."

W. Huelster of Cleveland spent half an hour with Senator Harding, discussing the Near East and problems involving the relief of distress. Mr. Huelster, who is the Ohio Director of the Near East Relief Committee, was on his way to Atlantic City to attend a meeting of the organization.

N. Finley Johnson, a member of the Supreme Court of the Philippine Islands, called on Senator Harding. He has been in the Philippine service during practically all of the American occupation.

COLUMBUS, Jan. 7.—Senator Harding tonight received initiation into the Mystic Shrine here, where on Wednesday he became a thirty-second degree Mason. He made the trip by motor, leaving Marion late in the day.

After the ceremonies Senator Harding presented to the Aladdin Temple Band, composed of local Shriners, a silver cornet which he played in his home town band as a boy.

Mr. Harding was made an honorary member of the band, which is known in Masonic circles throughout the State. He also received membership in the Aladdin Country Club, a local organization made up of Shriners.

Harding Urges Need of Prayer.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Jan. 7.—"Prayer is a dominant factor for a successful life," wrote President-elect Harding to the Rev. Benjamin Root, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, in a letter received today. Mr. Harding was asked what he considered constituted "success."

JEWISH BUREAU IN WARSAW.

Government Said to Have Agreed to Establish a Special Department.

WARSAW, Jan. 6 (Jewish Telegraphic Agency).—The Polish Government has decided to establish a special department to deal with Jewish affairs, the local Jewish newspapers announce today, and has made provision for it in the 1921 budget. No official confirmation of the announcement could be obtained from Government officials, however.

Permission has been granted by the Ministry of Education for the holding of elections by the Jewish community. They will be held within the next two months.

The Minister of the Interior has requested the Foreign Office to endeavor to obtain the admission of Ukranian pogrom victims into the United States. The request was made as a result of the efforts of local Jewish leaders.

TOPIC OF DEBS PARDON AGAIN BEFORE PALMER

But Attorney General Denies That He Has Promised to Release Socialist Leader.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The question of the pardon of Eugene V. Debs, nominee of the Socialist Party for the Presidency last year, who is now serving a term of ten years in the Federal prison at Atlanta, is again before Attorney General Palmer. Debs, despite the fact that he was in prison on the charge of interfering with the Government's war policy, got about 1,000,000 votes for President last Fall.

At the Department of Justice it was said that the matter was simply one which came up in the course of business, and that no promise had been made concerning the release of Mr. Debs. It seems almost certain that Attorney General Palmer, who opposed an unconditional pardon for Debs when the case was last before him, will not alter his position now. He may, however, recommend clemency on another basis.

It has been reported here that the incoming Administration would release Debs if the present Administration did not.

A report reached here today that John Sullivan, President of the Central Trades and Labor Council of New York, had stated that he had received a letter from Mr. Palmer promising the release of Debs and other political prisoners. This was denied by Mr. Palmer today. He said he had written no such letter to Mr. Sullivan. He had promised that the cases of Debs and others would be reviewed when they came up, he said, but had promised no pardons, conditionally or otherwise.

DENIES HEARST'S CHARGES.

Miss Heth Says She Did Not Contract to Sell Him the Heth Mace.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Miss Nannie Randolph Heth, daughter of the Confederate General Randolph Heth, who has been prominent in the social activities of the Daughters of the Confederacy and the Southern Society, denied today, in her answer to the lawsuit filed against her by William Randolph Hearst, that she ever contracted to deliver a "mace," known as "the Heth mace," to Mr. Hearst for the sum of $5,000.

Mr. Hearst filed suit last August to recover this amount, which he said he had paid to Miss Heth for delivery of the "mace" to him, and he alleged he discovered that the object was not a mace, but a cup or ornament representing a mace. He also alleged that, when informed of the mistake, Miss Heth agreed to return the money.

She denies that she ever made any such promise, and asks that Mr. Hearst's demand for the return of the money be ignored by the court.

AID FOR DANISH AUTHORS.

Copyright Proclamation Signed by President Grants Protection.

A copyright proclamation of considerable interest to American authors, recently signed by the President, has been made public by the State Department. It grants to subjects of Denmark the protection of the American copyright law of March 4, 1909, and the acts amendatory thereof.

The enjoyment of the rights and benefits of the copyright act is conditional upon compliance with the requirements and formalities prescribed by the copyright laws of the United States. These work from type-set in the United States, which must be completed before the ex- requirements include printing of the piration of fifteen months after the date of the President's proclamation of peace. Protection is also granted to contrivances, including records, perforated rolls, and other devices, by means of which a musical work may be mechanically performed. The proclamation went into effect when it was signed.

The proclamation does not afford protection to works which have been republished in the United States since Aug. 1, 1914. It was issued under an act of Congress, approved Dec. 18, 1919, which authorized the President to grant protection to "all works made the subject of copyright by the laws of the United States first produced or published abroad after Aug. 1, 1914, and before the date of the President's proclamation of peace, of which the authors or proprietors are citizens or subjects of any foreign State or nation granting similar protection for works by citizens of the United States."

Satisfactory official assurance has been given by the Government of Denmark that the royal decrees of Feb. 22, 1913, issued by virtue of the authority conferred by the Danish copyright law of April 1, 1912, extending to American authors the rights and privileges conferred by that law (including reproduction by mechanical instruments and cinematographic representation), were not canceled during the war and that, if, protection is granted in the United States to works by Danish authors which have been published during the war, protection in Denmark for American authors would take effect automatically.

ARTISTS FLOCK TO TAHITI.

Popularity of Gauguin and Recent Novels Inspire Others.

PAPEETE, Tahiti, Dec. 1 (Correspondence of The Associated Press).—Interest aroused in Tahiti by the latter day appreciation of the paintings of Gauguin and that rather unpleasant novel said to have been founded on incidents in Gauguin's life—Somerset Maugham's "The Moon and Sixpence"—has attracted a number of artists and writers to the islands. All aspects of scenery and life in the islands are being committed to paper and canvas with great diligence.

Every steamer brings new recruits and the offices of editors and the galleries of art dealers are threatened with an early avalanche of South Sea Island material which menaces the pre-eminence of copra as the principal article of export from the Port of Papeete.

COAL PROSECUTION SOUGHT BY CALDER

Evidence on Big Profits Submitted to Attorney General, Senator Announces.

KENYON CALLS IT ROBBERY

Charges Excess Profits of $3,500,000 From Army and Hundreds of Millions From the Country.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The Senate Committee on Reconstruction, of which Senator Calder of New York is the Chairman, has submitted to Attorney General Palmer, the evidence obtained to date having to do with alleged coal profiteering at the expense of the United States Government, Senator Calder made this announcement today on the floor of the Senate following a correction as to the total estimated profits on War Department bituminous coal purchases made by Senator Kenyon of Iowa, who pointed out that the apparent profit was $3,500,000 instead of $1,500,000, as had been previously reported.

"I wish to say to the Senate," said Senator Kenyon, "that if the whole American people have been robbed in their coal transaction as has the Government of the United States, the robberies will amount to hundreds of millions of dollars."

"Is there any law now under which these people can be dealt with?" asked Senator Borah.

"Yes, under the Lever act," replied Senator Kenyon.

Figures submitted to the committee by the War Department, Senator Kenyon said, showed that $5,447,937 was the price paid for 765,252 tons of coal purchased in the latter part of 1920 for the War Department, the average price per ton being for this lot $7.34 f. o. b. at the mines. Another lot of 155,000 tons of anthracite cost $1,305,926, or $8.65 a ton. Senator Kenyon added that the bituminous coal cost to produce, according to the figures of the coal operators themselves, about $2.82 a ton in the Central Pennsylvania fields and that the production cost was even lower in other fields. The $2.82 a ton, he said, was, in his opinion, a very fair price for the coal at the mines. To this figure, he said, should be added 50 cents as the commission of the purchasing agent, which made the price $3.32 a ton for bituminous coal.

"This means," continued Senator Kenyon, "that the Government paid for this coal an excess profit of approximately $3.80 a ton or nearly $3,500,000 instead of $1,500,000 previously given as the estimate."

While the War Department was paying the prices quoted the navy was using coal of high grade for which it paid from $4.50 to $4.75 per ton. The navy, however, had to resort to commandeering in order to get it at those prices, and Senator Kenyon gave it as his opinion that those from whom the coal was commandeered would probably go into the Court of Claims in an effort to obtain the same price from the navy as was paid for the army coal.

"This means," added Senator Kenyon, "that the navy, in trying to save money for the Government, will be compelled to go into court and bear the burden due to the mistake of the War Department in paying these excessive prices for coal."

Senator Sutherland of West Virginia said he thought it but right that the committee, in considering the coal situation, should also take into account the activities of other industries which, he said, in his opinion obtained just as high profits as did the coal men. He cited as industries to be investigated the clothing trade and the building industry.

Senator Calder said he agreed with him that these industries should be investigated just as thoroughly as the coal industry.

"We will go into these other things when we can; we cannot catch all the robbers at once," said Senator Kenyon.

GEORGIA SUPPRESSES REDS.

Danger to the Republic From Communists Over for the Present.

BATUM, Jan. 6.—Danger of a Bolshevist uprising in the Republic of Georgia has been averted, for a time at least, it is said by allied officers here. The Communist movement has been stamped out, it is said, and 1,000 Communists have been expelled from the province of Koutais, north of this city.

The Bolsheviki, for political reasons, delayed their proposed attack on Georgia and the Tiflis Government took advantage of the opportunity to take precautions against internal strife.

Bout for Jacks at Commonwealth.

A pair of ten-round bouts top the weekly boxing card at the Commonwealth Sporting Club this evening. Bobby Michaels, east side featherweight, and Freddy Jacks, a former protégé of Jem Driscoll, one of the best boxers ever developed in Great Britain, will exchange blows in the feature contest. The second session scheduled for ten rounds will be between Eddie Hasset and Kitty Baker. Three six-round preliminaries will precede these two bouts.

Veteran Oarsman Dies.

BOSTON, Jan. 7.—James H. Butler, a former professional rowing champion, died at his home in the West End today. Although in advanced years he was active as an oarsman to the last, coaching club-crews on the Charles River and taking out a shell himself up to a month ago.

Japan to Develop Boxers.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Jan. 7.—Japan soon will flourish as a boxing centre, according to Yujiro Watanabe, Japanese boxer, who will leave this week for Tokio to establish a boxing school. He also will have a school at Osaka and will import American boxers for exhibitions later, he said.

PENROSE EXPECTED TO END FARM TARIFF

Despite Reversal, He Is Counted On to Load Fordney Bill With Amendments in Senate.

HE MAY FIGHT FOR DELAY

Believed to Have Given Way to Congress Controlled by West to Await Next Controlled by East.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Senator Penrose appears today as a political enigma to those who have followed his career. His reverse on the emergency tariff is causing both his admirers and critics to ask what has become of the grit and statesmanship of old. The fact that he suppressed his frequently expressed opposition to the temporary tariff legislation and apparently heeded the call of the farmers is causing those who have learned to rely upon Mr. Penrose to ask the cause of the shift.

Mr. Penrose heretofore had never listened to the emotional hysteria of the moment. He stood up against woman suffrage and against prohibition and frequently voted as a minority against his own party. He did this just the other day, when he expressed himself against the revival of the War Finance Corporation and for sustaining the President's veto.

His declaration that the tariff should be revised scientifically and only when it was possible to ascertain the differences between the cost of production and wages at home and abroad, was made before he became aware of the determination of his Republican colleagues to cater to the farmers. The newspapers heralded wide that Mr. Penrose represented the manufacturing centres of the East and would stand against the farmers of the West. This and the further fact that Mr. Penrose stood almost alone on the Republican side against hasty farm tariff legislation caused him, it is said, to modify his position to keep himself in the Republican ranks on the Finance Committee.

His conviction is unchanged, it is believed, and what he could not do in the committee he is expected to see done in the Senate—the measure killed by Democrats and Republicans weighing it down with amendments unacceptable to the House.

Mr. Penrose saw clearly in Washington what was not apparent at a distance—that Congress at present is in control of those west of the Mississippi and south of the Ohio River. This condition will disappear in the special session President Harding is expected to call shortly after March 4. In the special session the Republicans of the East, those with whom Mr. Penrose will have more influence, will be in the saddle. Inasmuch as Mr. Penrose does not expect to see any tariff legislation enacted at the current session, it is declared, he acceded to the wishes of the forces now in control.

In the next House the Republicans representing the States east of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio River will number 228, a clear majority, of the House. The States they represent pay 84 per cent. of Federal taxes. The situation in the Senate, while not so strongly aligned in the same way, will be safely in control of the East in combination with that group of Southern Democrats who can be counted upon to support a protective tariff.

The Emergency Tariff bill will be reported to the Senate early next month about four weeks prior to adjournment, only to be caught in the legislative jam or strangled to death by amendments.

AGAINST 'HAPHAZARD' TARIFF

Senator Edge Tells Stevens Alumni Fordney Bill Is Harmful.

Opposition to "haphazard" tariff legislation and measures for Government aid in financing foreign trade was expressed by Senator Edge of New Jersey in the Hotel Astor last night in an address before alumni of Stevens Institute.

"God help the American taxpayer," the Senator said, "if the Government of the United States is to be made an eleemosynary institution for the benefit of foreign nations and of favored classes at home."

Senator Edge declared that the Fordney Tariff bill, now before Congress, would "give a black eye to the genuine Republican—the real American—tariff policy, and will set it back far more than all the free-trade arguments could accomplish."

"We must aim," the Senator continued," to sell our excess products to other nations, and in that our real profit lies, for in merely interchanging dollars among ourselves we would make no real profit. We must go after the other fellow's money, be it the pound, the franc, the lira or the yen. So, in attaining both these ends we automatically encourage American production, which is the foundation of substantial, national prosperity."

Senator Edge urged taxation revision and described the present system as "conceived in unbusinesslike theory and born to unproductive oppression."

500 POLICE HUNT BANDIT.

Morris, Wanted for Murder, Escapes When Caught in Robbery.

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—Edward Morris, sought by the Chicago Police Department for a week for the murder of a policeman and for numerous other crimes, came out of hiding long enough tonight to attempt a robbery in view of a policeman and to fight a running pistol duel with the officer in which the bandit was wounded.

Morris escaped, however, and late tonight 500 policemen were sent to the scene of the duel to make a house-to-house search for him.

NATIONAL AUTO SHOW TO BE OPENED TODAY

Eighty-nine Makes of Cars to Be Exhibited at Grand Central Palace.

Everything is in readiness for the opening at 2 o'clock this afternoon of the twenty-first National Automobile Show in the Grand Central Palace, Lexington Avenue and Forty-sixth Street. Workmen were busy all day yesterday placing the hundreds of motor exhibits in position.

In number of motor car exhibits the show exceeds all previous national exhibitions. There will be eighty-nine makes of automobiles displayed, and as each maker will show from three to five models the total number of cars in the Palace will aggregate close to 400. The enormous accessory exhibition will be larger and more varied than in former years, nearly three hundred individual exhibitors being represented.

One of the noticeable features this year in the cars will be a more generous color display in the closed models. Several very brilliant effects will be seen in addition to the more conservative black, deep green, maroon and brown. Blue has apparently retained its popularity for another season.

More automobile representatives are in the city than at any time before the war. With the exception of Henry Ford, practically every motor car manufacturer of note is in New York. Many of the visitors who arrived yesterday from the Detroit centre brought cheerful news of factories preparing to increase production before the close of the month. On all sides there was an unmistakable spirit of optimism that the worst phase of the trade depression was over.

The Palace will not open tomorrow, but beginning Monday the show will be open every day during the coming week from 10 o'clock in the morning to 10:30 at night.

The annual dinner of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce will be held Tuesday night at the Hotel Commodore.

GAME VIOLATORS PAY $48.

Three Hunters Admit Ferreting Rabbits When Faced by Proof.

The Conservation Commission at Albany says that filling dead rabbits with shot, to give them the appearance of having been killed with a gun in accordance with the law, is the latest trick of game law violators to be uncovered.

Patrolling in the town of New Scotland last Thursday, State Game Protector Earle R. Spensley encountered three "sportsmen," all from Albany, with two rabbits in their possession. Examination failed to show any shot marks and Spensley suspected that the rabbits had been illegally taken by the use of a ferret. The hunters denied this and were allowed to go on their way. Shortly thereafter the Protector heard shots, and hurrying to the spot found the same hunters with the same rabbits, but this time well riddled with shot.

Spenseley seized the rabbits and took the names of the hunters. After a search, he discovered three interconnecting rabbit burrows, of which the openings had been stopped with earth. He cleared the openings and set a trap in each. Returning two days later he found a ferret in one of the traps. Confronted with the evidence, the three men admitted their guilt and settled for their violations of the law in the aggregate sum of $48.

KILLS HIMSELF UNDER CAR.

Driver Found Beneath Overturned Auto With Pistol in Hand.

WICHITA, Kan., Jan. 7.—Apparently having killed himself to end his agony, Joseph B. Nichols, 30, a Wichita grain dealer, was found pinned under his automobile early today on a road thirty-two miles west of here. His left leg and left arm were caught under the overturned car while his right clung to a revolver from which one shot had been fired into his head.

There were signs that Nichols had struggled a long time to free himself. Failing in this, he apparently tore off his right glove with his teeth, managed to get hold of his revolver and shot himself. He had carried the pistol, contrary to his usual custom, to satisfy his wife, who had a premonition that he would need it.

URGE PIECEWORK STAND.

Clothing Designers Want All Manufacturers to Adopt Plan.

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—A resolution calling upon all manufacturers in the United States and Canada to take a definite stand for piecework instead of a daily wage was adopted at the closing session of the International Association of Clothing Designers' Convention tonight.

The resolution stated that no other procedure would bring about a quicker or more enduring stabilization of industries and give to the public just treatment.

Divorces F. H. C. MacFarlane.

Special to The New York Times.

RENO, Nev., Jan. 7.—A romance that began in the life of Fred Harlow Clark MacFarlane at a party given by his sister's bridesmaid in New York three years ago, where he met his bride-to-be, Miss Bernice Brice, whom he married in New York, terminated in the Reno courts this afternoon when a decree of divorce was granted Mrs. MacFarlane on the grounds of desertion and failure to provide. MacFarlane was ordered to pay $50 monthly alimony. He is the son of Peter Clark MacFarlane, fiction writer.

BUSINESS REVIVING, SAYS W.P.G. HARDING

fifty or sixty million bushels of wheat into this country that otherwise would have gone to England. The Canadians sent their wheat here. We got the benefit of the premium on the American dollar in addition to the price of the wheat, and the American consumer of flour has been probably aiding some Canadian wheat instead of American wheat. Well, the liquidation is already in evidence in the Minneapolis district. It was evidenced by the improved reserve position of that bank in the last week or so since the policy of the farmers in North Dakota has been changed.

Square Deal for the Farmer.

"I have always been a great friend and protagonist of the American farmer. I have sympathized with him in his problems. The members of the Federal Reserve Board are unanimous in the view that the farmer is entitled under any circumstances to a square deal, but that is all he is entitled to. He is not entitled to any special privileges any more than any other class or any other section of the country is entitled to special privileges at the hands of the Federal Reserve System. If he is willing to give and take he will get a square deal. I think the signs are that the farmer is beginning to appreciate this.

"So, after all, the industrial and economic future of this country depends now, more than anything else, perhaps, upon our foreign trade. That opens a vast subject in itself that I will not have time to discuss tonight except very briefly. It is a very complicated subject and it is of the very greatest importance.

"What the world needs today is peace; not theoretical peace but actual peace. We need a surcease from the high taxes all over the world, which are necessary to maintain these tremendous armies. There ought to be some way of promoting world peace, either through a league or association of nations, or whatever name you wish to give it, so that these large armaments should no longer be necessary. I believe our statisticians figure that 90 per cent of all taxes levied in the world are the direct result of wars in which nations at one time or another have indulged; 80 per cent. of all taxes levied are the result of war.

Business Morality.

"There must be a higher standard of business morality throughout the world. There ought not to be cancellations of orders given in good faith, and under no circumstances should there be a refusal on the part of a bank which has issued an unconditional, irrevocable letter of credit, to honor drafts drawn against that letter of credit.

"It is necessary, in order to protect our home markets, to provide credits not only for European nations needing our goods, but for other nations which produce goods competing with ours, in order to enable these nations also to sell to Europe; because if these credits are not provided, not only will the demand for American goods in Europe fall off, but goods produced in South American countries and in Australia will be sent to this country in order to get the benefit of our cash money; the result being that we have not only an unsaleable surplus of American-made goods grown on American farms, but we also have the surplus which comes here from other countries, which ordinarily would go to Europe.

"I think it highly important also that the German reparations be determined. I understand that under the treaty they must be determined by the 1st of May, 1921. As it stands now, while I am in no sense a German sympathizer—I am talking now just as a matter of business—Central Europe has a population of nearly a hundred million people—industrial, commercial people—and they are the western bulwark against Bolshevism.

"The Russian situation may take years to cure itself, if it follows the analogy of the French Revolution; it may be three or four years before there are anything like stabilized conditions in Russia. But the nations of Central Europe—our late enemies, and still, I believe, our technical enemies in the absence of a ratification of the treaty of peace—are sadly missed in the industrial and economic life of the world. When their re-formations are fixed they will know what they have to pay, the allied powers will know what they are to receive. All nations then can arrange their budgets and adjust their finances accordingly.

"I think the hope of American trade lies in the establishment of foreign finance corporations as provided in the Edge act; and yet, to be perfectly frank, that must be a very slow and gradual development, because foreign trade at the present time is accompanied with very many pitfalls and complications.

Must Feel Our Way.

"No corporation can sell its debentures or obligations to the public that does not immediately establish a reputation for conservatism and security, rather than a disposition to do business for volume without regard to security. We have got to feel our way along gradually, and if and when a condition arises when the investment market of this country, which now shows signs of recovery, can be so strengthened, and when Europe can furnish attractive securities and attractive investments to Americans, then it will be possible to re-establish our foreign trade on a broader basis.

"You all know, in this great investment centre of New York, how important the investment market is in the development of unused and outlying regions in this country. Think of the great West, how that has been built up with investments of Eastern money. Here is devastated Europe, which must be rehabilitated and reconstructed; and it can best be done, not with temporary ninety days or six months bank credits, which do not fill the bill at all, but with long-time credits in the shape of investments. Then, as they gradually build themselves up by the use of this investment money, they can restore their industries, re-establish their commerce with other nations of the world, and general world conditions will gradually work toward a more normal condition."

Mr. Roosevelt, who preceded Mr. Harding, spoke briefly. He expressed his gratification at returning to business and told of the lessons he thought he had learned in Washington and earlier in Albany. Van Lear Black, Chairman of the Fidelity and Deposit Company, presided.

Amon the guests at the dinner were George T. Bishop, Albert B. Boardman, Arthur Bennett, Vincent A. Cullen, John R. Delafield, F. M. Delano, B. W. Dudley, T. Edward Hambleton, Judge Augustus N. Hand, Wallace P. Harvey, Judge Charles M. Hough, Walter James Kent, Perry S. Laurence, Lewis Cass Ledyard Jr., Samuel McRoberts, Judge Martin T. Manton, Edgar J. Marston, Langdon P. Marvin, Judge Julius M. Mayer, E. G. Merrill, Frank A. Munsey, F. Buchanon Owen, B. F. Pope, Major George Haven Putnam, General Lawrason Riggs, George L. Radcliffe, T. S. Schultze, V. L. P. Shriver, Donald Symington, W. A. Sinnett, Edward R. Stettinius, David Taylor, E. R. Tinker, Daniel Willard, C. T. Williams, Spencer Welton, Thomas A. Whelan, John G. Yost, and O. D. Young.

TEXANS AGAIN BAR ARRIVING JAPANESE

Brownsville Warns New Colonist From California to Leave Within 48 Hours.

PROBLEM AWAITING COLBY

He Must Take Up Proposed Japanese Agreement With the President.

BROWNSVILLE, Texas, Jan. 7.—B. R. Kato, a Japanese colonist from California, who arrived in Brownsville today, was met at the train by a committee of the American Legion, Chamber of Commerce, Retail Merchants' Association and farmers' organizations and told to leave within forty-eight hours. He promised to do so.

Kato was told that public sentiment made it impossible for the Japanese to colonize here. Trouble was probable if the Japanese persisted in the attempt, he was told.

A box car containing tractors, farm implements and household goods which the Japanese who arrived here yesterday had brought with them is on a sidetrack at the station and they have promised a committee of American Legion members and business men not to try to unload it.

Legion representatives have told the Japanese that they themselves mean to keep strictly within the law, but are not convinced that they can control public sentiment. In every other town in the valley members of the legion are keeping in touch with Harlingen by telephone.

The Japanese say they had no intimation before they arrived that there was any anti-Japanese feeling here.

The two Japanese who arrived at Harlingen, Texas, yesterday and were asked to leave, T. Okuma and O. Okuma, brothers, said that they paid $273 an acre for the land they intended to occupy and had no intimation that there was anti-Japanese feeling in the Rio Grande Valley. They said that the plot of 282 acres had been divided into 40-acre tracts for settlement.

Californians Against Naturalization.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 7.—The California Senate adopted today, 29 to 0, a resolution requesting the National Government to agree to no treaty with Japan that would nullify the State's anti-alien land law or that would grant the right of citizenship to Japanese.

The resolution was taken up out of order with unanimous consent of the Senate, so that quick action might be had upon it.

"There are some phases of the negotiations that cannot be discussed," said Senator Inman, who drew up the measure, "but it can be said that there is danger, serious danger, that the Federal Government may give the right of citizenship to Japanese on the Pacific Coast as a sort of trading agreement. That would be unthinkable."

The resolution now goes to the Assembly, where final action is expected next week.

Agreement Awaits Colby's Return.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Secretary Colby will return from his South American trip on Jan. 26, and soon after reaching Washington he is expected to take up with President Wilson the recommendations of Ambassador Morris, which are to be submitted to the State Department in a report based on his informal conversations with Baron Shidehara, the Japanese Ambassador, relative to immigration and the California land legislation.

By that time it is understood that the Morris report will be in the hands of Acting Secretary of State Davis, who has been in close touch with the informal negotiations, and who will also be in position to confer with Secretary Colby relative to developments in the latter's absence from the country. If the report is accepted by the State Department such acceptance will probably be simultaneous with its accetance by the Japanese Foreign Office. It is for President Wilson to decide, however, whether he will recommend to the Senate the amendment of the existing Japanese-American commercial treaty by adding a clause which would give to all Japanese lawfully in the United States equal civil rights with the nationals of other countries.

The clause expected to be proposed does not involve the granting to Japanese subjects the rights of citizenship in the United States. It is understood, however, that the question of dual nationality, which is recognized by Japan, has been discussed in the negotiations, and that the United States has taken a stand against it, in consonance with the traditional policy of this country, which resulted in the abolition of the principle of dual nationality that had been upheld by some of the European Governments.

It is believed that the question of dual nationality arises from the fact that Japanese children born in the United States may claim citizenship in this country and at the same time be held by the Japanese Government as subjects of Japan. In order to overcome this difficulty, the Japanese Diet would have to pass special legislation. The Japanese theory is that nationality derives from race. It is within the power of the United States to deny citizenship to persons born in this country who claim to be subjects of another sovereignty.

The report will include also the proposed substance of a new gentleman's agreement with Japan, which would prohibit the emigration of Japanese laborers or members of their families to the United States and to Hawaii, but admit them to the Philippines, where, however, the Japanese are comparatively few, the Japanese emigrants preferring to go to other countries.

It is not yet known whether President Wilson purposes to prosecute the Government's effort to come to an agreement with Japan or pass the problem along to his successor, President-elect Harding.

Palestine Tobacco Monopoly Ends.

LONDON, Jan. 7 (Jewish Telegraphic Agency).—The tobacco monopoly maintained in Palestine for many years has been abolished by the administration, says an announcement by Sir Herbert Samuel, High Commissioner for Palestine, contained in a dispatch from Jerusalem today. The monopoly was held by a French concern on the basis of certain special privileges granted by the Turkish Government several years ago.

THINK CRIPPLED EDITOR IS HELD A PRISONER

Detectives Believe Villard Was Forced to Write Letter Mailed Here.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 7.—Mrs. Jacques Villard, wife of the crippled editor of The Free Age, who has been missing since Dec. 27, when he was carried from a hotel in Chicago by a stranger, today announced that she had received a letter from New York purporting to be from her husband. The letter stated that Mr. Villard had been detained in the East, but would return to St. Louis in a few days.

Instead of bearing the customary signature of "Jacques," the letter was signed "Jake." Private detectives asserted the signature differed materially from the editor's neat penmanship, and expressed the belief that Villard is being held prisoner and wrote the letter under compulsion.

Accompanying the letter was a note signed "Sadowski," which said the letter was received from Chicago a week ago with instructions to post it in New York. "Sadowski" wrote he could throw no light on why it was sent in such a roundabout way.

At Police Headquarters here it was said last night that no communication had been received from either the Chicago or St. Louis police about Jacques Villard.

WOMAN SPEAKER'S RIGHTS.

New Head of B. C. Legislature to Have the "Last Word."

Special to The New York Times.

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 7.—The position of Speaker of the House in the British Columbia Provincial Legislative Assembly, which was offered yesterday to Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith of Vancouver, carries with it a woman's privilege of "the last word." This was insisted upon today by Mrs. Smith.

Mrs. Smith will be the first woman Speaker of a legislative body in the world. Mrs. Smith first entered British Columbia politics as a silent partner of her husband in 1894 and worked side by side with him until his death in 1917, when he was Minister of Finance in the Brewster Administration. The death of the husband, Ralph Smith, brought Mrs. Smith into prominence and in the next bye-election she took her husband's place as Representative from Vancouver.

Mrs. Smith has done much toward improving legislation for women, and returning officers in the recent election state that many ballots were taken from the ballot boxes with Mrs. Smith's name on alone.

Among the privileges accorded the Speaker of the House are those of keeping her hat on in the Chamber, the casting of a deciding vote on a tie ballot, the right to extend priority of speech and the title of Honorable, the mouthpiece of the Assembly in its Address to the Throne. British history bristles with instances of the Speaker defying the Crown under the protection given its office. Mrs. Smith will be Madam Speaker, have her own quarters in the House and her own staff, and her advances to the Assembly will be heralded with "Make way for the Speaker," all the other members and visitors rising to do honor to her entry.

While Mrs. Smith was a member of the House last year the Speaker was called upon to decide upon whether the woman member should remove her hat when addressing the Chair, and decided that all heads must be uncovered when addressing the Speaker.

ITALY'S BALANCE BETTER.

Treasury Estimates Improvement as 2,364,000,000 Lire in 10 Months.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The Italian Embassy today issued the following statement with respect to Italian imports and exports during the first ten months of the calendar year 1920:

"The Italian Ministry of the Treasury announces that imports of foreign goods into Italy for the first ten months of 1920, on the basis of value of the year 1919, amounted to 13,054,000,000 lire, showing a decrease of 644,000 lire from the amount of imports for the same period in the preceding year.

"Exports from Italy for the first ten months of 1919 amounted to 4,500,000,000 lire, while for the same period in 1920 they amounted to 6,220,000,000 lire. The balance from Jan. 1 to Oct. 31, 1920, shows a favorable turn toward Italy of 2,364,000,000 lire."

toward unavoidable delinquencies in the fulfillment of treaty clauses, to give Germany time and treat the whole problem with a degree of moderation so long as Germany may show an honest disposition to fulfill her treaty obligations and the Spa promises.

FRANCE REFUSES CUT IN SPA COAL TERMS

Berlin Pleads Inability to Comply—Ready for Brussels Conference Jan. 25.

PARIS, Jan. 7.—The French Government has decided to insist upon strict fulfillment of the Spa agreement concerning coal deliveries by Germany, it was said in an official circular issued today. The Reparations Commission, although not a party to the Spa agreement, supervises its execution and recently called the attention of the German Government to a shortage of 500,000 tons in deliveries up to the end of the year.

The German reply, which has just been received, says that Germany will be unable to make up the deficiencies in the ensuing three months, as requested by the Reparations Commission, alleging that the effect of the large coal deliveries on the economic situation of Germany is such that Germany will be unable to continue to deliver coal even at the same rate that she has been doing since August last.

The matter now will probably be referred by the Reparations Commission to the signers of the Spa agreement and the French, it is understood, will hold that, the Spa arrangement being a considerable concession from the terms of the Treaty of Versailles, they cannot forego to any extent the right to their share of the coal which Germany agreed to furnish.

While the fuel situation of France has vastly improved, she is still spending large sums for coal in England and the United States, and that which has been furnished by Germany thus far constitutes the principal part of the reparations she has obtained.

Members of the Reparations Commission met yesterday to consider the question of German payments, several of which are overdue. They received a despatch from the reparation officers in Berlin, saying that Germany would make payment before January 15.

The German Government today informed the allied Governments that the German experts would be ready to resume the reparations conference at Brussels with the Allies on Jan. 25. The date for the resumption of this conference was originally set for Jan. 10, but Germany gave notice early this week that her representatives would not be able to be in Brussels on that date.

The Council of Ambassadors, which took up details of the peace settlement after the Supreme Council discontinued its regular sessions, held its one hundredth meeting today, Jules Cambon making it the occasion for an address on the enormous amount of work accomplished by the Council during the ten months of its existence. Ambassador Wallace has been a regular attendant at the Council's sessions. The Council was occupied today with some outstanding details regarding the distribution of coal from the Teschen district, on the Polish-Czechoslovak border.

RUHR THREAT TO BAVARIA.

Miners Decide to Cut Off Coal Unless Guards Are Disarmed.

PARIS, Jan. 7.—Miners in the Ruhr district of Germany have decided to deprive Bavaria of coal as a step toward forcing Bavaria to disarm the civil guards, the disbandment of which has been demanded by the Allies, says a Berlin dispatch to the Matin, quoting the Rhenish Journal, a Socialist organ.

INSANE EX-SOLDIERS PUT WITH CRIMINALS

Dr. Salmon Tells Congressmen Some Are Also Sent to Asylums as Paupers.

OTHERS PREY OF PROFITEERS

Medical Experts Heard on Bill to Consolidate Government Relief Work.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Not a cent so far appropriated by Congress for the care of war veterans suffering from disability or wounds incurred in service has been spent for hospitals for the treatment of insane, the House Commerce Committee was informed today by Dr. Thomas W. Salmon of New York, advisor on mental diseases to the Rockefeller Foundation.

The statement was made at a hearing on the Rogers bill to consolidate into one bureau the Government agencies dealing with relief for former service men.

As a result of this failure to provide proper facilities, Dr. Salmon added, veterans suffering from mental and nervous disorders were, in many instances, being committed by the Government to institutions in which criminal insane, drug addicts and vicious degenerates were segregated.

In addition to Dr. Salmon, those who urged the passage of the bill included Dr. H. A. Pattison of New York, Supervisor of Medical Service of the National Tuberculosis Association; F. W. Galbraith, National Commander of the American Legion, and several other officers of the legion.

Dr. Salmon, who was in charge of the treatment of neuro-psychiatric cases in the American Expeditionary Forces, gave a graphic description of the plight of men suffering from shell shock and other mental and nervous troubles. One-third of the ex-service men receiving treatment at Government expense were neuro-psychiatric, he said, and six of each ten men so affected were insane.

Declaring that the Government was obliged to send insane veterans to local asylums, almshouses and sanitariums operated for private gain, Dr. Salmon said:

"Men so committed, as a rule, are never visited by Federal officials to see whether they are properly cared for or whether the institutions in which they are confined are even fireproof or fit for human beings."

He added that in some instances proprietors of private sanitariums were pocketing as profit as much as 60 cents on each dollar received for the care of ex-service men. Dr. Salmon asserted that under the present method insane service men must be adjudged "insane paupers" in court before they could be committed to State or county asylums.

"Many a mother has told me," he said, "that she would rather see her son under a cross in France than have him adjudged an insane pauper and committed to a State institution."

As a result of this sentiment, he added, some men were "lurking at home, afraid to come forward, getting worse all the time."

Dr. Salmon declared that his "unseen army" would not come forward until the Government provided suitable institutions for their care. He estimated that 50 per cent. of the men suffering from nervous and mental afflictions, with proper treatment, could be returned to society "either well or socially recovered."

Discussing the tuberculosis situation, Dr. Pattison denied what he said was a common theory—that many service men were tubercular as a result of having been gassed in France. Gas had little to do with bringing on tuberculosis, he declared. The main causes of an increase of tuberculosis among war veterans, Dr. Pattison said, were epidemics such as influenza and measles, which were prevalent in many camps during the war, and also the intensive physical training to which men were subjected upon entering the service.

Mr. Galbraith charged that decentralization of authority in dealing with disabled men had put many of them in a "frightful" predicament.

Party Demonstrations on the Occasion of Ex-King Ludwig's Birthday.

BERLIN, Jan. 7.—Ex-King Ludwig celebrated his seventy-sixth birthday yesterday at Castle Wildenwart, in the Chiemgau, Bavaria, which occasion the Bavarian royalist party seized for a demonstration that is causing great offense among republicans. The Women's League of the royalist party presented to the latter a silk flag, which was consecrated with great ceremony at Wildenwart Church in the presence of various delegations of the royalist party from different Bavarian cities.

In Munich, too, the birthday was celebrated by high mass in the former Court church, several Wittelsbach Princes and Princesses and members of the former Court circle attending.

Odell Keeps Bus Lines Out.

Special to The New York Times.

WALDEN, N. Y., Jan. 7.—Former Governor B. B. Odell won a fight today between his street cars and automobile buses in Walden, after suspending trolley car service there for twenty-four hours. There was such a storm of protest after the ex-Governor kept his threat to suspend service if compelled to have the Orange County Traction Company's cars compete with bus lines between Walden and Newburg, that the applicants for bus franchises withdrew from the field, although the Newburg City Council had voted to allow bus lines to operate. Street-car service on the Walden line then was resumed.

One-day-old Eggs
Save them with
Knickerbocker Ice

Many invalids and delicate children depend upon these eggs, direct from the farm. The eggs sell at from $1.35 to $1.45 a dozen. To keep them with one-day-old freshness — the "egg-man" says: "put the box in the refrigerator—turn the eggs frequently." All eggs should be kept in the refrigerator—outside temperature is too variable.

You don't need as much Knickerbocker Ice in winter as you do in summer, but for health's sake you need it just as vitally. Your refrigerator doesn't only keep food cold, but pure and fresh.

HAYASHI INDORSES NAVAL AGREEMENT

Japan Ready to Co-operate With America on Limitation, Ambassador Says.

DENIES RACE IN BUILDING

But Declares the United States Must Not Dictate to Others on Righteousness.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—The Daily Telegraph this morning publishes an interview with Baron Hayashi, the Japanese Ambassador here, on the subject of American and Japanese naval armaments.

Baron Hayashi repudiated the suggestion of a naval race for the supremacy of the Pacific. No such idea, he said, was entertained by responsible persons in his country. True, Japan was building battleships and cruisers, but she was not doing so in competition with the United States. If she were she would be engaged in a game which she had lost from the start.

The Ambassador pointed to comparative figures to show that there was really no question of serious rivalry between the two powers. Japan's new program of construction will involve the expenditure of some £70,000,000 and that of the United States will cost nearly thrice as much. When both are completed America will have at least double as many capital ships as the Island Empire.

Referring also to the suggestion that Japan's military arrangements are of a magnitude out of all harmony with peace conditions, Baron Hayashi said:

"Could anything be more unstable than the present outlook in the Far East, with Siberia in one melting pot and China in another, not to mention Central Asia? The last two years have shown how often we may be called upon to defend against wholesale slaughter the Japanese colonists in Siberia and Manchuria.

"Consider the immense length of the coast line and the land frontiers which we might have to defend in an emergency. Remember also that China has thirty-six divisions, that Russia before the war had 100 divisions and that even today the Bolsheviki are seeking to emulate the military machine of Imperial Russia."

Warns of Being at America's Mercy.

Replying to a question if he suspected that the United States was harboring aggressive designs against Japan, Baron Hayashi said:

"Certainly I do not. Mr. Secretary Daniels, who conceived the idea of a fleet nearly three times as strong as that we are now building, I believe to be a genuinely religious and peace-loving man, like most Americans, but precisely on account of his ardent pacifism and of his belief in the moral infallibility of his nation he has set out to construct a fleet so strong as would reduce all others to a mere cipher, and incidentally enable America to dictate her conception of right to others.

"Now with nations it is as with individuals. Some are more righteous than others. America is assuredly among the former, but no more than any individual is any nation always and everywhere righteous, or at any rate in the right. The most righteous sometimes lapse through pride or aberration, and wisdom prescribes that provision should be made against such lapses.

"Moreover, of none of us can it be exacted that we should concede predominance in virtue to any particular State. Therefore, political wisdom and expediency are here at one with national dignity in holding that we, as a sea power, cannot consent to be at the total mercy of any other navy. That is one of the reasons why, painful as is the burden entailed by our naval and military estimates, the nation will bear it, I will not say gladly, but resignedly."

Says Japan Knows War's Folly.

The interviewer interposed the following question:

"But is not such a budget as yours and also America's in some measure incompatible with the maintenance of a lasting state of peace, simply because national resignation to such burdens cannot endure for long so that their trend must inevitably be toward war?"

Baron Hayashi replied:

"We have all learned the lesson of war, that is the folly of it, and none has learned it better than ourselves. You sometimes call us realists. Well, firstly because we are realists, receptive but also critical and cold scientific observers of facts, we have duly noted that modern war is not a paying proposition, whether for the vanquished or for the victors. It may spell bankruptcy for both. Our best brains understand that our future lies not in territorial and military conquests but on the water in the carrying trade and on land in our commercial and industrial expansion abroad.

"We have become a big industrial power, but once more because we are as you say realists and as such have noted the gigantic blunder committed by Germany when at the crux of her industrial expansion in 1914, believe me we do not propose to repeat that blunder and by a mad act of aggression to miss or mar tremendously the unique economic opportunities that should be ours for a peaceable effort.

"It would be impertinence for me to suggest that the same remark might apply to our American friends. The United States have long been a great economic power but they too have within their reach at this juncture commercial possibilities of a magnitude they have never known before. The full naval program now under discussion there would, no doubt, weigh, financially speaking, less heavily upon the American people than what we have in view upon our own people. Still the proposed burden as we already see, is not cheerfully envisaged by all Americans.

Favors a Naval Agreement.

"Thus it would appear that the threatened naval race in the Pacific—really no race at all, since we have no desire to challenge and could only compete under the severest handicap—might yet be avoided by an arrangement compatible with the material safety and national dignity of both of us and of yourselves. Unofficial proposals to this effect already put forward in the United States are sure to meet on the part of Japan with a ready and cordial response.

"Indeed, has not the whole trend of Japanese foreign policy in recent times been directed toward friendly agreement with America, whether within the League or without? Where, I ask you, have we failed to show a proper spirit of conciliation? Where could it be said of us that we have sought to push to their extreme limits and logically legitimate conclusions our principles and claims? Not, assuredly, in regard to racial equality, amendment of the covenant nor in regard to the immigration question in California, nor in regard to equal opportunities of commerce and trade in the South Pacific Islands under Australian mandate. In every instance we have either fallen in with a compromise proposed or looked for one ourselves."

BRITAIN'S SEA POWER DOUBLE AMERICA'S NOW

And Ours Is Double Japan's—Washington Gets Complete Data on Naval Strength.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7 (Associated Press).—What officials believe to be complete information as to the relative naval strength of the principal world powers is now in possession of the American Government. Whether it will be presented to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in connection with that committee's consideration of proposals looking to world disarmament has not been disclosed.

The information has been compiled in the form of tables, which show that Great Britain's sea power is double that of the United States and that, although the British preponderance in capital ships will practically have been overcome by the United States with the completion in 1923 of the American building program, the American navy will still be greatly inferior in types of vessels which naval officers regard as extremely important, notably destroyer leaders, cruisers, light cruisers, cruising submarines and airplane ships.

The American navy today, according to this information, has more than double the strength of the Japanese navy, and this ratio will be maintained with the completion of the building programs of the two countries. The United States will be far superior not only in capital ships, but also in destroyers and submarines. Japan, however, will have double the number of battle cruisers, now possessing four such vessels, with eight others projected, while the United States has none completed and only six building.

Without reference to second line ships, of which Great Britain has a preponderance in all classes over the United States and Japan, the British navy contains twenty-six battleships carrying at least ten guns each of 12-inch calibre or larger and displacing 20,000 tons or more. The United States has sixteen such vessels, Japan six, France seven and Italy four. Great Britain has no first line battleships under construction, while the United States has eleven, Japan seven, France four and Italy four.

The British Navy, pioneer in the development of the battle cruiser type, still retains an easy advantage in this class of modern ships of war with six first-line battle cruisers and four others classed as second line.

The British Navy has 44 light cruisers in the first line, 24 in the second line and 5 under construction. Japan has six such vessels in service and nine under construction, while the United States has three ships, built as scout cruisers, designated as "light cruisers of the second line," and ten light cruisers of the Omaha class under construction.

Great Britain is shown to be the only nation with any destroyer leaders, having twenty-four such vessels with a speed of thirty knots and up, and another building.

Despite the United States' great wartime destroyer-building program, Great Britain still maintains a preponderance in both first and second line vessels of this type. In the first line the British Navy has 334 destroyers built and 11 building, the United States 260 in service and 12 authorized but not under construction, Japan 27 built, 15 under construction and probably 30 others authorized.

Britain has 71 first line submarines in service, 66 in the second line, 18 first line fleet submersibles and 7 second line, 1 cruiser submarine and 2 monitor-type submersibles with another building. Against this great undersea fleet of 165 vessels the United States could oppose a total of 98 submarines of all types, divided into 52 first line and 44 second line short-radius craft, 2 fleet submarines and no cruiser submersibles, with 46 others of various types authorized. The United States has none of the great monitor submersibles, mounting 12-inch turret guns, either built or building.

Japan has no first line submarines; ten second line short radius vessels and no fleet cruising or monitor types, although about forty submersibles of all classes have been authorized.

The figures show that on Jan. 1, 1921, the strength of the three principal naval powers in first line major ships (battleships and battle cruisers) mounting guns of 13.5-inch calibre or greater was: Great Britain, twenty-eight vessels of 723,650 tons; United States, ten vessels of 300,100 tons, and Japan nine vessels of 267,520.

The projected strength of the same three powers at the end of 1923 in capital ships, with the same limitations as to calibre of guns, on the basis of present projected building, is fixed at: Great Britain, 28 ships totaling 723,650 tons; United States, 27 ships of 980,000 tons, and Japan 16 ships of 528,920 tons.

Japan is expected to reach its greatest ratio of increase between 1923 and 1927, when the relative standing as projected is indicated as being the same in the case of Great Britain and the United States, but with Japan's capital ship fleet increased to 24 vessels of 848,920 tons.

NAVAL RACE STIRS JAPAN.

Disarmament Talk Arouses Both Favorable and Hostile Comment.

TOKIO, Jan. 7.—Discussion of the disarmament propositions is continuing to occupy the Japanese press, with favorable comment interspersed with expressions of opposition and hesitation. The Jiji Shimpo, for instance, declares that America's program is the sole cause of the naval race, and it asks what Japan's course should be if the United States closed down and Great Britain followed suit. The Nichi Nichi takes the view that the entire project depends upon the attitude of Mr. Harding when he assumes the Presidency and that nothing will happen until his Administration is installed.

The Yorosu Choho views the project with suspicion, declaring that it has elements of mystery and is pregnant with mischief, while the Chugai Shogyo Shimpo considers that Japan cannot lightly agree to the Borah plan. It says, however, that a plan under which the United States would cease construction after its first program has been completed, and Japan stop building after the completion of her eight-battleship, eight-cruiser program, would be open to consideration.

The Hochi Shimbon declares that permanent peace is a dream. Senator Borah's proposal, it says, is admirable but impracticable.

MAN WHO OUSTED CZAR ASSAULTED IN BERLIN

Russian Reactionary Attacks Alexander Guchkoff, Former Revolutionary War Minister.

Copyright, 1921, by The New York Times Company.
By Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BERLIN, Jan. 7.—With consternation and surprise the Government and a few initiated politicians are beginning to realize that Berlin has become a field of battle for various Russian parties whose exiled or regularly deputized representatives are warring among themselves with genuine Slav fanaticism, regardless of the laws of the German Republic.

Yesterday Alexander Ivanovitch Guchkoff, Minister of War in the first Revolutionary Russian Cabinet, on leaving a subway station, was attacked by a slender young man and beaten unmercifully until the bystanders interfered on behalf of the 60-year-old statesman, whose glasses were broken, and whose flowing white beard was stained with blood.

His assailant was Lieutenant Prince Taburitzki, one of the most active reactionary Russian agents in Berlin.

"Take this, you traitor, and I hope you'll challenge me for the insult!" shouted Taburitzki, seeking to reach Guchkoff with his cane over the heads of the indignant crowd who had separated the combatants.

As M. Guchkoff reached a taxicab Taburitzki shouted that the ex-Minister was one of the worst Bolshevist emissaries in Germany, hoping to incite the crowd to violence; but the police intervened and permitted M. Guchkoff to proceed to his home.

THE NEW YORK TIMES correspondent, on investigating the case, was informed by a certain secret Russian agency that M. Guchkoff had been systematically persecuted by reactionary Russian agents ever since he came to Germany for the first time thirteen months ago, being soon afterward compelled to fly from one country to another to protect himself.

He only recently returned from England, where he had been Winston Churchill's guest. He had hardly arrived in Berlin when he was challenged by a young reactionary Russian officer, a friend of Taburitzki. A duel was fought in the Grünewald, and after several shots had been exchanged without any result, the seconds interfered and stopped the fight. But this was contrary to the purposes of the Czarist camarilla, which had determined to have Guchkoff's life, knowing that although he was a bitter enemy of Bolshevism he was also an irreconcilable opponent of Czarism, and it was Prince Taburitzki's purpose to provoke another duel.

It will be remembered that it was Guchkoff who as War Minister went in 1917 to the Russian headquarters and compelled the Czar's abdication.

KRASSIN CARRYING TRADE PLAN HOME

Soviet's Envoy Leaves London Today With Contract Approved by Minister.

ITS REJECTION EXPECTED

Conditions Sought by the Moscow Government Said to Have Been Refused by Britain.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—Leonid Krassin, the Russia Bolshevist representative here, is leaving London tomorrow for Russia with a trade contract, approved by Sir Robert S. Horne, President of the Board of Trade.

So far as the purely commercial stipulations of the contract are concerned, it is believed they will be acceptable to Moscow, but the political conditions, which are an inseparable part of the agreement, it is feared here, will meet with rejection by the Soviets. If the contract is not agreed to it will mark the conclusion of the negotiations for the present.

It was indicated to The Associated Press today by M. Krassin that he expects to return in three or four weeks, either formally to conclude the compact or wind up the affair of the Russian Trade Commission's offices.

Soviet Proposals Rejected.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The return to Moscow of Leonid Krassin, the Bolshevist trade envoy, follows the rejection of many of his proposals, according to information reaching Washington today from London.

The fundamental demand made by the British Government, aside from the economic features of the negotiations, was that Soviet Russia should pledge itself absolutely to refrain from engaging in propagandist and other activities in India, Persia, the Near East and in any of the British dominions, directed against the British Government. Moscow's reply to this was unsatisfactory to the British Government and amounted to a refusal to meet the British demand. On the contrary, Tchitcherin replied with propositions which the British Government declined to accept, and these were as follows:

1—The Soviet Government thinks the preamble of the proposed commercial treaty goes beyond the subjects and intentions in the July discussions, which formed the basis and outlines, and therefore requires further elucidation on the part of the British Government.

2—The Soviet Government is of the opinion that any gold sent from Russia to Great Britain should be credited at the market value and not sterling value.

3—The Soviet Government desires to emphasize that it is not responsible for the debts of private individuals in Russia.

With these exceptions, the main provisions of the draft treaty are acceptable to the Soviet Government.

Regarding the second point in Moscow's objections, the par value of gold in London is 77s 6d per ounce, and the market value on the day the Moscow reply was delivered was 117s 6d.

It was also learned authoritatively today that a conference had been held between Premier Lloyd George and Premier Leygues on the views of the British and French Governments on the subject of trade with Russia. The French Premier maintained an unyielding stand in opposition to the policy lately pursued by the British Government, and declared that France would never sanction any agreement for trade with Russia that was not conditional upon recognition by the Russian Government of Russia's pre-war obligations.

The Russian note to the British Foreign Office is characterized in today's advices as a long, rhetorical disquisition on political questions, and as being unbusinesslike for a trade note. It is said to be more of a bid for recognition of the Soviet régime in Russia than anything else, although masked by remarks anent trade.

Three Groups in New Soviet.

RIGA, Latvia, Jan. 7.—Moscow reports a newly elected Soviet Central Committee comprising three groups. The dominating Right Wing is headed by Premier Lenin, the Centre by Leon Trotsky, the War Minister, and the Left Wing by M. Bukharin. The committee consists of 300 members, including Bela Kun, Karl Radek, M. Rakovski, General Budenny, M. Zinovieff, M. Kalinan, Leon Kameneff, Leonid Krassin, M. Kolontai, Jacob Peters, M. Lunacharsky and M. Raskolnikov.

Differences have arisen at the All-Russian Congress of Soviets through Lenin's advocating autonomy for trade unions and Trotsky's wanting continued Government control of unions.

COPENHAGEN, Jan. 7.—A special dispatch to the Politiken from Riga says the disagreement within the Russian Communist Party is greater than ever before. A majority of the laborers side with the opposition, notwithstanding the Lenin group's victory in the Pan-Russian Council, because they are dissatisfied with the reigning bureaucratism, the iron discipline, the commissioners' extravagant life and the concession policy. The leader of the opposition is Bucharin. The Communist Party's tenth congress, to be held this coming February, will chiefly discuss the party crisis.

The Lettish Communist Journal says: "The opposition is strong in the whole of Russia. The best part of the laborers belong to the opposition, which proves our party, which is suffering from an incurable sickness, is dying."

ANTI-SOVIET RUSSIANS TO CONFER IN PARIS

Members of the Last Constituent Assembly, Now in Exile, Will Form an Organization.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—A meeting will be held in Paris about Jan. 20 of approximately 100 members of the last legally elected Constituent Assembly of Russia, who are proceeding to the French capital from all parts of Europe. The call was signed by Alexander Kerensky, Avksentieff and Minor, all Social Revolutionists and members of that Assembly. Other prominent Russians who will attend are Milukoff and Maklakoff, who also were members of the Assembly and the latter Russian Ambassador to France.

These men are recognized as constructive elements by the Russian diplomatic representatives both here and in Europe and will form a nucleus for whatever organization is possible, to carry on, outside of Russia, the opposition to the Bolshevist régime, the Soviet having suppressed by arms and terrorism open opposition to Moscow.

It is not the purpose of the members of the Constituent Assembly to proclaim itself the rightful Government of Russia, but they will discuss the problem of Russia's regeneration and play the rôle of spokesmen for Russia in Europe and America. It is possible that they will constitute a national committee and function somewhat similarly to those national committees in wartime which represented the various nationalities then held under enemy oppression, and who obtained the moral support of the western nations of Europe and of the United States.

At the Paris meeting members of both the Cadet and Social Revolutionist Parties will attend, and it is expected that the meeting and its program will receive assurances of support from the peasant and industrial interests of Russia constituting a majority of the population, who are known to desire the overthrow of the Bolshevist régime.

ARMENIA BEING SOVIETIZED.

Army to Be Remodeled on Moscow System—Relief Work to Go On.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 6.—Near East relief representatives at Kars, Armenia, have been called into conference by the Soviet representative there, and asked to give an accurate accounting of all property and supplies owned by the organization in that region. The relief workers were told they might carry on their work in Armenia, providing they avoided counter-revolutionary activities.

So far as known, there are thirty relief workers in Kars, two in Alexandropol, one in Karakilisa, and one in Erivan.

Owing to the presence of powerful Russian forces in Armenia, the Erivan Government is reported to have decided upon the demobilization of its entire army and the substitution of a Bolshevist army organized along Soviet lines. Three hundred Armenian officers are declared to have left for Moscow, where they will be distributed among Russian military academies.

An educational train is said to have arrived at Erivan for the purpose of converting Armenian peasants and workers to Communism. The chief Communists of Armenia have completed preparations for the first Armenian Soviet Congress, which will meet soon and deal with the reconstruction of the country.

DEFENDS ANTI-SOVIET ALLIANCE PROJECT

General Hoffmann Denies That It Is a Trick to Restore German Militarism.

Copyright, 1921, by The New York Times Company.
By Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BERLIN, Jan. 7.—General Hoffmann, who advocates an alliance with England, France and Germany against the Bolshevist peril and has submitted plans for its extirpation to the allied Supreme Council, has addressed a letter to the German press defending himself against the French charge that his plan merely looks to Germany's military resuscitation and making possible another war against France and England.

He says his anti-Bolshevist alliance would create such intimate common interests among the contracting parties as to make any war among them impossible. None of the three countries alone could undertake such a tremendous task as the rebuilding of Russia, which he says is bound to perish altogether unless they come immediately to her aid. Besides, he says, Germany would certainly be ready to give France military guarantees which would eliminate all possibilities of aggression in the west through Germany's military forces. Those in the east would necessarily have to be strengthened if she were to share in the pacification of Russia.

"The Eastern dangers are so terrible that beside them all other European differences appear insignificant," he says. "Germany must, of course, renounce any idea of revenge or of the reconquest of Alsace-Lorraine. It is in the common interest of Europe, I believe, that national differences should also be adjusted. I am not a reactionary, as the French style me. I have talked to many Socialist meetings, and the workmen understood me when I explained that Bolshevism would enslave them.

"Only the common action of all nations can save Europe from perdition. It is equally important for America that Europe be not swamped by Bolshevism, but may have the possibility of resuscitation."

D'ANNUNZIO PREPARES TO SETTLE IN FIUME

Rome, Report Says He Will Write a History There on "The Five Days of Fiume."

TRIESTE, Jan. 7.—Gabriele d'Annunzio, it is alleged, intends to remain in Fiume. This statement is based mainly on reports that he has sent to Venice for a large wardrobe of civilian clothes, and has requisitioned one of the largest villas in Fiume.

While most of the legionaries are leaving according to program, the poet's company guards are proving troublesome, being unwilling to surrender their arms.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—The London Times Rome correspondent reports that Gabrielle d'Annunzio proposes to stay in Fiume until he has completed a history entitled "The Five Days of Fiume." When the work is finished, it is said, he will go to Rome, where he may found a newspaper.

ROME, Jan. 6.—The Tribuna today declares that the amount of money stolen from the treasury of the Regency of the Quarnero in Fiume recently was 7,000,000 lire.

The thief, the Tribuna asserts, was an officer who, after forcing the Regency's strongbox, decamped by airplane with the money and certain documents bearing upon the relations alleged to have existed between Gabriele d'Annunzio, Premier Lenin of Russia and Karl Radek, one of the chief Bolshevist diplomatic emissaries.

ATTACKS BERLIN ON LEAGUE.

Bernstorff in Campaign Letter Criticises Nation's Aloofness.

KIEL, Jan. 6.—Count von Bernstorff, former German Ambassador to the United States, who heads the Democratic ticket for the Reichstag election in the new Schleswig-Holstein district, contributes an article to the Kiel Gazette in the course of which he declares that Germany should not have assumed an attitude of indifference to the League of Nations, despite its alleged present imperfect organization.

He says that he believes the League is not wholly bereft of a certain moral effect and that Germany's request to be received into it would have netted "important diplomatic benefits," and in all probability would have resolved itself into a diplomatic offensive.

Count von Bernstorff, because of his article, is made the target for an attack in the bulletin of the German People's Party today, which says that such views entertained by a private individual are immaterial, but that in this instance they reflect the opinion of a candidate for a Reichstag mandate, who would champion such views in the national Parliament.

The Kreuz Zeitung declares that Count von Bernstorff apparently is not conversant with the Versailles treaty, which peremptorily deprives Germany of any opportunity to undertake diplomatic action through the League of Nations.

BERLIN COUNCIL GASSED.

Communists Break Up City Fathers' Meeting With Malodorous Bombs.

Copyright, 1921, by The New York Times Company.
Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BERLIN, Jan. 7.—Berlin Communists last evening carried out a successful storm attack on the Municipal Council. Obtaining admission to the public gallery by means of tickets obtained from colleagues, themselves members, they first tried to make business impossible by derisive cries, but the councillors continued their deliberations.

Then the interruptions took a more effective form. Simultaneously a number of what are vulgarly known as "stink bombs" were thrown on the floor of the Council Chamber. Instantly the room was filled with evil-smelling gases, quite harmless, but very unpleasant—so much so, in fact, that they proved overpowering for the city fathers, who, unprovided with gas masks, beat a hasty retreat.

This incident is the climax of a long campaign conducted against the council since its refusal to carry out Extremist legislation.

JOBLESS IN NORWICH INSIST ON POOR LAW

Provision for Them Doubles Tax Burden on English Town and Causes Dismay.

UNIONS ADVISE SUCH ACTION

They Refuse to Discuss Problem With Government, but Will Meet Themselves.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—Growing seriousness of the unemployment problem in Great Britain was emphasized today by the action of the unemployed in the City of Norwich in availing themselves of the provisions of the existing poor law and demanding support from the local "guardians." These are the officials who administer relief to the needy, charging the cost up to local taxes.

The "guardians" recently decided not to increase the scale of relief work in Norwich on the ground that the taxpayers were unable to afford it, but the Chief of Police notified them he had received a communication to the effect that if help was not granted the unemployed had determined to use "direct action." He declared the police did not desire any disturbance of public order, and under this threat the "guardians" yielded and doubled the taxes applicable to feeding the poor. In doing so the Chairman of the "guardians" remarked that it was the first time in the history of the city that the police had been overawed by threats from the unemployed.

The burden thus placed upon the taxpayers has caused dismay, and the effect of the new order can be estimated from the fact that the additional taxes added to the already high rates in force for all purposes will result in a householder paying an annual rent of £60 paying more than £72 in taxes. The people of Norwich declare it is impossible for them to pay such taxes, as trade is stagnant, and even those regularly employed have difficulty in making ends meet.

The action of the unemployed at Norwich accords with advice persistently given by labor leaders and followed at many places, though with less serious results than in Norwich. The Daily Herald, which is the mouthpiece of labor, says relative to the situation:

"There is no alternative. The unemployed are determined not to starve, and they have proved that in the poor law they have a weapon to enforce justice. The increased taxes will be disastrous to thousands of people, but will compel the adoption of radical measures at Norwich, which has shown the way to workers all over the country."

Leading labor organizations rejected yesterday an invitation from the Government to participate in an official inquiry regarding unemployment, objecting to the terms of the proposal. They will meet themselves next week to consider the whole problem.

It is said that the rejection of the Government's plan for a conference was partially due to opposition on the part of a large section of the Laborites to the Government's proposals to relieve the industrial situation, which were made on Jan. 1. At that time it was announced the Cabinet proposed that the Government's industrial establishments should be placed on short time in order that the greatest number of workingmen might receive employment.

TWO GENEVA BANKS FAIL.

Low Value of Exchange Is Held Responsible for Financial Crisis.

Copyright, 1921, by The New York Times Company.
Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

GENEVA, Jan. 7.—Since yesterday another Geneva bank has stopped payment, and larger banking houses have held a special consultation to decide how best to take over the business of the smaller banks in order to avoid more crashes or suspensions of payments.

The bank which has just suspended payment is the Banque Commerciale Genevoise, whose customers are mostly small tradespeople and whose deficit is estimated at 1,000,000 francs. Its procurator, Henry Nairet, has disappeared, and is believed to be on his way to the United States under an assumed name.

Owing to the large amounts of business which the Swiss banks have been accustomed to transact in German, Italian and French currency and owing to the low value of the German mark, the Italian lire and the French franc, business generally is passing through a very-trying time here.

This is the reason why the Swiss banks are not in a position to make loans for national undertakings. Thus the Swiss State railways are at present negotiating for 300,000,000 gold francs in the United States for electrification purposes. It was hoped in industrial circles, particularly by those interested in electrical machinery, that a loan for the electrification of the State railways could be raised in Switzerland so as to avoid buying the machinery in the United States, but now it is certain that the loan must be raised outside the country, and consequently some orders for locomotives and electrical plant generally must be given where the loan is raised.

QUAKERS NOW FEED 600,000.

American Friends Extend Their Relief Work in Germany.

BERLIN, Jan. 7.—The relief work of the American Quakers now comprehends the feeding of 600,000 children daily in all parts of Germany. A total of 70,000,000 meals have been served since the work started in March, 1920. The Quakers have extended their field of activity to the occupied zone in the American sector of the Rhineland, in which the American forces will conduct distribution of food supplied by the Quakers.

Six hundred German cities now are included in the circuit, and there are about 5,000 feeding centres, for which 1,500 kitchens are needed to prepare food. Fifty relief workers stationed in all parts of Germany have just concluded a conference at Goslar, at the foot of the Harz Mountains, in Hanover, at which plans for the coming year were discussed and decided upon. The conference was presided over by Alfred Scattergood of Philadelphia. The new plans of the Quakers include the extension of the feeding to the big industrial plants, and a beginning will be made at the General Electric Company's establishment.

The Ruhr coal fields are also included in the new areas to be added this year.

BIG FORGERIES IN LONDON.

Police Arrest Three Men on Complaints of Three Banks Affected.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—Police officers arrested three men in London tonight on charges in connection with forging and issuing counterfeit banknotes. Great importance is attached to the arrests in view of the extent of the alleged frauds. Three banks affected are the Bank of Scotland, the Bank of the Federal States of America and the Bank of France, all of which complained of a number of forged notes in circulation.

The men arrested are Frederick Ford, proprietor of a small hotel, Hyman Kurasch, commission agent, and a Portuguese merchant named Levy.

The police found a number of forged notes at Ford's hotel, it is said, and machinery for making them.

MOVIE POLICEMAN GOT 100 OUT ON BAIL

Admits That Surety Companies Made No Inquiries Into His Financial Status.

SOMETIMES ASKED NO PAY

Tells Magistrate That He Exacted No Indemnity From Those He Aided.

Two surety companies that write bail bonds aggregating millions every year were shown yesterday before Magistrate Simpson in the John Doe inquiry into the bonding system to have accepted a guarantee of indemnity in more than a hundred cases from a $50 a week private policeman in a Grand Street moving picture theatre, who admitted that he had no property, no bank deposits, and was financially irresponsible for the amount he had pledged.

This man, Hyman Albert, told how he bailed the "boys" of the neighborhood near the theatre at 255 Grand Street when they got into trouble; young men he had known for years, he said, and from whom he exacted no charge in many cases. He denied that he ever accepted anything from them as security. Most of them "hung around" a street corner near the theatre, apparently doing nothing most of the day and night, and when they were arrested the majority of them, he said, were convicted.

Albert was known to Hughes and Bates, metropolitan agents of the Fidelity and Casualty Company, he said, and to William L. McGinty, Assistant Secretary of the New Amsterdam Casualty Company, which does a large bail business, but none of them, he admitted, had ever inquired into his financial responsibility.

On the one occasion, Albert said, a bond which he had guaranteed had been forfeited. He had been able to find $2,800 in his home toward meeting the loss, he said, and although it took all his savings he continued to write bonds without exacting security. Albert is going out of the bond business, he says, having recently made up his mind that it is not worth while. He has been acting under a broker's license issued by the State Department of Insurance, and when an application for a new license was recently sent to him he decided not to fill it out.

Louis Espresso, an agent with power of attorney from the Fidelity and Casualty Company, testified that the company seldom spent any money to bring back fugitives if the collateral pledged to secure the bond was sufficient. He could only recall two or three such cases in the last three years, he said.

Albert, who lives at 1,709 Fulton Avenue, the Bronx, gave his business address as 100 Chrystie Street. It is there that telephone calls for bail are received and the messages taken to Albert in the theatre, he testified.

"When some of the boys were arrested I would go to Espresso to bail them out," said Albert. "I've been in the neighborhood for twenty years and have known the boys since they were children. I've got bail for twenty-eight or more in the last year."

He did not charge the boys anything except for his time, Albert said, but that fee was usually 3½ per cent., 2½ of which he turned over to Espresso. When they paid more, Albert said he kept it, but he said they seldom paid more. In most of the cases where he furnished indemnity for the bail the charges were grand larceny or robbery, he added.

"Do you do anything to secure yourself against loss?" Assistant District Attorney McQuaid asked him.

"No, sir, I never took any security," he answered.

"Why do you pledge yourself as indemnity for them?"

"Well, I've known them since childhood, you see, they all know me, and I do it as a favor," said Albert.

"How did you pay $3,100 that time one of the 'boys' ran away?"

"I just happened to have $3,100," said Albert, and added that he had $2,800 at home, borrowed $200 from a storekeeper in the neighborhood and $100 from an usher in the theatre, whose name he couldn't remember. He made less than $1,000 last year from bail bonds, he testified.

Albert never asked any of the men he bailed if they had been convicted of a crime, and said he didn't know whether they had or not.

"As a rule a man who claims friendship knows enough about his friend to know if he has been arrested before, doesn't he?" asked Mr. McQuaid.

"I never asked them," Albert replied.

"Did you ever ask Espresso to bail the same man twice?"

"I don't remember," he said.

Albert was asked if some of the "boys" were convicted.

"Oh, yes, the majority of them were convicted," he answered.

Albert said he often received calls from the offices of the New Amsterdam Casualty Company and the Fidelity and Casualty Company of New York, telling him that cases in which he had guaranteed bonds were coming up in court and to produce the defendat. He said occasionally he went to the offices of the New Amsterdam Casualty Company in John Street just to "show myself."

"Did you ever furnish a statement of your property to Mr. McGinty of the New Amsterdam Casualty Company or to Mr. Hughes or Mr. Bates of the Fidelity and Casualty Company?" asked Magistrate Simpson.

Albert said he had not.

Espresso testified he had only written two or three robbery cases in the last seven or eight months, but Assistant District Attorney McQuaid showed from the bail records that he had given bail in at least seven other cases, which he remembered after they were read to him.

Collateral given as security for bonds had not been recorded in Espresso's office, he said, but he was planning to keep a record of all collateral hereafter. He said he knew nothing about the financial responsibility of Albert or any of the other men employed by him. Espresso said that he usually accepted the word of the one who guarantees indemnity as to whether the defendant was out on bail at the time of his arrest. He sometimes inquired of the clerk of General Sessions, he said.

The hearing will be continued Monday.

NIGHT MAIL ROBBED GOING TO PHILADELPHIA

Find Parcel Bags Ransacked When the Car Is Entered at the Journey's End.

Some time between midnight and 4 o'clock yesterday morning thieves broke into a mail car at the Pennsylvania Station in Philadelphia, and apparently rifled a number of mail bags. An investigation was begun yesterday by postal and railroad officials. P. J. Schardt, Superintendent of Mails at the local Post Office, said he was awaiting word from Philadelphia before discussing the possible loss. If any mail had been taken it was second and fourth class matter, which includes parcel post, he said.

When the train, which left New York at 12:45 yesterday morning, reached Philadelphia, three hours later, a postal clerk who sought to open the rear door of the mail car found it blocked. Going to the front door he discovered that the lock had been broken and the door opened. The thieves had piled a number of empty mail sacks, which they are said to have ransacked, against the door. The conductor and trainmen, questioned by the postal authorities, reported that nothing had occurred during the trip which aroused suspicions. There were no railway mail clerks in the car, it was said.

DOWNEY RECEIVERS NAMED.

W. C. Coxe and W. F. Purdy Appointed to Conserve Ship Assets.

William G. Coxe of Wilmington, Del., and J. Ernest Allen and William F. Purdy of New York were appointed receivers for the Downey Shipbuilding Corporation in the United States District Court here yesterday. The company, which was organized in 1917, has a plant on Staten Island covering 165 acres.

"Resort to receivership is a friendly proceeding," a statement by the corporation read, "to conserve the interests of all concerned in the present financial embarrassment resulting from delay in making collections of large outstanding accounts."

Mr. Purdy said he understood that the company was suffering from merely temporary financial embarrassment and that its officers and creditors believed that a receivership would enable the corporation to work out. He said he understood considerable money was due the company on Government contracts.

NEWBERRY APPEAL IN SUPREME COURT

Hughes Denounces Senator's Conviction as a Gross Perversion of Justice.

FRIERSON DEFENDS VERDICT

Justice McKenna Starts a Smile by One of His Many Questions to Counsel.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Conviction of Senator Truman H. Newberry of Michigan and sixteen others of conspiring to violate the Corrupt Practices act was denounced before the Supreme Court today as a "gross perversion of justice" by counsel for the Senator, and was upheld by the Government as a salutary lesson to those who would buy an election "by paid propaganda." The occasion was the hearing of arguments on the appeal.

Charles E. Hughes, who headed the counsel for the defense, asserted that only through a "grotesque" construction of the law had the Government been able to present any case to the jury. He quoted the Government brief as showing that it was admitted that no restriction was placed by law on the expenditures of a political committee in behalf of any candidate nor on the amount such a committee might raise for a campaign and, further, that no attempt was made by the Government to show that Senator Newberry had himself contributed in excess of the legal limitation of $3,750. The entire basis of the Government's case, Mr. Hughes told the court, was that "this legal committee, having legally raised a legal sum of money for legal purpose' became an illegal conspiracy because its candidate was aware that more than $3,750 was being expended."

"Mr. Newberry and the other defendants," Mr. Hughes said, "have suffered a grievous wrong through processes of so-called justice which this court should correct."

Arguing that the mere fact of a candidate's knowledge should not be accepted as making what would be perfectly legal, a violation of the law, Mr. Hughes said:

"The Government says in effect that a political committee may raise and spend millions, if it will shut its candidate up in a keg until after the nomination is won."

"Newberry did not give a cent to his campaign fund," Mr. Hughes said. "Despite the Government assertion that it could go to the jury, if it had been necessary, on the point of his personal contributions, I can say here that he did not contribute one cent. He was in New York as a Commander in the navy and never did a candidate have less to do with his nomination and election."

Mr. Hughes then reviewed the incidents which led up to the formation of the Newberry Campaign Committee, which he described as a "purely typical political committee voluntarily formed by friends and well wishers of Commander Newberry."

Apart from the direct attack on the conviction as illegal and unsustained by the evidence, the defense attempted to show the Court that the Corrupt Practices act itself, so far as it attempted to limit campaign expenditures for legal objects, was unconstitutional.

Frierson Says Violation Is Proved.

Solicitor General Frierson, presenting the Government's case, took issue with the theory presented by the defense as to what constituted a violation of the Corrupt Practices act. Senator Newberry, according to Mr. Frierson, being desirous of entering the race for Senator in 1918, called a conference in New York of Paul H. King of Detroit, afterward his campaign manager, and Frederick Cody of New York, former Superintendent of Detroit Schools. At this conference the question of the campaign's cost arose and, Mr. Frierson said, Newberry was told that it would require the expenditure of "$50,000 or more." Having agreed to enter the race on the express condition that this sum would be expended, the Government held that he, Cody and King entered a conspiracy to defeat the provisions of the statute.

Mr. Frierson added that more than $176,000 was shown to have been spent by the report filed by the campaign managers and this "did not include moneys spent in behalf of Helme, a candidate for the nomination of the Democratic Party." Deposits and withdrawals from banks made in behalf of the campaign aggregated more than $200,000, the prosecution asserted.

In the absence of Chief Justice White, who was detained at his home by a slight illness, Justice McKenna presided, and with practically every other member of the bench interrupted counsel frequently to ask questions on specific points.

Replying to a question from the bench as to whether each of the seventeen defendants had been equally identified with the conspiracy, Mr. Frierson said, "All save one," and named George S. Ladd of Sturbridge, Mass., as the exception.

While he was not prepared to confess error in the case of Mr. Ladd, Mr. Frierson said that he was "frankly doubtful as to the Government's position," the evidence against him having been fragmentary. Ladd, a former master of the Massachusetts State Grange, was sentenced to pay a fine of $1,000.

McKenna's Question Causes Smile.

Associate Justice McKenna caused a general smile when he asked Mr. Frierson if the varying sentences had been based on the theory that some of the defendants were "worse conspirators" than others.

"One could have been more culpable in the eyes of the Court than another," the Solicitor General agreed.

Each side had two hours and a quarter for argument. Neither had used its quota when the court adjourned until Monday.

While the fight to determine Senator Newberry's legal right to his seat was in progress the Senate Priviliges and Elections Committee continued the recount of votes cast in the contest. With 801 of the 2,200 State precincts accounted for, Henry Ford had made a net gain of 325 over Mr. Newberry, it was announced today.

REMOVAL OF SOLDIER DEAD.

Secretary Baker Considering Exhumation From British Cemeteries.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Secretary Baker today announced that the War Department has taken up the removal to the United States of the bodies of Americans who died while serving as members of British or allied units and are buried in British military cemeteries in the war zones.

Great Britain has ruled that applications for the removal of such bodies in every case be supported by proof of the United States citizenship of the soldier. Requests for permission to exhume bodies have been received from Canada and other British sources, but these have been refused, as consent in one case would involve similar consent in every case. The British Government, however, has expressed a desire to meet the wishes of the United States Government under the conditions set forth.

LUXEMBOURG, Jan. 7.—Grand Duchess Charlotte, who was married to Prince Felix of Bourbon-Parma on Nov. 8, 1919, gave birth to a son yesterday. He has been named John.

PERSHING PICKS MARCH AS INAUGURATION AID

Names Him as Chief of Staff for Parade—Host of Army Troops to Participate.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—General Pershing, as Grand Marshal of the Inauguration parade, announced today the appointment of Major Gen. Peyton C. March, the Chief of Staff of the Army, to be his Chief of Staff; Major Gen. Peter C. Harris, Adjutant General of the Army, to be his adjutant general, and Lieut. Col. H. J. McKenney of the Inspector General's Department, to be assistant chief of staff.

Colonel McKenney will attend to details connected with the organization of the parade. He served in the same capacity at the second inauguration of Wilson.

Preparations are being made at the War Department for the participation of all available troops in the parade. Secretary Baker said that all the troops within the limits of motor transportation and also West Point cadets would be brought if Congress made provision for their attendance.

Under tentative plans the army will be represented by troops at Camp Meade, engineer troops at Camp Humphrey, cavalry and field artillery at Fort Myer and coast artillery troops (operating as infantry) at Forts Hunt and Washington.

Movement of the Seventh Division from Camp Funston, Kan., to Camp Meade will be completed by the middle of this month by the arrival of division headquarters and the Fourteenth Brigade. There are already two regiments of infantry at Camp Meade.

Among the organizations that have asked places in the parade are the cadets from Culver Military Academy, Ind., West Virginia military cadets, the Governor of Delaware and staff with National Guard, Governor Cox of Massachusetts and staff with National Guard troops, the Governor of Minnesota and staff and part of the National Guard, Third Regiment Veteran Guard of Pennsylvania, Blaine Club of Cincinnati, New York Republican Club; division of the Georgia National Guard; Fifth Division, Veterans of the World War; Governor Sproul of Pennsylvania and staff and division of National Guard; Conkling Unconditionals, Utica; Twelfth Band and Field Music, Brooklyn; Uncle Sams, uniformed battalion, Buffalo, and 114th Infantry Band, Paterson, N. J.

Edward F. Mitchell, Chairman of the Committee on Housing and Comfort, began advertising today for Washingtonians who would have accommodations available for visitors. Mr. Mitchell wants a list of thousands of desirable rooms for rent at moderate prices.

SAY 'OUTLAWS' PLOT TO SPLIT RAIL UNIONS

Members of Brotherhoods at Toledo Report a New Effort to Disrupt Old Organizations.

TOLEDO, Jan. 7.—Aroused over what they say are attempts in Toledo by "outlaw" railroad organizations to disrupt the railroad brotherhoods, officials of the latter organizations said today that they were about to face a greater onslaught than that of June, when the Chicago Yardmen's Association caused walkouts all over the country. To cope with the situation a meeting of the Executive Committee of the local brotherhoods has been called for tomorrow.

Charles Fletcher, a member of the Executive Board of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, issued the invitation. According to Fletcher, men who were dropped from the old brotherhoods last Summer for taking leading parts in the "vacation" period are ringleaders in the movement.

"Many railroad men now are out of work," he said, "and are naturally susceptible to the influence of agitators."

CLEVELAND, Jan. 7.—W. G. Lee, Grand President of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, had not heard of the alleged attempts to disrupt the old railroad brotherhoods, until told by The Associated Press tonight. He said he had received no invitation to attend a meeting at Toledo.

"There is nothing to it," Mr. Lee said. "Transportation employes of the railroads are better satisfied today than they have been for months, and it is absolutely absurd to think that they can be carried off their feet again like they were last Summer."

KNOCKS BAILIFF DOWN AT TRIAL FOR MURDER

"Prince of Abyssinia" Hurls Matches and Challenges Chicago Court Officers.

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—Grover C. Redding, self-styled "Prince of Abyssinia," who, with seven negroes, is on trial charged with murder following the deaths of Ralph Rose, a sailor, and Joel Hoyt, a cigar store owner, during a disturbance in the South Side "black belt" last Fall, halted his trial several times today with outbreaks of temper in which he threatened to "lick any one in the room."

Once Redding jumped from his chair and hit a bailiff in the jaw, knocking him down. Another time he hurled small boxes of matches at spectators and he frequently challenged court officials to "come up and fight it out." At one time bailiffs drew their revolvers to maintain order.

Other defendants testified that Redding posed as the "Prince of Jehovah" in making promises to take hundreds of negroes back to Abyssinia, and that he promised great wealth and power if they would follow him.

James Briggs, a defendant, testified that Redding told him a $10,000 train was to be chartered to tour the South and collect negroes for the pilgrimage to Abyssinia. He said Redding told him he had "bribed President Wilson with $500,000 and two ivory tusks to allow the tour."

TWO ATTACKED BY STRIKERS

Clothing Manufacturer Holds Pickets at Bay With Revolver.

The police were called upon twice yesterday to put down disorders caused by striking garment workers. When Abraham Laight, a manufacturer, was leaving his place of business, 18 West Nineteenth Street, about 6:30 o'clock last evening, some men and women pickets made a rush for him. Laight drew a revolver and backed into the hallway. Several missles were thrown, but he held off the pickets until the police came. During the excitement Etta Cohen of 240 East Fourth Street fell and broke her right leg. She was removed to Bellevue Hospital.

Two men and a woman were arrested in Brooklyn following an attack by strikers on Ralph Coroppi of 630 Washington Avenue, a clothing operator employed in the Bush Terminal Building. Tony Scoro of 37 Carroll Street, Brooklyn, and Isadore Gotteb of 23 Lewis Street, were charged with assault. Policeman Patrick Curtin arrested Mrs. Lucy Caputo of 717 Henry Street for disorderly conduct, and then found he had to take her five children with her. The police took care of them until their mother was bailed out.

SEES NEW TRIUMPH FOR CONSTANTINE

Greek Priest Predicts His Entry Into Constantinople Before November.

PROPHET ALREADY FAMOUS

People Believe He Foretold the World War and Various Events During and After It.

ATHENS, Jan. 7.—Will the Greek King at the head of a Greek army enter Constantinople in the near future? Probably the League of Nations and the Entente Powers will answer "No;" but there lives at Janina, in Northern Greece, Papa Johannes, an Orthodox priest, who holds the contrary opinion.

Father John, venerated for his piety and renowned for his prophetic visions, lives a simple and retired life in the bosom of his family. Formerly he officiated in a Greek church in Philadelphia, but he knows little English. He is very learned in Biblical lore, and he occupies himself entirely with religious study. The people regard him with reverential awe, and his fame as a prophet has spread throughout Greece.

He keeps a diary which chronicles his revelations of future events. He is said to have foretold the European war a month before it began, and to have predicted the wresting of Jerusalem from the Turks, the death of King Alexander, the duration of the Venizelist régime and the return of Constantine to the throne. As to the length of the Venizelist term of power he was correct to within three days.

When the fortunes of Constantine, in exile in Switzerland, were at their lowest ebb and there was nothing to indicate impending dynastic and political changes, Johannes wrote: "Constantine's hour is approaching when he will enter into his kingdom."

Little notice was paid at the time to the prediction. It may have been a lucky guess; but since the King's return the story has become generally known and the Greeks regard the Janina priest as endowed with prophetic vision.

I have made careful inquiries and have satisfied myself that John is not a vulgar charlatan, and that he foretold the events referred to long before they happened. One of his prophecies, however, is still unfulfilled. He says that before the end of October, 1921, Constantine XIV, at the head of his army will enter the Turkish capital. The present King Constantine is the first of Greece, but the fourteenth of the Byzantine Empire; for the priest-seer regards him as the successor of Constantine, the last of the Emperors of the East, who perished in the breach defending Constantinople against the conquering Ottomans.

But the Janina prophet adds: "At the moment of Constantine's triumph something terrible will befall him." This would seem to presage the death of the King in the hour of victory. Although not superstitious, the King attaches credence to the latest prediction. When informed of it he said: "Let me once enter Constantinople with my army and I do not care what happens to me afterward."

Father John bases his prophecies entirely on Bible divinations; but some of his perfervid admirers are already likening him to the blind seer, Tiresias the Theban, celebrated in classic Greek story.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—During the last Balkan War, when Constantine at the head of his victorious Greek army was winning back territory from the harassed Turks, closely beset further north by the Serbs and Bulgars, an ancient Hellenic prrophecy was recalled in Greece and aroused the utmost expectancy.

This ran to the effect that when a fair-haired King from the north, bearing the name of Constantine, should reign in Greece, Constantinople, the city of the great Constantine, should be recovered from the Turk and again become the seat of a Greek empire. The fair-haired Constantine, it was added, should crown himself Emperor of the East under the dome of St. Sophia.

It is said that the names of the present Greek King and Queen are not a matter of coincidence, and that they were given them as symbols of the aspirations of the Greek nation. King Constantine is of fair complexion and of Danish origin; hence in the eyes of superstitious Greeks the prophesy was in a fair way to fulfillment eight years ago.

MORE VENIZELISTS OUSTED.

Eighteen Constantinist Generals and 200 Colonels in Their Places.

ATHENS, Jan. 7.—Eighteen Generals and more than 200 Colonels were appointed to the Greek Army yesterday to replace adherents of ex-Premier Venizelos. In view of the movements in Thrace and Constantinople, doubts were entertained of the loyalty of the Venizelist officers, and it was decided to retire them on pay, their places being filled with men whose loyalty to King Constantine was beyond doubt. Demetrios Gouraris, the War Minister, is leaving Athens tonight to inspect the forces in Thrace.

Prince Andrew, brother of Constantine, was among the new Generals named, while Prince Christopher, also a brother of the King, was made a Colonel.

Premier Rhallis said yesterday that he did not expect American bankers to make a loan to Greece at this time, but that he hoped to negotiate one through English financiers.

Crown Prince Carol of Rumania, whose betrothal to Princess Helen of Greece, daughter of King Constantine, was announced late in November, arrived at the Piraeus, the port of Athens, yesterday. King Constantine and members of the royal family, including Prince Carol's fiancée, motored to the port and met the Prince, escorting him to the palace in Athens after a drive about the streets of the capital.

King Constantine has bestowed upon Prince Carol the Grand Cross of the Order of the Redeemer.

Colonel Stefan Fatzeas, who was assassinated on Wednesday night by a party of soldiers, was buried today without military honors. Soldiers ordered to render the honors, says the Kathimerini, refused, alleging that the Colonel had been unjust as a military magistrate.

Colonel Fatzeas, as Chief Judge Advocate of Courts-martial under Venizelos, had acted in numerous celebrated cases of a semi-political nature and had incurred much enmity in consequence. He was regarded as a Venizelist and recently had received many threatening letters.

FIREHOUSE ON WRONG SITE.

Village to Vote on Exchange of Its Lot for Pre-empted One.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW CITY, Jan. 7.—A special election has been called for Monday in West Haverstraw because the builder of the new village firehouse made the mistake of erecting it upon the wrong lot.

A site was bought last year for the new quarters for the Volunteer Hose Company, but the workmen erected the building on the lot adjoining the one where it should have been built. The owner of the lot upon which the firehouse was illegally placed has so much civic pride that he consented to exchange lots. It is for a vote upon authorizing the exchange that the special election has been called.

ARNSTEIN WITNESS HELD.

W. D. Williams and Two Other Men Arrested in Washington.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Winfield D. Williams, inventor and mechanical engineer, who was a Government witness in the case of Jules ("Nicky") Arnstein and others on a charge of conspiracy to bring stolen bonds into this city, was arrested today at the request of the New York City authorities.

A petition for a writ of habeas corpus was filed immediately after his arrest. Chief Justice Walter I. McCoy, of the District of Columbia Supreme Court authorized the writ and set Jan. 14 for the hearing on the extradition proceedings. Williams was released on $5,000 bail.

The extradition proceedings involving Isadore ("Nick") Cohn and Norman S. Bowles, who also were arrested for the New York authorities, and who also sued out writs of habeas curpus, will be heard on the same day.

Assistant District Attorney John T. Dooling said last night that he had not ordered the arrest of Williams, Bowles and Cohn by the Washington authorities. He was under the impression the arrests were made at the request of the Police Department on indictments returned here against the three men in connection with the theft of $8,000,000 worth of securities from brokers in the financial district.

The indictment against Williams charges him with criminally receiving stock of the Crucible Steel Company, stolen by messengers in the financial district, and turned over to Sullivan & Co. of this city and Washington. David W. Sullivan and Bowles, his partner, also were indicted. Williams is alleged to have received the stock from Sullivan and to have obtained loans aggregating $22,500 for it in Washington.

STILL DISCUSSING RESTORING CHARLES

Switzerland Is a Centre of Propaganda Conducted in His Interest.

CHANCES POOR IN AUSTRIA

Some Hungarian Legitimists Want Him, but Others Would Prefer Another Monarch.

Copyright, 1921, by The New York Times Company.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

VIENNA, Jan. 7.—The restoration of the Hapsburg dynasty continues to be a living issue in certain quarters. One of the many supposedly hidden, but really somewhat obvious movements, going on in Europe at the present moment has Switzerland for its centre, from which press propaganda is conducted, those concerned being in close touch with Charles and his entourage at Prangins, on Lake Geneva. It was charged at one time that a special news agency was in existence whose task was to further the Carlist cause. A furious controversy raged as to the truth of this allegation, and as to the agency financial support, but now, I believe, the agency has ceased operations, although the cause is carried on by a number of Swiss papers similarly said to be subsidized by the Carlists and giving a foundation to the charge by the nature of their publications.

A favorite pretext for pleading the Carlist cause is to publish an article advocating the formation of a Denube Confederation as the only solution for the problems of Central Europe, but urging that such a confederation is impossible without the Hapsburgs as a rallying point.

The Viennese Socialists also allege that a certain section of the French press is in touch with the exile at Prangins. A mild sensation was caused some time ago by the publication in the Paris Revue Universelle of an article advocating a Danube Confederation, said to have been written or inspired by Charles himself.

Various mysterious personalities, too, are always going and coming, and there is a great deal of whispering in Prangins, Vienna, Munich and Budapest.

And what has it all led to so far? In Vienna a monarchist paper appears weekly, called the Staatswehr, the title being in black type upon a yellow background—the black and gold of the Hapsburgs. Much archaic nonsense appears in this publication, mixed up with forced little poems—sometimes a ray of hope, as when King Constantine returned to Athens—and empty controversy, and beyond this practically nothing vital. In Vienna the old aristocracy, the high clergy and the Christian Socialists would like a restoration, but as politicians they are far too clever to have anything to do with it.

Even in the Alpine provinces of Austria the peasants are wavering between the Hapsburg and the Wittelsbach (Bavarian) dynasties. It is said, however, that the Wittelsbachs have informed the Hapsburgs that they will undertake no propaganda in these provinces detrimental to the Hapsburg interests. So long as the Socilists run the railways, however, and are in virtual control of Vienna neither house need trouble itself very much.

Things seem a little more promising for the Hapsburgs in Budapest, but not much. Hungarian opinion seems, at first sight, to be wholly monarchist, although divided into three groups of somewhat unstable composition.

There are the stern and unbending legitimists who wish Charles back and say that legally he never renounced the Hungarian throne. Great Hungarian names, such as Horthy, Apponyi and Antrassy, are in this group.

Then there is the group of legitimists who wish a Hapsburg, but are not very particular as to which. Charles's son, Otto, and his uncle, the Archduke Joseph, are supposed to be supported by this group.

Finally there is the Peasant Party, led by Bubinec and at the moment the strongest party. They stand for a free choice as to a monarch, but it is said they simply want the question left open, so as ultimately to maintain the republic.

Recently the Government bloc passed a resolution, devoid of course of statutory authority, abolishing the Pragmatic Sanction or hereditary rights of the Hapsburgs, as the majority of even the legitimists do not wish a full restoration, but only a national king.

The Hapsburg prospects, therefore, in Vienna are practically nil, in Budapest doubtful, while Prague, Belgrade and also Rome are wholly against the return of the dynasty. An attempt to make Archduke Joseph King of Hungary was frustrated in 1919, and the Entente has forbidden any restoration.

SPECIAL DELIVERY RULING.

Receipts Will No Longer Be Required by Mail Carriers.

Special delivery mail will be delivered in future without requiring receipts and will be left in the regular mail receptacles when personal delivery cannot be accomplished, according to an announcement yesterday by Postmaster Thomas G. Patten, which explains that this service is changed in accordance with amended postal regulations.

It points out that special delivery is intended to expedite the mail and that the registry system is provided to insure safety. Mail containing currency or articles of value should be registered and postal money orders should be used to make remittances instead of coin or currency.

Bottom of the Price Hill

IF you have been waiting for lower prices—even for much lower prices—what you now are looking for, in reality, are clothes at least as good as you have been accustomed to wear—better if possible.

Your opportunity has come.

This is not a sale. It is a re-marking of clothing prices which should bring you at once to The Man's Shop. The real bottom of the hill has been reached, for the season, in clothes of this character—and it is lower than we had expected it could be.

Things have happened which enable us now to re-mark all the clothing in The Man's Shop at prices considerably below what they actually cost the manufacturing tailors to produce.

The Man's Shop set out to supply a very special type of men's clothes—the best that money could procure and that America and England could produce. It has been conspicuously successful in this effort. It has enjoyed a flourishing and flattering trade.

The tailors who made our American clothes—of the finest in America—recently had on hand a considerable number of suits and overcoats of their best English and American woolens—counterparts of those we had in stock.

To close the year with a clean slate they sold us these suits and overcoats—all they had—at exactly one-half the wholesale prices we had been paying.

It was a splendid opportunity to give an appreciated special service to the patrons of The Man's Shop and thus add to its prestige and good will.

We are giving our customers the full benefit of this reduction to us; and while we had already re-adjusted prices on our stock on hand, to be consistent we have further brought down all the clothes in The Man's Shop, both English and American, to the same scale, except evening clothes and fur-lined overcoats.

Over three-quarters of the suits are of that intermediate light weight which fits them admirably for all-the-year wear, Spring and Summer as well as Winter. Many are quarter and half lined.

Overcoats, in all weights and accepted styles, of finest imported and domestic fabrics, $38, $58 and $68. This includes many of the best coats England produces.

Suits, single and double breasted, of the best English and American woolens—the entire selection of The Man's Shop, from which may be picked a most versatile wardrobe, $32, $42 and $48. Golf Suits, $42 and $48.

TOWNLEY'S LEAGUE LOSING DAKOTA GRIP

Entire Industrial Program May Be Halted—Talk of Recall of Leading State Officers.

AUDIT REPORT DEMANDED

Great Waste and Inefficiency Said to Be Shown, and Foes Clamor for Its Publication.

Special to The New York Times.

BISMARCK, N. D., Jan. 8.—Domination of North Dakota by the Non-Partisan League is broken and the industrial program of the league may be completely halted. Opponents of the league are talking of the recall of the principal State officers, who were elected as Non-Partisans.

In the House of Representatives today the Independents after a resolution had been passed, calling for a report of the accountants auditing the State industries, blocked a resolution offered by the league leaders which was alleged to have been presented with the purpose of smothering the report.

Other developments of the day was the delivery of an ultimatum by a committee of the State Bankers' Association, demanding the passage of legislation curbing the methods of the Bank of North Dakota and restricting State industrial building. Unless the terms were accepted, the bankers said that they could not sell $6,200,000 in bonds to provide for the continuation of State industrial development and relieve the strain on the Bank of North Dakota.

With an Independent majority in the House safely established and the Non-Partisans controlling the Senate by only one vote and a contest on for the seat of one Non-Partisan Senator, the grip of the Non-Partisans on the legislative machinery of the State is broken.

When the Legislature opened this week the House of Representatives stood 57 Independents to 54 Leaguers, with one Representative giving allegiance to neither. He voted against the Non-partisans in choosing L. L. Twichell Speaker but switched to the League side, as did two others, making a majority on the approval of employes. This slender majority of independents, which League leaders declared would be broken, held today on what was regarded as a critical test.

Under an initiated law a board of auditors, consisting of three elective officials, two of whom were anti-Leaguers, was named to audit the State industries. The Governor refused to approve the request for funds to pay accountants, and the auditors asked a public subscription. Two members of the board were displaced by Non-Partisans, who took office on Jan. 3. The House of Representatives was informed that the Non-Partisan audit board planned to block the report of the accountants, who had not finished their work. It was then that a resolution was offered in the House asking that the report be made direct.

A story is current, which apparently alarmed the Non-Partisans, that the report would show waste of money and lack of business efficiency in the Bank of North Dakota, Drake Mill and Home Builders' Association.

The Bank of North Dakota has financed industries, but when an initiated law permitted withdrawal of the funds by local communities deposits dropped so much that the bank was unable to continue financing. Work on a $2,000,000 elevator at Grand Forks has been stopped as have the activities of the Home Builders' Association. To prevent a drain on the bank the Industrial Commission has authorized the bank to refuse to honor checks drawn upon it.

Then the bankers of the State, called in conference to help save the situation, made a demand that the functions of the Bank of North Dakota be limited to the administration of the State institutions and State industries and financing of farm loan bonds, that a depositary law be enacted, that the public be assured that the farmers' industrial program would be confined to Grand Forks, the mill to Drake Mill and the Bank of North Dakota to wind up the Home Builders' Association.

To this the Industrial Commission composed of Governor Frazier, the Commissioner of Agriculture and the Attorney General, turned a deaf ear.

Unless the Industrial Commission can sell the bonds, which the bankers could not sell for them, North Dakota's State industrial program is at a standstill for an indefinite period.

PREPARE TO FIGHT TOWNLEY

Kansas Citizens Organize to Defeat Non-Partisan League Propaganda.

SALINA, Kan., Jan. 7.—Efforts to form a State organization to oppose the activities of A. C. Townley and other Non-Partisan League leaders in Kansas will be made at a meeting to be held here next Monday. Telegrams were sent to Kansas Legion posts today, asking each to send an ex-service man and one other citizen to attend the meeting. Governor Henry J. Allen was also invited to attend. Announced plans call for the establishment of headquarters at Salina, from which a State campaign against the Non-Partisan League will be conducted.

A. C. Townley, head of the Non-Partisan League, who, with a group of assistants, has established headquarters in Salina for the purpose of inducing Kansas farmers to enter the league, said today that he had not intended carrying on a speech-making campaign, but that the public demanded it.

He has announced a meeting for next Monday night, when, he said today, he would "tell of the things the Non-Partisan League stands for, what the league has accomplished and what it can accomplish in North Dakota, if permitted to follow out its original plans."

The Non-Partisan forces have established a newspaper here.

Moderates Appeal to Labor to Eschew Communism.

PARIS, Jan. 7.—The French Federation of Labor has issued an appeal to French workmen to remain faithful to the union labor movement as against the Communist element that recently split the Socialist Party at Tours.

In a long manifesto the Federation charges the Radicals with the intention of "destroying international syndicalism that comprises 27,000,000 workers," and asks labor to support a program of social improvement, rather than "personal ambitions and greeds."

F. W. Dunton Queens Highway Head.

Frederick W. Dunton of Hollis in Queens was yesterday appointed Commissioner of Highways of Queens by President Maurice E. Connolly to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Dr. John J. CALLS PHONE VALUE $20,000,000 TOO HIGH Expert Figures on Company's Property Disputed by Assistant Corporation Counsel.

WANTS BIG CUT MADE

Says $10,000,000 Should Be Charged Off for Depreciation Before Rates Go Up.

During the examination of G. W. Whittemore, valuation engineer for the New York Telephone Company, before Public Service Commissioner George Van Namee yesterday, property valuation figures submitted by the company in support of its application for increased rates were criticised by Assistant Cororation Counsel M. M. Fertig. Mr. Whittemore fixed the property valuation at about $117,000,000 on Aug. 31, 1920. This was based upon a valuation of $83,700,000 on the property in New York City on Dec. 31, 1914.

The latter figure was accepted for rate fixing in 1915 and Mr. Fertig contended that an error of about $20,000,000 had been made. He insisted that at the time the 1914 figures were accepted the book accounts showed that the property value was only about $69,000,000. He added that $10,000,000 more for depreciation should have been deducted.

Mr. Fertig took up the question of payments made by the company to the American Telephone and Telegraph Company for the leasing of instruments. He pointed out that in the 1921 estimate of expenses the company had allowed 4½ per cent. of its gross earnings, approximately $3,000,000, for that purpose.

Any delay in the completion of the hearings is vital to the company, said J. L. Swayze, general councel. The company had reached a point, he said, where its construction program is in jeopardy because of inability to attract new capital. He said that $100,000,000 in securities had been hypothecated under a mortgage and that the company's surplus had been invested in equipment.

HERE TO REPRESENT ITALY.

C. F. Bernardi Arrives to Assume Duties of Consul General.

C. F. Bernardi, the newly appointed Consul General for Italy in New York, arrived yesterday on the Italian liner Regina d'Italia and was met at the pier, foot of West Fifty-fifth Street, by the staff from the consulate.

Previous to sailing for America Mr. Bernardi had been for two years Consul General for his Government in Dublin. When asked about the conditions in Ireland, Mr. Bernardi said that from what he had read in the newspapers he believed some of the reports were exaggerated.

From the pier the new Consul General was driven in an automobile to the Hotel Astor, where he was entertained at luncheon by prominent members of the Italian colony in this city.

M. Casenave to Remain Here.

News was received here yesterday of an official announcement that M. Casenave, Minister Plenipotentiary and Director General of French Services in the United States, would remain indefinitely at his post. Accompanying this announcement was an expression of the French Government's high appreciation of M. Casenave's services in the United States.

their pleasure, there were features which did not agree with the simple view that the whole move was in the interests of Tammany and the Hylan administration.

The appointment of ex-Governor Whitman was one such feature, although it has been suggested that Mr. Whitman was favored because, having been a lawyer for the Interborough, he might become a target for Mayor Hylan's favorite attack. Another feature is that District Attorney Swann has never been a friend of the Police Department. Another theory is that District Attorney Swann, tired of attacks on himself and his office, resolved on drastic steps to prove his disinterestedness and eagerness to serve the public.

Yesterday's developments suggested that the plan of the investigation might be to embarrass and discredit the critics of the Hylan administration, but this was emphatically denied by District Attorney Swann. The two legislators were called and grilled yesterday. It was announced also that newspaper writers who have been writing articles on crime and several city editors would be summoned among the first witnesses.

Only a Hunt for Crime.

When he was asked about rumors that the investigation was intended to convict legislators and newspapers of exaggeration, Mr. Swann said:

"There is no truth in that at all. We are interested in finding out if crimes have been committed and in punishing them. That is all."

Mr. Swann admitted that so far his office was investigating smoke rather than fire, because there was no evidence in his hands to substantiate the charges of widespread corruption in this city.

"Do you consider the fact that no complaints and no evidence of such corruption have been submitted to your office as an indication that these charges are false?"

"No, I am not prejudging the case at all," Mr. Swann responded. He said that the investigation was based solely on the charges of the legislators and articles in the newspapers.

"But these charges come from responsible sources," he said, "so that it is my duty to investigate."

Mr. Swann and Mr. Whitman both denied that their investigation could possibly interfere in any way with any investigation which the Governor or Legislature might see fit to order. It was asserted that the District Attorney's office would co-operate with any State investigation to the extent of turning over the Grand Jury minutes to it.

Authority Given to Whitman.

District Attorney Swann's order appointing ex-Governor Whitman was as follows:

> I, Edward Swann, District Attorney of the County of New York, do hereby constitute, appoint and employ Charles S. Whitman, an attorney and counsellor at law, as special assistant and counsel and as Deputy Assistant District Attorney, to prosecute, take charge of and conduct all proceedings and actions in and before the Court of General Sessions of the City and County of New York and the Supreme Court in and for the said county and before any Grand Jury empanelled at any term of either of said courts and before any Magistrate in the County of New York or before the Court of Special Sessions in said county, the said Charles S. Whitman to be so employed at a salary to be fixed by me.
> EDWARD SWANN,
> District Attorney, New York County.

When asked if ex-Governor Whitman was to investigate other city departments than the police, Mr. Swann said:

"All departments. He is to investigate and prosecute any crimes, not only involving public officials, but private individuals, where the public welfare is involved."

"I may prosecute Judge Swann himself," said Mr. Whitman with a smile.

After his consultation with Mayor Hylan, Mr. Swann gave out the following letter which he had sent to the foreman of the Grand Jury:

> Jan. 7, 1921.
>
> William S. Coffin, Esq., Foreman Additional Grand Jury, 575 Fifth Avenue, New York City.
>
> Dear Sir: The Mayor has authorized me to tender to the Additional Grand Jury any six detectives of the Detective Bureau that may be selected by the Grand Jury or its foreman. He is very desirous that the Grand Jury, through its foreman, make their own selection of detectives for the purpose of running down any clue or clues that they may discover which, in their judgment, may lead to evidence of any corruption in public office in the County of New York. Whatever six detectives may be selected by the Grand Jury will be assigned for their exclusive work and under their exclusive direction.
>
> The Mayor has also authorized me to state that any and everything within reason that it is within his power to do to aid you in this investigation will be promptly done by him.
>
> Very truly yours,
> EDWARD SWANN,
> District Attorney.

Legislators Issue Statement.

Senator Robinson and Assemblyman Steinberg refused yesterday to disclose what they had said before the Grand Jury in support of their joint statement attacking Mayor Hylan, District Attorney Swann and various city departments, especially the police. They, however, issued another joint statement as follows:

"Our position before the Grand Jury was that the calling of ourselves to testify was a smoke screen to cover up what the District Attorney's office had failed to accomplish for the past years. As public servants we felt that we were bound to start the machinery which would produce the evidence which the District Attorney had utterly failed to produce.

"There is no better way of stating our position than to repeat the Governor's words in the last paragraph of his message, which were as follows:

"'The financial condition of some of the municipalities of the State, notably the City of New York, raises the query whether there are not grave defects in the local organization and administration. The grave increase in crimes, especially crimes of violence, and the failure to discover and apprehend the perpetrators, also suggests the query whether there are similar defects in the administration of the criminal law and the enforcement of the law by peace officers.'"

Another witness yesterday was Arthur D. Howden Smith, a reporter on The Evening Post. Other witnesses who are to be called when the Grany Jury meets on Monday are Hood MacFarland, city editor of The Tribune, and A. J. McKenna and John Lawrence of The Tribune; Henry Jessup, formerly a member of the Police Department and a right-hand man of Lieutenant Costigan, and Edward T. Dalton, a former policeman. Jessup made a stir when he resigned to Police Commissioner Enright, denouncing conditions in the department and asserting that no self-respecting man could take some of the assignments.

Lieutenant Costigan, who under previous administration had investigated some of the activities of Commissioner Enright, then a police Lieutenant, is alleged to have been persecuted repeatedly under this administration. When Costigan sought a leave of absence during the war to take charge of the policing of the Government shipyards, Commissioner Enright denied the application, saying that Costigan was too valuable to be spared. Soon afterward he disbanded Costigan's famous vice squad and reduced Costigan from the rank of Inspector, alleging that his work was bad. He has since kept Costigan on duty in a remote section near the Westchester County border. When asked if Mr. Whitman could have Costigan's services, Mr. Swann said:

"Why, certainly he could. Or anybody else on the force."

"Or anybody on the outside of it," said Mr. Whitman.

Mr. Swann said that it would be "a splendid civic act" for anybody who knows of any corruption in any city department to come forward with his testimony.

"Anybody that objects to our procedure, we don't want his friendship or his acquaintance," he continued.

"You don't mean that, Judge," said Mr. Whitman.

When the statement of the legislators that the investigation was a "smoke screen" was brought up, Mr. Whitman said:

"I would not answer that."

"Oh, no. It doesn't seem to mean anything, anyway," said Mr. Swann.

Chief Assistant District Attorney Joab L. Banton, who appeared before the Wihtman Grand Jury yesterday in connection with the new investigation, said that statistics showed that there was less crime in New York City than in any other large city.

"But there is a great deal too much of it," he said, "and far too few criminals are captured. This is partly because of the crime wave all over the world and partly because the crook has developed more efficient methods of committing crime, while the methods of detecting and punishing crime, impeded by the red tape of officialdom, have not developed.

"The greatest step that could be taken toward stopping this wave of crime would be a law denying a driver's license to any person convicted of a crime of violence or moral turpitude. Speed in getaway due to the help of criminal chauffeurs is the greatest asset of criminals today. In nearly all bandit cases you find a criminal chauffeur. He is the key man in the crime situation today, enabling the crook to escape and transport his loot at high speed. Nowadays men with criminal records are allowed to act as chauffeurs. Taking their licenses away would be the greatest thing that could be done today to check crime."

CATCH P. P. AUTHER AND 'STOLEN' WIFE

St. Louis Detectives Arrest Woman With Man Who Played False "Enoch Arden" Game.

TWO WARRANTS FOR AUTHER

He Is Accused of Deserting His Wife, Also of Robbing Mrs. Franzen's Husband.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 8.—Pierre Paul Auther of Highland Park, Ill., and Mrs. Philip Franzen of Madison, Wis., with whom he ran away Tuesday night, were found here early this morning by detectives.

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—While two warrants have been issued for Pierre Paul Auther of Highland Park, Ill., neither one contains any charge against him for running away with Mrs. Philip Franzen.

One warrant charges Auther with the desertion of his wife and baby in Highland Park, while the other charges grand larceny, in connection with a check for $100 which Franzen told the police Auther forced him to make out to help pay the expenses of the "honeymoon" of Mrs. Franzen and Auther.

The search for the missing couple was pressed vigorously by the police when it became known today that a man and woman, registered as "P. P. Auther and wife of Madison, Wis.," were at a local hotel until last night.

On New Year's Day Auther disappeared from his home in Highland Park, leaving his wife and baby girl. When Auther appeared at the Franzen home last Tuesday night, according to Franzen, he declared Mrs. Franzen was the woman he had married thirteen years ago in Australia.

"I have searched for her ten years," Franzen quotes Auther as saying, while pointing a pistol at Franzen's head, "and now I mean to have her."

Documents waiving claims to each other were signed by Franzen and his wife at Auther's command, Franzen says.

"My husband flew into a tantrum when I first accused him of improper conduct with Mrs. Franzen," Mrs. Auther said today. "He told me then that he had visited every continent except Australia, which makes me believe he is telling an untruth about his marriage to Mrs. Franzen there."

Mrs. Auther said her husband had dissipated her savings of $2,000 and that he left only $2 with her when he went away on New Year's day.

Mrs. Auther's maiden name was Blanche Ellen Harvey Tregelgas. She was born in Edinburgh, Scotland, but was orphaned as a child and was reared under the guardianship of a priest in Montreal. She graduated as a nurse from a New York hospital, went overseas with the Canadian troops and was decorated for bravery by the British Government after she had won a Lieutenancy by hospital work in Belgium and France.

A bursting syringe impaired her sight and she returned to America. She met Auther while both were employed by the du Pont Powder Company at Pompton Lakes, N. J.

DEFY ARCHBISHOP MESSMER

Congregation, Threatened With Excommunication, Sends Letter.

Special to The New York Times.

KENOSHA, Wis., Jan. 7.—Defiance of the threat of Archbishop S. G. Messmer to excommunicate the hundreds of members of the Holy Rosary congregation here was contained in a message to the Archbishop today. A committee of the congregation petitioned the Archbishop for the removal of the pastor, the Rev. Father Peter Perardi.

In reply the Archbishop threatened excommunication, denial of the right to partake of the holy sacrament and denial of the right to Christian burial if the agitation did not cease.

The trouble was caused by a bequest by a member of the congregation who left $10,000 to the church in the priest's name instead of in that of the church trustees.

BRAZIL-GERMAN BANK GAINS.

15 Per Cent. Dividend—Chile-German Bank Elects Urbig.

BERLIN, Jan. 7.—The Brazilian Bank for Germany at a general meeting in Hamburg today declared a dividend of 15 per cent. Its annual report indicated that prospects for the coming year were favorable.

The directorate of the bank for Chille and Germany has aproved the bank's statement for 1917-1919. It elected Franz Urbig, a well known Berlin banker, as a member of the Executive Board. Herr Urbig was a financial member of the German Peace Delegation.

GINO MARINUZZI TO STAY.

Will Continue as Director of Chicago Opera, H. M. Johnson Says.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—The flurry occasioned by the resignation of Gino Marinuzzi as director of the Chicago Grand Opera Company was lulled today by practical box office methods.

"Mr. Marinuzzi tendered me his resignation verbally," said Herbert M. Johnson, executive director, "and the matter has been referred to the Board of Directors. Mr. Marinuzzi will continue to function as chief director and the action of the board can make no difference whatever with the conduct of the company. It is too near the end of the season to think about the appointment of another permanent director, even if the present incumbent cannot complete his season.

"Kind friends are always ready to tell us what we ought to do and who should be placed in charge. However, there is no truth in any of the rumors published concerning the selection of a new director."

THEATRICAL NOTES.

Edmund Lowe will be in the cast of "In the Night Watch," coming to the Century.

Margaret Lawrence and Arthur Byron will give matinees of a new English comedy at the Cort Theatre during the run of "Transplanting Jean."

Oscar Wilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest" will be produced at the Bramhall Playhouse on Thursday night, Jan. 20. The cast will include Butler Davenport, Charlotte Granville, Mabel Frenyear and Edwin Strawbridge.

Ruth Draper, who has recently returned from London, will give a series of dramatic recitals in New York late this month.

"Passion," the German motion picture based on the life of Mme. Du Barry, with Pola Negri in the leading role, will be shown at the Strand Theatre in Brooklyn, next week, beginning tomorrow.

The motion pictures of the Dempsey-Brennan fight will be shown at the Park Theatre continuously from 1 to 11 o'clock tomorrow. Brennan will appear in person, it is announced.

Michio Itow will appear at the Neighborhood Playhouse in Grand Street tonight and tomorrow night in a Japanese Noh drama, "Tamura." Also on the program will be a revival of the pantomime-ballet, "The Magic Shop."

The last performance of the first subscription season of the Junior Cinema Club will be held at the Broadhurst Theatre this morning at 10:30 o'clock. "A Man Without a Country" will be the feature. Arnold Daly, who played in this picture, will appear in person.

MUSIC

By Richard Aldrich

Ignaz Friedman's Piano Recital.

Ignaz Friedman, a Polish pianist and composer of high reputation in Europe, appeared yesterday in Aeolian Hall in a piano recital. He played a program consisting of Beethoven's sonata in E minor, Op. 90, a group of pieces by Chopin, including the A flat ballade, the A flat polonaise, a mazurka, a valse, two études and a nocturne; Schumann's "Carneval" and Brahms's variations on a theme by Paganini; an exacting list, that only a pianist of the highest powers could successfully interpret.

Mr. Friedman disclosed at once and all through the afternoon technical powers of the most unusual sort, an extraordinary brilliancy and speed, a command of the mechanism of piano playing that accomplished the most exacting technical tasks without apparent effort, and without attempt at turning this mastery into a means of personal display.

There was something overpowering and imposing in his playing, especially in passages requiring strength and power. Mr. Friedman possesses and employs without stint an almost startling physical prowess. His fortissimo is of crashing weight and makes the instrument shiver. It is rough in quality and goes, in fact, often beyond the limit of beauty in musical tone. In pianissimo he often produces a tone of beauty and charm; but scarcely of much color or depth. It is a tone of little gradation or variety, either in dynamics or in tint. It seemed, indeed, as if Mr. Friedman had made not much exploration of the field of dynamics lying between fortissimo and pianissimo. This is a large field, and the absence of its effects in his playing leaves considerable lacunae.

Mr. Friedman did not disclose himself yesterday as an interpreter of remarkable power. His playing of Beethoven's sonata was vigorous, strongly rhythmed, exemplary in its exposition of the formal outlines of the music; but there was little poetry or emotional power in it; little of the "feeling and expression" that the composer anxiously prescribed for the first movement, and not too much of the "cantabile" that he wanted in the second, a movement that openly allures its performer to tenderness and sentiment.

Mr. Friedman is said to have special renown as a player of Chopin. There was much that was brilliant in his playing of Chopin's music, dazzling, scintillant; but it was more notable thus than for warmth, passion, "morbidezza," poetic insight. There was clearness in most of the pieces and a delicate and subtle enunciation of inner voices. The two études were masterpieces of technical precision, especially the tints in the one in G sharp minor. The A flat ballade was played in a dominating mood; its outline was somewhat marred by the sudden and abrupt contrast of dynamics that prevailed in it. So, too, in the doctrine, the middle section was stirred almost to distortion by the violence of the effects introduced into it. The polonaise was played with overwhelming energy. There was much applause, and Mr. Friedman responded to it by playing the étude in G flat very fast.

It was obvious by the time he reached Schumann's "Carneval" in the program that Mr. Friedman's disposition as a pianist would put emphasis on some of the more incidental qualities of this music, rather than on those that make it really what it is; its many-sided fancy, its wealth of imagination, its poetry and romantic ardor; and so it turned out. These pieces took on a bravura aspect; difficulties were conquered with hardly the turn of the hand or the twist of the wrist; the fast ones were played very fast, indeed; the loud ones uncommonly loud. It was exciting; but much had escaped and eluded player and listeners.

But there was much applause, and it was evident that Mr. Friedman had made a deep impression.

MAX REINHARDT COMING.

German Producer Will Stage Viennese Play "Gitana" in New York.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

VIENNA, Jan. 7.—Max Reinhardt, the well-known German theatrical producer, has accepted an offer to visit New York to produce a Viennese play, "Gitana," by Sil Vare.

Since Mr. Reinhardt relinquished control of the Grosses Schauspielhaus in Berlin, there have been a number of reports that he would come to America. A few months ago it was announced by United Plays, Inc., a subsidiary of the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation, that Mr. Reinhardt would come to America to produce both plays and motion pictures and that he would hereafter spend six months of every year in this country. It was thought, however, that this plan had been abandoned.

Mr. Reinhardt has recently been producing plays in Copenhagen.

Actor and Actress Marry.

Jules D. Cowles, an actor, was married to Mrs. Lavilla Ruth Seibert in the Marriage Bureau yesterday afternoon by Deputy City Clerk Michael J. Cruise. The bride is an actress, 26 years old, and resides at 27 West Ninetieth Street. She divorced her former husband in Akron, Ohio, last January. Mr. Cowles, who is 41, lives at Yonkers, and was divorced in Richmond, Va., in November, 1914.

"John Hawthorne" at Matinees.

The next production of The Theatre Guild, "John Hawthorne," will be presented at special matinees at the Garrick beginning a week from Monday. There will be a private performance on the preceding Sunday night, and matinees will then be given on Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Fridays. "Heartbreak House" will continue as the regular program.

URGES STATE RIGHTS OVER WATER POWER

Gov. Miller Contests Esch Act, Whereby Nation Is to Regulate Boundary Streams.

WILL ASK COURT DECISION

Case Will Be Presented First Before Federal Water Power Commission at Washington.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Jan. 7.—Governor Miller announced today that he had directed Attorney General Newton to test the legality of the Esch act in respect to the Federal Government's authority to regulate water power in boundary streams.

The State's position will be made clear to the Federal authorities at a hearing to be held in Washington on Jan. 26 before the Water Power Commission on the granting of licenses for diversion of water above Niagara Falls. It is doubtful if court action will be started before that time.

Governor Miller stated that he believed that when the Federal Government attempted to exercise authority as it had recently in the creation of the Federal Water Power Commission, it infringed upon the sovereign rights of the State.

"I believe that the authority of the Federal Government covers matters pertaining to navigation, defense and treaty making," he said. "But when its authority is extended to cover water power I believe the sovereign rights of the State are being infrined upon."

The Governor made his announcement following a conference with Paul A. Schoelkopf and Morris Cohn, representing Niagara power interests. Decision on the question whether the Government or the State was authority over boundary streams must come, according to the Governor, before a State water power policy is determined upon.

It is believed that the matter will bring to a head the recent attempts to formulate a State policy on water power. The matter may be made the subject of a special message by the Governor to the Legislature. He is known to have his own ideas on water power, and a different program from those proposed in the past is expected.

Attorney General Newton said last night at the Murray Hill Hotel that he would go to Washington Jan. 24 to oppose any attempt by the Federal Government to take authority over waters within New York State. Under the Esch bill, Mr. Newton said, the Government assumes that it owns, controls and has the right to lease navigable waterways in the State. The Attorney General said that he would argue that all such waterways belong to the State and that the Federal Government has no authority.

'The Beggar Student' at Manhattan

Carl Millocker's "The Beggar Student" was sung at the Manhattan last night as the seventh production of a German operetta by a modest company active there since the holidays. Harriet Behnee, with Dora de Phillippe and Nina Ries, acted the Polish Countess and her daughters; Carl Sauerman was the Colonel Ollendorf, a marplot ruler of Cracow, while Max Bratt and Oscar Hofmann were the prisoners whom he palmed off as beggarly suitors for the girls, but afterward saw ennobled as patriots in King Stanislaus' Army. Eugene Rautenberg conducted the dancing airs, which were heard by a considerable audience.

Marion Armstrong's First Recital.

Marion Armstrong, a young Canadian soprano, now of Orange, N. J., gave her first song recital in Aeolian Hall last evening, assisted by C. V. Bos at the piano, in classic Italian and French airs, modern English and American pieces. Among these last were Mrs. Salter's "Her Love Song" and others of Earl Sharp and Carlos Troyer. Miss Armstrong, who is of Scottish descent, added a novel group of six, including "The Deil's Awa Wi' the Exciseman," from old songs of Scotland.

"Tristan" Sung for Fourth Time.

"Tristan" in English was performed for the fourth time at the Metropolitan last evening when, in spite of the weather, there was present another of the great audiences that have welcomed this second Wagnerian revival, soon to be followed by a third, an English "Lohengrin." Mr. Sembach's Tristan was in better voice than on the last previous occasion, Mme. Matzenauer's Isolda possibly less so; Miss Gordon and Messrs. Whitehill and Gustafson completed the leading personages of the music drama, and Mr. Bodanzky conducted.

'The Green Goddess' at Booth Jan. 18

"The Green Goddess," by William Archer, the English critic, will be presented by Winthrop Ames at the Booth Theatre on Tuesday night, Jan. 18. George Arliss will be starred in the play, and the cast will also include Cyril Keightley and Olive Wyndham. William Faversham in "The Prince and the Pauper" will be transferred to the Apollo.

Ethel Barrymore Still Ill.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Jan. 7.—Miss Ethel Barrymore, actress, who is suffering from rheumatism, has canceled her remaining engagement in this city. She may be compelled to remain in Cincinnati several weeks, her physician said.

NEW RULES JAM SIDEWALKS.

Wet Pavements Interfere With Traffic Regulations in Times Sq. Section.

Wet pavements seriously interfered last night with the new traffic regulations in the Times Square district. At intervals jams were caused at Broadway and Forty-fifth Street. Crowds from the theatres who waited for taxicabs along the curb on Broadway, from Forty-fourth to Forty-sixth Street, were forced to return to the side streets to find the vehicles. Waits at street intersections were tedious for the crowds, anxious to get out of the rain.

Dr. John A. Harriss, Special Deputy Police Commissioner, who devised the new system, said that the regulations would not be put into effect this afternoon from 1 to 6 o'clock, as previously announced, because they would interfere with the operation of many commercial vehicles.

West Virginia Women Win Office.

RICHWOOD, W. Va., Jan. 7.—Four women were elected to municipal offices in yesterday's elections here and at Sutton. Mrs. Agnes Duffy and Mrs. C. Wright, Democrats, were elected members of the Richwood City Council, Mrs. Kate B. Frame was elected to the Sutton Council, while Mrs. B. P. Hall was named School Commissioner.

Lord Milner Leaves the Cabinet.

LONDON, Jan. 7 (Associated Press).—Lord Milner today resigned his portfolio as Secretary for the Colonies. His successor has not yet been announced.

LANDLORD FINED $500.

On Dec. 23 Elias Heller of 5605 Fifteenth Avenue, Brooklyn, was convicted in the Court of Special Sessions of failure to supply sufficient heat for tenants of his apartment house at 2610 Newkirk Avenue, Brooklyn. Sentence was suspended.

Yesterday Heller was again brought into court and sentenced to a fine of $500, with an alternative of sixty days in jail under the previous conviction.

Senator McCormick Sails Today.

PARIS, Jan. 7.—United States Senator Medill McCormick of Illinois arrived in Paris tonight. He will sail for New York tomorrow on board the steamer Imperator.

SENATORS MAY SEND COMMITTEE TO CUBA

the better. Such a trip would be for the best interests, alike of Cuba and of the United States.

"Ever since my arrival in Washington five weeks ago, I have been trying to convey to all persons with whom I have been in touch the extreme seriousness of the economical problems of Cuba. These problems have handicapped the commercial life in that country, and have brought a condition wherein law and order have almost disappeared from the Cuban Republic.

"The international obligations of the United States in Cuban domestic affairs are not and cannot be considered the same as in regard to any of the other Spanish-American republics.

"Intervention by the United States in Cuban domestic affairs in order to insure the self-government of the Cuban people always represents for Cuba a constitutional act, since the recognition of this right is established in the Cuban Constitution. And to the United States it represents the fulfillment of a duty imposed upon them as per the permanent treaty with the Cuban Republic.

"I have repeatedly stated that no satisfactory solution of the economical problems of Cuba can be reached until there is a conclusive solution of the political tangle brought about by the fraud and intimidation which characterized the elections held on Nov. 1 last. The Menocal Government and its officials are directly responsible for the unfortunate state of affairs now existing in Cuba.

"Contrary to what was expected by the friends of the Menocal Administration in Washington, the arrival of General Crowder in Cuba has produced great satisfaction. General Crowder represents the great hope of our republic. Undoubtedly his present visit will contribute materially to the solution of our political problems, as he has a thorough understanding of Cuban politics, being the author of the Electoral Code under which our Government functions. No man is better qualified to apply the spirit of that law than he. Unquestionably a visit to Cuba by a committee of the United States Senate, while General Crowler is still there, would contribute immeasurably to speedy and satisfactory solution of affairs there, and thus afford one more assurance of a continuation of good relations between the United States and the Republic of Cuba."

Crowder Confers with Zayas.

Copyright, 1921, by The New York Times Company.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

HAVANA, Jan. 7.—Maj. Gen. Enoch H. Crowder conferred for a considerable period this afternoon with Dr. Alfredo Zayas y Alfonso, coalition candidate for President in the recent elections, and men of other political views as represented in the Liga Nacional. He also received a greeting of welcome to Cuba from General José Miguel Gomez, candidate of the Liberal Party, but as far as could be learned tonight had not conferred with the latter.

A conference has been arranged for tomorrow, it is stated, between Dr. Rafael Montoro, secretary to the President, as the latter has been engaged for weeks as the adviser to President Menocal upon matters pertaining to the financial situation.

The news from Washington bulletined here late this afternoon to the effect that the Senate was considering sending a committee of inquiry was received with divided feelings. The satirical weekly La Politica Comica published today a front page caricature of General Crowder bearing upon his back a duffle bag upon which was imprinted a huge question mark. It bore a caption announcing the arrival of the General as "the man with a bubble," and inquiring to whom the contents would be delivered.

Newspaper comment universally is quiet in tone tonight, and a sentiment of watchful waiting seems to be prevalent.

SENATOR HARDING'S PLAINT.

There is an unmistakable appeal for sympathy in Mr. HARDING's account of his troubles in Cabinet-making and policy-framing. Pity the sorrows of the next President! His old friends show a strange "aloofness." Against "untruth" and "intrigue" he has constantly to be "on his guard." Can such things be in the fellowship of the best minds? Alas, yes. Senator HARDING ought to reflect that he is simply experiencing the common lot of men about to enter the Presidency. It is almost impossible for them to get disinterested advice; very difficult even to get truthful answers to straight questions. If Mr. HARDING expected to find everything grace, mercy and peace in his counselors, it was time that he learned how capable they are of anger, wrath, malice and all uncharitableness.

If this, as would appear, has got on Mr. HARDING's nerves and made him irritable, so much the better. It is a good sign when a President blurts it out that he is sick of being lied to, and is tired of being pulled and hauled by men whose motives are open to suspicion. On one occasion GROVER CLEVELAND greeted a Senator in the White House, in the presence of others, with the words: "I suppose you've come "to ask me to appoint another horse "thief to office." That outburst was worth more than a whole volume on the merits of civil service reform in the abstract. If Senator HARDING were to use similar plainness of speech to those Senators who are in "fierce opposition" to some of the best men suggested for the Cabinet, it might both relieve his feelings and do much to clear his path.

In the end, he will have to strike out for himself. Why not do it at once? To his more insistent pleaders for mediocrities, or even obscurities, he might read impressively this passage from the Koran: "A ruler who appoints any man to an office when "there is in his dominions another "man better qualified for it, sins "against GOD and against the State."

THE OIL RIVALRY.

Competition for the world's undetermined supply of oil is mainly between the United States, which produces annually 70 per cent. of the oil used in the world, and Great Britain. She finds little oil in her own dominions and is seeking it in every land where concessions can be obtained, also in mandatory countries under her flag like Mesopotamia. It is unfortunate for the political relations of the United States and Great Britain that the discussion upon this subject in Congress is sometimes colored by hatred for all things British. The controversy about oil is bound to rage, and the opportunity will be seized by demagogues on both sides of the Atlantic. Our own public men who demand equal rights in the development of oil lands in Mesopotamia are obviously in the right. Equal rights by all means and without regard to how much oil is produced in the United States! Our own supply, great though at present it be, has its limits, and ultimately Americans will have to obtain abroad some of the oil they need.

What our people want as a basis for remedial legislation and for treaty agreements are trustworthy statistics about resources and production and sound information concerning the regulations and practices of Great Britain in producing and acquiring oil. All else is surplusage. The United States demands a square deal and must not be diverted by guile, rancor or misinformation from being reciprocally fair to Great Britain.

In the debate in the Senate on Thursday British trading opportunities, which all nations share in the open market, were jumbled with allegations of British bad faith in discriminating against aliens in British possessions and in Mesopotamia. Senator PHELAN thought it an outrage that California companies, controlled, he said, by the British, had sold oil to the Japanese for storage in Formosa at about $1.80 a barrel, but charged Californians $2.40 for the same oil. If the British have a monopoly of the oil business in California, this is a serious matter; but if competition prevails, there is nothing in this indictment. Senator MCKELLAR complained that "other nations are "using our oil supply without hin"drance." As long as our oil dealers are willing to sell and their oversea customers have the price, what is to be done about it? Mr. MCKELLAR vaguely charged the British with using American oil and saving their own supplies. Senator KELLOGG injected a little common sense into the discussion when he said that the Government should by treaty provide for the protection of American interests in the development of oil lands in foreign countries. That and retaliatory legislation if Great Britain refuses the square deal to Americans are all that can be done.

PERTURBATION OF THE FAITHFUL

It can't be expected that gentlemen soon to be decapitated shouldn't be a little nervous as the executioner caresses his trenchant blade. At Albany superfluous officeholders are weeping piteously into the bosom of legislators. They are sure that the party organization is headed for Sheol. But the wiser heads know that this is the direction of the Republican Party of the State if it doesn't bring about the consolidations and economies and loppings-off which the Governor so bluntly insists upon. The new Secretary of State, Mr. LYONS, emits a bitter cry that will be heard with heartless amusement by the taxpayers. The proposed transfer to a new tax department of the collection of automobile taxes vexes Mr. LYONS's soul. He says that "the chief function of "the Secretary of State is the regula"tion of the automobile laws and the "collection of taxes should be retained "in the office."

The Secretary of State has divers other functions, including the issue of licenses to peddlers. If collection of the automobile taxes is his cardinal function, the public will have new reason to believe that the Secretary of State is merely a miscellaneous clerk, and that there is no reason why he should be elected by the people. Meanwhile, the abolition of divers commissions and offices is studied severely by the economists. Officeholders cost the State $20,000,000 more in 1920 than in 1911. In nine years more than eight thousand new posts were created, most of them not from necessity but for politics. The State must live within its income. Thousands of officeholders who are to be classed as mere political luxuries must lose their places. Lean days for the henchmen are coming. No doubt it's very sad, but not for the taxpayers.

Speaker MACHOLD of the Assembly is certain that the Legislature "will "be able to keep the budget total "down to the Governor's figure, "$140,000,000, without doing injury "to the State service." The Legislature has got to do it, whether it wants to or not. As to the Governor's program, Mr. MACHOLD must be trying to console the discontented brethren when he says that "there is such a "thing as asking twice what you ex"pect to get, so as to leave room for "compromise." That holds out a delusive hope. Governor MILLER means what he says. The Republicans in the Legislature and their officeholding friends may as well take their medicine without all these groans and wry faces.

CREDIT BY VOTES.

The Chamber of Commerce was not asked by its committee to adopt its report arguing against what the committee accepted as an accomplished fact—the revival of the War Finance Corporation by the votes of 10 to 1 in the Senate and 5 to 1 in the House. Before either vote Secretary HOUSTON had testified that he would obey a mandate, and the Chamber was told by its committee that its report was therefore merely academic. That means that it was an appeal to reason against votes by those who had not given sufficient thought to the matter. The Chamber nevertheless hastened to align its majority with the majority of Congress. Now it may be supposed, perhaps, that the precedent is established that the revived corporation will award its credits according to the count of noses, rather than according to the methods of bankers outside of North Dakota.

It is not premature to raise the point, for at the threshold arises the question of the principles on which the farmers shall be accommodated. It must be according to banking principles or in defiance of them. The farmers and planters, or exporters of anything if the program is broadened, produce their collateral, and at once it is asked what the collateral is worth in the market. If it is offered at the market, there is no deficiency of bank accommodation. But if the credits are asked for the sake of "holding" anything, there is an end of assisting trade. "Holding" is not "moving" the crops or promoting trade, either domestic or foreign.

Those who have other reasons for reviving and perhaps controlling the War Finance Corporation have had their own way, and have made a poor job of it, for they did not alter the laws by which the corporation must be guided after its revival. The Secretary will hardly be expected or even ordered to make loans contrary to the requirement that those seeking Government credit must show first that they have "exhausted private credit. That is another "academic" question, for there are no applications yet of any sort, and particularly not of that sort. Assuming that there are applications, the next step will be for the corporation to get some money to lend. It gave the Treasury $365,000,000 for the purpose of reducing the national debt, and, to whatever extent the corporation does anything, it must either increase the public debt or appear as the Treasury's rival in bidding for private funds. Before this can be done the corporation will need a full Board of Directors, and Congress has consistently refused to confirm more necessary nominations than these.

Upon second thought, perhaps the Chamber, or even Congress, will come to see that the Chamber's committee had thought more nearly through the subject than those who led the Chamber into hastily considered action. Either the Congress or the Chamber should now tell what the next step should be. Those to whom they have given instructions have done all that the orders require, and must now proceed according to their discretion in default of more specific directions. After Government railroading and Government shipbuilding and operation, and perhaps Government housing, now Government banking!

EASY GENEROSITY.

Sir ROBERT HORNE, President of the British Board of Trade, has expressed some large and generous thoughts on the economic reconstruction of Europe. There should be a general forgiveness of debts. England should cancel the obligations of the Continental Allies to her, and America should cancel the debt which England owes here. Sir ROBERT apparently says nothing of the debts owed by Continental States to America. Those debts of some five billion dollars are to be allowed to stand. England gives up the four billion-odd due her from the Continent, and America gives up a similar amount due her from England. Thus far England comes out even and America is four billions to the bad.

Of course, America still has the recourse of collecting the five billions due her on the Continent; and another British economist, Sir J. C. STAMP, would go even further and have England pay her debt to us in the obligations of the Continental countries. America could collect those obligations more easily than England, he thinks, "being less amenable to political and "other considerations affecting Eu"rope." There is at least one political consideration, however, to which America is amenable. If we are the only creditor of the Continent—if England has either canceled the debts due her or transferred them to us—what will be the attitude of France, Italy, Belgium, Poland and Czechoslovakia toward us? As fast as Germany paid them anything on the reparations account it would come to America in payment of the debt; but England, which had forgiven all, would appear on the Continent as a friend and benefactor. We fear that our British friends have not taken into consideration this psychological factor.

Of course, there could be a general cancellation. England could contribute four or five billion dollars, and America nine or ten billions, to the cause of world reconstruction. Some of the most urgent advocates of this plan in England are those who would have Germany contribute not much more than England and far less than America. The question of the European debt to America is a very difficult one and does not admit of easy solution; we cannot help feeling that Sir ROBERT HORNE's proposal is a little too simple. He is generous, but it is never very hard to give away other people's property.

This plan for a cancellation of debts may throw some light on another matter on which Sir ROBERT evidently places great hope for the reconstruction of Europe—the Anglo-Russian trade agreement which he and Mr. KRASSIN have apparently concluded at last, if we may accept Sir ROBERT's statement of two days ago. KRASSIN is going back to Moscow with an agreement which needs only the approval of his superiors. Sir ROBERT expresses hearty approval of this result, and adds that there is no need to extend credit to Russia, as she has a great supply of gold.

Sir ROBERT's views seem to have undergone a considerable change in the last two weeks. On Dec. 22 he told the House of Commons that "Russia had no commodities to trade with." To be sure, she had the gold, but British subjects who had money due them from the previous Government of Russia, or from Russian business houses taken over by the Bolsheviki, were bringing suit and attaching that gold. At that time Sir ROBERT declared that the Bolsheviki were asking for the abolition of this right of appeal to the courts, and that the British Government would not consent. It was the British contention that the Bolsheviki would have to admit their liability for these debts before any agreement could be concluded.

Have the Bolsheviki made this concession? There has been no report of it; the most recent news from London indicates that Russian gold is apparently to be immune from attachment. On some of that gold Rumania has a claim; all of it may be regarded as security for the billions of francs owed by the old Russian Government to the French. But perhaps Sir ROBERT's views on the forgiveness of debts are addressed to France and Rumania as much as to us. At any rate, he said in his speech of Dec. 22 that, if the Bolshevist Government were recognized, British subjects at least would be unable to attach the goods sent by the Bolsheviki to England. In that case there would have to be "entirely new considerations."

Herein lies one of the reasons why the Bolsheviki and their friends are so insistent on recognition. It would validate their claim to much property which at present, under British and American law, belongs to other people. We do not know yet that Mr. LLOYD GEORGE's Government is prepared to grant this recognition. The curious feature about this matter of recognition, however, is that it works both ways. The British have insisted that the Bolsheviki would have to stop anti-British propaganda in the Near East. That propaganda is enjoined by all the principles of Bolshevism, for the struggle for the great world revolution against all capitalist States must go on. If LLOYD GEORGE has won LENIN's promise to give up his propaganda, we can at last see the net result of these negotiations. The Bolsheviki will have recognized the British Empire as a de facto Government; but they can only keep their promises by throwing their whole theory overboard.

SELLING WITHOUT BUYING.

It was President MCKINLEY, himself something of a protectionist, who in the last speech he ever made warned his countrymen that they could not expect to sell in foreign trade unless they were ready to buy. But our latter-day devotees of a high tariff think that they have changed all that. They are preparing to keep out foreign goods, by means of protective duties, at the same time that they count upon flooding the markets of Europe and Canada and South America and the Orient with surplus American products. It is a pretty plan. Will it work?

Note that it proceeds on the assumption that foreign merchants and manufacturers can easily be imposed upon. Our complacent protectionists agree with Dr. JOHNSON that "foreigners are mostly fools." They are not expected to wake up to the schemes of our high tariffites until it is too late. But the fact appears to be that they are, on the contrary, exceedingly alert. They are already interesting themselves intensely in the proposed new fiscal policy of the United States.

The Onlooker of Toronto devotes a long article to the subject in the December issue. Taking careful note of what Republican Senators at Washington are saying, and recalling the tariff position taken by Mr. HARDING in his campaign speeches, it predicts troublous times for the American-Canadian trade. The high-tariff plan is to "erect a Chinese wall" against foreign goods, yet somehow to pass its own articles of commerce through or over or under that wall to other countries. But forewarned is forearmed, declares The Onlooker. Canada can play the protectionist game, if it comes to that. She has now a vigorous, aggressive Prime Minister who will favor meeting tariff schedules by counter-schedules, and who will not consent to see Canadian industries "slaughtered to make a fiscal holiday for the United States." Moreover, those American exporters who think that they can throw their surplus at any price upon the Canadian market may find out that Canada has a stringent anti-dumping law. "Let the United States lower "its tariff and we will meet it; but "the only answer to a Chinese wall "is to block the sally-ports."

A similar inclination to resent American high duties is seen in Argentina. Secretary COLBY was politely asked about the plan when in Buenos Aires. It is reported from Marion that Argentine representations have been unofficially conveyed to Mr. HARDING. He is both surprised and grieved to discover that Argentina doesn't fancy having her wool and hides heavily taxed by the United States. Such unreasonableness was never dreamed of in the protectionist philosophy in which Senator HARDING was bred. One of his cherished hopes has been to build up a great American trade in the republics to the south of us. And now he is told that a high tariff on their goods will make that impossible. How vexing!

Protectionist antics at Washington give the impression of untrained men fooling with a delicate and complicated piece of machinery. They do not appear in the least to understand the mighty economic changes wrought in this country by the war. The United States is now in a position to attain primacy in the commerce of the world. Every tide that beats upon our shores would bring us wealth if we would but let it. But the tariff Bourbons would bring us animosity where we might have good customers, and would force us into a now impossible isolation when we might be reaching out to the ends of the earth.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES.

A Pleader for War Is Applauded.

A truly disquieting phenomenon is it that Madison Square Garden was filled Thursday evening with people who applauded vehemently while one HARRY BOLAND made to them what amounted to a passionate exhortation that they start in this country the same sort of warfare that other men who talk less and do more than he now are carrying on in Ireland.

This man BOLAND came to the United States some months ago, in defiance and violation of its laws. Why he was allowed to remain, instead of having been sent away as are others who arrive here in the same way, is a question the answer to which is so obvious that to ask it would be a waste of time. Ever since he has been here he has endeavored, to the extent of his ability, to embitter the relations between this country and Great Britain, and the desire dearest to his heart—a desire not explicitly avowed, but deducible from all he says—is to bring about the taking by the United States of action that easily might, and not improbably would, involve us in war with the other branch of the English-speaking race.

And it was for doing just this, more openly and more passionately than he had ventured publicly to do before, that BOLAND was cheered with frenzied enthusiasm by thousands and thousands of men and women the great majority of whom, at least technically and theoretically, are citizens of the United States!

Savage indeed were the denunciations directed at—and deserved by—certain Americans who, during the war, talked and acted as if they were Germans. Wherein did they differ from, and how were they better than, Americans who allow an alien to assume that they are the revolted subjects of a nation with which the United States is on terms of close and cordial amity?

Sincerity Put in Question.

As Congress passed the Volstead law to enforce the Eighteenth Amendment, and did it by a huge majority, it assumed the obligation to make practicable both the law and the amendment. This it has not done, according to all the responsible heads of the enforcement service. It has not provided them with either the money or the men required for performing effectively the task imposed upon them, and the consequence has been persistent defiance of the law, conducted on an enormous scale.

Lack of money and men does not quite explain, to be sure, why corruption has invaded the offices of the law's highest executives, nor how it was that for month after month forged permits for the removal of intoxicants from bond went out of those offices by the hundreds and were not discovered until the antagonists of prohibition had plausible excuse for ridiculing its ineffectuality. Was no system of checks to prevent that, or more promptly to discover it, within the domain of possibility?

But whatever the answer to that question, the responsibility of Congress remains, and it has exposed itself to the suspicion that it did not intend to allow the enforcement of the law it passed.

Between Pittsburgh and Columbus.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Last week your paper referred to the million dollar hotel recently opened in our city. Genial Irvin Cobb once made us a national subject of his biting humor. "Irv" should have been here on our opening night. His heart would have taken on new youth and his spacious form a few pounds. Billy Sunday once made our town dry. It cost us $20,000, but Bill never was a piker when his cause was at stake. Had Irvin Cobb been here the night we opened, he might have humorously opined that Billy owed a little restitution.

Like any Christian community, we "opened with prayer." Scarcely had the eloquent, if verbose and lachrymosal, invocation been orated to the special providence which safeguards newly opened hotels than the "spirit" began its operation.

Staid old business men whose names have adorned every dry petition circulated in these parts, "Castle-clipped" young bankers, semi-ossified deacons, grand dames and knee-length-skirted maidens dashed madly from the ample rotunda. The "American spirit" manifested itself 100 per cent. proof. Private rooms, to which was conveyed by express, or parcel post, or special delivery, or hand baggage the American joy water, were the founts in which the devotees of dedication were immersed in the baptism of the first hotel between Pittsburgh and Columbus.

Opening night made us a little devilish. For the nonce we forgot prohibition. The excitement has passed. We are again settled down to our provincial ways. Bob Jones, the great Southern evangelist, is soon to visit us. What with cottage prayer meetings and sounding the sinner to repentance our time will be fully occupied.

Perhaps if Cobb condescends to visit us after our revival we may repeat our opening night. We wish him to know that we are truly human. Is he thirsty? Then shall the tortures he endures be assuaged. He, our guest, shall know that not by bread alone doth a town live, but by every criticism which proceedeth from the mouth of a semi-dry humorist.

Opposition to Compulsory Training.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

May I be permitted to take exception to the statement of a correspondent in your issue of Jan. 7, who asserts that the enemies of compulsory military training "are those who oppose every law, not because of any personal interest, but because it seems to be the fashion to do so nowadays." Even disregarding the implication that "personal interest" should govern our point of view toward public matters, it appears to me that such a position is flagrantly undemocratic and radically un-American. For is it not the position of those in all ages who have sought to suppress liberty and stifle free speech? Is it not the attitude of the German junkers, who brought more than one Liebknecht to his grave for not applauding the ravage of Belgium? Perhaps it is human to imagine that those who oppose us must be acting willfully and maliciously, but when such intolerance seeps into the public consciousness the time is ripe for the dirge of democracy.

It is a truth so elementary as to need no explanation that we can hope to have wise laws only so long as all are permitted to criticise in a spirit of fair play; yet your correspondents seeks to forbid such fair play by assuming that it is impossible. Laws, being humanly made, are of necessity not infallible. The correspondent, however, evidently imagines that they are inevitably flawless, and that to oppose any legislation is treason. Such an attitude may be naïve, but it is none the less dangerous; and if spread broadcast it would constitute a grave menace to American freedom and democracy.

Inauguration Expenses.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Senator Borah's grave fears as to the high cost of inaugurations may be good politics, although it seems a trifle unkind to try to skimp his fellow-Republicans' crowded hour. The real question, however, is not what is due to the exigencies of politics or the vanity of man, but to the dignity of the nation. The greatest political ceremony of this country should not be cheapened or made less impressive for the want of a few thousand dollars. Economy is the watchword of the hour and rightly so, but parsimony is poor economy.

IMMIGRANT ENDOWMENT.

An Interesting Experiment Promised in Kansas.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Frederick A. Wallis, Commissioner of Immigration at Ellis Island, spoke wisely the other day in Washington when he appeared before the Senate Committee on Immigration, to the effect that immigrants should "be allocated in accordance with the labor and industrial needs of the various sections of the country, and in accordance with the willingness and the ability of the immigrant to meet those needs."

In the same connection Mr. Caminetti has recently suggested that the various States should make an effort at the immigrant stations to induce immigrants to become residents within their borders as the only solution possible for proper distribution without Federal legislation. This is also very good, but it is indefinite. The State should have some program of settlement and employment. It would be no kindness to bring large numbers of foreigners into agricultural regions, even though they had come from the soil, unless some provision had been made for them.

Coincident with this immigrant situation is the agricultural situation in many of the Western States, where there is a shortage of farm labor and a steady growth of land tenantry. The evils of land tenantry are well known.

Governor Allen of Kansas is seeking to establish State aid which can be used to help people who have an ambition to go upon the soil and acquire their own farms. He has proposed to the Legislature a plan similar to that which is in successful operation in California. He would establish through the credit of the State an agricultural community unit of 6,000 or 7,000 acres of good farming land which would be divided into small farms to accommodate at least 100 families. The State would require a low rate of interest, provide for the amortizing of farm payments, and so make possible the actual ownership of farms in a comparatively brief term of years. Co-operative farm operation, buying and selling as well as scientific direction, would be secured through the services of an expert superintendent.

Should Governor Allen's bill pass the Legislature, which is likely, the way will then be opened for an extension of the plan to include immigrants.

In the nature of the case, however, an immigrant movement of this kind would have to be subsidized. The ruinous effects of the war, together with its aftermath of loss through the difference in exchange, would make it more difficult than formerly for an immigrant family to raise money for passage, for farm implements, team and a small emergency fund even though credit were provided to purchase his farm. Moreover, the natural beneficiaries of this legislation at least during the experimentation stage with the first units would be American citizens.

This situation will therefore create a new field for philanthropic investment: The Immigrant Foundation. A million dollars would buy land for 200 families and provide funds with which to make a start. The law of Kansas could be made to include the supervision of a fund of this sort with the identical machinery the State would employ in its own plan. The investment would be in the nature of a revolving fund.

Governor Allen, discussing this suggestion with the writer, expressed the deepest interest in its practicability so far as the co-operation of the State of Kansas was concerned.

If there are individuals or funds committed to the welfare of the immigrant, it would be well for those interested to watch developments in Kansas. A valuable opportunity is likely to be presented to unite a sensible and generous provision for the new citizens of our land with a great service to the nation in promoting the continuity of its food supply.

The Oldest Thing in New York.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

It may be possible that your correspondent is correct in stating that the "weathercock" now owned by the Saint Nicholas Society that dates from 1642 is the oldest thing in the city, but it has always been supposed that its mate, the golden vane on the steeple of the church at the corner of Twenty-ninth Street and Fifth Avenue, had the honor of being the oldest inhabitant, as it was inherited from the Santa Claus Church, a small building inside Fort Amsterdam that was built by order of the States General in 1615 and rebuilt in 1635. Jonas Michaelmeus, who emigrated in 1628, organized the Collegiate Church in the fort, and it was said that the people of Amsterdam sent to the New World a golden cock and a bell for the use of their namesakes in Nieuw Amsterdam.

In 1633-1635 Francois Molemacher built a horse mill on the East River to accommodate a congregation from the fort, and the Spanish bells that had been captured at Porto Rico in 1625 were ordered hung there, and these bells are supposed to be now in a church near Passaic, N. J. A sketch of the fort, the hospital and Dr. Kierstead's house is in the writer's possession which shows the horse mill on the hill, the etchings of which are prized by collectors, and the date is about 1666.

Police Inquiry for Taxicabs.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Will you allow me to urge upon the City Government that, in order to check taxicab banditry, every taxi driver, all of whom are licensed, should be called to Police Headquarters, have his recent record investigated, and then have the cab or himself display a badge that would show the public that they have a chance of using the vehicle without being robbed or murdered. The Police Department should insist on a plan of the sort which would help find criminals and materially lessen the possibility of crime.

WILLOW TREES.

The willows have
A golden way
Of shining on
A cloudy day.

There is a secret
They all know,
Keeps them smiling
In the snow.

I have met people
On the street
Within whose eyes
A still and sweet

Secret of sorrow
Seemed to wait
Like some strong watcher
At a gate.

Aware of danger,
But without Any restless
Fear or doubt.

I always tell
Myself that these People are Like willow trees,

Dressed for happy
Times, although Standing in
The wind and snow.

LOUISE DRISCOLL.

AGAIN ATTACKS EXTRA FARE.

Decision Reserved on O'Brien's Plea for Prolonged Brooklyn Stay.

Corporation Counsel John P. O'Brien asked the Appellate Division yesterday to continue the stay granted by Justice Alfred R. Page on Dec. 30, restraining the Brooklyn City Railroad Company from charging a second five-cent fare on the Flatbush Avenue line until a decision could be obtained from the Court of Appeals.

Mr. O'Brien said that when the city granted the company the right to extend its lines to Roebling Street and Fresh Pond Road it was with the understanding that only one fare should be charged upon any of the company's lines within the city limits. He stated that the effort of the company to charge two fares had served as a basis for an application by the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company for permission to charge a double fare on four of its surface lines.

Cullen and Dykman, for the company, submitted a statement that the Brooklyn City Company, after its separation from the B. R. T. Company, was compelled to buy 162 cars at a cost of about $1,147,927, and that the operation for the year had not resulted in enough income to pay operating costs, interest, taxes and the charges on the new cars.

Decision was reserved.

DEFEND MADISON INAUGURAL

Wisconsin Committee and Student Body Deny Any Impropriety.

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 7.—Newspaper stories that extravagance and impropriety marked the inaugural ceremonies of Jan. 3, when Governor Blaine and other State officers took office were condemned in resolutions adopted today by committees in charge of the inauguration.

The story sent out by a correspondent declared that the inauguration cost $10,000, that liquor was in evidence and that 1,000 university students "danced the way they pleased in obscure nooks of the State House while the few chaperones lounged in various State offices."

The resolution declared that the affair cost less than $1,000, that no liquor was in evidence and that the occasion was marked by the utmost good order.

The Union Board, a University of Wisconsin student organization, also passed a resolution branding as a "lie and absolutely without foundation the implication that 1,000 students conducted themselves in either an undignified or improper manner at the inaugural ball."

SAYS TRAINS BEAT AIR MAIL.

Representative Madden Contends New York-Chicago Fliers Lose Time.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The speediest method of transporting mail between New York and Chicago is by train, not by air, Chairman Madden of the Appropriations Sub-Committee asserted in the House today in explaining provisions of the Post Office Appropriation bill, carrying a total of $573,964,721.

The cost of airplane mail was at the rate of $5 a ton mile, compared with a rail rate of 7 cents a ton mile, Mr. Madden said, and if all mail were carried by air the cost would be $10,000,000,000 a year, with actual receipts around $450,000,000. There was no time saving by air in the New York-Chicago service, he added.

"A letter for this service must be placed in the Post Office at Chicago not later than 3:45 P. M.," he said. "Some time between that hour and midnight it goes to the flying field, eleven miles distant, leaves the next morning at 7 o'clock, and by good luck reaches New York at 6 P. M. It goes out on delivery the following morning. So about forty-eight hours elapses between posting and delivery. The time limit on fast mail train delivery is twenty-four hours, just one-half."

FRENCH ADOPT PERSHING.

Strasbourg Makes Him an Honorary Citizen for His War Services.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—General Pershing has just been notified that the City of Strasbourg has conferred upon him the title of honorary citizen in recognition of the part played by him and the American Expeditionary Force in restoring that city to France.

A copy of the certificate sent to General Pershing was given out today at the War Department, signed by Mayor Painte of Strasbourg, saying that he was named "honorary citizen of Strasbourg as a testimonial of admiration and recognition of the priceless co-operation rendered in the liberation of the peoples of the world, and in particular those of Alsace and Lorraine," while in command of the American Army which fought with the French Army during the war.

WENDELL FOR ECONOMY.

Controller Considering Abolishing of New York Office.

Following Governor Miller's plan for economy, Controller James A. Wendell may abolish the New York office of his department in the Woolworth Building. Controller Wendell, who took charge of his New York office yesterday, said he was in accord with the Governor's program.

"I will not even consider a Deputy Controller for this city," he said. "If the Governor's program goes through, the State Controller will have no need for a New York office. I do not see the need of making an appointment merely for the sake of filling a place that may not be permanent."

ASK BOYCOTT ON SPAIN.

Syndicalists Request I. W. W. to Join World Labor Revolutionaries.

BARCELONA, Spain, Jan. 7.—All revolutionary organizations of the world are requested to start on Jan. 15 a complete boycott of Spanish products and to refuse to load and unload Spanish merchandise or work with materials coming from Spain, in a manifesto issued by the Syndicalist General Confederation of Labor.

Among the organizations to which the manifesto has been sent are the Industrial Workers of the World, New York; the General Workers' Federation, Buenos Aires, and Russian, German, Portuguese, Dutch, French, Italian and English societies.

CARDINAL STILL GAINING.

May Soon Be Allowed to Sit Up in Bed—Message From Bryan.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 7.—Cardinal Gibbons maintains the improvement which set in this week and he may be allowed to sit up in bed next Sunday if there is no setback, it was stated at the archiepiscopal residence this morning. His physicians note a decided change for the better, it was added.

Messages of sympathy and good wishes arrive daily at the Cardinal's residence. Two came from Ireland yesterday and a card was received from William J. Bryan at Miami, Fla.

POE'S TALES SELLS FOR $137

Volume Printed by Benjamin Franklin Brings $105 at Sale of Books.

Books belonging to Emerson Chamberlin and other consignors, brought $8,842 at the Anderson Galleries yesterday.

James F. Drake paid $137 for the rare first edition of Edgar Allan Poe's "Tales of the Grotesque and Arabesque." He also gave $82.50 for Washington Irving's "History of New York," published in 1809. Lathrop C. Harper obtained for $105 "Cicero's Cato Major," printed by Benjamin Franklin in Philadelphia in 1744.

ITS MYTHOLOGICAL SCENES

Life-Sized Figure in Chinese Pottery of One of 16 Lohans, Dating 618-906 A. D., Also on View.

A great treasure of Italian art was placed on exhibition at the Metropolitan Museum of Art yesterday in a wonderful old ceiling by the Italian artist Pinturicchio, noted for the action of his subjects and the brilliancy of his color, painted by order of the Pandolfo Petrucci, Lord of Sienna, for the hall of his palace, the Palazzo del Magnifico. The ceiling was completed in 1509 and was supposed to have been lost, having been covered by a later ceiling put in about a hundred years ago.

The ceiling was purchased by the Museum in Paris early in 1914, and has only now been placed. With the usual care of the Museum in giving an appropriate setting for its treasures, the ceiling has been put in place in the end of Gallery 32 (the Gold Room), which has been given the dimensions and approximate arrangement of arches and windows of the hall from which it came. Moldings and ornaments cast from the original "stucchi" have been inserted around the paintings. The ceiling is in a series of twenty-two panels, which are important examples of Renaissance decoration. The panels are of different shapes and with mythological scenes, among them an interesting one, the "Judgment of Paris."

Petrucci, for whom the work was done, was one of the unscrupulous despots of his day, an adroit politician, hesitating at nothing to obtain his ends, putting to death his own father-in-law, and only by accident himself escaping the death prepared for him by Caesar Borgia, to whose party he for a time belonged.

Bryson Burroughs, Curator of Paintings of the Museum, commenting upon the days of Petrucci, says:

"His century was not overnice in its estimation of moral qualities, but we must acknowledge among its other good points that it knew how to produce most delightful ceilings."

Another treasure of great interest placed on exhibition at the Museum, in the department of the Far East, is a more than life-sized figure of one of the sixteen Lohans or disciples of Buddha, in Chinese pottery, dating back to 618-906 A. D. Ten of the porcelain figures of the Lohans are known to be in existence in different museums in this country, England and Canada and in the hands of private collectors or dealers. They came from caves in the mountain near Ichou, southwest of Peking, where they were visited by pilgrims. The Museum Lohan is one of five of the ten known which has its original head. This had been broken, but was repaired by solid metal rivets used in the Ming period to reclaim porcelains. The Museum figure is in exceptionally good condition.

It is the figure of a youngish man with a strong, earnest face. The chest and right shoulder are bare and he wears over a dark green robe an orange-yellow priest's robe, made in the [illegible] or patches worn by the priests because of their vows of poverty. The robe is lined with yellow and has a brocade border of yellow, white and green. The figure is made of a coarse, gritty clay with an outer coating of fine white clay, and built upon a framework of iron which did not disappear when the pottery was baked, though it has now rusted away in places.

A KIYOMASU BRINGS $190.

Leads Sale of 221 Japanese Prints at Anderson's, Yielding $4,354.

An interesting sale of Japanese prints sent directly from the Far East, at the Anderson Galleries last evening, brought together many buyers and returns of $4,354 for 221 numbers.

A charming Kiyomasu, "Youth Leading a Pet Dog," brought the highest price, going to J. V. Wheeler for $190. It was a lacquer print in a fine state of preservation, the left third of a triptych. It showed the actor Segawa Kikunojo II. in the rôle of the youth Sofu promenading along the side of a stream under a blossoming plum tree. The robes were in a design of Chinese lilies, the upper part of the coat lacquered in brilliant black and other colors, yellow and [illegible], put in by hand. It had much distinction.

H. E. Bauer paid $160 for a fine set of eight prints, the Lake Biwa series of Hiroshige. To Bauer went, for $62.50, a large print, "Ferry Boat in Matsuchi," the work of a later artist, Kiyochika, whose first work appeared in 1876. Two triptychs by Hiroshige, "Kiso Gorge in Snow" and "Moonlight View of the Eight Famous Scenes in Kanazawa," both magnificent impressions in perfect condition, went to Bauer for respectively $105 and $100. A quintych, "Pleasure Boats on Sumida River," by Yeishi, he purchased for $125. "Ronin in Black Robe," by Toyokuni, went to Dr. Arthur B. Duel for $60; for Kionaga's "Musme with Two Women," Dr. Duel paid $90, and "The Promenade in the Rain," by Toyonobu, went to him for the same price. An interesting triptych, one of the most noted of the collaborated work of Hiroshige and Toyokuni, "Elegant and Luxurious Genji in a Snowy Land," was bought by H. Morgenthau Jr., for $82.50.

CLAIRE-DE-LUNE JARS, $600.

Pair Brings Top Price at Art House Sale, Which Reaches $49,341.

Claire-de-lune jars, a pair, 10½ inches high, of a delicate lilac gray tone, brought the highest price at the Art House sale of porcelains at the American Art Galleries, going to Miss R. H. Lorenz, agent, for $600. A dark olive gallipot, Ch'ien-lung went to H. J. Higgs for $165, and the same buyer paid $220 for a K'ang-hsi sang de boeuf oviform jar, 6¾ inches high.

A Ch'ien-lung camellia-leaf jar, ovoid, with flat foot and metal-capped rim, [illegible] inches, was bought by Rubin for [illegible]; a Yung Cheng ovoid celadon jar, [illegible] inches high, went to C. James for [illegible], and a 13¾-inch peacock blue gallipot, Yung Cheng, with close, bold crackle, was bought for $340 by Mrs. Horace, who paid $300 for a robin's-egg soufflé gallipot, 12 inches high, with a dull, silvery lustre.

A tall powder blue beaker, 31½ inches high, K'ang-hsi, was bought by R. Moore for $390, and to L. H. Latham went an inverted bell shape lapis blue jardinière, the lip surface white, 14½ inches tall and with a high teakwood stand, for $200. A second jardinière, of powder blue, 17 inches high, a simple ovoid shape on a lower teakwood stand, went to the same buyer for $160. Both were of the K'ang-hsi period.

The returns for the day were $10,112, making a grand total to date of $49,341. Single color and decorated porcelains will go in the closing sale today.

ANCIENT VENUS UNEARTHED.

Wonderfully Sculptured Head Found in a Temple of Cyrenaica.

ROME, Jan. 7.—The Stefani Agency quotes press dispatches from Northern Africa as saying that Government employes have discovered in the ruins of a temple in old Cyrenaica a wonderfully sculptured head which experts believe to be that of the Venus of Cyrene.

The ancient Cyrenaica is now included in Italy's North African possession. The city of Cyrene, lying ten miles from the Mediterranean, was founded about the year 631 B. C., and was a seat of Greek learning and culture. The modern Grenna, on its site, contains many antiquities.

FUND FOR NEEDIEST ONLY $3,111 SHORT

Day's Contributions Bring Grand Total for 200 Cases Up to $106,744.81.

CLOSE TO LAST YEAR'S MARK

But Mounting Costs Have Made the Needs Greater Than in Previous Seasons.

BENEFITS WIDELY EXTENDED

Every Family Relieved by Times Readers Gives Charities Chance to Help Another Worthy Case.

With contributions of $806.75, the fund for the Neediest Cases reached yesterday $106,744.81, which is only $222.33 less than the entire response to the appeal for the Neediest Cases a year ago.

The total of $106,967.14 a year ago, during one of the most prosperous periods in the history of the country, was larger than that of any previous year. Today's contributions, however, are almost sure to put the present fund ahead of that of last year, indicating strongly the generosity of the public toward the Neediest Cases, even in a time of deflation and uncertainty.

For the last four years contributions have been sufficient to provide fully for at least 200 cases. Mounting costs have made the needs of cases greater year by year. The present needs are slightly greater than those of a year ago, and $3,111.39 still is needed to make full provision for 200 cases.

The 200 families are in reality only a few of those benefited. They are saved from separation, are cared for in sickness, sheltered, fed and clothed for a year. The children, and sometimes the mothers, are trained to increase the earning capacity of the family. Hundreds of other families benefit indirectly. The charitable organizations are able to care better for the other families. The reconstruction of families, which is the main work in the Neediest Cases, usually makes these families self-supporting within a short time. Every time a dependent family becomes self-supporting it becomes possible to do more for other families.

Sends Third Contribution.

One of the contributions which pushed the total forward yesterday to within $212.33 of last year's amount was the third contribution from the same person. Second contributions have come by scores. Some second contributions have come from out-of-town friends of the Neediest Cases. One gift of $20 was accompanied by the following letter:

Erie, Pa.

To THE NEW YORK TIMES—This is my second check to you. Please place it in whatever family you deem it is most needed, and do not trouble to send me a receipt. Very truly yours,

F. A. WALSH.

One of the touching gifts to the Neediest Cases yesterday was a $10 check accompanied by a letter which said:

"I have recently lost a brother. He left word that no flowers should be sent to his funeral, but that the money should be sent to the poor and suffering. In accordance with his desire, I enclose check for $10, 'In memory of Arthur C. Levi,' but my name must not be mentioned."

A letter signed "Grandma" said:

"I have tried to think I had given all I could afford this year, but as I take up THE TIMES each morning it always seems to open at their page."

Gifts Grow in Number.

Yesterday's contributions were larger than those of the two preceding days, and the number of contributors showed that there was still life and power in the appeal for the Neediest Cases, which is barely $3,000 short of its goal and almost abreast of last year's total. With sympathy and interest still vigorous, it became virtually a certainty that, in spite of adverse circumstances, the goal of complete provision for 200 cases would be reached.

In many ways the appeal for the Neediest Cases has been a far greater success this year than at any other time. The number of contributions probably has been nearly double the average for several years previous. There have been fewer large contributions, and the average size has been lower, causing the total to grow more slowly. The net result has been that the appeal for the Neediest Cases has held its own at a period when many projected "drives" were being abandoned because of the bleak and unpropitious outlook.

The following is one of the few remaining cases and one typical of the 200 others, more than 190 of which have been fully provided for:

CASE 198.

Children Need Clothing.

Last year the K. family had a happy Christmas together, but this year the three little children had no father to play Santa Claus, as John K. died in February of pneumonia. There was a little money left after paying debts and funeral expenses, but this has now been entirely spent. If the children are to remain with their good mother she must be assured of help through the coming year. Mrs. K. earns $6 a week by doing day work, and this is all she should undertake beyond the care of her household. The children are attractive and are doing well in school. They are all in need of warm clothing.

Case reported by the Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor, 105 East Twenty-second Street. (Telephone Gramercy 7040.)

The following are from letters accompanying contributions:

Anonymous—"Enclosed please find my check for $25 for the Hundred Neediest Cases. I would have sent it sooner, only I had a balance of $9 in the bank and it would not have been good. Now it is."

M. H. B., Litchfield, Conn.—"I cannot resist sending you another small check for this very worthy charity you have done so much to help."

A Mother, Arlington, Mass.—"Kindly accept the small gift enclosed for Case 185, as I remember it, a young girl who might be saved from mental trouble. I am a Massachusetts woman and expected that you would soon have all the money you needed. Perhaps you now have the sum."

Flora Knapp Dickinson—"Your work and interest in the Hundred Neediest Cases are admirable."

For "Whistling Mike's" Family.

Kingsley School, Essex Ells, N. J.—"I am enclosing $50 contributed to 'Whistling Mike's' family needs. Will you kindly acknowledge as from the boys of Kingsley School."

No agents are employed by THE NEW YORK TIMES or any of the charitable organizations to solicit contributions for the Hundred Neediest Cases.

No aid is being received by any of the families in the Hundred Neediest Cases under the State Pension law.

Contributions are deductible from income tax returns.

Every cent goes to buy food, clothing and other necessaries, no administrative or clerical expenses being paid from the contributions.

Checks may be drawn to the order of the Hundred Neediest Cases and sent to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BIG GIFTS FOR CHILDREN ANNOUNCED BY HOOVER

Nine Total $62,700—Near East Relief Helped a Million Last Year.

Several large gifts to the European relief fund for 3,500,000 children were announced yesterday by Herbert Hoover. They were: Mrs. E. H. Harriman, $15,000; Mrs. Alice G. Vanderbilt, $10,000; Cleveland H. Dodge, $10,000; Frederick W. Vanderbilt $10,000; Percy H. Pyne, $5,000; James W. Ellsworth, $5,000; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sachs, $2,350; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Sachs, $2,350; W. W. Brody, $2,000, and Mrs. Childs Frick, $1,000.

The wholesale umbrella dealers have promised to contribute $10 for each umbrella sold in the city in the week beginning Jan. 17, and Arthur Brentano of the Book Trades Committee has pledged $10,000. Mr. Hoover addressed students at Barnard College yesterday and they volunteered to raise $5,000 for the college fund of $1,000,000 now being collected throughout the country. A meeting of club women was held in the Engineering Societies Building yesterday to consider how those organizations could help to raise the quota of $3,500,000 for this city.

Cleveland H. Dodge, Treasurer of the Near East Relief Committee, reported yesterday at the annual meeting of the trustees at the Yale Club that receipts for the last year amounted to $14,697,379 and that distributions of flour made available by Herbert Hoover and the American Relief Administration made the total relief operations for the year nearly $30,000,000.

Charles V. Vickrey, the General Secretary, who recently returned from the Near East, reported that more than 1,000,000 refugee women and children have received assistance during the last year. There are 270 American relief workers in the field, he said, exclusive of approximately the same number of Americans engaged in educational work, who are voluntarily co-operating in relief activities.

"While it is the purpose of the committee to confine its work as largely as possible to those children who have lost both fathers and mothers and for whom no relatives can be found," said Mr. Vickrey, "it is still necessary to provide emergency relief for helpless refugees who have again been turned out of their temporary homes by war. These people will inevitably perish if left without assistance during the Winter."

HOWARD ESTATE $621,586.

Bulk of Modiste's Property Goes Toward Needlewomen's Home.

The estate of Mrs. Margaret A. Howard, retired modiste, who left the bulk of her estate to establish a home for indigent needlewomen more than 60 years old, was appraised yesterday at $621,586 net. The estate consisted chiefly of mortgages valued at $453,068 and stocks worth $178,314.

Mrs. Howard gave $50,570 to Delia M. Leonard, friend and business associate, and a life interest in $30,000 to Howard Percy B. White. Catholic organizations get $60,000, and the residue of $427,035 is left to the Margaret A. Howard Home. Mrs. Howard, who conducted White, Howard & Co., died Aug. 27, 1919.

ENRICO CARUSO DOING WELL.

Physicians Report Him "Progressing Favorably," With Lower Fever.

Enrico Caruso, ill in his apartment at the Hotel Vanderbilt with pleurisy, is progressing favorably, the physicians attending him reported yesterday. Their bulletin follows:

"Mr. Caruso is progressing in a favorable manner. His fever is lower and he is very comfortable."

ITALIAN PRINCESS TO WED BAVARIAN

Maria Bona, Cousin of King Victor, Married Today to Prince Conrad.

BRIDEGROOM INVADED ITALY

Hohenzollern Prince, Probably Oscar, a Guest—First Enemy Royal Alliance Since the War.

Copyright, 1921, by The Chicago Tribune Co.

MILAN, Jan. 7.—Agliè, a small village in the Turin district, is crowded with Italian and foreign Princes for the marriage tomorrow of Princess Maria Bona, daughter of the Duke of Genoa, and Prince Conrad of Bavaria.

King Victor, Queen Helena, Prince Humbert and all the Princesses are due to arrive today. Among those already at the castle are Archduke Joseph of Austria, one son of the ex-Kaiser who traveled throughout Italy as Count Jasabra, the Duke of Aosta, the Count of Turin, Duke Filiberto of Savoy and Prince Leopold and Princess Gizela of Bavaria, the parents of the bridegroom.

The marriage ceremony will be performed by Cardinal Richelmy. The wedding will take place in the famous castle of Agliè. The people in this small, pretty village are organizing a popular demonstration in honor of the Princess—a cousin of the King—who was born here.

The wedding today of Princess Maria Bona and Prince Conrad of Bavaria is the first marriage of enemy royalties since the war began and ended. Moreover, it is a notable gathering of representatives of the Italian house of Savoy, of Bavaria, and of the Hapsburgs.

In the past there have been several similar matrimonial alliances between Italy's royal house and Bavaria. In fact, the mother of the bride was Princess Isabella of Bavaria, married in 1863 to Prince Tommaso of Savoy, who succeeded his father as Duke of Genoa in 1882. This father was a brother of King Victor Emmanuel II. The present Duke of Genoa has been head of the Italian Navy and holds several commissions in that arm as well as in the army.

Princess Maria Bona is the third of six children, the others being Princes Ferdinand, Filiberto, Adalberto and Eugenio, and the Princess Maria Adelaide.

The bridegroom, Prince Conrad, is the fourth child of Prince Leopold, brother of Ludwig III., the last King of Bavaria, and the Austrian Archduchess, Princess Gisela. He was born in Munich Nov. 22, 1883, and is known to have been a member of von Below's staff when the latter brought about the disaster of Caporetto in November, 1917.

The Castello d'Agliè, where Princess Bona was born, Aug. 1, 1890, is situated in the highlands and is a short carriage drive beyond Rivarolo, which is nineteen miles north of Turin. It dates from the eleventh century and was built by the French emigré family of Agliè and fortified against the periodic uprisings of the citizens of Turin. Later, the Italianized Count Filippo d'Agliè turned it into a magnificent palace, and gradually the village of Agliè, first the habitation of the retainers and servants of the castle, grew up near by. In 1775 it was acquired by the Duke of Chiamblese, who still further improved it after the designs of Count Borgaro. Later it became the property of King Carlo Felice. The father of Princess Bona bought the place just before his marriage and passed his honeymoon there. His apartments are entirely isolated from the fortified part of the ancient castello and have their own private garden.

Cardinal Agostino Richelmy, who will perform the wedding ceremony today, was made Cardinal in 1899. He is Archbishop of Turin.

Archduke Joseph, whom many Magyars want to see King of Hungary, is the third son of the late Archduke Joseph, brother of the late Emperor Francis Joseph, and was born in 1872. He is highly educated, being doctor of laws and of science and a professor at the Budapest University. His presence at the wedding is accounted for from the fact that his wife is Princess Augustine of Bavaria. Their eldest son, Archduke Joseph Francis, was born in 1895. There are also another son, Ladislas, and a daughter, Sophie.

The mysterious son of the former German Kaiser, who is traveling throughout Italy incognito as Count Jasabra, is probably Prince Oscar, the fifth son of Germany's one-time War Lord, who some years ago married morganatically the Countess Ina Marie of Bassewitz, as his surviving brothers and his only sister can otherwise be accounted for. Besides, Prince Oscar is a dilettante who paid very little attention to the war.

DERIDES PHILIPPINE JUDGES.

Quezon Says Decisions of Johnson and Malcolm Destroyed His Faith.

MANILA, Jan. 7.—American members of the Supreme Court of the Philippines were targets of an attack here today in a speech in the Philippine Senate by Manuel L. Quezon, its President.

Señor Quezon was supporting amendments to the Judiciary bill, empowering the Governor-General and the Senate to transfer judges from one district to another when the good of the service required such changes.

"Let me say here that I have no faith in the Supreme Court as constituted at present," Señor Quezon declared. "How can we have faith in Justices like E. Finley Johnson and George A. Malcolm, who in one Administration held that the Governor-General has the right to expel aliens and in another Administration hold an exactly contrary opinion?"

The bill passed the Senate and goes before the House for disposal.

HELD AS A GEM SMUGGLER.

Police Say Italian Brought $25,000 Here in a Lunch Basket.

Nunzio Sossi, 45 years old, who said he formerly was a banker in Naples, Italy, was locked up in Police Headquarters last night on a charge of smuggling into this country $25,000 worth of jewelry on Dec. 17 last. Detectives Festa, Dardan and Threzzi of the Italian squad arrested Sossi in his apartment, at 132 Thompson Street.

The detectives declared they found the jewelry, which was alleged to have been brought into this country in a lunch basket, in a bureau in his home. The jewelry consisted of a pair of diamond earrings, each containing thirteen stones; a diamond brooch, containing a like number of stones, and a woman's ring, containing nine diamonds. Sossi denied he smuggled the jewels into this country.

COL. WATTERSON IS BETTER.

Cold From Which He Has Suffered Is Not Serious, His Wife Says.

Special to The New York Times.

GALVESTON, Jan. 7.—Many inquiries received here as to the health of Colonel Henry Watterson indicate that the seriousness of the cold from which he is suffering has been greatly exaggerated. Mrs. Watterson said tonight that his condition, which at no time had been critical, was greatly improved, and that he had been attended by a physician only twice since his arrival from New Orleans ten days ago.

The Bachelors Give Supper Dance.

The Bachelors entertained with a supper dance last night at the Vanderbilt, which was largely attended. It was announced that another series of five dances will begin on Jan. 14, the entire proceeds to go to home charities. More than $72,000 has already been distributed by the Bachelors.

Philips, Howard Willets, William C. Reick, Howard Townsend, Benjamin R. Kittredge, Vernon C. Brown, Walter Trimble and Dr. Harriss.

The services were conducted by the Rev. William N. Guthrie. The coffin was covered by many floral offerings, including wreaths from the Police Department and the Police Club. The immediate members of the family who were present included Mr. Hoyt's mother, Mrs. A. M. Hoyt, his wife, his daughter, Mrs. Thomas H. Frothingham, sons, Alfred O. and Henry Reese Hoyt Jr., his sister, Miss Rosnia Sherman Hoyt, and brother, John Sherman Hoyt. Among the many close friends of Mr. Hoyt who attended the services were his law associate, Charles K. Carpenter, William H. Moore, and Rufus L. Patterson.

'DEVIL ANSE' HATFIELD DEAD

Noted Feudist of Hatfield-McCoy Mountain War Dies at 85.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Jan. 7.—Anderson Hatfield, long ago nicknamed "Devil Anse" for his exploits in the Hatfield-McCoy feud that brought violent deaths to so many members of both clans, died quietly in his bed last night of pneumonia at the family home at Island Creek, Logan County. The old mountaineer was in his 86th year.

The famous feud started in 1880 with the theft of some hogs by a McCoy, but did not become murderous until Ellison Hatfield was fatally wounded in a gun fight two years later. "Devil Anse" then captured three McCoys and kept them in the mountains until the wounded Hatfield died, when he and his followers shot all three prisoners.

The brutal burning of the McCoy home in 1888 and the killing of male and female McCoys as they fled from the flames has been laid to "Cap" Hatfield, eldest son of "Devil Anse." The latter, in 1911, after two of his other sons had been shot to death, announced his reformation, was baptized and joined the church.

OFFERS TROPHY FOR INTERNATIONAL GOLF

G. H. Walker Donates Cup for Annual Competition Among the Nations.

CHAMPIONSHIPS AWARDED

St. Louis Club Gets Amateur Event at Yearly Meeting of U. S. G. A.—Open Tourney to Chevy Chase.

WHERE 1921 NATIONAL GOLF TITLES WILL BE DECIDED

The courses for the three national golf championship tournaments for 1921 follow:

Amateur—St. Louis Country Club, Clayton, Mo.

Open—Columbia Country Club, Chevy Chase, Md.

Women's—Hollywood Golf Club, Deal, N. J.

The trend toward an international aspect in golfing competition, which reached hitherto unattained proportions during the year 1920, was given an important boost at the annual meeting of the United States Golf Association at the Waldorf Hotel last night. George H. Walker of St. Louis, retiring President of the association, was the medium for lending this additional impetus to a closer relationship in golf among the nations of the world when he offered, through the association, an international cup to be played for annually under conditions somewhat similar to those which govern play for the famous Davis Cup in tennis circles.

Mr. Walker's action came as something of a surprise generally to delegates to the meeting. When at the finish of other business he announced his intention to offer such an international trophy, his announcement was greeted with loud and enthusiastic applause.

In offering the trophy, the donor stipulated conditions under which play for it will be held. They are the following: Teams are to be composed of four men each with two alternates. One day will be devoted to play as foursomes, another to four-ball matches, while during four days individual matches will be played in which each member of one team will meet each of those of the opposing team.

First Matches in September.

The first series of matches are to take place on the National Links of America at Southampton, Long Island, in September of this year. As is the custom in tennis circles, all matches thereafter will be staged in the country holding the trophy at the time. However, the practice of playing elimination matches in other countries will not prevail. Instead, all elimination rounds will be held in the country in which the final test for the cup is held.

In contemplating the possibilities of the proposed competition it was pointed out that several countries may be expected to enter representatives. In addition to the United States, the British Isles, France and Canada, it is expected that Sweden, Italy, Norway, India, Spain, and possibly others, may send entries. One condition under which these must be made is that they bring the endorsement and approval of some recognized national golfing association. Wherever there is any dispute as to the ruling authority the matter of official recognition is to be left to the Executive Committee of the U. S. G. A.

Although the donation of the cup by Mr. Walker was rather unexpected, the idea of an international circuit, so to speak, such as exists in tennis, has been discussed rather widely during the last year. This plan will obviate one of the most serious drawbacks against international clashes among the amateurs on an extensive basis. That has been the matter of expense attached to making ocean voyages. Presumably, under the conditions of play for the new trophy, it will be entirely proper for the U. S. G. A. to bear the expenses of the team, since the members go as official representatives of the association.

Championship Tourneys Awarded.

In addition to donation of this international cup, last night's meeting netted several other interesting developments. For one thing the action of the meeting overrode to some extent the decisions of the numerous experts who have been busy for the last few weeks making unofficial selections of courses for the holding of the three national tournaments of the year. In the case of the amateur and women's championships advance selections held good. The St. Louis Country Club, which was favored to receive the amateur event, was awarded that event. Also the Hollywood Golf Club of Deal, N. J., was given the women's championship as had been expected.

However, in the case of the open title meet, the dopesters struck a snag. It had been rumored that the plans were all laid to hand that attraction to the Siwanoy Country Club of Mount Vernon. But rather spirited opposition was incurred, and a poll of the house showed a selection of the Columbia Country Club of Chevy Chase, Md., by a margin of nine votes, the winning club getting forty-nine votes against forty for Siwanoy, while the Lido Golf Club was the preference of nine other delegates.

Prior to taking up the matter of naming courses for these three events, the annual election of officers was held. It resulted in the selection of the slate named by the Nominating Committee a few weeks since, as follows: President—Howard F. Whitney, Nassau Country Club; Vice President—J. F. Byers, Allegheny Country Club, and Robert A. Gardner, Hinsdale Golf Club; Secretary—Wyant D. Vanderpool, Morris County Golf Club; Treasurer—Mortimer N. Buckner, Garden City Golf Club. The following were named as additional members of the Executive Committee: Albert D. Locke, Brae Burn Country Club; Nelson M. Whitney, Audubon Country Club; Hugh I. Wilson, Merion Cricket Club, and James D. Standish, Lochmoor Club.

Another Change in Rules.

The report of the Executive Committee embodying the changes in rules as proposed following the conference between the U. S. G. A. committee and Royal and Ancient St. Andrews, last Spring, was adopted with one additional provision. This latter affects the manner of selecting championship courses, and provides that a committee of three named by the Executive Committee shall make the selection, subject to approval by the latter, and that the announcement of such selections shall be made at least a year prior to the time for holding the tournament.

This action was not unexpected, and as was pointed out, was taken in the interest of always providing courses for the championships that have been brought to the best physical condition possible. The point was made that it is unfair to expect a club to make any material improvements in a course in a period of a few months, where selections are made with only such limited time remaining for making any changes or improvements.

What amounts to practical official confirmation of a big invading American amateur force to contend for the British amateur championship next year was afforded through a statement by President Howard F. Whitney, the new Executive, that at least nine star amateurs had in effect agreed to go over next Summer, provided a team is organized. W. C. Fownes Jr. of Pittsburgh, who will likely captain the team, stated that he had practically gotten the promises of the following stars to make up the team: Champion Chick Evans, Francis Ouimet, Bobby Jones, S. Davidson Herron, Max R. Marston, Parker W. Whittemore, Nelson M. Whitney, Reginald Lewis and Robert A. Gardner, in addition to Fownes himself.

In his retiring speech President Walker reviewed at some length the work of the association for the year, relating in some detail the experiences of the committee which went abroad last Spring. He explained conditions under which the committee worked, and stated that, all things considered, the results obtained were very gratifying, though not all that could have been hoped.

The late flurry wherein the Western Golf Association threatened to rise up in rebellion to wage a battle for the control of golf in the country, it was explained, had been smoothed out satisfactorily, and the U. S. G. A. will continue to exercise the privileges and prerogatives of the reigning body in golf in the United States. It was made plain, however, that a number of beneficial changes can be made in the functioning of the national association.

Among other things it was urged that a campaign be made to bring as many as possible of clubs which now hold only what is known as allied memberships into the fold as active members. For the year ending Nov. 30, 1920, the association had a membership of 477 clubs, of which 159 are active and 318 allied. Active members pay annual dues of $30 against $10 for allied members. In order to induce the allied clubs to take out active memberships, it was proposed that they all be sounded out on a proposition to become active members, provided the dues are reduced to $20 yearly. It is expected that this recommendation will be acted on by the administration.

Fourteen Member Clubs Added.

The report of the Executive Committee indicated a gain of fourteen clubs in the membership of the association over last year, figures for 1919 showing 153 active and 310 allied members, a total of 463. Eight new members were admitted to active membership and fifteen as allied members. One club transferred from the allied to the active list and two others made a reverse change. Two member clubs disbanded during the year, while one was reinstated as an allied member.

The report of the treasurer showed a balance on hand of $7,042.93 in spite of the fact that disbursements for the year exceeded receipts by $5,896.90. Treasurer Mortimer N. Buckner explained that this deficit was due to the extraordinarily high prices generally which have existed during the last year, more than $5,000 having been paid out to the three clubs which staged the championships last year, to help in defraying expenses of these events.

Delegates who attended the meeting were as follows:

J. F. Burke, Allegheny; W. H. Conroy, Apawamis; R. E. Hanson, Baltimore Country Club; A. H. Pogson, Belleclaire Golf and Country Club; A. D. Locke, Belmont Springs; C. G. Waldo, Brooklawn; J. H. Clapp, Chevy Chase; Dr. W. S. Horbon, Columbia Country Club; W. F. Garcelon, Commonwealth Country Club; P. A. Proal, Deal Golf Club; Joshua Crane, Dedham Country and Polo Club.

James L. Taylor, Ekwanok; Frank H. Hoyt, Engineers; M. G. Holstein, Fairview Country Club; R. J. Daly, Flossmoor Country Club; F. M. Bacon Jr. and G. L. Hubbell, Garden City Golf Club; George C. Leubbers, Gedney Farms Golf Club; Leonora Kennedy, Green Meadows Country Club; J. W. Curtiss Greenwich Country Club; J. R. Maxwell, Guelph Mills Golf Club.

R. A. Gardner, Hinsdale Golf Club; Frank B. Barrett, Hollywood Golf Club; C. V. Benton, Hudson River Golf Club; Arthur G. Sherwood, Knickerbocker Country Club; F. P. Kimball, Lakewood Country Club; J. D. Standish Jr., Lochmoor Club; Daniel Chauncey, Links Golf Club; R. W. Leslie, Merion Cricket Club; C. W. Stone, Mohawk Golf Club.

W. D. Vanderpool, Morris County Golf Club; Howard F. Whitney, Nassau Country Club; C. B. MacDonald, National Golf Links; Clinton L. Bardo, New Haven Country Club; Theodore Peyser, North Shore Country Club; S. B. Thorne, Oakland Golf Club; Frank D. Fairbanks, Oakley Country Club; W. C. Fownes Jr., Oakmont Country Club.

Silas H. Strawn, Old Elm Club; Seton H. Rich, Old York Road Country Club; Henry Strouse, Philmont Country Club; W. R. Hochster, Quaker Ridge Golf Club; C. P. Dixon Jr., Rockaway Hunting Club; Wilson H. Curtis, St. Albans Golf Club; Wilson W. Chew, St. Andrews Golf Club; H. V. Conrad, Scarsdale Golf and Country Club; C. H. Geist, Seaview Golf Club; John G. Anderson, Siwanoy Country Club; W. S. Kinnear, Sleepy Hollow Country Club; John A. Gammons, Wannamoisett Country Club; George A. Nicol Jr., Wykagyl Country Club; Walter Pfeil, Yountakah Country Club; Thomas B. Paine, Atlanta Athletic Club.

Will Not Include Shimidzu In India's Davis Cup Team

Some idea of the personnel of the lawn tennis team that will probably represent India in the Davis Cup matches of the coming Summer is contained in a report of the first annual general meeting of the All-India Lawn Tennis Association held recently at Delhi. It was at this meeting that unanimous decision was reached to send a challenge for the Davis Cup. It will be the first time India will have entered, and the team is expected to be a good one. Among the best players are S. C. Jacob, the open champion of India, L. S. Deane and Major Rendell. The inclusion of the famous Japanese player, Zenzo Shimidsu, who learned his tennis in Calcutta, was discussed, but the conclusion was reached that the members of the team should be either British subjects or subjects of native States. The 1921 championships of India will be held from Feb. 14 to 20. S. P. O'Donnell is the President of the All-India Association.

CANADIANS DEFEAT M. I. T.

Kings College Wins Hockey Match With Boston School, 4 to 3.

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, Jan. 7.—The Massachusetts Institute of Technology's hockey team, coached by Chippy Gaw of the Chicago National League Ball Club's pitching staff, opened the new Boston Ice Arena tonight. The Tech team was opposed by Kings College from Windsor, Nova Scotia. Kings College won the match 4 to 3.

The home players secured a 3 to 1 lead in the first half, Dan MacNeil making two goals, one after a pass from Taylor, who also scored at the end of a brilliant rush up the ice. The Nova Scotia team had a strong attack but Nickle was able to stop everything in the Tech goal except one shot from Winter. Goals by Winter and Smith tied the score early in the second half and, just a few moments before the final bell, Winter shot the winning goal after a long rush.

The summary:

KINGS COLLEGE (4).		M. I. T. (3).
Gabriel	G.	Nickle
Parnell	P.	N. MacNeil
Dunlap	C. P.	Duvernet
Gilbert	L. W.	Taylor
Winter	C.	D. MacNeil
White	R. W.	Grant

Goals—Winters (3), Smith, D. MacNeil (2), Taylor.

Substitutions—Kings College: Smith for Gilbert, Ruggles for Smith; M. I. T.: Caldwell for Taylor, Delaney for Grant, Schwartz for Grant, Caldwell for D. MacNeil.

Referees—Rocque and Doody. Time of periods—20 minutes.

ICE TEAMS TO CLASH HERE.

Princeton and Fordham Will Meet in Hockey Match Tonight.

New Yorkers will be afforded this evening their first opportunity in three years to witness a collegiate hockey game. The clash is scheduled for the 181st Street Ice Palace, where Fordham's Maroon skaters will engage the Princeton septet on the ice. Indications point to a capacity crowd witnessing the game, which promises a keen and interesting tussle. The managers of both teams, Ed Curley of Fordham and Tyler Bartow of Princeton, are confident of victory for their favorites and are prepared to put their strongest combinations on the ice in tonight's struggle.

The probable line-up:

FORDHAM.		PRINCETON.
Noonan	R. W.	Ehret
Kerser	L. W.	Corcoran
O'Rourke	C.	Knox
McGurk	R.	Haight
Powers	P.	Wainan
Hennessy	G.	Maxwell

JACKSON-MITCHELL BOUT CALLED DRAW

Bronx Lightweight Makes a Strong Finish at Garden After a Poor Start.

Willie Jackson, Bronx lightweight, and Pinkey Mitchell, Milwaukee's elongated lightweight, battled through fifteen rounds to a draw last night at Madison Square Garden, before a crowd of about 9,000 spectators. The judges, Major Anthony J. Drexel Biddle and Professor William Muldoon, disagreed in their decisions, and when announcer Joe Humphreys appealed to Referee Lou White, the ring arbiter declared for a draw decision. The verdict was just, but it didn't please the crowd, who were overwhelmingly in favor of a verdict for Jackson, if their outburst could be used as a criterion of their feelings.

The verdict carried with it a moral triumph for Jackson. The Bronx boxer had to overcome almost insurmountable obstacles to make any impression on his rival. Mitchell enjoyed advantages in height and reach, which made it appear as if Jackson was boxing a tall middleweight. The Bronx lightweight had to reach overhead with his punches at long range and was smothered with Mitchell's arms when he attempted any work at close quarters, yet despite these physical handicaps, Jackson persisted and carried the fight at a pace which caused Mitchell to falter.

Through the closing six rounds Jackson fought with all the fury of which he is capable. He never relented in his attack, rushing his taller rival continually, seeking for a chance to reach the vulnerable spot on the jaw with a swinging right which would topple Mitchell in defeat. The target was an elusive one, not so much because of any cleverness on the part of Mitchell but because of his height. Through these rounds the Milwaukeean was forced to the defensive and he had all he could do to ward off the blow for which the crowd was yelling.

Mitchell Gains Early Lead.

Jackson's great recovery in the closing rounds gave him an even break in a battle which was not particularly interesting and held little of the spectacular. In fact Jackson did all the sensational work in his wonderful rally. Mitchell, with his long left jab and a right cross which invariably found a resting spot on Jackson's stomach or face, carried every round from the third to the eighth. Jackson could not solve his rival's style in this part of the bout and made ineffectual efforts to get past Mitchell's extended jabbing left.

In the ninth, Jackson began to solve the problem and thereafter, his work improved. The Bronx lightweight carried the fighting and repeatedly forced Mitchell to the ropes. Always, while pawing for an opening, Jackson held his right poised to strike on the instant with the blow which would crash Mitchell in defeat. The forcefulness of Jackson's attack forced Mitchell to clinch and hold persistently and the crowd voiced its dissatisfaction with the action of the Milwaukee boxer. Several times Referee White warned Mitchell to cease his holding but the warning fell on deaf ears.

Jackson several times swung for the jaw with his powerful right, but invariably the blow was high or missed the mark. Infrequently, however, Mitchell was stung and he immediately sought the refuge of a clinch. This tendency on the part of the Milwaukean robbed the battle of much of its lustre.

The nearest approach to a real knockdown came in the thirteenth round, when Jackson, in the midst of his furious assault, caught Mitchell off balance with a swinging right and the Milwaukee boxer went down. He was up immediately, however, and fell into clinch after clinch as Jackson sought to connect with a decisive blow.

Both Strong at Final Bell.

Jackson never ceased his efforts for victory until the final bell clanged the end of the bout. The bell found the men locked on the ropes in a neutral corner and neither heard the gong. They continued boxing and smashing at each other until Referee White parted them. Once before during a hot session of milling, in the seventh round, the boxers belabored each other after the bell had sounded at the end of the round.

When the first preliminary was called into the ring, great stretches of empty seats were to be seen and many of the arena boxes were vacant. The attendance was estimated at 9,000, one of the smallest crowds that has attended a boxing card in the old amphitheatre since the revival of the sport in this State.

In the ten-round semi-final Pete Hartley gained the decision of Referee White over Ned Fitzgerald after the judges had disagreed. The first bout, scheduled for ten rounds, in which Sammy Sieger and Johnny Murray were the principals, ended in the second session when Referee Jack Skelly intervened to save Murray from further punishment.

SKATING AT LAKE PLACID.

International Championship Events to Be Held Feb. 10-11-12.

The Lake Placid Skating Association has arranged for the international skating championship contests to be held at Lake Placid on Feb. 10, 11 and 12. All the crack amateur skaters of the United States and Canada will take part in the various contests.

The senior events will include the 220 and 440 yard dashes, also the half-mile, one-mile, two-mile and three-mile races. The qualifying and finals in the senior events will be raced each day of the event. The junior races will follow the same schedule as the senior class, and will include the classified ages of 16, 14, 12 and 10 years.

In addition to the championship contests there will be a good array of fancy and acrobatic features, surpassing in number and variety anything heretofore attempted at an outdoor skating carnival. The prizes will be the most elaborate ever offered at an international meeting. Cups, medals and trophies will be awarded to the winners of first, second and third places in each of the finals. Lake Placid is out to make the meeting the biggest kind of a success and midwinter holiday.

McGOWAN TO MEET BAPTIE.

Amateur Will Skate His First Pro Matches on Jan. 16 and 18.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 7.—Everett McGowan, St. Paul international amateur skating champion, and Norval Baptie of Bathgate have been matched for a series of races, to take place Jan. 16 and 18. They were originally scheduled to skate here on Jan. 9 and 11, but the match was postponed a week because Baptie will be unable to leave Philadelphia until next week, it was announced here today.

The races will be the 220, 440 and 880 yard sprints and the mile, two-mile and three-mile events. The winner will be matched with other prominent skaters of the country in what is planned to be an elimination contest to determine eventually the world's championship. It will be McGowan's first start as a professional.

ICE TRIALS POSTPONED.

Chicago Will Wait a Week Before Forming Team to Meet New York.

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—Preliminaries for the city-wide competition on Chicago playgrounds to select a schoolboy team for the races against New York's schoolboy skaters today were postponed for one week because warm weather had made good ice an impossibility. Julian T. Fitzgerald, Chairman of the Skating Committee, announced that only regular attendants at grade or high schools would be allowed to compete, in accordance with a provision urged by Mayor Hylan of New York.

BRITISH SAY HERMAN DID NOT LOSE TITLE

Declare Lynch's Victory in Fifteen-Round Bout Is Invalid Under International Rules.

LONDON, Jan. 7 (Associated Press).—Pete Herman, former world's bantamweight champion, and Battling Levinsky, the former light heavyweight champion, who are matched, respectively, to meet Jimmy Wilde and Bombardier Wells at Albert Hall, London, Jan. 13, are in training at Thames Ditton, a London suburb, where English boxing enthusiasts daily watch them in their workouts.

Notwithstanding the recent decision obtained by Joe Lynch over Herman in New York, Herman is being acclaimed here as the world's bantamweight champion. Herman and the English promoters are maintaining that only by a knockout could Herman have lost his title, that a fifteen-round contest to a decision had no bearing on Herman's status and that if Wilde wins here he will be the world's champion.

The promoters of the bouts base their views on rules drawn up at the Paris conference in 1919 of world boxing experts, at which the United States was not represented, and upon what the English promoters state was a general understanding that bouts should be for at least twenty rounds.

The Americans have been well received in England. Levinsky's long record for clean fighting has been especially commented on. Herman, however, seems to be an unknown quantity. He is taking light training and is not giving the experts an opportunity to predict the outcome of his contest with Wilde. The American boxers were enthusiastically received at "White City" last night, where there was a number of exhibition bouts for former service men.

ISSUES DEFI TO KILBANE.

Danny Frush Wants to Fight Featherweight Champion in New York.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 7.—Johnny Kilbane may have all the purse if he will only meet Danny Frush, the local aspirant for the featherweight crown which the Cleveland boxer has held so long, so Frush's manager declared today.

Furthermore, he says he will give $1,000 to any charity the New York newspapers may name if Kilbane or Young Andy Chaney, who is being generally mentioned as the logical contender for the championship, will step into a New York ring for a fifteen-round decision bout.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 7.—Replying to a defi issued today by the manager of Danny Frush, Baltimore featherweight, Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion, declared tonight that he will meet "Frush, Chaney or anybody in the world who will make the featherweight limit, providing the purse is large enough."

"Somebody always is saying that I can have the entire purse for a bout," Kilbane continued, "but what interests me is the size of the purse."

COMISKEY IS OPTIMISTIC.

Sees Strength in White Sox Recruits —Doesn't Expect Any Help.

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—The return of Owner Charles Comiskey of the crippled White Sox team from a northern hunting trip revived gossip today concerning the line-up of the American League club for the coming season. Optimistic statements came from the "old Roman" over the team's prospects, despite inability to buy or trade for good players from other major league teams.

"I don't expect any help," Comiskey said. "We might make a trade if we wanted to, but we haven't any trading material. We need all the men we have left. I guess no one wants to sell us any players. If they did they probably would be letting us know about it, for they know we would like to buy."

At least two of the team's recruits, Comiskey declared, are ready for regular berths. One is Johnny Mostil, star outfielder last year on the Milwaukee American Association team, who is backed by Catcher Ray Schalk for lead-off man in the batting order, and the other is Earl Sheely, heavy hitting Coast League first baseman. Ernie Johnson, Coast League shortstop, who had better than a .300 batting average last year, is also said to be ready for a White Sox début, to fill another important gap left by the dismissal of seven players involved in charges of "throwing" games in the 1919 world's series with Cincinnati.

KID GLEASON SIGNS AGAIN.

Comiskey Expresses Confidence in Manager of the White Sox.

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—William ("Kid") Gleason today signed his contract to manage the Chicago White Sox the coming season, dispelling rumors that he was to be removed following the revelations in regard to the baseball scandal last season. Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the club, in making the announcement, said he had every confidence in his manager and would do everything possible to help him reconstruct the club.

BREAK TWO WORLD'S MARKS

Norman Ross and Illinois A. C. Relay Team Set New Swim Records.

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—In the first events of the Central A. A. U. indoor swimming championships two world's records were broken last night. Norman Ross, Illinois A. C., individual star in swimming events at the Olympic games, covered the distance in the 100-yard medley race in 1:06. The former record was 1:06 1-5, made by Harry Hebner in 1916.

The Chicago A. A. first team was defeated by the Illinois A. C. quartet, which established a new world's record, 1:16 4-5, in the 160-yard open relay. The former mark was 1:17, made in 1914.

SCHEDULES 10 TANK MEETS.

Wesleyan Swimming Team to Have Busy Water Season.

MIDDLETOWN, Conn., Jan. 7.—Ten contests are on the swimming schedule of Wesleyan University announced today. Harvard and Yale will be met, and the team will be in two intercollegiate meets.

The dates are:

Jan. 21, Harvard at Middletown.

Feb. 5, M. I. T. at Middletown; 8, Yale at New Haven; 15, Brown at Providence; 19, Williams at Middletown; 25, Amherst at Middletown.

McRae-Crystal Bout Tonight.

A program of thirty-five rounds of boxing will be offered this evening at the Woodhaven (L. I.) Sporting Club. The principal bout will bring together Al McRae of Brooklyn and Willie Crystal, a local boxer. This contest is scheduled for fifteen rounds. Jimmy Blute, Yorkville veteran, and Knockout Joe Daley of Brooklyn are slated for a ten-round fistic argument. In a six-round bout Eddie Sammon of Brooklyn and Frank Viviano of Manhattan will furnish the action. In addition there will be a four-round bout to open the show.

Rutgers Makes It Three Straight.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Jan. 7.—Rutgers won its third consecutive basketball victory tonight, downing Delaware by a 45 to 24 score. Boudinot and Benzoni displayed wonderful basketball, each scoring eight goals. McCaughan and Alexander excelled for Delaware.

West Point Cadets Take to Water—Form First Swim Team

Special to The New York Times.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Jan. 7.—For the first time in the history of the Military Academy a swimming team composed of cadets has been organized and will enter into tank competition with teams from other colleges. The Army men are now in training for the first contest, that with Lehigh, on Jan. 22. Four matches have been arranged for this Winter, all of them to take place in the gymnasium tank here. The Army's facilities for staging many events in their tank are ample and the enthusiasm with which the men are going at their preliminary work augurs well for a successful first season. The schedule is: Jan. 2, Lehigh; Feb. 5, Columbia; 19, Harvard; 26, Syracuse.

N. Y. U. FIVE DEFEATS SYRACUSE, 36 TO 19

Visitors Start Well, but Violet's Greater Speed Tells Tale—Robertson Is Star.

The New York University basketball quintet defeated the Syracuse team in a fast and rather roughly played game at the N. Y. U. gymnasium last night by the score of 36 to 19. A spurt by the Violet in the second half left the up-State collegians far in the rear, after they had given the home team a hard fight in the early part of the game.

A crowd which packed the N. Y. U. gymnasium to capacity witnessed the contest. The Violet sympathizers got something of a scare in the first few minutes of the game, when the Orange quintet jumped to the front with a brilliant display of all-around skill which for the time being swept the Bronx players off their feet. The lead was short-lived, however, as the visitors were unable to maintain the fast pace and gradually the home players cut down the lead. After five minutes of play the Violet took the lead and was not again headed. At the close of the first half N. Y. U. was leading by the score of 18 to 11.

With the game going against them in the second half several substitutions were made by the up-State collegians, but even the injection of fresh players could not reduce the New York lead. The fine condition of the Bronx team was shown in the fact that the players were able to play the fastest kind of basketball throughout the game without a substitution being made. Four changes were made in the line-up of the visitors.

Robertson, at centre for the Violet, was the big star of the game. He led both teams in goals from th field with a total of six and added to the N. Y. U. point score by tossing in eight baskets from the foul line. Robertson accounted for more points than the entire visiting team, and he likewise had a more productive evening than all the remainder of his own team. Some of his baskets were of a highly spectacular type. Delaney, besides playing a strong defensive game, found time to score five goals from the floor. Lavin and Weltman starred for the visitors, but both were excelled in all-around play by Robertson and Delaney, the N. Y. U. stars.

The line-up:

N. Y. U. (36).		SYRACUSE (19).
Goeller	L. F.	Weltman
Holman	R. F.	Taylor
Robertson	C.	Conlin
Baker	L. G.	Parker
Delaney	R. G.	Lavin

Goals from floor—Robertson (6), Delaney (5), Goeller (2), Holman, Weltman (2), Conlin (2), Taylor, Parker, Fisher. Goals from foul—Robertson (8), Lavin (5).

Substitutions—Syracuse: Fisher for Parker, Warden for Taylor, Tibbens for Weltman, Taylor for Warden.

Referee—J. O'Shea, West Point. Umpire—J. Koph, Yonkers Y. M. C. A. Time of halves—20 minutes.

PRATT GRAPPLERS GET TIE.

Hold Wrestlers From Columbia to 16-to-16 Draw.

The wrestling team of Pratt Institute staged a little surprise party for their guests, the grapplers from Columbia University, last night in the Pratt Gymnasium, Brooklyn, holding the Morningside Heights athletes to a draw at 16 points each.

Peculiarly enough, it was in the heavier classes that the schoolboys excelled. The visitors were victorious in the 115, 125 and 135 pound classes, although in the 125-pound contest it was an accident to McHale, the Pratt Captain, that settled the issue. McHale was unfortunate enough to break a small bone in his right hand, and was forced to default to Hyman, his Columbia opponent. In all the heavier classes except the unlimited-weight division the Pratt entries triumphed. In the excepted class Perry of Pratt and Paulie of Columbia went the full distance to a draw.

The summaries:

115-Pound Class—Lintesch, Columbia, defeated Millham, Pratt.

125-Pound Class—Hyman, Columbia, won from McHale, Pratt (bout forfeited on account of injury to McHale).

135-Pound Class—Bryan, Columbia, defeated Burnhart, Pratt, referee's decision.

145-Pound Class—Beck, Pratt, defeated Hart, Columbia, referee's decision.

158-Pound Class—Litcher, Pratt, defeated Johnson, Columbia.

175-Pound Class—Smith, Pratt, defeated McLoughlin, Columbia.

SIGNS NOTED TRAINER.

Dartmouth Secures Watson of Iowa to Handle Athletes.

HANOVER, N. H., Jan. 7.—John F. (Jack) Watson will arrive in Hanover within a few days to enter upon his duties as trainer of the Green teams. Watson comes to Dartmouth from the University of Iowa, where he built up a reputation as one of the best trainers of the West.

At Dartmouth he will be regular trainer of all teams except track, with which he may assist Harry Hillman. This will allow Hillman to give all his time in the Fall to the cross-country runners, who have been without a coach for five years.

Watson was formerly a professional runner, starring in the sprints and jumps. He has been a trainer for the last twenty years, first at Grinnel, Iowa, then at the University of Iowa.

TO PLAN TRACK SEASON.

Columbia Coach Will Hold Rally of Cinder Path Men Today.

The first track and field rally of the year at Columbia will be held at noon today in the Furnald Hall locker rooms, where Coach Carl Merner will assemble the candidates for the team. The coach will outline plans for the Winter indoor season, and equipment will be assigned the track men. Practices will begin shortly on the gymnasium track, but if weather permits the new board track on South Field will be used for outdoor workouts. The interfraternity relays will be held on this track in the early part of February.

The schedule has not been made public yet, but under home-and-home agreements entered into last year Brown will come to South Field for a meet, and Columbia will go to Hanover to battle with Dartmouth. Columbia will also be entered in the Penn Relays at Philadelphia and in the intercollegiate championships. A dual meet with N. Y. U. is also under consideration.

Street to Manage Virginia Again.

NORFOLK, Va., Jan. 7.—Charles (Gabby) Street, manager of the Suffolk Club of the Virginia League last season, has been signed to pilot the team this year.

SINGLE POINT WINS FOR COLUMBIA FIVE

Blue and White Has Close Shave With C. C. N. Y. Team—Score Is 15 to 14.

Joe Deering's Columbia basketball team had the closest shave of its young career at the hands of the City College five last night in the Columbia gymnasium. When the final figures were chalked up on the scoreboard the Morningside quintet was on the favorable end of a 15-14 score. City College spurted near the close of the second half and tied the score at 13-13, but fell one point short of the necessary total of points.

The game was the closest battle staged on the Columbia court this year. The home warriors took an early lead in the opening period and led at half time, 9 to 4. Shortly after the beginning of the final period the score stood at 11 to 5 in Columbia's favor, but three goals in succession by Krinsky, Hahn and Raskin brought the Lavender five abreast of Columbia with less than ten minutes to play. When a double foul was called on a visiting player Johnson of Columbia promptly popped the ball twice into the net, but Lamm again deadlocked the score with a goal from field. Two more foul tosses by Johnson, however, gave Columbia a two-point lead. With three minutes of play remaining Lamm threw a solitary foul goal, but Columbia clung to its one-point advantage to the last whistle.

Johnson's foul throwing was the chief factor in the Columbia victory. The dusky star was successful in nine of his fifteen attempts from the fifteen-foot mark, and in all he scored 11 of Columbia's 15 points. The Blue and White had trouble with the Lavender defense, and shot only three baskets from the field in the course of the engagement. City College's field goal total was 5, but dubious work by Lamm from the foul line kept the visitors from walking away with the game. Out of 10 attempts Lamm succeeded in shooting only 4.

Close guarding by both teams resulted in a hard fought battle all the way. Both teams made many tries for baskets, but were kept effectively away from the goal, and had to be content with shots from mid court. The game was cleanly played, and no players were ejected from the game for exceeding the limit of personal fouls. Johnson was the individual star for Columbia, and Lamm and Raskin shone for the visitors.

The lineup:

COLUMBIA (15).		C. C. N. Y. (14).
Tynan	L. F.	Krinsky
Johnson	R. F.	Lamm
Watson	C.	Murray
Horowitz	L. G.	Raskin
Pulleyn	R. G.	Feigan

Goals from field—Johnson, Watson, Horowitz, Krinsky, Lamm (2), Raskin, Hahn. Goals from foul—Johnson 9 out of 15, Lamm 4 out of 10.

Substitutions—College City of New York: Klauber for Lamm, Lamm for Klauber, Hahn for Feigan.

Referee—W. T. Cochrane, Naval Academy. Umpire—Carl A. Reed, Springfield. Time of halves—20 minutes.

PRATT INSTITUTE WINS.

Defeats Springfield Y. M. C. A. College at Basketball, 41-26.

Pratt Institute defeated the Springfield Y. M. C. A. College at basketball at the Pratt Gymnasium last night by a score of 41 to 26. The Bay Staters gave the Brooklyn quintet plenty of work in the first half, which ended 19 to 14 in the home team's favor, but failed to show the same speed in the latter part of the game.

The brilliant basket throwing of Schasran was the big feature of the contest, the right forward of the Brooklyn team scoring nine goals from the floor and one from the foul line. Schasran was aided to a considerable extent by the floor work of Leary, who accounted for only one goal, but helped in the scoring of several others by his fine passing. Kruser also was prominent in the scoring of the Brooklyn collegians, while Bennett, O'Donnell and Allen were the leaders in the Springfield attack.

The line-up:

PRATT INST. (41).		SPRINGFIELD (26).
Leary	L. F.	Bennett
Schasran	R. F.	O'Donnell
Kruser	C.	Wall
Lamenzo	L. G.	Allen
Munigle	R. G.	Watters

Goals from floor—Schasran (9), Kruser (4), Munigle (2), Butera (2), Leary, Bennett (4), O'Donnell (3), Allen (4). Goals from foul—Kruser (4), Schasran, O'Donnell (4).

Substitutions—Pratt Institute: Butera for Lamenzo. Springfield: Lash for Walters, Merriman for Allen, Brennan for O'Donnell.

Referee—O. A. Kinney, Yale. Time of halves—20 minutes.

WILCO HAS GOOD CARD.

Olympic and National Stars to Start in Brooklyn Meet.

A program providing three solid hours of racing will be conducted this evening in the Thirteenth Regiment Armory, Brooklyn, on the occasion of the Wilco A. A. annual athletic meet. Many champions and other prominent athletes are included in the list of competitors, which includes more than 300 entries.

The leading event is the special invitation 3,000-meter race, in which eight capable distancers have entered. Hallock Brown, Olympic champion at the distance, was invited to participate in this test, but because of lack of proper condition the Hub star had to decline the invitation. Hal Cutbill, the Boston A. A. star, replaces Brown in the list of prospective starters. Others include Harry Helme, the Buffalo schoolboy, who holds the national two-mile title; John Romig of Penn State, intercollegiate hill and dale champion; Walter Higgins, Columbia star, who holds the intercollegiate cross-country record for the Van Cortlandt Park course; Max Bohland and Eddie Garvey of the Paulist A. C., Andy Craw, Brooklyn A. A., and George Cornetta, New York A. C.

Another important event will be decided in the running of the local 600-yard championship race. Jack Sellers of the New York A. C., titleholder, will defend his laurels in this event. The class of the field scheduled to start against the Mercury Footer has led the officials of the meet to predict a new record for the distance. Seller's opponents include Jimmy O'Brien, Loughlin Lyceum crack; Sid Leslie, Arthur Reilly, Vincent Lally, Eliot Ballestier and Al Dolder.

W. U. GAMES TONIGHT.

Messenger Boy Relay Race a Feature of Meet at 22d Regt. Armory.

The annual indoor games of the Western Union Athletic Association will be held tonight at the Twenty-second Regiment Armory, 168th Street and Fort Washington Avenue. The meet is under the auspices of the A. A. U. and prominent officials of the metropolitan association will direct affairs. Besides the events which are closed to employes of the Western Union will be several open events for registered A. A. U. athletes, and among those entered are Bernie Wefers Jr., Andy Kelly, Ray Georgi, Pat Flynn, Ray Whearty, Max Bohland and others prominent in amateur sports.

Of main importance to the messenger boys will be a relay race in which teams from New York, Baltimore, Washington, Philadelphia, Boston and other cities will compete. The committee of Western Union officials to supervise the games for the messenger boys is made up of Dick Murphy, Artie Roche and Joe Ramos.

McCoy Gets Suspension.

Al McCoy of Brooklyn, former world's middleweight champion boxer, yesterday was indefinitely suspended by the Boxing Commission for failure to appear for a scheduled bout at the Freeport Sporting Club. It was announced that McCoy has been set down pending a hearing. The Brooklyn boxer's case will probably be reviewed at the next meeting of the governing boxing officials Thursday afternoon.

WEST POINT DENIES ANNAPOLIS CHARGES

Not Trying to Get Football Stars by Unfair Means, Officials Insist.

"NO BASIS FOR REPORTS"

Athletic Types Desired for the Army, but Unsportsmanlike Methods Not Used to Get Them.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Jan. 7.—The military academy authorities today denied, in an official statement, published reports that they had made efforts "to induce by illegitimate means members of football teams of other colleges to desert those teams and to come to West Point for athletic purposes."

"Recent articles in the press," the statement said, "have contained insinuations that systematic efforts were being made by the military authorities to induce by illegitimate means members of football teams of other colleges to desert those teams and to come to West Point for athletic purposes. No attention would be given such charges had they not attained a more or less authentic character by appearing under Annapolis headlines.

"A rigid investigation has failed to reveal the slightest basis for such reports. Athletic types are desired for the army, but no unsportsmanlike methods have been used to obtain them. The military authorities, therefore, wish to make a most sweeping denial of such allegations.

"It is not the practice of the military academy to attempt to rebut criticism or propaganda through the columns of the press, and it does so in the unique instance, not to brand the fraud and to stop the lie, but for the sole purpose of reassuring its own followers scattered throughout the world."

ROPER WARNS PRINCETON.

Says Cocksure Optimism Is Football Team's Greatest Obstacle.

Special to The New York Times.

PRINCETON, N. J., Jan. 7.—Bill Roper, Princeton's head football coach, today issued a warning to the undergraduates and alumni of Old Nassau to guard against overconfidence in regard to Princeton's 1921 gridiron season. While the Tiger mentor believes that he will be able to put a good eleven on to the field, he evidently feels that Princeton will have harder work to fill the holes that will be made in June than has been admitted before.

The Princeton coach intimates in his statement that the Orange and Black next Fall will make a wide deviation from its timeworn policy of the past, and instead of preparing for the Yale and Harvard games exclusively, will aim to reach top form in time for the Chicago contest, two weeks earlier.

Roper's statement reads in part:

"On paper it would appear as if the football prospects for the year 1921 were very promising. Most of the regular men will return to college for another year, and there is some good material left over from the scrub.

"I don't think, however, the prospects for a winning team are quite as rosy as many people imagine. At this time I cannot help sounding a word of caution to those who are making great predictions about what the football team will accomplish.

"The greatest handicap the team has to contend with is the spirit of cocksure optimism which exists in a great many quarters, the effects of which are fatal unless checked at the very inception. History does not always repeat itself, but in 1896 Princeton defeated Yale, 24 to 6. In the Fall of 1897 the entire Princeton team returned to college with few exceptions, and the team was strengthened by the addition of men who had been ineligible the year before.

"Princeton prospects never looked so rosy, and it was freely predicted that Yale would be defeated by an even larger score than the year before. What actually happened was quite the reverse. A much inferior Yale team defeated this aggregation of stars, 6 to 0, at New Haven. No Princetonian has any right to become unduly excited over our football prospects.

"With all our good material, we haven't half the material they have at either Yale or Harvard. The freshman team of last Fall was a poor one, and there is very little material in sight from this quarter, while they have excellent material at Yale and fairly good material at Harvard."

COACH WILCE OBJECTS.

Regrets Controversy Aroused in Western Football by Richards.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 7.—Regret that a controversy should arise among members of the Western Conference was expressed here today by Coach John Wilce of the Ohio State University football team, after reading the statement of Coach John R. Richards of Wisconsin intimating that he would resign if Ohio State should again be placed on the Wisconsin schedule.

"I am sorry to think that such a thing as this had to come up in the Big Ten Conference from a Conference coach," said Wilce, "not only because it is an attempted slam at Ohio State University, but also because it tends to throw a bad light on a great organization and misinform the general public in regard to the high, clean spirit of sportsmanship that exists among universities, athletic directors, coaches and players in the Western Conference and in Western collegiate football."

Statements attributed to Richards that visiting coaches and players received poor treatment at Ohio State were branded by Wilce as "utterly impossible and absurd."

Wilce, with other Ohio State representatives, stopped here on the return trip from the California game at Pasadena to attend a banquet of the Indiana Ohio State Association.

CHICAGO TO PLAY DENVER.

Intersectional Football Game Is Scheduled at Windy City.

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—An intersectional football game for next Fall between the University of Chicago and the University of Denver at Chicago, Oct. 29, was announced today by Coach Alonzo Stagg of Chicago. The preceding Saturday the Chicago team is scheduled to oppose Princeton at Princeton.

The Colorado eleven, one of the leading elevens in the Rocky Mountain Conference last year, is coached by Myron Witham, former Dartmouth star, who coached Purdue on the Middle West Big Ten several years ago. Coach Witham, who was a spectator at the Ohio State-California game on New Year's Day, declared he expected to have a powerful team next Fall.

Colorado asked for a game, Coach Stagg said, and he assigned them the only open date on the Chicago schedule.

Nebraska to Meet Notre Dame.

LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 7.—The University of Nebraska football team will play Notre Dame at South Bend, Ind., Nov. 22, according to an announcement today by Director of Athletics Luehrings.

California to Row on Hudson If Crew Defeats Washington

BERKELEY, Cal., Jan. 7.—The University of California crew may compete this Spring in the intercollegiate regatta at Poughkeepsie and also will endeavor to arrange a dual regatta with Princeton, it was said today by Crew Coach Ben Wallis. The Eastern trip is contingent upon the outcome of the race against the University of Washington in April. Victory for California in this race is a condition of the trip. Coach Wallis said that if the trip is made the California crew would practice daily while en route East, on machines in a baggage car. Crew practice will begin next week, he announced.

TIGER OARSMEN GET CALL FOR PRACTICE

Over Fifty Princeton Crew Candidates Report to Coach for Indoor Training.

Special to The New York Times.

PRINCETON, N. J., Jan. 7.—With a squad of over fifty candidates answering the first call Winter practice for the varsity crews at Princeton got under way today. The squad reported to Head Coach Spaeth and his assistant, John Fitzpatrick, and indulged in a light workout on the machines in the basement of the gymnasium. Dr. Spaeth appeared well pleased with the abundance of material, for many experienced oarsmen from the varsity and junior varsity shells of the 1920 Spring season were in the list of candidates.

Dr. Spaeth sent six different eights through a light workout today, spending most of his attention on smoothness and form. It was the first practice since the Fall rowing season on Lake Carnegie closed about three months ago, and the coaches did not select the eights with any view to future lineups, putting the men into the shells in the order in which they reported. The Doctor announced that he would increase the work very gradually in order to allow the candidates to get in proper shape for strenuous work.

The rowing association has installed a new shell of the machine type in the gymnasium, an innovation which will give the coaches a much better chance to give the third crew, an important factor in any rowing institution, more attention and work. It will be set up beside the two old shells, enabling three crews to row side by side at one time.

Neither the varsity nor the freshman schedules have been completed yet, and the athletic association has made no announcements as to what races will take place next Spring.

PRIMAKOW IS VICTOR.

Defeats Owles in Semi-Final of Three-Cushion Billiards, 25 to 19.

The semi-final game in the three-cushion billiard tournament at Doyle's Broadway billiard room was won last night by Joseph Primakow, who defeated Fred Owles by a score of 25 to 19 in forty-three innings. The winner will meet Harry Frisch in the final match Monday night. This tournament has been held in order to qualify two players for the A. A. B. A. championship, which will be played later in the month.

Neither of the two who met last night had met with defeat, and both were nervous at the start. Owles secured a good lead when he ran five in the tenth inning, but thereafter he met with bad breaks. Primakow played more safety than he usually does, and it was evident throughout that he feared his opponent, who is credited with being the best nest shot maker among the amateurs.

The standing to date follows:

	Won.	Lost.
Harry Frisch	3	0
Joseph Primakow	3	0
Henry Frantzen	2	1
Fred Owles	2	1
Charles Adair	1	2
George La Rue	1	2
Louis Bassi	0	3
Russell Smith	0	3

CHURCH MAKES GREAT RUN.

Piles Up 55 Points at Pocket Billiards, Beating Silver.

There was a flash of speed on exhibition last night at Lawlor Brothers' Billiard Academy in Brooklyn, where the pocket billiard tournament for the professional championship of the State is under way, that fairly dazzled the onlookers. It was furnished by Arthur Church, who staged a finish in his match with Leo Silver that was a hair-raiser.

Early in the match Silver forged to the fore by means of careful as well as capable play, and, materially assisted by a neat run of 39, soon piled up a total of 96 points as against 70 for his opponent. It looked at this stage like something of a walkover for the former, and those of a sportive tendency were prepared to wager to that effect. Church, however, was a trifle incredulous on that point.

In fact the trailing player had made arrangements differing entirely from the prognostications. He stepped to the table looking like an also ran. He stepped away from it a few minutes later looking like a stake horse. He needed 55 points to win and so he took them.

It was a great run, that unfinished compilation of Church's. He acted as if he could have gone ahead and made it as many as he wanted. He struck a streak of play that was marked by brilliancy as well as steadiness, and the result was to make further work on the part of Silver utterly unnecessary. The final score was 125 to 96.

This evening Joseph Concannon, the defending champion, will meet William Lemmert.

MATURO LEADS GREENLEAF.

Passes Pocket Billiard Champion in Second Block.

James Maturo overtook and passed Ralph Greenleaf, the national champion, in the second block of their pocket billiard match, contested last night at Cranfield's Academy. Maturo compiled 137 points, which, with the 125 points of his Thursday night card, gave him a total of 262. Greenleaf, meanwhile, pocketed 98, and trailed his opponent after the block was finished by 20 points, having made 135 on the first night.

Maturo was in excellent form last evening, his eye and his arm working in fine accord. He had the high run, a cluster of 43 balls. The champion's best run was 28. The match will be continued and concluded tonight.

SUTTON SHOWS CUE SKILL.

Armless Billiardist Continues His Impressive Showing.

George Sutton, the armless billiardist, gave one of his most impressive demonstrations of his mastery of the cue last night at Fuller's Billiard Academy when he ran his nightly block of 200 points in five innings, which gave him an average of 40.

His opponent was J. McAnnas, a clever amateur, who played a good game, but only succeeded in getting under way when Sutton ran out. His high run was 120.

TALISMAN IS WINNER AT NEW ORLEANS

Captures Joan of Arc Purse by a Head From Dancing Spray at Fair Grounds.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 7.—The Joan of Arc Purse, fifth event on the program at the Fair Grounds here today, proved to be the feature and Talisman was the winner, just lasting to beat Dancing Spray by a head over the mile course, after showing her best speed from the start. Talisman lost much ground by going wide into the stretch. Dancing Spray looked to have the race won in the last sixteenth, but tired. Inquiry went well and Escarpolette came on with a rush, but too late.

The first race was for maiden two-year-olds over a three-furlong course. Star Time moved up with great determination, and, holding on grimly in the last drive, outstayed One Pin.

The latter, getting away in good style, showed most of the early speed and finished going steadily, while Big Noise got away well but would not extend himself.

Rolo rapidly moved into the lead in the second race but began to tire in the last furlong and had to be ridden hard to win, while Omer K. went well and finished fast after closing a big gap.

Harry Burgoyne was the winner of the third race. He moved into the lead at once and always held first position thereafter, while Blaise began slowly and speeded up as the race progressed until he was going his best at the finish. Teacher's Pet raced consistently from the start but not at sufficient speed.

The Rookie Purse was fourth on the card and Pimlico appeared to be much the best in performance as well as in the opinion of the layers of odds. Getting away slowly, Pimlico ran out at the first turn, but moved into the lead with a rush and outstayed Richelieu, the latter going forwardly for the entire trip, while Normandie tired after going half a mile.

Dahabiah, well handled, was taken into the lead at once in the sixth race and had it easy as far as winning was concerned. Capital City moved up in a most determined manner but hung back a trifle in the stretch, while Austral came from far back and finished going gamely. In the last race, at a mile and seventy yards, On High moved up steadily and drew away in the last eighth, while Salute went well till the last sixteenth was reached and then tired perceptibly. McAdoo started slowly but closed a big gap.

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—Ernest Kockler of Chicago, Western amateur champion, today decided to turn professional to compete in the six-day bike race here Jan. 16. He will be teamed with Charles Osterritter, who won the six-day race at Sydney, Australia, a year ago.

FAVORITES HAVE A BAD DAY AT HAVANA

Buncrana Only Choice to Win on Cuban Track—Stepson, at 25-1, Springs Surprise.

HAVANA, Cuba, Jan. 7.—An ordinary program was decided at Oriental Park today and favorites fared badly, Buncrana at 8 to 5, being the only choice to win. Stepson sprang a surprise when he won the last race, defeating Candle Light and the well played favorite, Mather. Stepson was at the long price of 25 to 1 and was well ridden by Ridenor.

The track was in good shape for the first time during the meeting, as attested by Gus Sheer's fast five and a half furlongs in 1:07 4-5 in the third race.

The summaries:

FIRST RACE—For maiden three-year-olds; purse $700; six furlongs. Pansy, 103 pounds (Lancaster), 8 to 1, 3 to 1, 8 to 5, first; The Enquirer, 105 (Jarrell), 2 to 1, 4 to 5, 2 to 5, second; Shy Ann, 107 (Wilson), 8 to 1, 3 to 1, 8 to 5, third. Time—1:15 3-5. WILLIAMS IS COMMODORE.

Will Return to Office as Head of N. Y. A. C. Yachting Department.

At the annual meeting of the yachting department of the New York Athletic Club, H. M. Williams, yacht Marilene II., was returned to office as Commodore of the Winged Foot fleet, and Thomas Farmer Jr. will preside as Vice Commodore during the ensuing year. L. F. Laroche will fly the white pennant of Rear Commodore. George G. Bell was elected Treasurer and Edward H. Tucker continues as Secretary of the club's yachting interests.

The season of 1920 proved to be busy and successful, but that of 1921 promises to surpass it. The usual Block Island race will be held on July 9. On Aug. 5 the A. P. B. A. cruiser championship of America contest, from Huckleberry to Shelter Island, will be the magnet to attract not only the local cruising contingent, but the Philadelphia squadron as well, for they have expressed their intention of "coming back" this year and are having several new craft built for this particular event.

200 TARGETS STANDARD.

Trapshooting Association Adopts Rules for Title Meets.

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—The American Trapshooting Association opened its annual meeting today, but, because of the large volume of business, deferred until tomorrow the awarding of the Grand American Handicap. Cleveland, Atlantic City and Chicago are the chief contestants for the shoot.

The association standardized State, zone and national tourneys by deciding on 200 targets for all championship meets.

The Panama Canal Zone was granted a district association and will be represented in the Grand American.

Zone championships were awarded as follows:

Eastern at New Haven, Conn.; Southern at Atlanta, Ga.; Great Lakes at Minneapolis, Minn.; Prairie at Huron, S. D.; Pacific Coast at Tacoma, Wash. No dates were set.

TO RESUME SCHOOL MEETS.

Five Tests Scheduled for Today in P. S. A. L. Swimming Tourney.

The scholastic dual swimming meet tournament, interrupted because of the holidays, will be resumed this afternoon in the Columbia University pool, when a series of five interschool meets will be conducted under the auspices of the Public Schools Athletic League. Three schools are deadlocked for supremacy in the tournament, and it is expected that today's eighth instalment of contests will cut the knot.

The teams leading for premier laurels are Townsend Harris Hall, Stuyvesant and Erasmus Hall. Representatives of these schools have each scored six victories and sustained one setback, for a total of 12 points. De Witt Clinton H. S. is fourth, with five victories, one defeat and one tied meet, for a total of 11 points. The other schools entered, in the order of their point standing, are High School of Commerce, 8 points; Manual Training H. S., 5; Flushing H. S., 4; Evander Childs H. S., 4; Boys' H. S., 2, and Richmond Hill H. S., 0.

TAR HEELS TO MEET YALE.

North Carolina Football Team Is Again on Schedule With Elis.

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., Jan. 7.—For the third successive year the North Carolina Tar Heels will meet Yale in football. The 1921 schedule, announced by Graduate Manager Charles T. Woollen, contains exactly the same games as last year. The Yale game will be played in the Bowl on Oct. 8. The full schedule follows:

Oct. 1, Wake Forest, Chapel Hill; 8, Yale, New Haven; 15, South Carolina, Columbia; 20, North Carolina State, Raleigh; 29, Maryland, Baltimore.

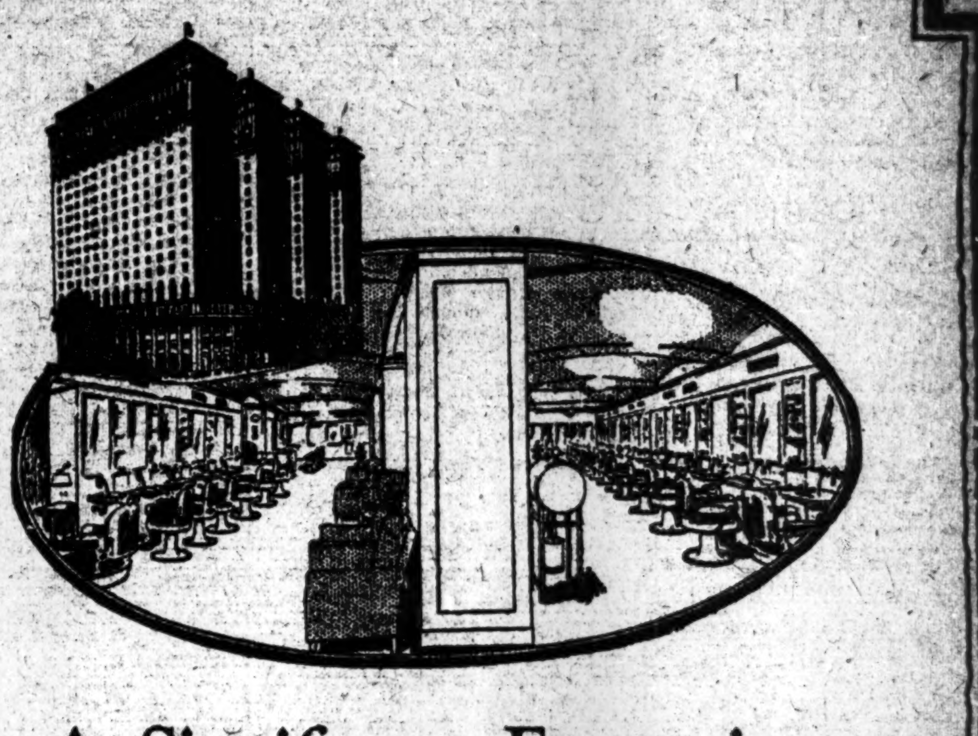
Nov. 5, V. M. I., place unsettled; 12, Davidson, place unsettled; 24, Virginia, Chapel Hill.

To Meet in Pioneer Ring.

A pair of preliminary boxers will graduate to the ranks of star-bout performers this evening at the Pioneer Sporting Club on East Twenty-fourth Street. The lads are Frankie Edwards, east side boxer, and Johnny Curtain of Jersey City. The boxers will be opponents in the principal bout of fifteen rounds. Edwards and Curtain recently furnished an exciting contest in a ten-round preliminary bout at the East Twenty-fourth Street Club, and Matchmaker Charlie Doesserick decided to rematch them over the limit route. Bobby Lyons of the Bronx and Harry Watson, a British welterweight, will be opponents in the ten-round semi-final.

To Lead Penn State Eleven.

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Jan. 7.—George Snell of Reading, Pa., was today elected captain of the 1921 Pennsylvania State football team. He plays at fullback.



A Significant Expansion

When the Hotel Pennsylvania opened its doors in January, 1919, its prestige was at once established.

For the fact that it was Statler-operated was accepted as sufficient evidence that its guests would be accorded service of the highest character.

Its opening day also marked the inception of service in the very complete barber shop.

When it was found to be a Terminal shop, it was immediately established in the public mind; New York knew that the service would be the finest. The shop was busy from the very first day.

As originally designed it was a big, commodious shop. But Terminal Service—always of uniform excellence—increased its clientele so rapidly that its capacity was soon overtaxed. So we had to provide for immediate enlargement.

This enlargement is now a reality, with thirty-six chairs in operation. Its personnel comprises ninety-four well trained members. The high type of service which has made this enlargement necessary makes it essential for us to maintain large establishments at the Waldorf-Astoria and Hotel Commodore.

What is true of our shops at these three famous hostelries is likewise true of all Terminal Barber Shops. Both by inclination and through habit every Terminal attache is intent upon maintaining the high standard of service to which Terminal patrons are accustomed. There is constantly present an enthusiastic spirit of co-operation and mutual helpfulness which we have found to be as valuable as mechanical skill. There is complete understanding of the customer's individual needs. And there is constant effort to excel.

Such endeavor begets superiority; and superiority begets appreciation. And public recognition of our aims and accomplishments has been a vital factor in the active growth of this institution.

The more exacting you are the more you will value Terminal service. It is freely acknowledged to be an extraordinary service; yet it comes to you at ordinary prices.

The world's largest barber shop will be on New York's most famous corner.

FINANCIAL MARKETS

Another General Recovery in Stocks—Money Rates Unchanged—Liberty Bonds Still Higher.

In the two branches of the financial markets which have thus far appeared to present the line of least resistance to a January recovery, the week's advance continued vigorously yesterday. In stocks, the day's upward movement brought net gains running in some active shares to 4 and 6 points; in Liberty bonds the day's highest prices were ½ to 1 point above Thursday's closings and 2½ to 2¾ above the final figures of last week. One must go back to the early days of November to match yesterday's prices for most of these war loans; the December declines had all been canceled several days ago.

Both the rise in stocks and the rise in Liberty bonds occurred again without any yielding in the rates for money. Under all the circumstances, with request for money either on call or time at a very low ebb and with merchants' requirements heavily curtailed by the trade inaction, this persistence is not least unusual. Precedent, it will again be recalled, has uniformly fulfilled expectation of a sharp reaction of rates in January after an Autumn of Wall Street liquidation; even, in fact, after a disastrous October or November panic. Perhaps today's statement of the New York Federal Reserve Bank will explain this week's anomaly.

On the Stock Exchange it seemed at the start that the groups of recent professional speculators for the decline were disposed to resist the rise in prices. The somewhat over-familiar manoeuvre was employed of violent concentrated attempts to force down the price of two or three outstanding stocks while others were recovering. But the spell was apparently broken; declines of 1 to 2 points which were effected by this speculative selling were followed by quick recoveries, which carried the weakest stocks 3 to 6 points above their earlier low prices. Even the railway shares, which had held back in the first stages of recovery, ended by making respectable net advances.

How much further such general recovery can reasonably go under all the present circumstances depends on considerations which are not yet wholly clear; such as the relative amount of securities which were sold through necessity last month and which the sellers neither will nor can buy back. It also depends, for the time at any rate, on the extent to which financial sentiment has been distinctly changed. The recovery thus far attained has come without the stimulus, often present at this season, of a spectacular fall in money rates; therefore it cannot surely be said now the mood of the financial community would be influenced if the reduction of rates were to come in next week's money market; or if, for reasons not at present clear, it were not to come at all. It may or may not have had a bearing on our market that rates in London both for day-to-day loans and for short discounts were again fractionally advanced yesterday, and that the reductions made in the first day or two of the month have now been altogether canceled.

The sterling exchange market, after losing yesterday about half of its advance of the day before, resumed its upward movement yesterday and closed with a net gain of 3¼ cents. Continental exchange moved similarly, but none of the rates got fully back to Wednesday afternoon's high level. Yesterday's market showed pretty clearly that the tendency to recovery is still dominant, though not at the break-neck pace of two days ago. In older days the course of these exchanges at this time of year would depend largely on the relative strength of the European and American money markets. This consideration may yet have its influence; it may have been one reason for the tightening of money rates in the last few days by London bankers.

MONEY.

FRIDAY, JAN. 7, 1921.

Demand funds on the Stock Exchange ruled all day at 7 per cent. Time funds continued unchanged on mixed collateral, all dates, borrowers bidding 7 per cent., with offers at 7½ per cent. On all industrials, all dates, the bid was 7½ per cent., with lending banks offering funds at 8 per cent. Prime merchants' paper still discounts at 7¾ per cent., but the bulk of the day's business went at 8 per cent. No change was noted in rates for bankers' acceptances.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE.

Market Quiets in the Afternoon, but Early Gains Are Maintained.

Transactions in the foreign exchange market yesterday quieted down considerably in the afternoon, but the strength which was evidenced in the forenoon was well maintained, so far as quoted rates were concerned, in the second half of the day. Business opened with an active demand, inspired probably by the reaction late on Thursday, and for the first two hours trading was on a good scale. Cables from London quoted the market substantially above Thursday's final prices and there appeared to be an urgent demand for bills. This buying sent rates up materially and these advanced levels were well held after the more pressing demand had been satisfied.

In the morning sterling worked up to $3.64¼ for a gain of an even 4 cents. Later it reacted to $3.62½, but closed at $3.63½. French francs did the best of any of the Latin exchanges, showing a net gain at the close of 5¾ points. Belgian francs were up 5 points at the final and the others, Italian, Swiss and Spanish, all showed gains on the day. Scandinavians also moved forward, but the Central Europeans were about unchanged, with the exception of Rumanian rates, which were up 4 points. South Americans were unaltered and Chinese were down from ¾ to 1½ cents.

TOPICS IN WALL STREET.

Taking Profits.

Now and again talk is heard of punishment of the shorts in the stock market advance which has been taking place this week. Those who are long of stock, or those, perchance, who have no commitments, are rather free to state as one stock or another goes up a few points, that the shorts are "paying." Every one is aware that there are always some who go short at the bottom, but it is considered to be stretching the facts a bit to say that in any such upturn as has been recorded the major portion of the short account has been punished—has covered at a loss. Generally speaking, Wall Street is of the opinion that the shorts are garnering profits on the covering, much of the selling having been done at substantially higher levels. Furthermore, there is an advantage in taking profits on the short side now which did not exist in December. To have covered then would have forced the statement of profits into 1920 tax returns, whereas covering now gives the speculator for the decline the use of the money for more than a year, since the profits are 1921 income.

Reports for 1920.

Before long reports for last year will begin to flood the financial district, and there is more than a wee bit of interest in the character of the display. The last half of 1920 was of such an uncertain character that some interesting figures may make their appearance. For instance, there is still a deal of doubt as to just how much the industrial companies have lost in the way of inventory impairment due to falling commodity prices. Where such losses were suffered it will be interesting to decipher what relation they bore to income for the year, also whether it was possible to write off all of the losses.

The Passing of Dividends.

It has been one of the strange facts in connection with the recent passing of dividends by industrial companies that in almost every instance the announcement of the elimination of disbursements has been accompanied by a statement which read somewhat in this wise: "The directors of the company have decided to omit the quarterly dividend due at this time. The company has enjoyed a prosperous year and is in a stronger position than ever before, but in view of the uncertainty which exists it is deemed wise to conserve cash resources." Now and again some few companies have departed from the stipulated formula, even to the point of announcing that the dividend was not earned, but not so the majority. The question is naturally being asked, Why, if the position was so strong, was it necessary to pass the dividend at the first sign of trouble?

Unlendable Money.

The call money market stays at 7 per cent. even if funds are unlendable at that figure. Yesterday, for example, one banker complained that he had had very little success in placing money at 7 per cent. on the Stock Exchange and that he "had millions" to lend. How long this wholly artificial situation will be allowed to last is not known, but probably it will obtain until some banker, more venturesome than his brother bankers, "puts his foot through the rate" and lends some money at 6 per cent., or 5 per cent., or some other low rate. Then, doubtless, they all will follow suit.

Financial Fictions.

Time money, which is almost a thing of yesteryear, continues to enjoy quotation with charming regularity. It always is possible to get a rate on time funds for any maturity you may desire, but getting the money—or wanting it—is something else. Yesterday, however, one money broker refused to quote. "Time money," he said, "is a financial fiction."

The Rise in Liberties.

The upward reaction in Liberty bonds has been attracting more than passing interest the last few days and bond men, quite well satisfied with the situation, are, nevertheless, wondering how much of the rise is due to a resumption of corporate buying after the long period of corporate selling; how much to institutional buying, as distinguished from buying by commercial and industrial corporations, and how much to reinvestment by individuals who sold at the end of December in order to record losses for tax returns. Probably it never will be known what proportion each represents, for the experiences of different bond houses are widely apart.

Bank Stocks.

Bank stocks are coming back into popularity with that class of investor which does not look for "5 points overnight." It is more or less natural, as a matter of fact, for bank stocks to be popular at this time of year, for now the banks are coming out with their year-end statements and, if one has the formula, it is possible to obtain a fairly accurate line on bank profits. In 1920 most banks profited handsomely; said profits are now finding their way into undivided profits and surplus. Also, the fact that most bank stockholders are sophisticated enough to sell for tax record purposes, and did so last month, thereby depressing values out of reason with the inherent worth of the securities, may be having something to do with the upward movement now.

Working Conditions.

While no formal announcement was made after the meeting of member roads of the Association of Railway Executives in the New Haven Board Room at the Grand Central Terminal yesterday, it was learned in authoritative quarters that the meeting approved plans regarding the course to be pursued at the meeting on railroad working conditions before the United States Railroad Labor Board in Chicago next Monday. In other words, the railroad executives are ready to present their side of the question when the hearing begins. The opinion prevails among some railroad managers that the board will adjudicate the question of working conditions after a full consideration of all of the facts and that the decision will be a fair one when it is handed down.

Gas Manufacturing Costs.

According to statistics which have been prepared by the American Gas Association a group of twenty-five companies operating in fourteen States have experienced an increase in the average revenue for every 1,000 feet of gas produced from 1914 to 1920 of 24 cents. In the same period manufacturing costs increased on the average of 44½ cents a thousand feet of gas. In 1920 the net income from these companies on every thousand feet of gas made and sold was 18 cents under the average for 1914. The factors which dominate in the increase in cost of production are the higher prices which prevail for gas oil, coal and coke the average for the twenty companies per thousand feet of gas produced in 1920 being 36 more than in 1914.

FRANCE WANTS BIG NEW LOANS HERE

1921 Budget for Needs Here Will Be Over $100,000,000, May Reach $200,000,000.

AWAITS REPUBLICAN RULE

Authorities Will Make One Operation Total—$100,000,000 Issue Expected Soon.

French requirements in the American market for the current year will be considerably above $100,000,000, and it is possible that they will total in the neighborhood of $200,000,000. As much of this as is possible will be financed here by the flotation of new loans, and it is expected that at least one offering of $100,000,000 will be undertaken within the next few months.

French authorities are at present engaged in the attempt to budget their American requirements for 1921, so as to be in position to present a comprehensive program to American bankers. How soon this work will be completed is not known, and it is considered possible that no definite decision will be reached until after March, when the new Federal Administration will be in power. In waiting for this the French would simply be following the lines of expediency, as whatever is done here for the benefit of the French Government will, in all probability, be done with the knowledge, and at least the informal approval, of the Washington authorities.

There are four principal items concerned with the French budget of American requirements. The first of these has to do with the payment of the so-called Three Cities loan, which will require between $20,000,000 and $21,000,000 on Feb. 1. It is stated that the French authorities now have more than sufficient funds to take care of this obligation without any financing whatever, but are anxious to include the transaction in the general budget.

There is also the $50,000,000 City of Paris loan which matures on Oct. 15 next. Thus far this loan has not been disturbed, but it is understood to be the intention to start the retirement, by open market purchases, at a near date, so that the outstanding amount will be greatly reduced by the maturity date.

Funds to finance the payment for grain already contracted for is a third principal item in the budget, and probably the most uncertain item of all at the moment. No accurate estimate of how much this will require is obtainable at the present time.

A fourth item is the interest provision on notes aggregating about $400,000,000 given by the French Government to that of the United States in payment of military supplies purchased by the former. This will require upwards of $20,000,000.

There will be other items to be arranged for during the year, and the French authorities desire to have the entire operation gathered together into a complete total so that the whole amount may be financed in one or, at the most, two, transactions. This being the case, it was said yesterday, the French are not likely to attempt the flotation here of any loan for less than $100,000,000, and the chances are that when the loan is announced it will be for this sum or more. Nothing, however, will be done until the bankers here are convinced that a loan flotation will be successful. There is considerable optimism, in view of the great success of the French $100,000,000 loan of last September.

RIO GRANDE RUMOR DENIED.

Official Says Bondholders' Stock Won't Get 50 Per Cent. Cut.

Following the circulation of a rumor in the financial district yesterday that under the reorganization plan for the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad refunding and adjustment bonds were to be wiped out, holders getting only 50 per cent. in preferred stock of the new company's preferred stock, an official of the Western Pacific Railroad, who is working on the plan, issued the following statement:

"It has never been proposed that the holders of the refunding and the adjustment bonds were to reduce their holdings by 50 per cent. and then accept in exchange for their reduced holdings an equal amount of preferred stock. The plan, as outlined in the letter of Nov. 1 to Western Pacific stockholders, stated that the committee representing the refunding bonds had agreed to recommend a reduction of the bonded debt to the extent of 50 per cent. and the substitution of 7 per cent. preferred stock in lieu of such bonds, while the committee representing the adjustment bonds had agreed to accept an offer to exchange such 7 per cent. bonds for 4 per cent. 10-year notes of the Western Pacific Railroad Corporation."

GIVES INVESTMENT LIST.

U. S. Trust Co. Itemizes All Its Stocks and Bonds.

Publication of an itemized list of stock and bond investments as part of the statement of condition, is an innovation introduced by the United States Trust Company in its most recent report. The display, which is said to be one of the most complete ever made, gives exact descriptions of the various securities held by the institution. It shows their rates, maturity dates, par value of each issue owned, book value, price paid and the rate of yield.

In the summary the average yield on the $10,489,780, book value, of securities owned by the United States Trust Company is reported as 8.46 per cent. Not only does the list give present and potential customers and stockholders an accurate idea of the institution's investments, but it is to serve as a guide to individual investors.

FOREIGN STOCK MARKETS.

Government Bonds Up Again at London, Lower at Paris.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—Old 2½ per cent. consols ¼ point higher at 47, British 5 per cent. war loan ¼ lower at 83¼, 4½ per cent. war loan unchanged at 77¼.

Rand Mines 2½, De Beers 13½, both unchanged.

PARIS, Jan. 7.—Prices were firm on the Bourse today. Three per cent. rentes 20 centimes lower at 58 francs; 5 per cent. war loan unchanged at 85 francs 20 centimes.

Exchange on London 27 centimes higher at 61 francs 5 centimes per sovereign; American dollars were quoted at 16 francs 84½ centimes, against 16 francs 63 centimes yesterday.

LESS COPPER PRODUCED.

December Figures Show Big Drop Compared With November.

Copper production figures for December indicate a decided curtailment in operations, as compared with November. In the porphyry group Utah's production declined from the November level by 1,600,000 pounds, Chino's production dropped by over 1,000,000 pounds, Ray's by a like amount, and the production of Nevada was 950,000 pounds less than in November.

The Miami production was down by more than 100,000 pounds and Anaconda produced 600,000 pounds less than in the preceding month.

DANISH BANK SUSPENDS.

The Nordisk Was Organized In 1918 and Had Few Credits Here.

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, Jan. 7.—The Nordisk Bank here suspended payment today.

The Nordisk Bank, in Copenhagen, which suspended payment today, was organized in February, 1918, and is regarded here as a small institution.

Its New York correspondent is the National City Bank. The Copenhagen institution had few, if any, credits in this country, it was said in financial circles.

B. & O. President Misquoted.

Through error it was stated in these columns recently that Daniel Willard, President of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, felt that traffic in 1921 would be less, "but believed that new rates and declining prices, with increased efficiency, would not be enough to offset the effect of business recession on net earnings." What Mr. Willard did say was: "I expect that the new higher rates, together with declining prices and increasing efficiency, will all tend to bring about an increased amount of net. Whether that increase will be more than offset by declining business I do not know, but I am inclined to think not."

Increase Envelope Firm's Capital.

PORTLAND, Me., Jan. 7.—Stockholders of the United States Envelope Company today voted to increase the common stock from $1,000,000 to $4,000,000, making the total capitalization $8,000,000. Part of the new capital will be used for additions now under way at the company's factories at Springfield, Mass.

Road Wants $680,000 Loan.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The Wichita & Northwestern Railway Company applied today to the Interstate Commerce Commission for a fifteen-year loan of $680,000, secured by $855,000 first mortgage bonds, to meet maturing indebtedness and for road improvements.

BUSINESS CHEERFUL AS TRADE PICKS UP

Bradstreet's Finds All Circles Expecting More Activity in Coming Weeks.

DRY GOODS SELL BETTER

Improvement in Most Lines Not Pronounced, but Note of Confidence Prevails.

Slight but perceptible improvement is noted in general trade by the weekly reviews of business conditions. There is a more cheerful tone, and wholesalers are talking of betterment in sales. In the industries there have been many resumptions after the closing down late in 1920, and in more than a few places where working hours were reduced old schedules have been resumed. Bradstreet's says:

"With inventories which, because of the drastic price declines of 1920 have required more than ordinary care and thought, out of the way, the trade world has turned to the work of getting new business in a more cheerful tone of mind and with rather better results than might some time ago have been expected. In some cases the increased cheerfulness manifested is more a matter of tone than of actually enlarged operations, but in others and, in fact, a majority of instances something like actual progress is discernible. For one thing wholesale trade in dry goods, more especially cottons, but also in silks and hosiery, has expanded in quite a few primary markets, the result partly of retailers replenishing depleted stocks, partly of recent deep cuts, especially in colored cottons, having brought out more confident buying, albeit in small lots and for immediate delivery and partly because of the growth of the belief that these last cuts have gone the limit and that lower prices are not to be expected."

Dun's Review has the following to say:

"Extension of the recent improvement in dry goods conditions marks the opening week of the new year. The gain in distribution is not pronounced, but it has arisen from an actual need for merchandise, and there is an absence of the unwholesome speculation that has developed on occasions in the past. Further decisive price revisions have occurred on staple domestic lines, and business in some divisions where prices have reached unusually attractive levels has been the largest witnessed in months."

ROAD HEADS SEE END OF LABOR BOARDS

Railway Executives, at Year's First Meeting, Feel Their Need Has Passed.

ASK ADVANCE ON GUARANTY

Want Such Payments by Treasury Permitted—Cuyler Gets a Testimonial.

At the first 1921 meeting of member roads of the Association of Railway Executives yesterday in the New Haven Board Room in the Grand Central Terminal routine business was reviewed, and while no formal announcement was made it is understood that the meeting approved of the steps which will be taken when the United States Railroad Labor Board begins its hearings on working conditions in Chicago on Monday.

There was a general discussion of the labor situation, and it was presumed that the association members have agreed that the question of national boards of adjustment, which has been stressed by labor chiefs since the roads were returned to private operation, is closed as far as they are concerned.

The national adjustment boards were a direct result of the war emergency, and now that that emergency has passed and the Transportation act aims at a decentralization of railroad control the boards must go. At least this is the opinion of many executives.

Another phase of the situation which is understood to have received the consideration of the meeting was action regarding the payment of advance moneys on extended guaranty accounts before a final settlement is reached between the roads and the Government. In this connection it is the sense of the association that legislation will have to be enacted which will allow the Treasury Department to make such advance payments to the carriers.

Some railroad managers have asserted that they cleared up the matter of back pay resulting from the July, 1920, wage award of the Labor Board in the belief that they would, of course, receive advance payments on account of moneys due them as standard return during the six months period of extended standard return. As a result some find themselves drained of cash which otherwise would have been conserved.

The executives also considered the question of a settlement of Canadian and American railroad balances, which has become a somewhat formidable one because of the depreciation in Canadian exchange. This matter has been referred to railroad accountants, who will endeavor to reach some agreement with the Canadian roads.

Thomas De Witt Cuyler, Chairman of the association, received from the members a testimonial to his services to the American railways and the American public. Accompanying the testimonial, which was engrossed, was an old English silver salver.

SUNDRY CIVIL BILL PASSED BY HOUSE

Appropriations for Operation of Emergency Fleet Corporation Restored.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The Sundry Civil Appropriation bill, carrying approximately $383,271,291, was passed today by the House. No effort was made to put into the bill an appropriation of $10,000,000 for work on the Wilson dam at Muscle Shoals, Alabama.

Representative Gallivan, Democrat, of Massachusetts, made an unsuccessful attempt to have the bill re-committed for an amendment to provide specifically that not more than $200,000 of the $600,000 appropriated for the salaries of Assistants to the Attorney General should be used for enforcement of the Volstead act.

The House restored items without which the Emergency Fleet Corporation would have been without funds for operating expenses after July 1.

ADOPT 48-HOUR WEEK.

Paterson Ribbon Mills Also Announce Drop in Wages.

Special to The New York Times.

PATERSON, N. J., Jan. 7.—Following the lead of the associated industries of Paterson, which announced yesterday that a 48-hour work week would be established in the silk mills here on Jan. 17, the ribbon manufacturers of that organization announced today that they would put the 48-hour week in effect next Monday. They also announced "a moderate readjustmentp of the wage scale," consisting of reductions of 20 per cent. on piece work and 10 per cent. on weekly wages. About 5,000 men and women are employed in the ribbon industry.

Many of the mills are closed and those operating are running only three days a week.

The various workers' unions have called meetings for next week, when they will formally consider the employers' proposition. George Starr, business agent of the Warpers' Union, and Evan Thomas of the Amalgamated Silk Workers' Union, said the workers would fight any move for longer hours or lower wages.

MEXICAN BANKERS CHEERED.

They Believe Backbone of Financial Crisis Is Broken.

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 7.—Leading bankers here asserted today to the correspondent of The Associated Press that "the backbone of the financial crisis has been broken." Their statements apparently are borne out by the diminishing lines of depositors before banks and also by absence of the excitement which prevailed for the last four days.

Reassuring articles which are appearing in the local newspapers are having a quieting effect. Most of the banks reported this morning that large sums were being returned to their vaults. The Banque Française Due Mexique has survived the run, and will remain open until midnight tonight and Saturday night to pay all depositors.

TO RETURN PROPERTY.

Bill for Restoration to Germans Will Be Offered by Senator King.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Senator King, Democrat, of Utah, completed today a bill to restore to German citizens all property taken over by the Alien Property Custodian during the war. He plans to introduce it Monday.

A special court for the consideration of the claims would be created by the measure and the United States would not have to pay more than the $700,000,000 realized from such property as has been sold.

NERVOUS MARKET IN CHICAGO GRAINS

Armour Support Postpones a Smash in Corn—Wheat Slumps, Rises, but Off at Close.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—Selling of wheat, credited to Livermore, more than offset the effect of buying over 1,000,000 bushels March by seaboard exporters; and, with local sentiment generally bearish, prices declined 4c from the previous day's close, only to recover part of the loss later and closed with net losses of 2¼@2¾c, May finishing 7c under March, against 6½c the previous day. The Armour interests supported the corn market, but it closed ⅝@¾c lower, while oats were ⅛@¼c lower. Rye gained ¼@½c.

The effect of the heavy short covering of Thursday was quite apparent at the opening. Many traders went long overnight and found the market without support when they tried to sell. There is a lack of outside trade and speculation is not large, so that prices are easily influenced. The wheat market is regarded as a two-sided proposition, and, for the time being, disposition is to go rather slow.

Part of the early selling was based on a report, credited to the United States Department of Agriculture, that was construed as indicating an exportable surplus of 261,000,000 bushels of wheat for the two countries. This report was without foundation, and private estimates of late suggest that the total will not materially exceed 205,000,000 bushels. An Australian cable estimates the surplus at not to exceed 80,000,000 bushels.

There was also some selling on a revamped interview with Julius H. Barnes, ex-President of the grain corporation, in which he was quoted as opposing the proposed emergency tariff bills. It is generally believed that fully 75 per cent. of the wheat that Canada will ship into the United States for milling purposes has already arrived and that, before the emergency tariff goes into effect, if it becomes a law, mills will have secured all choice heavy wheat they will need. A car of No. 2 Manitoba sold at Minneapolis today at 25 cents over March. From one-third to one-half of the receipts at Minneapolis are from Canada.

Export sales of wheat in all positions today were reported at 1,000,000 bushels, mainly hard Winters via the Gulf to Germany, which was regarded as rather significant, in view of the recent reports claiming Argentine was offering wheat at 15 to 20 cents under American grain.

It required constant support to prevent a smash in the corn market, and unless there is a change in the attitude of the producer, a lower range of prices may be witnessed. Hedging sales are increasing, and corn is being headed to Chicago from South Dakota and Minnesota. Indications are for a larger movement from the country next week, with considerable accumulation in stocks at terminal markets. Eastern demand is slow.

It is expected the next bank report will make a somewhat less favorable showing in regard to savings accounts. There have been rather heavy withdrawals of late by the so-called "tin box brigade," the money being used for the purchase of stocks and bonds. The Armour & Co. weekly review says the demand for meats continues good, but collections are still slow in the West and South.

Receipts of wheat at primary points aggregated 1,002,000 bushels, against 830,000 a week ago and 835,000 last year; shipments, 768,000 bushels, with week ago 691,000 and year ago 612,000.

Receipts of corn, 1,002,000 bushels, were the same as wheat. A week ago they were 721,000 bushels, and a year ago 770,000. Shipments were 386,000 bushels, week ago 399,000, and year ago 457,000.

Today's Chicago prices for the principal commodities were as follows:

TO FIX 'INVESTED CAPITAL.'

Supreme Court Hears Arguments on Case of La Belle Iron Works.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Arguments were begun today in the Supreme Court in the "Invested Capital Case," characterized by Solicitor General Frierson as "the most important legal suit, from the standpoint of Government finances, in a decade." Whether the Government will be forced to return hundreds of millions of dollars paid as income taxes depends on the outcome.

The immediate cause at issue before the court is the appeal of La Belle Iron Works from a ruling of the Bureau of Internal Revenue refusing to allow it to treat as invested capital the value of ore lands which it had purchased in 1904 for $190,000 and which by 1917 had increased in value to $10,000,000. The Government agents maintained that the increase in realty was "profit," and should be taxed as such. The company added the increase to its capital invested and claimed the normal deduction of 7 per cent., paying under protest the additional tax of $1,081,000.

The question of whether a stock dividend is taxable arose in a new form in the present case, the increased value of the ore lands having been represented on the books of the corporation, according to the Government's brief, since 1912 by "stock issued as a stock dividend."

The wide interest displayed in the case in the business world was illustrated by the number of requests for permission to appear as "friends of the court." Those granted permission to file briefs included the Long Bell Lumber Company of Kansas City, the National Lumber Manufacturers' Association and the Kansas City Structural Steel Company.

Increased value of the ore lands is comparable to the increase which occurs to the value of a herd of cattle which when purchased included a number of calves, the appellant argued. "Profits" was defined to the court as the actual net amount of gain made by a business between any two dates.

"The appellant's theory is that the capital invested in its ore lands is not what is paid for them, but is to be measured by the present value of the lands," Mr. Frierson said, "but the Government contends, on the other hand, that the act clearly defines the 'invested capital' as the amount received in exchange for its shares of stock plus any 'paid in or earned surplus' used in the business."

$11,000,000 A YEAR ASKED FOR FORESTS

$1,000,000 to Fight Fires Included in Program Urged on House Subcommittee.

PINCHOT TELLS OF LOSSES

Lumber, Paper and Other Organizations Back the Proposed Legislation for Conservation.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—A million dollar Federal fund for fighting forest fires in co-operation with States was urged today before a House subcommittee by more than a score of representatives of commercial organizations, forest conservation societies and others.

Gifford Pinchot, former Chief Forester of the United States, said the amount of wood used was increasing every year, and that with the constant loss by fire the problem of protection was one demanding prompt "help and solution."

The hearing was on the National Forestry Program Bill, which calls for the expenditure of $11,000,000 a year for the protection and development of forests, and was held before a subcommittee on appropriations.

Importance of the proposed legislation to the industries of the country cannot be over estimated, according to R. S. Kellogg, Chairman of the National Forest Program Committee.

"This is a paper age and in the United States, at least, a newspaper age," said Chairman Kellogg, who is also Secretary of the News Print Service Bureau. "From an annual consumption of three pounds of news-print paper per capita in 1880 we have gone to 35 pounds in 1920. The news-print paper produced in the United States and Canada this year, if put in the form of a standard roll 73 inches wide, such as is used by many of the large newspapers, would unwind 13,000,000 miles. Our daily papers have a circulation in excess of 28,000,000 copies, and there are more than 100 dailies between the Atlantic and Pacific whose circulation exceeds 100,000 copies, and some of them have several times that number.

"If paper is indispensable our forests are still more indispensable, for in addition to supplying the raw material for all the news-print paper and most of the material for all other kinds of paper, except the highest grades our dependence upon forest products for countless articles of necessity and convenience is equally evident. The supply of standing timber in the United States is only 40 per cent. of what it was 100 years ago, and this remaining stand is being drawn upon at a more rapid rate than it is being reproduced. Unlike our other basic raw materials, however, such as coal, oil and metals, timber need not be mined and exhausted, but can and should be harvested and reproduced like other products of the soil.

"For this reason, it is especially encouraging to note the recent agreement of the great lumber manufacturing and wood-using industries of the country with the American Forestry Association and the American Newspaper Publishers' Association upon a plan for an adequate and permanent forest policy in harmony with the recommendations of the United States Forest Service. This marks the most constructive step yet taken to bring about the continuous production of timber upon all land suited for that purpose throughout the country and legislation to accomplish this will receive hearty and widespread support from professional foresters, business interests and citizens everywhere, who are alive to the vital importance of maintaining the supply of one of our most necessary raw materials."

The proposed legislation has been endorsed by the National Lumber Manufacturers' Association, the American Forestry Association, American Newspaper Publishers' Association, National Wholesale Lumber Dealers' Association, Southern Pine Association, Western Forestry and Conservation Association, American Paper and Pulp Association, United States Forest Service, Society for the Protection of New Hampshire Forests, National Forest Fire Protection Committee.

CHARGE CROWN LAND CUTTING.

New Brunswick Officials Say Americans Are Shipping Out Pulpwood.

FREDRICTON, N. B., Jan. 7.—Charges that American lumber companies operating in York County along the New Brunswick-Maine international boundary were illegally cutting pulpwood on Crown lands and exporting it to the United States were made today at a meeting of the York County Council.

Councilor Wetmore of North Lake declared that the wood was hauled through private woods to the border so as to make it appear that it was cut on privately owned lands and therefore eligible for export. He demanded that the Provincial Government take steps to stop this practice.

Councilor Wetmore said that as the United States was placing a heavy discount upon the Canadian dollar, the time had come for "Canadian citizens to strike back in every possible way."

Plans for increasing the assessed valuation of wild lands in the county were discussed. It was stated that these properties were being rapidly bought up by American companies at advancing prices.

Warden Everett declared during the discussion that "our resources are being taken out of the country while we sit back and watch it going on."

ALLEGES IMMIGRANT BRIBES.

Representative Siegel Charges Some Agents Abroad Are Corrupt.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Charges of corruption on the part of Department of Justice agents investigating conditions at ports abroad where aliens get passage to the United States were made today by Representative Siegel, Republican, of New York, before the Senate Immigration Committee.

He said he knew of an instance where such an agent over his signature and giving the department's telephone number, wrote that a certain alien could get his passport viséd if he sent $75 to a Washington lawyer. Representative Siegel said the Johnson bill to check immigration for a year was "un-American" and projected as a cure for a "non-existent evil." Of the total immigrant arrivals during the last fiscal year, he said, 191,000 had left America and were returning, bringing their wives and children.

$6,000,000 LOST IN TOLLS.

Governor Harding Says Canal Imposts Benefit Foreigners.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Present methods of measuring ship tonnage at the Panama Canal for the imposition of tolls benefit British and other foreign owned shipping, Governor Harding of the Panama Canal Zone told the Senate Interoceanic Canal Committee today in advocating a bill proposing new rules. Freeing American shipping from all tolls was discussed.

Governor Harding said that if tolls had been levied on actual tonnage instead of net tonnage since the opening of the Canal the income received by the United States would have been $6,000,000 greater and foreign ships would have paid most of it.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT OF Deposit Agreement, Dated January 20, 1916, for First and Refunding Mortgage 4% Gold Bonds Due September 1, 2004, of MISSOURI, KANSAS AND TEXAS RAILWAY COMPANY.

To Depositors under the Above Mentioned Deposit Agreement:

The undersigned Committee, acting under the Deposit Agreement of January 20, 1916, proposes in the manner provided in Article Ninth of the said Agreement, the following modification and amendment of Article Sixth, paragraph five, so that as so modified and amended it shall read as follows:

"A period of one year from January 20, 1921, said period ending on January 20, 1922, is hereby specified as the period within which a plan or agreement of reorganization or adjustment shall be adopted or approved and notice of such adoption or approval published; in default of which Depositors, or any of them, upon compliance with the provisions of this agreement as upon a termination thereof will be entitled to a return of the deposited bonds."

The Committee accordingly hereby gives notice to all Depositors under such agreement that it has filed with Guaranty Trust Company of New York, 140 Broadway, New York City, the Depositary under said Agreement, a copy of such amendment, being a modification of said paragraph, and that the foregoing is a true copy thereof.

Depositors are referred to the provisions of the Deposit Agreement of January 20, 1916, with respect to the adoption of amendments thereto, the filing of objections to amendments, and the rights and terms of withdrawals in case registered holders representing a majority in amount of the then outstanding certificates thereunder shall file objections in the time and manner so provided. Unless desiring to object to the said amendment, no Depositor needs to take any action in response to this notice.

COTTON SEE-SAWS, BUT RISES AT CLOSE

Good Undertone Prevails Despite Irregular Market—Exports Increase.

Yesterday's cotton market was extremely irregular, so far as the price movement was concerned, but the good undertone which has been in evidence for several days past did not disappear and after every setback reasserted itself. At the close the market was up on the day, with January showing an advance of 25 points and October one of 15 points, and the months in between recording net gains of 3 to 5 points.

The start was none too vigorous and rather heavy Southern selling in the first hour depressed the list 19 to about 30 points before any rally occurred. Then the Wall Street houses and some of the other local speculative interests started buying and a sharp upturn was brought about, carrying the list up about 50 points on the average. There was another decline early in the afternoon and another recovery later, and finally the market closed as stated above.

Business was not on an excessively large scale, but it was somewhat better than on some other recent days. At times the market was very active; again trading would taper off to almost nothing, but on the whole there was a good volume turned over. And it was business fairly widely distributed. The trade showed some signs of coming back into the market and to this extent the newly created bulls were encouraged in their position. Trade advices again were of optimistic character.

Exports for the day were well above the recent average, totaling 25,634 bales, mostly to the Continent out of Galveston and minor Texas ports. This brought the week's total clearances up to 183,835 bales, an improvement of about 28,000 over last week's total. Improvement in the foreign exchange market, the revival of the War Finance Corporation and the creation of the Foreign Trade Financing Corporation are factors which the exporters are watching closely.

Yesterday's quotations follow:

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Day.
Jan.	15.95	16.37	15.81	16.24@16.25	16.00
March	14.98	15.44	14.92	15.20	16.17
May	14.94	15.40	14.85	15.18@15.22	15.15
July	15.05	15.55	15.02	15.28@15.34	15.23
Oct.	15.12	15.60	15.12	15.40	15.25

The local market for spot cotton was steady, up 25 points to 16.75c for middling upland; sales, 100 bales.

Southern spot markets were: Galveston, 14c, unchanged; New Orleans, 14c, unchanged; Savannah, 15.50c, up .25; Augusta, 14.13c, unchanged; Memphis, 14c, unchanged; Houston, 14c, unchanged; Little Rock, 14c, unchanged.

Yesterday's cotton statistics were:

	Yesterday.	Last Wk.	Last Yr.
Port receipts	36,279	27,844	61,998
Exports	25,634	32,441	73,626

New York stocks	27,835	24,707	57,495
Port stocks	1,420,557	1,454,308	1,561,017
N. Y. arrivals	......	24	......

Liverpool cables: Spot cotton was quiet at 10.17d for middling. Sales, 3,000 bales, of which 2,000 were American. Imports, 5,000 bales, all American. Futures opened steady, unchanged, to 7 points up and closed steady, 8 to 17 points up on the day. Prices: January, 10.05d; March, 10.16d; May, 10.24d; July, 10.29d. Manchester: Yarns and cloths were in better demand.

COMMODITY MARKETS.

Irregular Trend of Prices in Cash Markets—Foodstuffs Generally Steady.

There was no decided trend to cash prices in the wholesale markets, some of the foodstuffs remaining firm, with other commodities at slight recessions. Wheat, corn and flour were unchanged, while oats dropped ½ a cent a bushel. In the groceries, sugar dropped 10 cents per hundred pounds, eggs advanced 1 cent per dozen, with coffee and butter unchanged. In the provisions, lard was up ¼ of a cent per pound, with beef and pork unchanged. Lead advanced 15 cents per hundred pounds, tin receded ½ of a cent per pound, other metals steady and unchanged. In the textiles, spot cotton was up 25 cents per hundred pounds, printcloths unchanged.

Following are the cash prices for the principal commodities in the wholesale market at the close of business Friday, a week before and a year ago:

Estates Appraised.

RISLEY, JOHN F. (Oct. 5, 1919). Gross estate, $61,975—half interest in the lot at 126 East Seventy-eighth Street, $10,000; cash, $15,042; net estate, $63,012. Emily A. Risley, a sister, is the sole beneficiary. The United States Mortgage and Trust Company is executor. The net appraised estate was found to be $58,355, but an unextinguished half interest in the estate of Mary L. Risley, appraised at $4,657, made the taxable net estate exceed the gross by nearly $3,000.

ROSENCRANTZ, CLARKE M., lawyer (Jan. 13). Gross estate, $213,256—deposits, $23,734; insurance policies, $90,985; credit with Sullivan Cromwell, $30,795; stocks and bonds, $150,080; net estate, $141,897. The son, John Opdyke, a minor, receives the entire estate. The Bankers Trust Company is executor.

STRAUSS, ROSA (May 13, 1919). Gross estate, $27,323—cash and mortgages, $23,785; net estate, $24,049. The estate is largely for Hebrew organizations. Among those in this city are the Hebrew Technical School, the Home for Aged and Infirm Hebrews, the Hebrew Orphan Asylum, $1,000 each; Montefiore Home, $3,000, and the Hebrew Sheltering Guardian, $1,500.

Wills for Probate.

BABCOCK, ALFRED J., of 448 Riverside Drive (Oct. 30). The will bequeaths to the widow, Henrietta B., the entire estate, valued at more than $10,000, in personal property, for life. On her death $20,000 each passes to the testator's two daughters, Lucie Babcock Pastoriza, of 205 Hicks Street, Brooklyn, and Dorothy M. Babcock, residing with her mother. The balance of the estate is to be divided equally between the remaining three children, Earle B. of Paris, Fred R. of Ridgefield, Conn., and Marion Babcock Jones of 2,287 Loring Place, the Bronx.

COON, ELIZABETH M. (Dec. 6). Total estate $4,500. The will gives to the Society for the Relief of Incurable Cancer, $250; Society for the Propagation of the Faith, $250; for the erection of two chapels for poor Indians, $1,000; Catholic Missionary Society, $500; St. Vincent De Paul's Society of St. Stephen's Church, East Twenty-eighth Street, $250; Dominican Sisters Caring for the Sick Poor, of 140 West Sixty-first Street, $500. The cash and one-half the residuary estate. The other half of the residuary estate is to go to the Catholic Board for Work Among the Colored People of America.

THE WEATHER

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Pressure is low over a narrow belt extending from Texas northeastward to the lower lakes, where a disturbance of moderate intensity has its centre. Other parts of the country are covered by high pressure, especially Far Western districts, where it is abnormally high.

There have been rains in the last twenty-four hours in the Ohio Valley, lower lake regions, and the Middle Atlantic States and light snows in South New England and the Central and North Rocky Mountain region.

The temperature has risen throughout the Eastern States and it has fallen considerably over the Plains States and the Central Rocky Mountain region.

In the New England States there will be rain or snow, followed by clearing weather, Saturday and fair weather Sunday, without material change in temperature. In the Middle Atlantic States there will be rains Saturday and partly cloudy and somewhat colder weather Saturday night and Sunday, and in the South Atlantic and East Gulf States the weather will become somewhat unsettled Saturday and be followed by local rains and cooler weather Saturday night and Sunday. In the Ohio Valley and lower lake region the weather will be clearing and colder Saturday and fair Sunday. In the upper lake region the weather will be fair without material change in temperature Saturday or Sunday.

FORECAST FOR TODAY AND SUNDAY.

Northern New England—Snow or rain Saturday, warmer in Maine; Sunday fair.

Southern New England, Eastern New York—Rain, followed by clearing Saturday; Sunday fair, no change in temperature.

New Jersey—Rain Saturday; Sunday probably fair, no change in temperature.

Western New York—Cloudy and colder Saturday; Sunday fair.

The temperature record for the twenty-four hours ended at 11 P. M., taken from the thermometer at the local office of the United States Weather Bureau, is as follows:

	1921.	1920.		1921.	1920.
3 A. M.	25	27	4 P. M.	35	38
6 A. M.	27	30	6 P. M.	35	37
9 A. M.	29	32	9 P. M.	37	36
12 M.	31	38	11 P. M.	40	35

This thermometer is 414 feet above the street level. The average temperature yesterday was 32; for the corresponding date last year it was 33; average on the corresponding date for the last thirty-three years, 30.

The temperature at 8 A. M. yesterday was 28; at 8 P. M. it was 34. Maximum temperature, 38 degrees at 10 P. M.; minimum, 25 degrees at 4:15 A. M. Humidity, 63 per cent. at 8 A. M.; 97 per cent. at 8 P. M.

The barometer at 8 A. M. yesterday registered 30.24 inches; at 8 P. M. it stood at 30.02 inches.

CITY'S SHIPPING LOSS CHARGED TO BENSON

Diversion of Trade Should Be Stopped, Says Owner of Port Publication.

PRAISE FOR HEAD OF DOCKS

Estimate Board Approves Plan for Central Park Memorial to John Purroy Mitchel.

The Board of Estimate at yesterday's meeting received a communication from A. R. Smith, President of the Port of New York Annual, a publication, relative to development of the port. At the invitation of Mayor Hylan, Mr. Smith gave a short outline of his communication. He said that Dock Commissioner Murray Hulbert had done more in the interest of the city's port and pier development than all previous Commissioners.

Mr. Smith took exception to a statement he attributed to Rear Admiral Benson, Chairman of the United States Shipping Board, that the board would divert shipping from New York to other ports.

"He is doing just what he has threatened to do," said Mr. Smith, "and the city should take steps to stop that diversion."

The Dock Commissioner said that the main reason why shipping had been diverted was because the city gave up many of its piers to the Government during the war.

"The City of New York was patriotic enough to do this," he said, "and now the concerns which went away are flooding the office of the Dock Department with applications to get back. When this administration goes out of office we will have more docks than all the rest of the ports in the country."

Mr. Smith said that the owners of wharves were charging excessive rates, and the commerce of the city being held up by profiteers. He said that the way to check high rates was to build more piers.

The board approved preliminary plans of the Mitchel Memorial Committee for a Mall in Central Park in honor of the late John Purroy Mitchel. The tentative plans show that the Mall is to be laid out from east to west opposite the southern boundary of the lower reservoir, 100 feet wide and 600 feet long, and is to be lined by trees. Detailed plans are to be worked out.

Health Commissioner Dr. Royal S. Copeland received $40,000 in special revenue bonds to be used in checking the spread of communicable diseases from Europe.

The board passed a resolution offered by the Mayor last week to petition the Governor and Legislature to enact legislation defining the city's right to appropriate money for the purchase and operation of buses.

SAY CONGRESS RISKS OUR MERCHANT MARINE

Peril to Fleet's Credit Seen if Shipping Board Funds Are Withheld.

All of the shipping interests in the United States are said to be gravely exercised over the report that Congress will withhold appropriations to the Shipping Board until questions regarding its administrations are settled. A formal protest stating that the credit of American tonnage abroad was at stake was issued yesterday by Oakley Wood, Vice President of the Barber Lines, Chairman of the Standard Committee of Managing Agents Agreement, which represents the entire shipping industry of America.

The statement said:

"The shipping industry is considerably agitated over the published reports that no further appropriations will be granted to the Shipping Board for the purposes of operations. This may lead to the board not having available funds to carry on operations all over the world, and gravely impair the credit of the American merchant marine, which may take years to re-establish.

"The question whether the Shipping Board administration of its fleet is satisfactory does not enter into the present situation. The future of the American merchant marine is at stake, because if the board has not available funds to give agents to pay incurred disbursements, ships and cargoes will be detained all over the world, and probably cause claims for damages which will no doubt amount to millions of dollars."

Telegrams from shipping men and importers and exporters interested in the merchant marine are said to have been received in large numbers at the offices of the Shipping association. More than 5,000 of these protests are being sent to Washington because of the advocation by Senator Edge of New Jersey of a $95,000,000 cut in the appropriation, said Mr. Wood.

The committee also sent a telegram of protest to James W. Good, Chairman of the Appropriations Committee of the House of Representatives.

CITY WINS IN GAS SUIT.

Appellate Division Decides Against Brooklyn Concern's $1.40 Rate.

Corporation Counsel John P. O'Brien announced last night that the Appellate Division had decided that the $1.40 rate for gas charged by the Brooklyn Borough Gas Company was invalid, that the lower court was justified in issuing an injunction restraining the company for making the charge, and that the city had a right to intervene in all lighting litigation.

The injunction against the company was issued by Justice Scudder of the Brooklyn Supreme Court on Sept. 10, on the application of Gerald Morrell. Mr. O'Brien explained that the decision of the Appellate Division settled once and for all the right of the city to defend the interests of the people in suits seeking to set aside statutory rates.

Freighter Australplain Floated.

The British freighter Australplain, which went aground on the outer bar of Jones's Inlet, Long Beach, on Wednesday night in the fog, was floated yesterday with the aid of wrecking tugs and towed to the Robins Dry Dock, Brooklyn, for repairs. The United States Coast Guard cutter Seneca arrived alongside the stranded vessel at daylight and ran lines out to prevent the Australplain going further inshore with the wind and tide.

Wants Army Recruiting Stopped.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—A unanimously favorable report was ordered today by the Senate Military Committee on the resolution of Senator New, Republican, of Indiana, directing the Secretary of War to stop army enlistments until the total number of enlisted men is reduced to 175,000.

Officer in Manila a Suicide.

MANILA, P. I., Jan. 7.—Lieutenant James B. Owens of Baltimore, an officer in the Philippine Scouts, ended his life today. It is beleved that fear of a court-martial because of absence from his command more than a week without leave prompted the act.

CUTS WAGES 10 PER CENT.

But Port Chester Company Extends Its Weekly Time Schedule.

Special to The New York Times.

PORT CHESTER, N. Y., Jan. 7.—The Ernest Simon Manufacturing Company, makers of sheets, pillow cases, night shirts and pajamas, and employing 800 hands, announced today a 10 per cent. cut in wages, effective next Monday, and resumption on that day of a forty-two and one-half-hour weekly schedule. The company, whose main factory is located here, with branches at Mooers and Keesville, N. Y., and Norwalk, Conn., has been operating for three months on a thirty-five-hour schedule.

"Orders are coming in from all parts of the country except New England," said Edward W. Simons, President, today. "There seems to be a sudden shortage of finished goods among wholesalers and retailers, for current buyers are requesting express shipments. We are optimistic enough to resume a more nearly normal operating schedule."

ACCUSE FERTILIZER AGENTS.

Southern Senators Charge Plot to Block Muscle Shoals Plant.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Charges that propagandists, acting as "agents for the fertilizer trust," were attempting to defeat the bill for the organization of a Government corporation to operate the great nitrate plant at Muscle Shoals, Ala., were made in the Senate today by Senator Heflin, Democrat, of Alabama.

He cited an interview in a Washington newspaper, credited to "Hampden Norman of Memphis, Tenn.," who condemned the measure. Senator McKellar, Democrat, of Tennessee, said the Memphis Chamber of Commerce had stated "there was no such person."

An array of bottles that would put a drug store to shame covered the desk of Senator Smith, Democrat, of South Carolina, who used samples of fertilizers to appeal to the eyes and noses of his colleagues.

Idle Mill Workers Sell Cloth They Make.

WEBSTER, Mass., Jan. 7.—Textile operatives laid off by the Intervale Mills, Inc., are following a new plan to tide them over the period of depression. The mill hands have turned salesmen of the cloth that they produced, the mills selling the product to them at cost, and the operatives taking it to nearby cities and towns for sale for such profits as they can obtain. Success to date has been varied, but some families have been assisted materially.

Would Have People Vote on Treaties

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—A concurrent resolution, proposing an amendment to the Constitution providing that before treaties entered into by the United States become effective, they must be approved by a majority of the voters of the country participating in a population referendum was introduced today by Representative Newton, Republican, of Missouri.

FIGHT BUYER STRIKE BY NATIONAL DRIVE

Prosperity Bureau to Educate Public Formed by $30,000,000,000 Business Interests.

SAY PRICE DROP HAS ENDED

Revival of Purchasing Urged to Provide Employment for 2,350,000 Idle Men.

A national movement was launched here yesterday by a number of business men, manufacturers, wholesalers, retailers and bankers to counteract the so-called "buyers' strike" of the public and to bring about a more orderly readjustment of business conditions. Through publicity by commercial bodies and individual firms they hope to stimulate buying, which has been at a low ebb for several months. It is argued that its revival will bring about a resumption of business activities on something like a normal scale and provide employment for most of the more than 2,350,000 now idle in the United States. The promoters of the movement also assert that prices have now reached rock bottom, and there is no longer any reason for delay in purchasing.

The interests involved, who are said to represent investment of $30,000,000,000, have organized the National Prosperity Bureau, with offices in the Masonic Hall, Sixth Avenue and Twenty-third Street. James R. Rosthal, a lawyer, will act as Secretary.

The Advisory Committee includes W. F. H. Koelsch, President, New Netherland Bank; Jules Hart, Treasurer, Wholesale Men's Furnishings Association; Arthur Freeman, General Director Affiliated Retail Stores; John A. Gilmore, Chairman Executive Committee, Retail Furniture Association of the United States; Bernard Steuer, Sweater and Knitted Textile Manufacturers' Association, Incorporated; Jerome C. Mendel, Retail Millinery Association of America; J. T. Ryan, Secretary-Treasurer, Southern Furniture Manufacturing Association; Louis M. Taylor, Secretary-Treasurer Wholesale Shoe League; Sylvan Vohn, Vice President National Shirt Shops, Incorporated; William Rawitser, National Association of Wool Fibre Manufacturers; Frederick Neudoriff, President Retail Merchants' Association; F. R. Marshall, National Wool Growers' Association; T. F. Moore, Automobile Dealers' Association, Incorporated; Kli Mirandon, Silk Dyers' Mutual Protective Association of America; M. Mosessohn, United Waist League of America; Philip S. Tuley, President of Kentucky Manufacturers' Association.

Arthur Freeman of the Advisory Committee said that the purpose was "to induce buying and to convince the public that the bottom in prices has been absolutely reached, and to prove that the United States has everything it needs to continue as the most prosperous nation in history. We want to show all the people, all over America, that it is necessary now to abandon their so-called 'buying strike' and to clear the track for prosperity, if we do not want to run ourselves into another Russia," he continued. "The burden of this task will be borne by the National Prosperity Bureau."

The organization has adopted these slogans: "Buy now and put the money back to work" and "Your purchase keeps America employed."

Advertising in newspapers, magazines and periodicals and prosperity posters will be used in the campaign. One plan is to have prosperity celebrations in every town and city in the country. Endorsements of the movement have been received, Mr. Freeman said, from manufacturers, trade organizations, Chambers of Commerce and bankers throughout the United States.

FIVE-SIXTHS OF CAPITAL PAID OUT IN DIVIDENDS

Lancashire Cotton Mills Prosper While Other British Businesses Decline.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—Two hundred and fifty Lancashire cotton mills, with a total capital of £31,000,000, paid £25,500,000 in dividends in 1920, according to a report issued by the American Chamber of Commerce here today. One mill paid 425 per cent. The net declines in 387 representative securities in the London Stock Exchange during the last year, however, aggregated £315,000,000, the report states.

The total capital issues of the year, excluding Government loans, exceeded £384,000,000, as compared with £237,000,000 the previous year. New issues in December were £8,000,000, as against £33,000,000 in November.

The cancellation of shipping orders continues, the report goes on. One prominent line has withdrawn an order for four large steamers placed with Clyde shipbuilders and instructions have been given to slow down at the firm's own yards. The high cost of construction was given as the reason for this, shipowners finding it cheaper to purchase existing tonnage rather than build new vessels. Lord Inchcape, Director of the P. & O. Steam Navigation Company, told the annual meeting of the Chamber that the future of shipping was none too rosy and that his company now was carrying passengers below cost, although the rates admittedly were high.

The coal output continues highly satisfactory, being maintained at more than 5,000,000 tons weekly. Official reports state that the demand for British coal, notably from France and the Scandinavian countries, has fallen markedly. The result of this, coupled with increased production, is that export prices have declined.

The total index number of wholesale prices for December shows a further fall of 6.7 per cent. The depreciation on raw materials was 9.2 and on food values 4.8 per cent.

BUSINESS RECORDS

Failures of the Week.

BRADSTREET'S reports 422 failures in the United States for the week, against 470 for the previous week and 129, 119, 324, 381 for the corresponding weeks, 1920 to 1917. The New England States had 42; Middle, 98; Western, 64; Northwestern, 34; Southern, 162; Far Western, 22. Canada had 39, against 47 for the preceding week. In the United States about 69.9 per cent. of the total number of concerns failing had $5,000 capital or less, and 20.1 per cent. had from $5,000 to $20,000 capital.

Gray Goods Prices Advancing.

Prices for gray goods, more especially for printcloths, were higher in this market yesterday. Showing increases of an eighth of a cent a yard each, January lots of 39-inch 72-76s were sold at 10¼ cents, 38-inch 68-72s were disposed of at 9⅝ cents, and 38½-inch 64-60s were traded in at 8¼ cents. Buyers paid 6⅞ cents for February-March deliveries of 38½-inch 60-48s. For shipment during the remainder of this month and through next, buyers of sheetings took 48-square four-yards at 8 cents and five-yards goods at 7 cents. Fine-yarn cloths and specialties continued to lack snap.

A Merchandising Clearing House.

The tenth floor of the Bush Terminal Sales Building will be converted on Feb. 1 into a merchandise clearing house, where surplus goods from manufacturers and jobbers will be sold to retail buyers. Lester J. Rich will be in charge. The new division will handle close-outs and jobs in women's ready-to-wear, knit goods, umbrellas, gloves, notions, textiles, toilet goods, toys, housefurnishings, perfumery, silverware and jewelry. The merchandise will be displayed on tables easily accessible to buyers for examination and will be priced for quick clearance on a cash basis.

Weather Favors Coal Trade.

With 1921 ushered in by what appeared to be a premature January thaw, the New Year opened propitiously for consumers of hard coal, Saward's Journal will say today. A combination of mild weather and reasonably heavy production during the greater part of the Winter season to date has placed the trade in a fairly comfortable position as regards its ability to supply the public with domestic coal for current use. Reports of various industrial plants starting up again after closing for the holidays are accepted as a good omen by the bituminous coal trade.

Raw Products Imports May Grow.

Admitting that the hand-to-mouth character of retail buying would react against extensive imports of manufactured articles, it was pointed out yesterday by a foreign trade representative that raw material entries ought to show no decrease for this reason. The principal handicap such shipments will be under, he said, was in the financial arrangements to be made. Foreign shippers, he explained, have difficulty in getting advances from their banks even when possessed of contracts, and it has therefore become necessary for the buyers to supply part of the funds required to enable shipments to be made.

Shirts Priced Low for Spring.

One of the leading shirt houses has named prices for Spring which are from 50 to 60 per cent. below the quotations of last Spring. The line commences at $7.75 and ranges to $69, with a special number in silks for $84 a dozen. A Philadelphia house has quoted new prices which range from $9 for printed pongees to $54 a dozen for striped crepe de chines. At $13.50, Wauregan and Quinebaug shirtings sold by Amory, Browne & Co., are offered. Imported English repps are priced at $15 a dozen and Russian cords at $30 a dozen. Several of the leading lines have still to be opened for the new season, the manufacturers devoting their present efforts toward clearing surpluses of Fall and Winter goods.

Will See What the Jobbers Say.

The feeling among sellers of underwear concerning the opening of Fall lines of those goods is that it might be well to give the jobbers a chance to say something about when it should be done, instead of trying to set a date more or less arbitrarily and risk a repetition of what took place in connection with the naming of prices on lightweight goods. It was pointed out yesterday that one of the first topics to be considered at the forthcoming meeting of the knit goods section of the National Wholesale Dry Goods Association would be the proper time to buy Fall goods. In view of this most of the selling agents feel that it is inadvisable to set opening dates now and probably have to change them later.

Enough Clothing for Six Months.

From a canvass of his territory and after comparing notes with salesmen covering others sections, a wholesale clothing representative believes there is enough stock now being carried by retailers and manufacturers to supply the normal needs of the country for the next six months at a conservative estimate. Manufacturers' close-outs, he said, are being turned down by some of the leading stores for the reason that further purchases would be out of the question with the surplus being carried. Here and there, he found merchants who cut prices early and who have gone into the new year with light stocks, but these were exceptions to the general rule. While a spurt of retail buying might be induced by lower prices, he said, the retail trade faces an impossible task when it comes to clearing out the present surplus before Easter.

November Retail Business.

Figures supplied to the Federal Reserve Agent show that the gross sales of department stores in this district for November averaged 11.6 per cent. more than in the corresponding month last year. Only two stores out of the fourteen reporting showed a decrease. Reports to the Reserve Bank showed a low percentage of outstanding orders, the amount being proportionately less, according to merchants, than at any time in their memory. The New York and Brooklyn stores made an increase in net sales in the period from July 1 to Nov. 30 of 2.98 per cent. The percentage of increase of stocks at the close of November over those held the same month last year was 5.07 per cent.

One Way to Reduce Prices.

One way in which manufacturers of popular-priced garments for women, especially makers of dresses, will endeavor to lower the cost of their goods to the public this Spring will be to reduce the amount of trimming on them. In recent seasons, it is felt here, ready-to-wear garments in all price ranges have been ornamented a bit too freely and with the kind of trimmings which either were expensive to buy or apply, or both. It was pointed out that these decorations added substantially to the cost of the garments without increasing their wearing qualities. By cutting down the amount of trimmings their selling cost can naturally be reduced. It has the additional virtue of giving the dress accessories trade a change to do business by supplying separate trimmings to women who like to "dress up."

Will Market New Safety Device.

Something new in the way of safety devices, in the form of a guard for sewing machine needles for use in the garment trades, is to be put on the market in the near future by a local concern. The device, which fits directly upon the bar of the machine, is said to work so simply that it is not necessary to teach the operator how to use it. It consists of several small collapsible metal cups, on the order of collapsible drinking cups, which surround the needle and keep the operator's fingers from coming in contact with it. On the downstroke of the needle the cups collapse into each other, extending again on the upstroke. It is unnecessary to remove the guard to change needles, and the device is said to have the further virtue of making it possible to thread needles automatically. It has been approved by the New York State Industrial Commission.

THE WEEK'S PRICE TREND.

Not So Much of an Excess of Declines This Week as Last.

The gradual lessening of the excess of declines over advances, which has been noticeable of late in Dun's list of wholesale commodities prices, was seen again this week. Of the more than 300 articles quoted, 89 showed change this week, compared with 87 last week. Then there were but 19 advances indicated, while this week there were 27. In the foodstuffs the revisions were about equally divided between advances and declines, although there was a slight margin favoring the latter. The current week's fluctuations extended over a wider range of commodities than has been the case for some time.

The following table gives the minimum prices quoted on standard commodities selected from the list mentioned above. They are corrected to yesterday, and with them are given comparative prices for last week and the corresponding week a year ago:

*Nominal.

Chief among the foodstuffs changes which occurred in the local markets during the week were the increases in flour, which amounted to 75 cents a barrel in Spring patents and 25 cents in Winter clears, reflecting the firmer feeling in wheat. Bacon declined here, but Middle Western lard was quoted higher. At Chicago the only declines in provisions took place in live hogs and live sheep. Live beef advanced, with mess pork and short ribs unchanged.

In the local dairy list there were fewer changes than for some time. Butter and cheese were steady generally, but both near-by fancy and the best Western eggs showed sharp declines, probably due to the greater supplies growing out of the prolonged unseasonable weather. The former dropped 8 cents a dozen and the latter 9. At the new levels they show declines of 12 and 15 cents a dozen, respectively, from the comparative 1920 figures.

The listed fresh fruits were unchanged this week, and in the dried ones there were only declines in lemon and orange peel. Choice red kidney beans dropped in price, but this loss was more than offset by increases in cabbage and onions of 25 cents a barrel and 50 cents a bag, respectively. Teas and spices showed no changes, but in the coffees No. 7 Rio advanced and No. 4 Santos declined. The best raw sugar moved up in price, but there was no corresponding rise in refined granulated. The grains list showed advances in wheat, oats, rye and malting barley and a decline in corn.

In the combined lists for drugs, chemicals, dyestuffs and oils only two of the twenty-four revisions were upward. None of the changes was of particular importance. Naval stores fluctuations resulted in higher prices for pitch and tar and lower ones for turpentine and resin. Eastern spruce lath declined, and there were also lower quotations on birch, pine and fir lumber. Advances in electrolytic copper and tin contrasted with ten declines in other items in the metals list. Pig iron and billets were weaker in some cases, and prices on lake copper and spelter also were quoted lower.

The leathers in the general list were quotably unchanged, but in the listed hides further advances were noted in No. 1 kips and No. 1 calfskins. Japanese and Chinese raw silks were cheaper. Eastern crude rubber was higher, but the reverse was true of the Brazilian. Platinum eased off a little further. Among the listed paper products was a decline in chip boards. Hemp advanced.

In the textiles markets burlap, more especially heavyweights, moved up a little. The general tendency of prices in the cotton goods trade was the reverse, although some of the prices named at the close of the year were withdrawn and the goods placed "at value."

New Priced Dry Goods Selling Well.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—Marshall Field & Co. in their weekly review of the dry goods trade, say:

"Current wholesale distribution of dry goods was less in volume than for the corresponding period of last year. Orders from road salesmen were less than during the same week of 1920. There were more customers in the house, and ginghams and percales, on which new prices have been named, are rapidly being taken. Collections were not up to the standard of this week last year."

BUSINESS NOTES.

Meetings of the wash goods buyers of the Dry Goods Union will be held on next Tuesday and Wednesday at 432 Fourth Avenue. The white goods buyers of the Union will meet at the same address on Thursday and Friday.

The importation of all goods bearing the word "Bosch" into the Commonwealth of Australia has been prohibited, as of Dec. 30, according to official information received here by Mark Sheldon, Trade Commissioner, 61 Broadway. This, Mr. Sheldon says, is an extension of the prohibition previously affecting magnetos bearing the word "Bosch."

The American Cloak Company, manufacturers of coats for women, misses, juniors and "stouts," have removed from 11 West Seventeenth Street to new and larger quarters at 22 to 24 West Twenty-sixth Street.

BLAMES DEPRESSION ON THE GOVERNMENT

Wool Manufacturer Tells Senate Committee Palmer Discredited All Business.

BUYERS' STRIKE THE RESULT

Says Declines Should Have Been More Deliberate—Hearings Continued on Fordney Tariff.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Charges that the consumers' strike against buying has produced the existing depression in industrial life and was fostered by over zealous campaigns by the Government against buying and by the Department of Justice against retailers suspected but not proved to be profiteers, were made to the Senate Finance Committee today by Colonel John P. Wood of Philadelphia. The committee which is holding hearings on the Fordney Emergency Tariff bill, did not appear to receive Colonel Wood's accusations with any great sympathy. Several members objected to the statements.

Losses by manufacturers and producers would have been much less disastrous if the present deflation and slump in prices had been more deliberate, asserted Colonel Wood, who appeared in behalf of wool interests. He said that because the newspapers kept on repeating that prices would come down if the public would not buy there was a severe drop in values, and that thousands of workers were thrown out of employment. He condemned the Department of Justice for engaging in a general "persecution" of business on the theory that profiteering was a universal practice.

He said he thought business had "generally been discredited unfairly" by the excessive zeal of State commissions and other State and local representatives engaging in wholesale campaigns merely to justify their appointment to office.

"There was naturally an unwarrantable resentment against excessive prices on the part of the public," he said; "but the sudden and sweeping correction of the evil promoted by the Department of Justice was so general instead of being specific as to do more harm than good."

Incidentally, Colonel Wood [illegible] another drop in prices within the next thirty or sixty days.

In his presentation in behalf of the National Association of Wool Manufacturers, American Association of Woolen and Worsted Manufacturers and National Association of Worsted Spinners, Colonel Wood said that although the emergency measure contained no protection for wool manufacturers, which are at present menaced by foreign competition, his organizations would not oppose it, if it was understood that at the earliest possible opportunity further emergency legislation would be enacted to safeguard other domestic industries during the interim while a permanent policy is being framed. He continued:

"As the bill stands the duty on wool contained in imported manufactures does not bear the proper ratios to the duties on unmanufactured wool. The effect of this would be just as disadvantageous to the wood growers as an inadequate duty on raw wool, because if it is made more profitable to import wool in the manufactured shape than in its raw condition it will come in in the form of manufactures, with just as much detriment to the wool growers as if it were imported in the raw condition, and with equally great detriment to the manufacturing industry.

"We, therefore, urge that the compensatory wool duties be fixed at the same ratios that have been in effect with every wool duty since 1867 and that the other provisions with respect to raw wool which have been developed by long experience as necessary for the mutual protection of the growing and the manufacturing industries be reincorporated in the bill.

"It is also respectfully submitted that the new rates in this bill shall not apply to shipments actually in transit at the time of its final passage. This proposal is made in the interest of simple justice to those who have already made commitments before the original introduction of this measure in Congress.

"Only once before in more than two generations has a change been made from a merely revenue tariff to a protective tariff; and in anticipation of that change in 1897 imports were made in quantities so greatly in excess of current requirements of some classes of goods the excess was not absorbed for from two to four years after the new act became operative.

"The excessive importations made during the many months that the Dingley bill was under consideration not only deprived American industries of the protection the bill was designed to afford for a considerable period after it was enacted, but also to deprive the Government of the additional revenue which the new rates would have yielded."

Various producers of vegetable oils appeared, among them R. V. Delapenha, President of the Olive Oil Importers' Association, who said:

"Everybody has profiteered. There were lots of children 14 years old, when the war began, who now have some ideas in their heads we have got to get out. The world went mad on profiteering. The cry was, 'Get the money,' no matter how."

The Ways and Means Committee heard more producers of chemicals, oil and paint today, each suggesting certain detailed changes in the tariff.

Investigates Farm Bureau Funds.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7 (Associated Press).—The House Banking Committee undertook today to find out who is financing the various farm organizations which frequently call on Congress for enactment of "special legislation." It did not get very far, however, as Ben C. Marsh, legislative agent of the National Farmers' Union, the only witness examined, was unable to give all details offhand.

Chairman McFadden announced that he was determined to get the information the House desired from all farm organizations, and he was going on the supposition that they "could stand daylight." Representative Strong, Republican, Kansas, representing a farming constituency, characterized some of Marsh's statements as "socialistic," and declared the witness wanted them in the record for "his own selfish gratification."

In telling the committee his salary was $300 a month, Marsh insisted that other farmer legislative representatives be called, asserting that the President of the American Farm Bureau Federations was paid $15,000 a year. Asked where he came from, Marsh said he was born in Bulgaria, his parents being missionaries, and lived there until he was fourteen.

LATEST DEALINGS IN THE REALTY FIELD

The Realty Supervision Company Makes Two Important Midtown Loft Purchases.

DEALS TOTAL OVER $600,000

Sixth Avenue Building Purchased for Occupancy—Small Properties in Demand by Investors.

The Realty Supervision Company, of which Vivian Green is President, made two important purchases in the midtown section yesterday aggregating over $600,000.

The largest deal involved the twelve-story loft building located at 7 and 9 West Thirtieth Street, on a plot 50 by 100, located near Fifth Avenue. The property was held at $500,000. It was sold by Theresa Neiman and title taken in the name of the V. Green Construction Company.

Further uptown the company bought the four five-story tenements at 433 and 435 West Fifty-second Street, and 426-428 West Fifty-third Street, each on a lot 25 by 100.5, between Ninth and Tenth Avenues.

Title to the houses recently passed from the Marks estate to the Market Street Realty Company, a holding concern for Mr. Green.

McCotter & Davis have sold for K. & L. Meuser the four-story building 43 Sixth Avenue, which the purchaser will occupy for his business upon the expiration of present lease.

James H. Cruikshank, operator, resold the five-story loft building at 66 White Street, on a lot 23.5 by 105.6, near Broadway, to Helen J. Schell.

Louis Elson sold to the C. & R. Holding Corporation, represented by A. J. Halprin, attorney, the four-story building at 186 Madison Avenue, on lot 24 by 83, adjoining the southwest corner of Thirty-third Street.

The five-story building, 20.10 by 90.6, at 106 West Thirty-first Street, has been bought by Adolph S. Landau from William W. Canham.

The four-story garage, on a plot 75.3 by 100.5, at 306 to 310 East Forty-seventh Street, has been sold by Isaac Untermeyer to Richard Sullivan, for $40,000.

A. F. Beckman & Co. sold to George Heinlein the three-story stable, 75 by 99.11, at 117 to 121 West 128th Street.

Mary T. Rennard sold to Meyer Zausner the two-story stable, 25.3 by 80, at 1,504 Park Avenue.

Tenement Investments.

The five-story flat at 71-73 Post Avenue, plot 40 by 106, has been resold for the Stellmarie Realty Company by Henry S. Kirschner of the Sherman Brokerage Company. Samuel Levin was the purchaser.

The five-story flat at 210 East 115th Street, lot 25 by 100.11, has been purchased by Leah Feiner from Margaret Bertram.

Frederick Sturz sold to Adolph Herowitz the five-story flat at 331 East Ninety-seventh Street, plot 20x100.11.

Abe Straussberg sold to Israel Schwimmer the five-story tenement, 25 by 96, at 470 East Houston Street.

Georgianna McClellan sold to Philip Greenberg the three-story tenement, 16.7 by 49, at 207 Monroe Street.

Sales in Brooklyn.

M. C. O'Brien sold 216 Rogers Avenue, a three-story store property, on a lot 20 by 100, for Dora Richig to a client for investment; also 1,058 Nostrand Avenue, a three-story, subway business corner, on a lot 26.6 by 84.6, to a client for investment.

William P. Jones sold for James S. Ware to Gustav Oberg the two lots, each 20 by 100, on the south side of Fifty-seventh Street, 440 feet east of Twentieth Avenue.

The dwelling on the northwest corner of Sixth Avenue and Bay Ridge Avenue has been purchased by Arthur Pastor from the Realty Associates. The broker was A. L. Lisman. The Realty Associates also sold to The Heral, Inc., a gore plot on the west side of Chester Street, 325 feet south of Riverdale Avenue, East New York.

Far Rockaway Hotel Sold.

The Far Rockaway Hotel on the westerly side of Beach Nineteenth Street, north of Norton Street, plot 90 by 150, has been sold by Herman Frankfort for the Empire Trust Company and Harriet E. Warnock as trustees.

Realty Notes.

L. J. Phillips & Co., for many years in 156 Broadway, have leased offices at 11 John Street, corner of Broadway. The lease was made through William A. White & Sons.

Rhoda Reiser is the buyer of the dwelling at 50 East Seventy-ninth Street.

The two dwellings at 403-405 West 128th Street, sold recently, were purchased by James L. Thornton, who will use the property for his lumber business.

Isabella Runk is the buyer of 156 West Fifty-sixth Street.

George Gleixner is the purchaser of the dwelling at 215 East Seventy-eighth Street.

The Bronx Market.

Heller & Sussman, operators, sold the five-story apartment house at 1,164 Union Avenue, on a plot 50 by 95.

The United Realty and Development Company sold to Bernard Rauch the two six-story apartments at 1,170-1,176 Washington Avenue, each, on plot 41.8 by 127.

INSIST CITY MUST STAND BY COLLEGES

Trustees and Alumni Oppose Proposal to Drop Support of City and Hunter.

WILL FIGHT THE MOVEMENT

Municipal Officials Inclined to Think Institutions Ask Too Much for Maintenance.

The relinquishment of City College to its Board of Trustees to be conducted as a private institution, which is demanded of the city by the real estate interests as part of their plan of retrenchment, would practically amount to the closing of that institution, according to the views of trustees, officials and alumni of City College. The movement for the abandonment of City and Hunter Colleges by the city was launched at a joint meeting on Thursday of the Real Estate Board and representatives of eight other real estate, building, trade and commercial organizations, who were told that the city could save $1,000,000 annually by turning City College over to its trustees, and $700,000 by making a similar disposition of Hunter College.

Bills providing for the abandonment of these colleges are being drafted for the real estate interests, which will send a committee to Albany early next week to lay these and other economy measures before the Governor and members of the Legislature, in an effort to cut the city's expenses by approximately $27,000,000, which is needed to keep the public schools open during the current year.

Should the movement seriously threaten the existence of City College, it was learned, the alumni of that institution would offer organized opposition to the movement. It was also learned that members of the city administration do not look with great favor on appropriations of large sums for the maintenance of City College. They feel that this institution, which in 1918 got an appropriation of $175,000, principally to pay the salaries of its teachers and other maintenance charges, and received an appropriation of $1,059,422 for 1921, is branching out too rapidly for the city to keep pace with its financial requirements. Some of them think City College is trying to surpass Columbia University, and they have no sympathy with this aspiration.

From Controller Craig it was learned that City College up to 1918 was allowed a sum not exceeding $175,000 to meet teachers' salaries and other charges. In 1918 the Legislature substituted for the words "not exceeding $175,000" the words "not to exceed .09½ mills" on the real and personal valuations for the entire city, amounting to $10,000,000,000. While the yield of the .09½ mills was estimated at $933,000, City College procured an appropriation in excess of the mandatory amount. The appropriation for Hunter College was $785,379.

Other Sources of Revenue.

In addition to these funds, city officials are informed, City and Hunter Colleges have additional sources of revenue in "fee courses" offered at both institutions. The funds from these courses are supposed to be divided among the professors whose salaries are increased.

Referring to the suggestion that City College had started out to eclipse Columbia University, Controller Craig said:

"Before the city is committed to any such policy the issue should be brought squarely into the open as to whether the city should be committed to any such plan of expansion."

While the City College is maintaining branches in every borough and making unusual efforts to increase its power and prestige, the city officials feel that the city should not be brought into this plan. They point out that the money granted to City College for the current year was in excess of the total pensions granted to teachers. They hold that the college should go to the State for financial assistance when its program reaches beyond the original intention of the city with respect to its maintenance.

Says Abandonment Would be Costly.

Dr. Sidney E. Mezes, President of City College, holds that the proposal for the city to abandon that institution would not prove a measure of economy, but would cost the city more in the long run than it does at present to maintain City College. He believes public opinion would defeat the project.

"There is a great deal to say about the proposal of the real estate interests," said Dr. Mezes, "although I do not regard it as a serious proposal because it cannot be worked out in detail.

"In the first place, with reference to their suggestion that the city should establish scholarships, this plan would undoubtedly prove more expensive to the city. If the city were to withdraw its support from City College it would mean that most of its body of students would become eligible for such scholarships. In addition, the city would have to provide scholarships which are now given at Columbia, Fordham, Adelphi and other institutions, and the result would be that the city would find itself financially unable to assume the responsibility that is now carried for the most part by different organizations and individuals who have established these scholarships.

"Regarding the suggestion that the city turn City College over to the Trustees to conduct it as a private institution, this would mean that the Trustees would have to raise the necessary funds by charging tuition and seeking an endowment, because the receipts from tuition in most colleges represent only about one-third of the funds required for maintenance. Those contributing to the endowment fund necessarily would constitute a body of free-lancers, and the city, through the scholarship fund, would be paying in part for the education of students deprived of educational advantages by its action. At the same time the city would have no control over education in these institutions."

Students Self-Supporting.

Dean Carleton L. Brownson of the College of Liberal Arts and Science is authority for the statement that from 80 to 85 per cent. of the day students, numbering nearly 2,000, contribute to their own support or are entirely self-supporting, while the evening classes are 100 per cent. composed of young men and young women who follow gainful occupations. The evening sessions make it possible for approximately 6,000 young men who are otherwise employed during the day to pursue college courses at night.

Mr. Wheeler, one of the oldest alumni, said that the alumni body would offer organized opposition to any serious movement that threatened the existence of City College. He described the agitation of the real estate men as "disgraceful," and "behind the times." He said they might as well try to abolish the hospitals and the public schools as to do away with City College.

Anning S. Prall, President of the Board of Education, who is ex-officio member of the Board of Trustees of City College, said he did not believe the Legislature would consider for a moment the proposal to turn the college over to the Trustees.

Guggenheimer Entertains Fokker.

Charles S. Guggenheimer gave a dinner last night at the National Democratic Club in honor of H. F. G. Fokker, inventor of the airplane bearing his name, who, after a business stay of several weeks in the United States, is returning to Holland today. There were twenty guests.

TO ARREST DENSEL UNDER THE MANN LAW

Runaway Pastor Accused of Violating White Slave Act in Trip to Buffalo.

Special to The New York Times.

PATERSON, N. J., Jan. 7.—The Rev. Cornelius Densel, pastor of the Netherlands Reformed Church of Passaic, who ran off with Trina Hannenberg, a choir singer in his church, last November, is named in a warrant charging violation of the Mann White Slave law, issued by United States Commissioner Delaney and turned over to United States Marshal Ettelson tonight.

The warrant was issued upon charges made by Joseph F. Holmes, an agent of the Department of Justice. It is charged that Densel took Miss Hannenberg from Passaic to Buffalo for immoral purposes.

In addition to the suit for $25,000 brought by the girl, Densel was served with papers yesterday in a suit for $10,000 brought by the girl's parents for loss of her service and for disgrace he has brought on the Hannenberg family.

CHICAGO GETS TRANSIT PLAN

Mayor Thompson's 5-Cent Fare Scheme Submitted to City Council.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—Mayor Thompson's long heralded plan for a restoration of a 5-cent fare in Chicago under a municipal-owned traction system was submitted to the City Council today in the form of a report of his Commission on Local Transportation.

With this was submitted a report by the commission's engineer, George W. Jackson, in which it was stated that he believed the Mayor's plan for a 5-cent fare was feasible "without adding any permanent burdens to the taxpayers of Chicago."

There was also the draft of a proposed enabling act, which is to be sent to the State Legislature for passage, giving the voters of Chicago the power to establish the transportation district.

Establishment of the transportation district would require enactment of the law by the Legislature, and then ratification by the voters in a referendum. Relief would not be immediate even if the Legislature enacted the bill at once, for the enabling act provides for the ratification vote to be held in November and the first election of Trustees the following February.

The report of the commission with the draft of the proposed law was referred to the Council Committee on Local Transportation, which will take it up at a special meeting Tuesday afternoon.

If the enabling legislation is granted, the traction plan recommended by the commission will create a special transportation district for Chicago, patterned after the Sanitary District. The district will have the power to issue bonds, to order improvements made and in other ways to administer the street railway properties. Government would be by six Trustees, elected by popular vote.

SPREAD POISON ON CAKE.

Massachusetts Man Later Threw It Away—Held for Attempted Murder.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Jan. 7.—James E. Griffin, aged 26, was taken into custody today on complaint of his wife, who informed the police that he had spread poison on pieces of cake that the family had intended to eat. Griffin is a chauffeur but has been out of work and, according to his wife, has been despondent. Besides his wife he has a three-year-old child.

Griffin admitted to the police, they say, that he had prepared the cake with the intention of killing his wife and child and that he intended to end his own life, but realizing the enormity of the intended act, threw the cake away.

After a conference of police and court officials a charge of attempted murder was placed against Griffin and he will be arraigned tomorrow. He will be examined Monday at to his mental condition.

FOUR DIVORCES GRANTED.

Heavy Increase in Cases Brought in Westchester County.

Special to The New York Times.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Jan. 7.—During the last three months there has been an increase of 30 per cent. in the number of divorce and separation actions brought in the Supreme Court here, brought about by an influx of New Yorkers into Westchester County in order to get quick divorce trials, the court calendars being clogged in Manhattan.

Four decrees were granted today, one being a final divorce to Mrs. Lillian De Lawrence Davis of Manhattan against Aaron W. Davis. The plaintiff is given the custody of their child, Charles Stubbs Davis.

Referee Charles A. Dryer reported in favor of a decree for Mrs. Helen N. Dore of Brooklyn from Claude Dore. An unknown woman was named as co-respondent.

WOULD KEEP GIRLS SINGLE.

Chicago Official Urges Promotion to Keep Stenographers.

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—Promotion of girl stenographers to keep them from marrying and retain their services was urged before the City Council Executive Committee by Assistant Health Commissioner Koehler yesterday.

"Do you mean to say that promoting a girl one rank will keep her from marriage?" asked Chairman Richert of the committee.

"Absolutely," replied Dr. Koehler. "The increased pay makes her independent and there is consequently no need for her to get married."

WANT CUTS IN HOTEL RATES.

Bonifaces Say They Must Lead the Way in Reductions.

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—Restoration of pre-war rates on rooms and food was declared imperative by members of the Chicago Hotel Men's Association today, following their annual meeting, at which virtually all agreed that hotels should lead the way in readjustment of price levels. Immediate reductions were recommended, although the members were not pledged to a definite plan of concerted action.

Gradual abolition in hotel menus of charges for extras, such as bread and butter, and lowering of prices on meat orders in keeping with market conditions were suggested. It was estimated that rates on hotel rooms eventually would be reduced 30 per cent.

PUPILS TOO PUGNACIOUS.

Natick School Drops "Fight It Out With Gloves" Plan.

NATICK, Mass., Jan. 7.—The teachers of the Felchville School today abandoned the experiment of allowing pugnacious pupils to fight it out with boxing gloves in the schoolyard, with boy and girl pupils forming the squared circle of spectators.

This means of developing manliness in the lads seemed in a fair way to become a fixture in the curriculum until two combatants appeared in school with what are known in the prize ring as "cauliflower ears." It was in deference to protests from these heroes' parents that the boxing-glove parties were officially banned.

LABOR INSURANCE TO BE INVESTIGATED

Lockwood Committee Hears Casualty Companies Here Are Overcharging.

QUADRUPLE JERSEY RATES

No General Investigation of Banks and Insurance Companies—Housing End Only.

Rates of workmen's compensation insurance in this city will be investigated by the Lockwood committee if the resolutions now before the Legislature providing for an extension of the committee's powers are passed. This and kindred affairs of the insurance and banking institutions which affect directly the building situation, are, it was learned yesterday from a direct and reliable source, the matters for the investigation of which the enlargement of the committee's powers is asked.

Information that the casualty companies in this city which do a large business in workmen's compensation charge from two to four times as much for the insurance as the same companies charge in New Jersey will be followed up by the committee. The affairs of companies lending money on bond and mortgage on real estate will also be investigated.

The proposal to enlarge the committee's powers so that it may "investigate and report upon the organization, management, conduct of business affairs and past and present investments of all life, fire, health, burglary, compensation and casualty insurance companies," will not mean a general investigation of the life and fire insurance companies and savings and State banks, according to an emphatic statement from the same source. There is no intention, it was said, either anywhere within the ranks of the committee or its counsel, of bringing about such an upheaval of business conditions as a general inquiry would involve.

Among the complaints that have reached the committee, it was learned yesterday, are reports that some companies lending money on bond and mortgage have been requiring the borrowers to buy Liberty bonds at par or to buy lots in outlying districts or other property as a condition of the loan.

Federal prosecution of the cement manufacturers, the steel fabricators and the white lead dealers will be undertaken, it was said yesterday, by Colonel William H. Rand and Isidor Kresel, appointed by Attorney General Palmer to handle Federal cases growing out of the building investigation. Colonel Rand and Mr. Kresel have had a conference with Samuel Untermyer, counsel for the Lockwood committee, at which the Federal proceedings were discussed. The chief obstacle in the path of the Federal prosecutors is that there are only two Federal Grand Juries, which are at present occupied with many matters and have no time to devote to the building cases. The need for at least two additional Federal Grand Juries has been discussed, but no action has been taken.

Two union officials whom the committee has been seeking in connection with its inquiry have thus far evaded the searchers, it was learned yesterday. They are Roswell D. Tompkins, Secretary of the Building Trades Council, and Richard Pike, business agent of the United Portable Hoisting Engineers, 404.

BRINDELL LOSES APPEAL.

Appellate Division Unanimously Sustains Refusal of Change of Venue.

Robert P. Brindell, Chairman of the Building Trades Council, indicted for extortion, as a result of testimony before the Lockwood committee, will go to trial on Tuesday before Justice John V. McAvoy in the Criminal Branch of the Supreme Court. Brindell's appeal from the decision of Justice William P. Burr, refusing him a change of venue, was denied yesterday by the Appellate Division, all of the Justices concurring.

The trial was originally set for Monday, but by agreement of counsel was changed yesterday to Tuesday because Martin W. Littleton, Brindell's counsel, will be in Washington on Monday. It was said yesterday that the selection of a jury will probably take a week.

Presiding Justice John Proctor Clarke, in the Appellate Division's decision denying a change of venue, held that Justice Burr's order was not appealable, and held "that there is no reasonable ground for believing that the defendant can not have a fair trial by an impartial jury in this county.

"If newspaper articles furnish ground for removal no defendant could ever be tried in this county for a spectacular crime. If the defendant's fears in the case at bar are justified, we would not know to what county his trial should be transferred, as our metropolitan press circulates throughout the entire State."

MRS. LOEFFLER WINS.

Jury Refuses Young Husband's Application to Annul Marriage.

Before Justice Norman S. Dike, in the Supreme Court, in Brooklyn, yesterday, a jury refused the application of 19-year-old George Henry Loeffler of 8,664 108th Street, Richmond Hill, Queens, for an annulment of his marriage to his 24-year-old wife, Harriett Quail Loeffler of Hollis, Queens. Loeffler is the grandson of the late George Henry Loeffler, a contractor, from whom he inherited $250,000.

Loeffler was married on Sept. 3, 1918. He asked for annulment on the ground that his wife inveigled him into marrying her and that she began to court him when he was but 14 years of age. He asserted he never lived with his wife and denies the paternity of the six months child, George Henry Jr.

MUSTN'T POWDER IN ZION.

Overseer Voliva Says He'll Slap the Faces of Women Who Do.

ZION CITY, Ill., Jan. 7.—Hereafter women in the Zion Tabernacle will appear with unpowdered noses, or Overseer Voliva will "lecture them and slap their faces," according to an edict which he delivered today.

"The tabernacle is not a boudoir," the overseer proclaimed. "The use of the worldly powder puff is a violation of the sanctity of God's house. I have seen women right in this tabernacle dabbing away with powder puffs barefacedly. It is a sacrilege and a disgrace.

"You'll come here unpowdered, and you'll cover your bodies as my grandmother covered hers, or I'll lecture you and slap your faces instead of powdering them."

MAID DIES IN RECTORY FIRE.

Sister and Pastor and Assistants Saved by Newport Firemen.

NEWPORT, R. I., Jan. 7.—Nellie Rush, a maid, was killed and two firemen were injured in the burning of the rectory of St. Mary's Church early today. Miss Rush was overcome by smoke in her room and firemen were unable to reach her.

Her sister Norah and the Rev. James T. Ward, pastor of the church, and his assistants, the Rev. John H. Fry and the Rev. T. W. Ryan, were rescued by firemen. Captain John Malley of the Fire Department fell from a second story and was injured internally.

Radical Circulars Put on Church Steps.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Jan. 7.—"Down with the United States" was the heading on a hundred or more circulars found on the steps of St. Paul's Episcopal Church today. The police began search for members of a supposed Bolshevist circle which has been under surveillance for some time.

MAY END MINGO STRIKE.

Military Hears Unions Agree to Legislative Action on Open Shop Basis.

WILLIAMSON, W. Va., Jan. 7.—Officers at military headquarters here today were discussing rumors that an effort would be made to terminate the Mingo coal strike by legislation designed to provide for the operation of all West Virginia industries on an open-shop basis.

According to the story, union leaders have agreed to call off the strike if the session of the Legislature which is to convene next Wednesday will pass the necessary laws without delay, making them operative immediately. There was no confirmation of the story here today.

David Robb, representing the Executive Board of the United Mine Workers here, has called a delegate meeting of all the locals in the Mingo field, to discuss the strike situation. The meeting will be held here Jan. 12. There are thirty-five locals in the Williamson District, and it is expected that C. F. Keeney, President of District 17, will come here to confer with the representatives.

The Superior Thacker Coal and Coke Company, which closed down recently, will begin operations Monday next under new management and working on a non-union basis, it was learned today. The mine, which employs nearly 100 men, had been known as a union mine until the latter part of December, when it closed, it was said, for lack of orders.

BUYS SURPLUS NAVY PLANES

Aeromarine Plane and Motor Co. Gets $4,000,000 Stock.

The Aeromarine Plane and Motor Company yesterday took over $4,000,000 worth of naval surplus aircraft and engines in what was said to be the largest deal of its sort since the war. The release of this material, which is officially indicated by the Navy Department in Washington, marks the first step in the retirement of Government surplus aeronautical stocks to the immediate benefit of commercial aeronautics, according to a statement made last night by C. F. Redden, President of the Aeromarine Engineering and Sales Company, which is identified with the purchasing company.

Included in the purchase are 125 H. S.-2 flying boats equipped with Liberty motors, in addition to groups of engines and spare parts.

"In arranging for the distribution of these flying boats the Navy Department," said Mr. Redden, "has two purposes in view. The immediate is to stimulate commercial flying and the ultimate is to build up throughout the United States a naval flying reserve. Our especial desire is to place this equipment where it will develop the flying instinct and where expansion of operation will assure the training of additional seaplane pilots and mechanics to whom naval aviation can look for reserve personnel."

TRIES TO EVICT THE COURT.

Landlord Begins Action to Oust Municipal Judiciary.

East New York landlords whose efforts to dispossess tenants have frequently been blocked in the Seventh District Municipal Court, smiled yesterday when they learned that the court itself was threatened with eviction from part of a building at Fulton Street and Pennsylvania Avenue, owned by the Fraward Corporation. Yesterday the landlord obtained an order from County Judge May requiring the city to show cause on Tuesday next why it should not be compelled to vacate the building.

The city's lease of the quarters used by the court expired on Dec. 31.

WADE IS INSANE, ALIENISTS DECLARE

Dr. Diefendorf of Thaw Trial Fame Finds Accused Murderer Mentally a Child.

ADMISSION BY THE STATE

Witness for Prosecution Says Prisoner Is Undeveloped—Wife Ignores Wade's Smile.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Jan. 7.—Today's session of the trial of Elwood B. Wade for the murder of George N. Nott, the crime for which Nott's widow, Mrs. Ethel Hutchins Nott, and John E. Johnston, Wade's friend, are also under indictment for murder in the first degree, developed into a technical discussion between counsel for the defense and State and celebrated alienists.

After Dr. Allan R. Diefendorf of New Haven, expert on mental disorders, who testified in the Harry K. Thaw trial, had declared Wade insane, in response to a hypothetical question, Dr. John C. Lynch of this city, another noted alienist, testifying for the State, said Wade was sane, but admitted that his mentality was not above that of an eleven-year-old child. Dr. Arnold L. Gessell of Yale University also testified that Wade was insane, and both he and Dr. Diefendorf expressed the opinion that the accused youth was not a fit subject to be at large in a community.

State's Attorney Homer S. Cummings and the alienists for the defense argued pro and con for hours on the definition of "irresistible impulse." William H. Comley, of counsel for the defense, asked Dr. Lynch, the State's alienist, in cross-examination, if it was the act of a sane man to apply at police headquarters for a permit to carry a pistol "because Nott said he would get me and I will get him first."

Before the mental experts had a chance to answer, Mr. Cummings had interposed an objection. The question put in a different form was not answered directly by Dr. Lynch, but the opinion was expressed by the physician that he believed Wade had an undeveloped mind, but was not insane. He termed Wade a moron (mental defective) of a high degree.

Dr. Lynch will resume the stand on Tuesday when the court reconvenes.

Dr. Diefendorf said he believed that everything Wade did was under "irresistible impulse," including his marriage to Mrs. Wade.

Wade's wife, who yesterday testified in her husband's behalf, today deliberately turned her back on him when he entered the courtroom to hear alienists describe his "insanity." As Wade went into the room, the centre of all eyes, he smiled to greet his wife, but she moved away from him. Later, while Wade's mother was trying to make her way through the courtroom crowd to resume her seat after the noon recess, she suddenly collapsed and was carried out.
